A No. I believe it was used in 2016 through 2019 and then I didn't value it in 2020 and 2021. I think that was valued by Jody Whitsec (ph).
Q Is the method of taking a price per acre from comparables and then multiplying it across the acreage of Mar-A-Lago, is that used in 2020 and 2021?
A I don't remember.
Q All right. Mr. Birney, let's look at Exhibit 1013.
A Can we go back to clarify something?
Q Sure.
A Just can you pull the last one up?
Q Sure. So for the record we're looking again at Plaintiffs Exhibit 758.

A Can you scroll up to the beginning of Mar-A-Lago? No. Sorry, just -- so as we were going through the valuation I remember why I have an understanding of why that first part was written because we added things back to the location that a private residence wouldn't have.
Q Can you direct us to the particular cell that you're referring to?

A Yes.
Q So let's go down to Row 214 is where it starts. So which information are you referring to?
A So you asked me if \(I\) had an understanding of value if sold to an individual.

Q Sure.
A I have an understanding after looking through the valuation. I believe they -- we valued it based on residential properties but then added things that weren't in private residences and then removed things that clubs had that private residences didn't have like the membership deposits refundable. I think it's just a clarifying sentence. Again, I don't think I wrote that, but that's the understanding I have of that now.

Q And do you have an understanding of whether that phrase is contained in copies of the Jeff Supporting Data before you began to work on the Statement of Financial Condition?

A I don't know. We can look if you want.
Q But if it had been contained and it was just carried

Bimey - Plaintiff - direct (Haren)
Page 1255
forward would you have just carried it forward?
A Yes. And it looks like the 2016 information was used in 2017, so that's a possibility.

MR. HAREN: Okay. And before we move on to Exhibit 1013, can we call up Exhibit -- Plaintiff's Exhibit 857? And can you scroll down? Keep scrolling. Keep scrolling. And a little bit more, like three more rows.
Q Okay. Mr. Birney, this is the 2020 Supporting Data for Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition. Do you see that at the top?

A Yes.
Q And are there still private residences used as comparables to generate an average price per acre?
A Can you scroll up just a few rows? Yes.
Q And can we scroll down just a little bit more?
And do you see in Rows 235 to 246 that the average price per acre is multiplied by the acreage?

A Yes.
MR. HAREN: Okay. Let's call up Plaintiff's Exhibit 1501.
Q As we talked about earlier this is the Supporting Data spreadsheet for the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition.

MR. HAREN: Could we scroll down to around the same place?

foundation. You just asked him whether he'd ever seen it to the witness? He's an employee of the -- thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Please do not -- all right. I direct you not to speak to anybody about this case while you're still a witness and you still are a witness at least until tomorrow.

THE WITNESS: Okay.
(Whereupon, the witness is excused from the witness stand and the trial proceedings is adjourned to October 13, 2023 at 10:00 a.m.) before, that's all.

THE COURT: Well, I think that's -- well, I don't want to say what the point is.

By the way, Mr. Kise, just to clear up a misunderstanding between us, maybe what happened before was you said something about we have an issue with the square footage. I was taking that to mean how many square feet. You meant it more in terms of the use, the history, the knowledge, the notice, etc.

MR. KISE: Understood.
THE COURT: Yes. All right. So just this one page? I don't know what else.

MR. HAREN: The document is a two-page or three-page document. It contains the first page of the deed, a signed page, page two, what appears to be a notarization on page three and then in Exhibit A describing the property. And I just note that this document was produced by the defendants in discovery in this case.

THE COURT: If there is any objection to any or all of it, they're overruled. Clearly relevant.

Okay. Tomorrow at ten o'clock as usual. See you then.

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, can we have an admonition

\title{
In The Matter Of: \\ NYS Attorney General v. \\ Donald J. Trump, et al.
}

\section*{Patrick Birney}

October 13, 2023

Janelle C. London, RMR, CRR & Nicole Robinson, SCR

session. The Honorable Judge Arthur Engoron presiding. Make sure all cell phones are on silent. Laptops and cell phones will be permitted, but only to members of the press. There is absolutely no recording or photography of any kind allowed in the courtroom. Now be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: Tommy, do they pay you by the word also?

I understand Counsel want to have a little discussion up here, what I call front bar?
(Whereupon, there is an off-the-record discussion held.)

THE COURT: On the record.
Before we get back with the witnesses, we have some housekeeping to do. Maybe I'll ask plaintiff, just I'd like to go from left to right. They want to go first.

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, just to clean up an issue that arose yesterday during one of Mr. Birney's testimony, there was an exhibit that was admitted into the record, specifically it was Plaintiff's PX 1167.

Counsel stood up, raised the question because there appeared to be additional pages at the end of that particular exhibit. Full disclosure, I've had our technology group run down the issue and it appears when we received documents sent over to us in their original form that the date particularly matters. We know who it's from certainly.

MR. ROBERT: If he can connect it up in a little while as to what the date is, I have no objection to giving him the room to do that so long as we preserve the objection as to the hearsay portion of the article. We're not disputing this is Mr. Weisselberg's name - signature on the PostIt.

THE COURT: Yes. It's not coming in for the truth of its contents. So to that extent, objection sustained.

MR. ROBERT: Thank you, sir.
Q So just looking at the language of the article, Mr. Birney.

THE COURT: You want a clarification?
MR. SOLOMON: Yes. I do want a clarification because I want -- the article is not being admitted for the truth, but the PostIt is different. The PostIt has been established is a note from Mr. Weisselberg to Patrick directing him to do something.

MR. ROBERT: I'm not disputing that's
Mr. Weisselberg's note. I'm just saying I don't know what year it's from or what backup this is supposed to be part of. That's all.

THE COURT: Well, Mr. Solomon is correct and I should have been more specific. I just meant the article itself is not coming in for the truth. As for the note, I think it comes in for various reasons.

MR. SOLOMON: Thank you, Your Honor. THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.
Q Mr. Birney, what is the news clipping in this document about?

A A property for sale.
Q And just focusing on the first paragraph of the article, do you see where it states "Broadway producer and Palm Beach socialite Terry Allen Kramer is listing La Follia, her chateau-like Palm Beach compound for $135 million?"

A Yes.
Q And so this is the potential sale that Mr. Weisselberg directed you to hold for next year; is that right?

A If the sticky was on the newspaper article.
Q They were produced to us in this form together as one document. Do you have a direction of keeping these two pieces of information in your files and saving them for a subsequent year?

A I probably kept it, yes.
MR. HAREN: Okay. Let's turn to the Plaintiff's Exhibit 843, please. It's the 2019 Supporting Data.

And could we scroll to Rows 218? And scroll down to 259. Scroll down a little bit more, please.
Q So Mr. Birney, can you describe in general terms the
P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren)

1 valuation contained between Rows 218 and 259? What is it a 2 valuation of?
3 A It's a valuation of Mar-A-Lago.
4 Q Okay. And I just want to focus you on Rows 222 to 5 Row 245. There is a comparable property - excuse me. 222 to 6 225. I misspoke.
7 There is a comparable property identified there called 860 Blossom Way. Do you see that?
9 A Yes.
\(10 \quad \mathrm{Q}\) And do you have an understanding of the computation occurring in cells D 223 to D 225?

A Yes.
Q What's your understanding of that computation?
A It's the selling price divided by the number of acres to get a value per acre.
\(Q\) And same question for the computation that occurs between Rows 228 and 230 in Column D.

A Same answer.
Q So there is a price \(78,291,000\) divided by 2.61 acres to yield \($ 29,996,552\) per acre?

A Yes.
Q Do you have an understanding of how the price per acre figures in column \(D\) in the portion of the spreadsheet that we're looking at factor into the valuation of Mar-A-Lago in this year?

A Can you repeat the question?
P. Bimey - Plaintiff - direct (Haren)

Page 1273
Q I'll ask it in a more direct way.
Price per acre that's computed in Column D, that yields a result in cell \(D\) 248; is that right?

A Yes, it appears to be an average value per acre.
\(\mathbf{Q}\) And then that's multiplied by the acreage in Column \(G\); right?
A In Column G, yes. G 50 is a multiplication of the acreage.
\(Q\) And the information?
THE COURT: Wait. Hold on one second. It's difficult to hear you, especially out there. Either move the mic up. And I think you tend to swallow your words a little bit. Try to be a little slower, a little louder.

MR. HAREN: I will do my best.
THE COURT: That's better.
Q Mr. Birney, I just want to clarify one thing. The value per acre in Cell D 230 comes from the property 1295 South Ocean. Am I reading that correctly?

A That's what it looks like.
MR. HAREN: Okay. Let's call up Plaintiff's Exhibit 3026.
Q Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?
A I recognize it to be an e-mail.
Q Is it an e-mail from Allen Weisselberg to you on 25 September 10, 2019 ?

\section*{A Yes.}

2 Q And in the e-mail does Mr. Weisselberg forward you a news article pertaining to a \($ 99\) million Florida property transaction?
A Yes.
MR. HAREN: I'd like to move this document into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Same objection as to the hearsay in the news article.

THE COURT: And the same ruling. The news article is not coming in for the truth of its contents, but for whatever notice it might provide or other information.

MR. ROBERT: Thank you.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiffs Exhibit Number 3026 in evidence.)
Q And Mr. Birney, do you see what Mr. Weisselberg wrote to you, quote, "For the SOFC?"

A Yes.
Q What -- did you have an understanding of what he meant by that?

A Yes.
Q And what was your understanding?
A Let's look at this for the Statement of Financial Condition.
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline & (Haren) Page 1275 \\
\hline 1 & MR. HAREN: All right. Let's call up Plaintiff's \\
\hline 2 & Exhibit 1040, and this document is already in evidence. \\
\hline 3 & Q Mr. Birney, this is a 20-page document, so I would \\
\hline & appreciate if you took a moment to look through it. \\
\hline 5 & Have you had sufficient time to review the document? \\
\hline & A I'm through about half. \\ \hline & Q Okay. \\
\hline & A Okay. \\
\hline 9 & Q Thank you. \\
\hline 10 & MR. HAREN: Please turn to page four of the \\ \hline 11 & exhibit. \\
\hline 12 & Q Is this the same e-mail that we saw in Plaintiff's \\
\hline 13 & Exhibit 3026? \\
\hline 14 & A It looks like it. \\
\hline 15 & Q And it contains a communication from Mr. Weisselberg to \\ \hline 16 & you that states, quote, "For the SOFC." \\
\hline 17 & Did you retain his e-mail and include it in the \\
\hline & document that is Plaintiffs Exhibit 1040? \\
\hline 19 & A Can you repeat the question? \\
\hline 20 & Q Did you retain Mr. Weisselberg's e-mail that states \\
\hline 21 & "For the SOFC" and then include it in the document that is \\
\hline 22 & Plaintiff's Exhibit \(140-\mathrm{1040}\) ? \\
\hline 23 & A Is this -- is that what this means, Plaintiff's \\
\hline 24 & Exhibit? \\
\hline & Q Yes, excuse me. \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

\section*{P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren)}

Page 1276

1 A Okay. I probably retained this.
2 Q So you followed the instruction that Mr. Weisselberg
3 gave you to keep that information for the SOFC?
A I don't know that he said keep it for the SOFC, I think, but I kept it.
Q For the SOFC?
7 A For the SOFC, yes.
8 Q All right. Let's look at the second page of the 9 document. Do you see in the e-mail -- excuse me -- in the 10 document there is an e-mail from Mr. Weisselberg to you dated September 11, 2019 that states, quote, "More info on the house purchase in PB?"

A Yes.
Q What did you understand Mr. Weisselberg to mean by that?
A He is providing me additional information on a Palm Beach house purchase.
Q And then the first page of the document contains -- or can you describe to me what is contained on the first page of the document?

A Yes, it looks like a newspaper clipping that shows and 22 appears to be a transaction for 60 Blossom Way in Palm Beach. 3 There is a calculation on it that gives a price breaker, 4 probably similar to what we saw on the Supporting Data 5 spreadsheet if I had to guess.

Pimey - Plaintiff - direct (Haren)
Page 1277
\(1 \quad Q\) Do you see that 60 Blossom Way 99.1 million and 3.5 acres are highlighted?

3 A Yes.
4 Q Did you highlight that text?
5 A Maybe.
6 Q Do you have an understanding of what the highlighting 7 indicates?
8 A Yes.
\(9 \quad\) Q And what is your understanding?
10 A The information is highlighted that went in the calculation on the adding machine tape in front of us.

Q And by "adding machine tape," are you referring to the portion of the document in white that states " 60 Blossom Way price per acre?"

A Yes.
16 Q And is that your handwriting on the adding machine tape?

A Yes.
19 Q Do you see on the document below the 60 Blossom Way 20 sale there is another transaction referenced?

A Yes.
Q And do you see that it states "1290 South Ocean
23 Boulevard, price 85 million" and then under "details" it states 24 "about eight gorgeous acres?"
25 A Yes.

1 Q Did Mr. Weisselberg ask you to incorporate a price per acre from the 1290 South Ocean Boulevard transaction into the 2019 Mar-A-Lago valuation?
A I don't remember.
5 Q Do you have an understanding as to whether
Mr. Weisselberg sent you the news clipping that is on the first page of this document?
A He may have.
9 Q Let's see if we could refresh your recollection and have some of your prior testimony put up on the screen.

Page 421 at line 12.
MR. HAREN: Can you zoom out a little bit, please? And can you scroll down a little bit more?
Q So Mr. Birney, do you see in -- we're looking at pages 421 to 422 of your prior testimony, and I ask you the following question:

So is it your understanding whether Mr. Weisselberg sent you the first photograph that we looked at or he sent you this photograph that Mr. Weisselberg provided you with the comp that you used at 60 Blossom Way and then you asked "Is the next page an e-mail from -- usually I'll include where I got the information?"
"QUESTION: We can scroll down to page four.
"ANSWER: Yes, so I probably got both of those from Allen Weisselberg."
P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren)

Does seeing that testimony refresh your recollection as to where you obtained this information on the document?
A Not really. I have no reason to believe my prior testimony was inaccurate. I think I just said "probably got them from Allen Weisselberg." What did I say before maybe?

Q I'm looking at page 422, eight to nine:
"Yes, I probably got both of those from Allen Weisselberg."
It's fine we can just move on.
MR. HAREN: Could you turn to page 12 of the document, please?
Q Mr. Birney, does page 12 of the document contain the same news article and note, Plaintiffs Exhibit 3030?
A They appear to be the same.
Q So you did save Mr. Weisselberg's note and the news clipping as his note indicated you should do; right?
A Probably.
Q Did you prepare the backup for the Mar-A-Lago valuation in 2019?
A Yes.
Q And the note that Mr. Weisselberg sent you is contained in the backup file, isn't it?

A Can you represent that this 20-page document is the --

Q It was produced as one document, yes?
A Okay. Then yes.
Q All right. Let's turn to page eight of the document, please.

A Which page?

Q Mr. Birney, do you see that a title on this page from a news article states, "Former Broadway producer Terry Allen Kramer's Estate Sells for the Record Breaking 105 Million in Palm Beach"?
A Yes.
Q And do you see that above the paragraph and below the photograph, there is handwriting that states, "1259 S. Ocean." Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q What do you understand that handwriting to refer to?
A I understand that refers to the address at this location.

Q And there's some adding machine math on the right side of the page. Do you see what that computes?

A I believe it computes in value per acre for the sale. It starts with 105 million which is indicated as the sale price and it divides it by 4.72 and I just can't seem to find where the 4.72, which I believe are acres, came from on this page.

Q Do you see that there's a note above the adding machine math that states, "For valuation purposes, we are excluding the pure vacant land (second parcel) that includes 2.1 acres because no structures."

A Yes.
Q Did the substance of that note come from Mr.
25 Weisselberg?

\section*{A Probably.}

2 Q Let's see if we can refresh your recollection and pull 3 up page 428 of your prior testimony. Do you see page on 428, lines three to six -- excuse me, three to seven.
"Does the note here that you read about for valuation purposes for Statement of Financial Condition, does that reflect an instruction you received from Allen Weisselberg?
"ANSWER: I believe so. Yes."
Does that refresh your recollection as to who the substance of the note on page eight came from Mr. Weisselberg?
A No, but I have no reason to doubt that it -- that it did.

Q Okay. So fair to say that there is a news article that describes this transaction at 1259 S . Ocean Boulevard as a record-breaking 105 million sale and the price per acre was derived by excluding portions of the acreage from the price per acre?
A That's what the note says. I can't verify the math of it right now.
Q Did Allen Weisselberg direct you to use the comparable properties that were used to value Mar-A-Lago in the 2019 Statement of Financial Condition?
A Yes.
Q Did anyone at the Trump Organization between 2015 and

Page 1283
P. BIRNEY - DIRECT(MR. HAREN)

2021 ever make you aware of any appraisal that appraised rent-stabilized units at Trump Park Avenue?

A Can you please repeat the question?
MR. HAREN: Can I have a readback, please.
THE COURT: Please. Thank you.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was read back.)
A I don't think so.
Q Okay. Mr. Birney, let's move on to the topic of Mr.
Trump's partnerships with the Vornado Realty Trust. I would like to pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 856, 2020 Statement of Financial Condition, and turn to page 20, please.

Sorry. Wrong page. Scroll up, please. There. One more page.

Mr. Birney, do you see where it states that, "Mr. Trump and Vornado Realty Trust are partners in two properties? I'll just read from the document. It states, "In May 2007, Mr. Trump and Vornado Realty Trust became partners in two properties." Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q And do you see three paragraphs down where it states, "Mr. Trump owns 30 percent of these properties as a limited partner"?
A Yes.
Q I'd like to advise you that in this litigation, defendants do not dispute the following fact: "Mr. Trump's limited partnership interests are held through a series of entities named Hudson Waterfront Associates with substantially similar terms."

And I would like to mark or pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 1213.

Mr. Birney, do you see on the first page of this exhibit, there is an e-mail with the subject "RE: Vornado? A Yes.
Q Do you see that substance of the e-mail from Maria Lagani to Ivanka Trump, Allen Weisselberg and Alan Garten states, "Hi, Ivanka. Attached are the Decision on Motion, the Appellate Decision and Agreement of Partnership - this is one of six identical agreements." Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q Let's turn to page two of the document. It is a 106-page document entitled, "Agreement of Limited Partnership of Hudson Waterfront Associates I, LP."

During your work at the Trump Organization, did anyone ever show you any of the agreements governing Mr. Trump's partnerships with the Vornado Realty Trust?

A I don't believe so.
Q During your work at the Trump Organization, were you ever provided a summary of any partnership agreement governing Mr. Trump's partnerships with Vornado Realty Trust?

A I don't believe so.
Q Mr. Birney, do you generally recall testimony yesterday regarding Mr. Trump's triplex apartment?

A Yes.
MR. HAREN: Let's call up Plaintiff's Exhibit 1196, please. It is a native file and I'll state that the file name is "1-jeffsupportingdata6.2017vpb10.05.17.xlsx."

What does that file name indicate based on your file saving practices?
A Can you repeat the file name, please?
Q Sure. "1-jeffsupportingdata6.2017vpb10.05.17"?
A That's typically how I save documents. I'll save it in the file name as of the date that I'm working on it. So I would understand that to be the file that I worked on on October 5, 2017.

MR. HAREN: Can we scroll down to row 913, column G and \(H\). And just I neglected to say the magic words on Exhibit 1213 , so if we could move that into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1213.)
Q Mr. Birney, do you have --
MR. ROBERT: Objection. I just looked at the screen. I thought he was trying to move this in. There is no foundation as to 1213 . The witness never saw this 1 agreement before.

magic words.
Q Looking at Exhibit 1196 that is on the screen, do you see the information in row 913?
A Yes.
Q And what do you understand is contained in columns B and \(C\) and \(G\) and \(H\) in that row?
A A description for the valuation of the Trump Tower triplex for these two years that we're looking at.
Q So this is a draft of the supporting data for 2017 and as of the date of this document, the 30,000 square-foot number is still used, correct?
A Yes.
MR. HAREN: All right. Let's call up Plaintiff's Exhibit 1198. This is another native file.
Q Sir, Mr. Birney, the file name on this document is "1-sofcsupportingdata6.2017vpb10.06.17".

What does that file name indicate to you based on your practices?
A It indicates that it is a draft from the next day.
Q And by the next day, you mean October 6, 2017?
A Yes.
Q Let's scroll down to rows 939 through 941, please.
MR. HAREN: Your Honor, I neglected to say the magic words about Exhibit 1196, the native file just before this one, so I move that into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1196.)

MR. HAREN: Since this one is on the screen as well, can I move this one into evidence, Exhibit 1198 ?

THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1198.)
Q So, Mr. Birney, looking at rows 939 through 942, can you describe what is reflected there?
A Can you scroll up a couple of rows, please, so we can get a year on these columns?
Q Sure. Just scroll up until we see what year column G reflects.

A Okay. Thank you. So row 939 I think is the same thing we just looked at, which indicates the valuation for 2016 for the triplex apartment. And then 941 and 942 are new for 2017, but indicate the triplex was valued based on a comp at 432 Park for 10,996 square feet at \($ 10,625\) per square-foot. D 941 is probably just a calculation of those two, a multiplication of those two figures. And then 942 line 942 indicates there is a 35 percent premium for ex-president's house. I would imagine D 942 is some sort of formula that multiplies D 941 times 35 percent.

Q And then going down to row 950, beginning at -- in column D, there's a question written there, " 35 percent premium ex-president, question mark, would give 27 million." Do you see that?

\section*{BIRNEY - DIRECT(MR. HAREN)}

A Yes.
Q What does that language with the yellow highlighter that fills those cells indicate to you?
A Can you please scroll down just a couple of rows?
Thank you. That indicates an internal note that probably multiplies rows -- sorry, G950, the sum of G950 all the way down to G966 and multiplies that sum by 35 percent probably equals 27 million.

Q And is the general idea that applying a 35 percent ex-president premium to those property values would yield an extra 27 million in value?
A If that's how I read it? If you want to pull up a calculator, we can do that.

Q I just want to get your understanding. Is that your understanding?
A That is my understanding.
Q Was applying a president premium to a series of assets in the supporting data something you would have done on your own without being directed to do so?

A No.
Q Who directed you?
A I don't really remember, but probably Allen

Weisselberg.
MR. HAREN: Let's pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 1200.
Q Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document as a draft supporting spreadsheet for the 2017 Statement of Financial Condition?
A Yes.
MR. HAREN: I move this document in evidence. THE COURT: Granted. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiffs Exhibit 1200.)
Q Mr. Birney, the file name is "1-sofcsupporting data6.2017vpb10.10.17." What does that file name indicate to you based on your practices?

A It indicates that I saved this draft on October 10, 2017.

Q Okay. Thank you.
Do you have an understanding of the information contained in column C and D , row 959 ?
A Yes.
Q What's your understanding?
A 25 percent premium for presidential personal residence and D is probably a calculation. That's 25 percent of D 958.
Q And the result of the calculation is \(29,209,161 ?\)
A Yes.
25 Q And can you describe what's happening in row 968?
P. BIRNEY - DIRECT(MR. HAREN)

Page 1291
1 A Yes.
2 Q Please do.
3 A 15 percent premium for presidential property is applied to the figure in G967.
\(5 \quad \mathrm{Q}\) What's the result of the calculation?
6 A 1,759,500.
7 Q Same question for row 970. If you can just describe what's happening and give the result of the calculation, that would be helpful.

A 15 percent premium for presidential property was applied to the figure in \(\mathbf{G} 969\) resulting in a number of 500,250 .

Q Row 977?
A 15 percent premium for presidential property applied to the figure in G976 resulting in \(5,310,000\).

Q Row 982?
A 15 percent premium for presidential property applied to the figure in G981 resulting in 2,250,000.

Q And 986?
A 15 percent premium for presidential property applied to the figure in G985 resulting in 133,125.
Q 990?
A 15 percent premium for presidential property applied to 23 the figure in G989 resulting in 83,438.
24 Q And then the last -- ^ I apologize for the 2 row 234.
25 A 15 percent premium for presidential winter residence

A Between 2017 and 2016.
Q So the -- so I understand, the figure at M1004 of \(125,050,000\) in parenthesis, does that mean according to this draft of the spreadsheet, the asset values were down by \($ 125,050,000\) as compared to what was in the 2016 spreadsheet?
A Yes.
Q So removing 144 million plus in presidential premiums would make the number negative 269 million?
A Yes.
Q And then looking at cell M1014, can you describe can you describe the information in row 1014 between columns \(\mathbf{J}\) and M?

A Similar to the above, but this is for net worth comparing 2016 total to the taking the difference both in percentage and dollars from the 2017 figure.

Q Just so I understand, cell M1014 where it says \(24,360,000\), does that mean that comparing this draft of the supporting data spreadsheet for 2017 to the 2016 Statement of Financial Condition, the difference is that net worth is higher by \(24,360,000\) ?

A Yes.
Q So removing 144 million in presidential premiums would push that number into negative territory?

A Yes.
MR. HAREN: Let's go to Plaintiff's Exhibit 1212.

1 Q Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?
2 A Yes.
3 Q What do you recognize it to be?
4 A A spreadsheet tracking changes made between at least 5 two different versions of the supporting data spreadsheet.

Q Did you prepare this document?
A Yes.
MR. HAREN: I move this document into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiffs Exhibit 1212.)
Q The cell where it states "Statement of Financial Condition changes," what does that refer to?
A Changes to the Statement of Financial Condition.
Q And where it says, "10.26.13," is that an indication that these are changes made as of the draft of that date?

A It indicates that this version of this spreadsheet was on October 26, 2017.

Q Did you typically keep documents entitled, "Statement of Financial Condition changes"?

A There are probably multiple drafts of this.
Q Did you have a practice of keeping documents with the title, "Statement of Financial Condition changes." That's my question.
25 A I think so.

A It's a -- it's a difference calculation both in percentage and dollars between I5 and K5. Sorry. I -- 14 and K4.
Q Meaning the net worth as of the October 10, 2017 draft and the net worth from 2016?
A Yes.
Q Could you scroll down to row 39, please. Can you explain row 39 and how it relates to row 4 ?
A Yes. Row 39 is the net worth from an October 26, 2017 draft of supporting spreadsheet, so it is just a later draft.

Q And is the -- is row 39 reflective of the information that's described between row 4 and row 39 ?
A Can you please repeat the question?
Q Sure. Let's do it a different way.
MR. HAREN: Could we zoom out a little bit.
Q So Mr. Birney, do you see that there is information in columns B and C such as row 20 and 21 where it states, "Trump Park Avenue reduction in PH 20 per contract with IT."

Do you have an understanding of what that refers to?

\section*{A Yes.}

Q And what does that refer to?
A The value of penthouse 20 at 502 Park Avenue was reduced by 18.7 million because Ivanka Trump has a lease with a purchase option in that lease that was \($ 18.7\) million less than the sponsor unit analysis report we received.

\hline 17 Q What's your understanding? & 17 and clarify on the deposition designations. You are \\

1 that was submitted or designated is admissible with the

2 exception of those lines I read right before the break and the things that were withdrawn I think there is still agreement there?

THE COURT: I'll assume if they withdraw them you haven't said anything.

MR. AMER: They're withdrawn.
MR. KISE: But I don't -- I guess we'll have to come back to you. I haven't had a chance over the break to look at it. I don't see any distinction between the testimony that was excluded and the rest of the testimony and all of it relates to the same thing which is this witness's understanding of her own notes and just like we're doing with this witness here asking him question after question after question.

In fact, it's a little different here because we're asking him questions that aren't in his notes. We're just asking him what's his understanding, so that testimony was designed to get at this witness's understanding of what she wrote in her own notes, but I can do this in a more detailed way if -- I don't want to take up the time while we have a witness.

THE COURT: Right. So this is now a substantive disagreement, not a correction?

MR. KISE: Yes, Your Honor. Because yesterday we had just taken that ruling is including all of that, but \(I\) just don't see a distinction between -- I can come back to you on that.

THE COURT: Okay. We'll address it.
MR. KISE: Okay. Thank you.
MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor?
THE COURT: Yes, I remember looking at that carefully since that was the exception. There was a compound question or questions. There was no reason to believe that that particular witness would know the answer. These witnesses try to -- if you didn't object or I let it in anyway, there was a reason to believe that they wouldn't be able to answer.

MR. KISE: No reason to believe that the witness wouldn't understand her own notes? The question relates to her own notes, so there is certainly a reason to believe that she would understand her own notes. We could ask her a question. If she says I don't know, then she says I don't know. But if we're asking her about what is in her own notes and the basis for what's in her own notes, then she can either say I don't know what I looked at or I don't know why I wrote that or I don't know or any other combination or she can explain it.

THE COURT: I totally agree with everything you just said.

Now let's hear what the AG has to say.
MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, I'm not arguing the merits of this. The Court has already addressed that.

THE COURT: Well, I addressed it, but not as a continuing objection, which we'll have to hash out.

MR. SOLOMON: But one thing I did want to raise, Your Honor, is this may affect the ability to have the video properly edited for Monday.

THE COURT: Yes, so we'll finish it today.
MR. KISE: Either today or we can get it to you over the weekend.

THE COURT: There is no reason not to do it today.
MR. KISE: I just don't know if we have -- I'll have to go back and see if we have all the transcript materials.

THE COURT: It can't be that complicated if it's the way you said, then --

MR. KISE: It seems very simple to me. It's not. Apparently it is more complicated which is why we have to address it, but I certainly don't think in a -- particularly in a bench trial, issues relative to minor nits and questions, it's a bench trial. There is no risk of confusion of a jury. So you can certainly sort out what you think is relevant or not relevant, but to exclude it altogether when this witness isn't even available to us at this point is a big step. That's why I'm making such an issue of it.

MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, Mr. Amer will deal with the merits of the issue.

MR. AMER: Well, only to say I don't have the transcript in front of me.

THE COURT: Is your microphone on?
MR. AMER: I don't have the transcript in front of me, so if I could just have time to look at the transcript and address Mr. Kiser's comment maybe before we break at the end of the day.

THE COURT: Or before or after lunch. I don't care. We're not coming back after lunch. Is today Friday or something?

MR. KISE: I will point out that we're talking about what amounts to about 25 lines of testimony that are important to the presentation of our defense and so for that reason alone, I mean, I don't see -- there doesn't seem to be any critical issue with the testimony itself, so I would just on that basis alone to short circuit this and make it available for them to do the video, I would ask the Court to reconsider just on that basis. It's a bench trial.

THE COURT: I am reconsidering and we'll address it, but last words quickly?

MR. AMER: We'll look at the testimony and I'll get

"QUESTION: Who dictates messages for you to send out?

"ANSWER: I would say -- so Ron Leiberman, Allen Weisselberg and Jeff McConney.
"QUESTION: And to your recollection, did Ron Leiberman direct you to draft this particular message?
"ANSWER: No.
"QUESTION: Did Jeff McConney dictate this particular message for you?
"ANSWER: Maybe.
"QUESTION: Did Allen Weisselberg dictate this particular message for you?
"ANSWER: Maybe.
"QUESTION: Did anybody else possibly dictate this message to you?
"ANSWER: Probably not. That was your testimony? THE WITNESS: Yes.
Transcript continues on the following page....

Q Does seeing that testimony refresh your recollection as to whether anybody dictated to you the language in this e-mail which states " 1290 Ave of Americas could probably be estimated at mid 4 cap rate at stabilization low 4 if there is upside"?
A I'm writing the e-mail to Michael from Cushman & Wakefield saying, "Confirming our conversation," so I could have written that down based on a phone call or it could have been told to me by -- or dictated to me by Allen Weisselberg or Jeff McConney.
Q By the time you sent the e-mail, you didn't know what at stabilization or upside really meant?

A Correct.
Q Looking back at Exhibit 3027, the e-mail on May 30, 2018 at 12:46 p.m., you copied Jeff McConney on the e-mail. Why was he copied on the e-mail? I'll ask it in a more specific way.

Was Mr. McConney assisting you in gathering market information to respond to the Bloomberg inquiry?
A Yes.
Q In Exhibit 3027, at the top of page one, there is a response from Mr. Papagianopoulos that states, "While I cannot opine on 1290 AOA , as I do not know the actual financials, current market environment for class A MT properties is mid 4 s ", that's the number four with an " S ", "for stabilized and below that for properties with upside." Do you see that?

\section*{A Yes.}

2 Q What do you understand MT to refer to there?
3 A I understand it to be midtown.
MR. HAREN: Let's move to Plaintiff's Exhibit 1159.
Q Mr. Birney, in Exhibit 1159, do you see on the first page an e-mail from you to Mr. Papagianopoulos stating in part,
"I need both the midtown and downtown sales for an urgent matter." Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q What was the urgent matter?
A I have to believe it was the Bloomberg article/phone call.

MR. HAREN: I move this document into evidence. THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1159.)
Q Mr. Birney, do you see on page two of the document, we have the same two e-mails that indicate an exchange with Mr. Papagianopoulos about a mid 4 cap rate at stabilization that we looked at a minute ago?
A Yes.
Q And on page one of this exhibit, you forwarded the e-mail chain to Allen Weisselberg. Do you see that?
A Yes.
MR. HAREN: Let's pull up the 2018 supporting data

Page 1319
P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)
spreadsheet Plaintiff's Exhibit 774. Could we go to cells C832 and 833.
Q So, Mr. Birney, does the information in cells C832 and C833 pertain to the 2018 valuation of 1290 Avenue of the Americas?
A Yes.
Q And do you see that it states, "06/30/2018-based on information provided by Michael Papagianopoulos of Cushman & Wakefield which reflects a cap rate for 2.67 percent for a comparable office building"?
A Yes.
Q And that's the same Michael Papagianopoulos whose name we saw from the e-mails from May 30, 2018 ?
A Yes.
MR. HAREN: Let's pull up the 2018 Statement of Financial Condition, Plaintiff's Exhibit 773 and go to page 19, please.
Q Mr. Birney, do you see the heading, "partnerships and joint ventures"?

A Yes.
Q In the paragraph beginning with -- scroll down, please. In the paragraph beginning with "the estimated current value," do you see where it states, "This valuation was arrived at by applying a capitalization rate to the stabilized net operating income and taking into consideration any debt."

1 A Yes.
2 Q And does it state the estimated current value of the 3 real property net of debt of \(1,211,900,000\) is based on an evaluation made by the trustees in conjunction with their associates and outside professionals?

A Yes.
Q Did Jeff McConney or Allen Weisselberg ever direct you to use a capitalization rate in the mid 4 percent range in the 2018 valuation of 1290 Avenue of the Americas based on the properties stabilized net operating income?

A Can you please repeat the question?
THE COURT: Read back, please.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was read back.)

THE COURT: That is a mouthful by the way. If you can make the questions a little shorter and simpler and maybe more direct.
A No.
Q If either of them had given you such a direction, would you have followed it?

A Probably.
MR. HAREN: Let's pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 781, please.
Q Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?
A Yes.

\section*{BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)}

Q What do you recognize it to be?
A I recognize it to be the backup to the 1290 Avenue of the Americas valuation -- I can't really tell the year.

Q Do you see that it has in the left-hand column on the first page actual fourth quarter 2017 results?
A Yes.
Q Does that indicate to you that it is the backup for the 2018 valuation?
A Probably, yes.
MR. HAREN: I move this document into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 773.)
Q And Mr. Birney, when it says "1290" in handwriting at the top of the first page, does that refer to 1290 Avenue of the Americas?

A Yes.
Q All right. What do you understand to be shown on page eight of this document?

A This is a list of recent sales at that time for midtown Class A buildings.

Q Is it a portion of a generic report of sales from Cushman & Wakefield?

A I can't tell who it's from.
Q But that appears to you to be a generic list of sales?

\section*{A Yes.}

Q All right. There is a sale that is highlighted 666
Fifth Avenue. Do you see that?
4 A Yes.
\(5 \quad Q\) And is that your highlighting?
6 A Probably.
\(7 \quad \mathrm{Q}\) And what is indicated by the fact that 2.67 percent is highlighted?
9 A That is the capitalization rate that was used.
10 Q Do you see in the entry next to transaction type it states "contract."

A Yes.
Q You understand that -- do you understand that to mean the transaction is not closed, but it is in contract?

A Ido.
Q All right.
MR. HAREN: Could we scroll down, please, to the paragraph below the numbers.
Q Do you see at the bottom of the paragraph it states,
"If the sale occurs, the property would be purchased on an overall capitalization rate of 2.67 percent. The stabilized capitalization rate is projected to increase to 4.45 percent in year 3."
24 A Yes.
25 Q Were you ever directed to use the 4.45 percent rate

\section*{P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)}

rather than the 2.67 percent rate in valuing 1290 Avenue of the Americas in 2018?
A No.
MR. HAREN: Let's move to Plaintiff's Exhibit 842, the 2019 Statement of Financial Condition and turn to page 19.

Q Mr. Birney, do you see the heading "partnerships and joint ventures"?
A Yes.
Q In the paragraph beginning with, "The estimated current value," do you see that it states, "This valuation was arrived at by applying a capitalization rate to the stabilized net operating income and taking into consideration any debt"? A Yes.

MR. HAREN: Let's move to the supporting data Plaintiff's Exhibit 843 and turn to cells G834 to 835. Q Mr. Birney, do you see in cell G835 there is a reference to a 2.67 percent cap rate?
A Yes.
Q And then looking over at cells \(\mathbf{G}\) or \(\mathbf{C 8 6 3}\) to 864, do you see that it states, "06/30/2019-1290 based on information provided by Michael Papagianopoulos of Cushman & Wakefield which reflects a cap rate of 2.67 percent for a comparable office building." You see that?

A Yes.

MR. HAREN: Let's move to Plaintiff's Exhibit 850.
Q Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?
A Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A The backup to the 1290 Avenue of the Americas 2019 asset valuation.

MR. HAREN: I move this document into evidence. THE COURT: Granted. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 850.)
Q Mr. Birney, could you look at page five of the document, please.

MR. HAREN: Could you zoom in for the entry for sale number one with the highlighter.
Q Mr. Birney, you see where the 2.67 percent capitalization rate is highlighted?
A Yes.
Q What is indicated by that?
A Capitalization rate of 2.67 was used.
Q And were you ever --
MR. HAREN: Scroll down, please, to the paragraph below.
Q Do you see at the bottom of the paragraph, it states, "The property was purchased based on an overall capitalization rate of 2.67 percent which is projected to increase to \subsection*{4.45 percent upon stabilization in year 3?"}

A Yes.
Q Were you ever directed to use the 4.45 percent number instead of the 2.67 percent number?

A No.
MR. HAREN: Can we zoom out to see more of the exhibit, please.
Q Do you see in pages five through seven of the exhibit there are some entries identified by handwritten notes such as east, west, south and too small?
A No.
Q So do you see on page five that there are notations in handwriting that state east, west, east. Do you see those?
A Yes.
Q And then on page six, do you see that there are additional notations such as south, east, west and too small?
A Yes.
Q Are those entries in your handwriting?
A Yes.
Q And what do those notations indicate?
A They indicate why these properties weren't used.
Q Whose decision was it not to use the properties identified by those notations?
A Allen Weisselberg.
Q We're going to move on to Trump Tower and go back to the 2018 supporting data Exhibit 774. Let's look at rows 36 to 49, please.

Mr. Birney, just speaking generally, can you describe the information in column \(C\) from rows 32 to 42 ?
A Columns B and C?
Q Yes. Sorry.
A Yes.
Q Please, go ahead.
A It's a calculation of the net operating income and the different line items of description for that calculation.

Q And so there's an income number in row 32 and then there are adjustments made below that; is that right?
A Yes.
Q And looking at cell H47, what's conveyed there?
A I couldn't really hear you.
Q H47.
THE COURT: You mean line 47, don't you?
MR. HAREN: Right, line 47, and the number that is contained in cell H47.
A Sorry. I couldn't really hear the question. What's the question?
Q What is conveyed there?
A Cap rate used in 2018 for Trump Tower of 2.86 percent.
Q And do you see the -- if you look at cell C81 to 83, there's a notation that states, "06/30/2018 based on information

P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)
provided by Michael Papagianopoulos of Cushman & Wakefield which reflect cap rates for comparable office buildings of 2.67 percent and 3.05 percent for an average cap rate of 2.86 percent"?

A Yes.
MR. HAREN: Let's pull up Plaintiff's Exhibit 776, please.
Q Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?
A Yes.
\(Q \quad\) What do you recognize it to be?
A The backup for the Trump Tower valuation in 2018. MR. HAREN: I move this document into evidence. THE COURT: All right. Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 776.)
Q Mr. Birney, on the first page, there is a figure of \($ 1,009,488\) on the line for "management fees." Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q What does it mean there that the figure is circled?
A Probably means it was removed in the calculation -- oh, I'm sorry. The -- one second. Yes. It was removed from the calculation.

Q So management fees were removed from expenses when calculating net operating income?

1 A Can you repeat the question?
\(2 \quad \mathrm{Q}\) So management fees were removed from expenses when 3 calculating net operating income?
4 A Yes.
5 Q And whose decision was it to remove management fees
6 from the expenses when calculating the net operating income of 7 Trump Tower?
8 A Either Jeff McConney or Allen Weisselberg.
9 Q If you take a look at page nine, do you see an e-mail from Doug Larson at Newmark Knight Frank?
A Yes.
Q It is dated July 29, 2018 and the only person on the "to" line is Doug Larson. Do you see that?

A I do.
Q So did you have an understanding of, I guess, e-mail culture that when a person sends an e-mail to themselves and it ends up as you can see from the next e-mail of Jeff McConney that it was a broad e-mail blast?

A General understanding, yes.
Q All right. And then Mr. McConney forwards that e-mail to you as you can see at the top of the page nine. Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q He states in his e-mail to you, "Does this answer number three on the Statement of Financial Condition needs

BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)

\section*{list"?}

Do you have an understanding of what "Statements of Financial Condition needs list" refers to?
A Yes.
\(Q\) And what does it refer to?
A I think it refers to an e-mail that I sent this year listing out the things that I needed in order to put together the Statement of Financial Condition.

Q And Mr. McConney was assisting you for gathering things for the Statement of Financial Condition needs list?

A Yes.
Q Turning to page seven of the document, do you see the adding machine math in the middle of the page?

A Yes.
\(Q\) And what do you understand it to convey?
A An average cap rate from 666 Fifth Avenue and 693 Fifth Avenue.
\(Q\) And looking at the entry on the page for 666 Fifth Avenue, do you see at the bottom of the paragraph entry the same reference to a stabilized capitalization rate of 4.45 percent that we saw in the similar report in the backup for the 1290 valuation?

A Yes.
Q Were you ever directed to use the 4.45 percent number 5 rather than the 2.67 percent number in the 2018 Trump Tower valuation?
A No.
Q Let's move to Plaintiffs Exhibit 1100. So it is a long document. I can assure you we're going to go through only a very small amount of it.

Mr. Birney, do you see at the top of the first page an e-mail from Jeff McConney to you stating, "Does this answer number three on the Statement of Financial Condition needs list"?

A Yes.
Q And do you see that the attachments to the e-mail include file names such as "nycofficemarketoverview.pdf,"
"officebuildingsales.pdf," "officemarketoverview.xlsx" and then there are several others?

A Yes.
Q Do you recognize this e-mail that Mr. McConney sent to you?

A I recognize it as an e-mail, yes.
MR. HAREN: I move this document into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1100.)
Q I'd like to turn to page 39 of the exhibit. So in the packet of material that's contained in Exhibit 1100, you can see on this page sale number one, 666 Fifth Avenue. And then on

2 Q And do you see the note at the bottom of the paragraph that reads "the property was purchased based on an overall capitalization rate of 2.67 percent which is projected to increase to 4.5 percent upon stabilization in year three?"
A Yes.
Q Were you ever directed in connection with the valuation of Trump Tower in 2019 to use the 4.45 percent number reflected here?
A No.
MR. HAREN: Let's move to Plaintiff's Exhibit 1227.
Q Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?
A Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A A draft of the 2019 Statement of Financial Condition
Supporting Data spreadsheet.
MR. HAREN: I move this document into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 1227 in evidence.)
Q The file name is "1-SOFC Supporting Data 6.2019 VPD 072219.XLSX." What does that file name indicate to you based on your practices?

A It indicates that this version was the draft as of
P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren)

July 22, 2019.
Q And I'd just like to direct you down to Row 65 through 67.

MR. HAREN: And can you scroll up a little bit to show the witness the property to which those entries pertain?
Q So Mr. Birney, do you see in Row 30 there is an entry,
"Trump Tower?"
A Yes.
MR. HAREN: Okay. Now could we scroll down, please, to Row 65? There it is.
Q Mr. Birney, do you see in these entries there are two different valuations of Trump Tower that are computed?
A Yes.
Q And value one is 524 million and change?
A Yes.
Q And value two is 571 million and change?
A Yes.
Q And value one is based on a cap rate of 1.0 percent?
A Yes.
Q And value two is based on a cap rate of 3.67 percent?
A Yes.
Q And just looking down at Rows 84 through 90 and focusing first on Rows 84 to 86, do you see that the four percent number is based on an average of \(4.65,4.68\) and 2.67 ?
P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren)

1 A Yes.
2 Q And do you see that the 3.67 percent number in value two is based on an average of 4.68 and 2.67?

A Yes.
Q You recall that we saw in the 2019 Supporting Data that only 2.67 percent was used in the final valuation of Trump Tower in 2019?

A I think so.
9 Q Did you alone make the decision to use the 2.67 percent rate rather than the higher rates reflected in this exhibit?
A No.
Q Did any person direct you to use only the 2.67 percent rate from the 666 Fifth Avenue sale for the 2019 valuation of Trump Tower?

A Yes.
Q Who was that person?
A Allen Weisselberg.
Q Do you recall any conversation with Mr. Weisselberg in which he conveyed that instruction?

A Yes.
Q What do you recall about that conversation?
A I recall that I discussed it with Allen Weisselberg. I think I took the position that -- I think he said just use 2.67 percent and I said -- I'm -- like, I'm fine using that cap rate, but I'm worried that if we only use 2.67 if the building was sold, like, next year we're going to have a -- next year there might not be a cap rate that is as low as 2.67 , so there would be a difference between next year and this year.

\(Q\) So you had a concern that the following year you might not still be able to support a cap rate as low as 2.67 ?

MR. ROBERT: Objection.
MR. HAREN: Your Honor, this witness is an employee of the defendants. He's identified with an adverse party. There is a little bit of leading under the rules. I'm just trying to clarify his answer.

THE COURT: We haven't addressed the issue I don't think whether he's a hostile witness.

MR. ROBERT: He is not a hostile witness. I think it's evidence in the testimony this afternoon and this morning.

MR. HAREN: I would just say that under the rules leading is permitted for an adverse party regardless of whether he's hostile, but I was just trying to clarify his answer.

THE COURT: That was the only thing I was thinking. You're just trying to clarify what he said. I'll overrule the objection on multiple grounds.
Q Mr. Birney, could you explain --
MR. HAREN: Actually, the objection was overruled, so could I have a read back, please?

received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 1722 in evidence.)

MR. HAREN: And I could be done for the day. THE COURT: Okay.
MR. ROBERT: Just object to the last document as to relevance, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Subject to connection?
MR. HAREN: It reflects the fact that the actual sale of 711 Fifth Avenue occurred at the end of August of 2019 despite the representation and the backup about the last sale in the last two years in the Plaza district. I think its relevance is pretty clear.

THE COURT: It seems to me that it's relevant on that basis.

Okay. Counselors, don't leave.
MR. AMER: Your Honor, we did have the issue of the objection.

THE COURT: Yes, but let the witness go.
See you Monday, ten o'clock. Thank you.
MR. AMER: And can we get an admonition to the witness again?

THE COURT: Mr. Birney, I hereby admonish you not to discuss the case with anybody, any aspect of the case with anybody, okay?

THE WITNESS: Okay.
THE COURT: Thank you.

(Whereupon, the witness is excused from the witness stand.)

THE COURT: We'll address the objection. We're pulling it up and look at it, see if it says what some people say it says.

MR. AMER: Your Honor, if it's helpful, we can put it up on the screen.

THE COURT: That would be great.
MR. AMER: And is it okay if I present an argument on why this should be inadmissible?

THE COURT: Page 129, 21 right through 122, line 22.

MR. AMER: We'll put up the third page after we -Your Honor, the first question on page 120 starting at line 21 about how would Cushman or Newmark know something clearly lacks foundation, calls for speculation. This witness is not an employee of either Cushman or Newmark, so that question should not be allowed and the answer is inadmissible.

THE COURT: Well, let's do one at a time.
Mr. Kise?
MR. KISE: Well, Judge, I mean, I don't know that we can go one by one because his point here demonstrates the problem. It's like you have to understand the context within which this conversation is taking place.
You're looking -- Mr. Amer is asking you about one particular question, but you have to look back at the testimony, so I know that context is very difficult. We don't have a lot of witness. It's much easier when you have a lot of witnesses and you are following the testimony, but the questioning relates to her annual reviews. Those annual reviews are documents that I believe were shown to
Mr. Weisselberg and what they are is -- and I can direct you to testimony that says this. You don't have to take my word, but essentially what these annual reviews are are these are Ms. Mouradian's notes that she takes in realtime and she converts it into an annual review and she says that essentially on page 123 , line 17 to 22.

So the questions all relate to what she wrote. So the issue that is the subject of these particular questions is the data set that are used for valuations.

She acknowledges previously on page 117, lines 15 -- line 15 through 118, line two, that there are two sets of data that go into this and this, by the way, is reflected -I don't have the exhibit to pull up, but this is reflected in these exhibits. There is cap rates and there is what's called NOI, net operating income, right. And I think they went over that fully with Mr. Weisselberg.

So the questions that you're looking at, this one in particular, is part of the sequence who provided the data. So if you look at page 118, line three and you start following until you get here, that's what all these questions relate.

So okay, where did you get the data? So we're just asking her in her notes -- she understands there is three data sets, where would this data come from. And so the question that is presented that Mr. Amer has identified here is about who would be in a better position and this is all -- by the way, this is all based on her understanding. I mean, she doesn't know. I think the answer to this question is she says I don't know.

MR. KISE: So this is all based on her understanding. We're asking her about her notes. We're asking her to explain her understanding of what's in her notes and asking her what is the source of the data, the cap rates and the NOI. If she doesn't know, then she can simply say -- which I think she does repeatedly in this context. She says, "I don't know." But I don't see that that's a basis for it to be inadmissible.

We're not asking her as an expert. We're not asking her as an employee of Newmark. She was already familiar with those two entities because she was asked about them. Cushman & Wakefield, this is page 118 , lines 20 through 24:
"You mentioned that in your annual review -- you mentioned in your annual reviews companies such as Cushman & Wakefield and Newmark and counsel", meaning Mr. Amer, "I believe has asked you about those as they were appraisal firms. Is that your understanding of what they were?"

And this is now page 119:
"ANSWER: That's my understanding."
So then we start asking about questions about where would this data come from and that operating income and the cap rates and the question particularly relates to - - in a series of questions relate again to her understanding of who would have that data. And so this begins on page 120, line have to be an employee and if she doesn't know, just as we've done many times in this courtroom, if she doesn't know, then she --

THE COURT: She can say she doesn't know. We have like negative three minutes. Let me just try this approach, okay. We've got a three-month trial. We have thousands, tens of thousands, hundreds -- millions of pages of documents. Is one side or the other willing to just say "big deal"?

MR. AMER: So, Your Honor, I think this is important because they're trying to suggest that Ms. Mouradian misunderstood something she was told despite the fact that she took very careful notes. They could ask her about what her notes say and what the basis was for the information in her notes, but to start asking her how would Cushman or Newmark know things is inappropriate.

The next question, "Would you agree with me that the Trump Organization would be in the best position to know how much income they're generating from a particular property," there's no foundation for her to know that. How does she know if Vornado General Partnership has better or worse information?

THE COURT: Hold on one second.
MR. AMER: This is important and I think the Court correctly ruled that this is inadmissible.

121 and then continues over to page 122 where we get to the 21 and then continues over to page 122 where we get to the operative question after --

MR. AMER: I thought we were taking these one at a time.

MR. KISE: There is no way to take them one at a time.

THE COURT: He wants to take them holistically.
MR. KISE: It is not really possible because if you take them one at a time, you're taking them in the abstract.

THE COURT: Keep going.
MR. KISE: Thank you, Your Honor. So on page 142, line two, at the top, the question is asked, "Would it be consistent with your understanding" as follows. And this relates to who was providing the cap rates and who was providing the net operating income. So all this series of back and forth is designed to get at is where did -- what's her understanding of where the information came from, which is perfectly legitimate.

We're not asking her -- we don't need a foundation to ask her about her own notes. You don't need a foundation about why she put something in her notes. The foundation is there. It is her notes and what is her understanding. So it goes to her state of mind. We're not asking her and I don't think the question calls for an answer about what Newmark or Cushman & Wakefield actually did. She doesn't

MR. KISE: What Mr. Amer is trying to do is make your decision for you. You are the one that's going to decide whether she knew or not. We're entitled to present our evidence as to what was in her mind and present it to you and you look -- you take the evidence in and make a decision as to whether or not it's acceptable or not.

What they want you to do is just exclude it altogether and you never get to hear it and this is not a witness now who is capable of being called live, so that we can clarify things, so we can adjust our questions and answers like we've done with many witnesses in court. So there's really no basis to exclude it. There's no jury and you're perfectly capable of weighing the questions and the answers.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you. Give me one minute or less.
(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
THE COURT: Basically for the reasons that Mr. Kise has argued, I'm going to let it in. There is no jury here. I'll decide ultimately what's going on here anyway. So not to denigrate Mr. Amer's argument, but it is in.

MR. AMER: Your Honor, we need two minutes at the side-bar on a scheduling issue that came up within the last 45 minutes.

THE COURT: Hurry up.

\section*{A Yes.}

Q What's your understanding?
A It shows the value of the fixed assets on the balance sheet of Trump National Golf Club Colts Neck as of June 30, 2015 and June 30, 2016. The 2016 number was increased by 15 percent premium for a fully operational branded facility.

Q And let's scroll down to row 339. Same question for rows 339 to 340 .
A Yes. It shows the value of fixed assets on the balance sheet for Trump National Golf Club Washington, D.C. as of June 30, 2015 and June 30, 2016. The 2016 figure was increased by 15 percent for a premium for fully operational branded facility.

Q And --
THE COURT: And I'll ask both the interrogator and interrogatee to talk louder. The interrogator just basically has to keep his voice up because his microphone is where it is. The witness -- it's a skill you have to learn how to talk into the mic while reading something, but you have to talk into the mic, so it is heard. Thank you.

THE WITNESS: Okay.
Q Same question for rows 362 to 363.
A Yes. It shows the value of fixed assets on balance sheet of Trump National Golf Club Philadelphia for June 30, 2015 and June 30, 2016. The 2016 value is increased by 15 percent
P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)

National Golf Club Charlotte as of June 30, 2016 and a 15 percent premium is added for a fully operational branded facility.

MR. HAREN: So could we go down to row 462, please.
Q Same question for rows 462 to 463.
A This shows the value of the fixed assets for Trump National Golf Club Jupiter as of 201 -- as of June 30, 2015 and June 30, 2016. 15 percent premium was added on to the 2016 number for fully operational branded facility.

Q So the general approach that we have gone through in this spreadsheet, the value of fixed assets in some cases with a 15 percent premium, was that a applied to Trump Organization golf clubs for the Statement of Financial Condition from 2016 to 2020?

A It was applied to some of the Trump Organization golf clubs in 2016 and I'm pretty sure it was in '17 through '20.

MR. HAREN: Okay. Let's pull up on the screen the 2020 supporting data. Just show one example.
Q So Mr. Birney, we're looking at Plaintiff's Exhibit 857 and you can see on the screen there is in row 367 to 369 in column H that reflects the same basic approach we just discussed in 2015 -- or \(2016 ?\)

A Yes.
Q So there was a -- I'm just trying to establish that there was a general consistency from 2016 to 2020 in terms of

for a premium for fully operational branded facility.
MR. HAREN: Just have a few more of those and I'll try to do them all for a series of years, Your Honor, just to move a little bit more quickly.

THE COURT: Great.
Q Same question for rows 382 to 383.
A The rows show the value of the fixed assets for Trump National Golf Club Hudson Valley as of June 30, 2015 and as of June 30, 2016. There was a 15 percent premium added to the 2016 figure for a fully operational branded facility.

MR. HAREN: And could we scroll down to row 403, please.
Q Mr. Birney, we're looking at the entry for Trump National Golf Club LA. Do you see the information in row 403 down to 405 in column H ?
A Yes.
Q And what is your understanding of that information?
A My understanding is that shows the value of the fixed assets as of June 30, 2016 and there's a - for Trump National Golf Club Los Angeles and there is a 15 percent premium added for fully operational branded facility.

MR. HAREN: Let's move down to row 442.
Q And what is your understanding of the information in rows 441 to 442 in column \(H\) ?
A It shows the value of the fixed assets for Trump

\section*{BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)}

using the fixed assets and in some instances adding a premium. Is that fair to say?
3 A Yes.
4 Q All right. Do the methods of valuing golf courses on
Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition change in 2021?
A Yes.
Q Tell us what you recall about that change.
A There was a phone call with a golf course company called Marcus & Millichap where we asked them how they value golf courses and they gave us two different methods depending on how much money the golf course was making. The first method was for a golf course that consistently makes money. They used a multiple of eight to ten times EBITDA for that golf course and for golf courses that do not consistently make money, they used a -- I think it was two to three times gross revenue multiplier.

Q When you say consistently make money, what do you mean by that?

A The net income of the golf course positive or negative.
Q If it makes money, the negative becomes a positive?
A Yes.
Q Who was on the call that you just described with the golf course company?

A I was on the call, Larry Glick was on the call. I can't remember the Marcus & Millichap person's name. That's who

\section*{I am sure of right now.}

Q Okay. Let's see if we can refresh your recollection and pull up your prior testimony beginning at page 865 . So, Mr. Birney, beginning at line 11, and this is your testimony:
"So then there was a call in 2021 with Marcus & Millichap. Present on our side that I can remember was myself, Ray Flores, Allen Weisselberg, maybe Larry Glick where we asked them how they value golf courses."
Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q Does that refresh your recollection as to who was on the call you described with Marcus & Millichap?
A Yes.
Q So who was on the call with Marcus & Millichap?
A Myself, Ray Flores, Allen Weisselberg, the Marcus & Millichap person and Larry Glick.
Q And if I were to say the name Steve Ekovich, would that refresh your recollection as to the name of the Marcus & Millichap person?
A Yes.
Q And what is your recollection of the name of the Marcus & Millichap person?

A Steve Ekovich.
Q Thank you.
MR. HAREN: Let's go to the to 21 supporting data
P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)

\section*{P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN) \\ Page 1360}

A In that sentence, yes.
Q Thank you.
Do you have an understanding of cells G311 to 313?
A Yes.
Q What's your understanding?
A It shows a valuation for Trump National Golf Club Briarcliff with a gross revenue from July of 2020 through June of ' 21 of \($ 7.3\) million using a three times multiplier.
Q Do you have an understanding of cell G309?
A Yes.
Q What is your understanding?
A That is the value of the net fixed assets per Trump
National Golf Club Briarcliff was of June 30, 2021.
Q What is your understanding of cell G315?
A It's the average of the gross revenue multiplier and 25 the net fixed assets.

Q So just so I understand correctly, the \($ 21.9\) million valuation was computed by doing a gross revenue multiplier, but the result was then averaged with the \($ 46\) million fixed asset number?
A Yes.
Q Back to the description of the fixed assets in cell C309, you see it says, "value of net fixed assets"?
A Yes.
Q In cell H308 for the prior year, it says, "value of fixed assets." Do you have an understanding of the difference between value of fixed assets in 2020 and value of net fixed assets in 2021?
A Yes.
Q What is the difference?
A The difference is depreciation being removed.
Q I'm sorry. What was that?
A Depreciation being removed from the fixed assets.
Q Okay. Thank you. There is some descriptions in this sheet of net fixed assets and net book value.

Would your answer be the same for those figures?
A Can you repeat the question, please?
Q There are other descriptions in this sheet of the phrase net fixed assets or net book value, and I just want to know if your understanding of the word "net" in those instances is the same?

\section*{BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)}

A Can you show me an example?
Q Sure.
MR. HAREN: Just Ctrl-F for the word "net," "net fixed."
Q So here is an example, cell C417, the phrase "value of net fixed assets is used." But in cell C413, there is a reference to value of fixed assets is used in the prior year. I'm just trying to gain an understanding of the difference between fixed assets and net fixed assets.

A The depreciation is removed from fixed assets to get to net fixed assets.
Q Okay.
MR. HAREN: Search for the phrase, "net book value," please.
Q Mr. Birney, this cell C640.
MR. HAREN: In cell \(C\), if you can scroll up, so the witness can see what property this pertains to.
Q So we have cell C, B and C608 says, "Trump Turnberry." Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q And if we scroll down to cell C640, it states -- I'll just read the end of the sentence. "So we used net book value." Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q Do you have an understanding of the phrase "net book value"?

```

```

2 A Yes.
3 Q And what is your understanding?
4 A My understanding based on this example is it means the same thing as net fixed assets.

Q In other words, what is netted out is depreciation?
A That is my understanding.
MR. HAREN: Let's go to cell C357, please.
Q Do you have an understanding of the information contained in cell G356? Do you want us to scroll up?

A Yes, please.
MR. HAREN: Could you scroll up, please, to where the property begins.
Q So Mr. Birney, you can see cell B and C, row 343 says, "Trump National Golf Club-Bedminster."

So having seen that, do you have an understanding of the information in cell G356?
A Yes.
Q What is your understanding?
A My understanding is cell G356 shows the value of Trump National Golf Club Bedminster in June 30, 2021.
Q And that value is about \($ 80\) million down from the prior year; is that right?

A Yes.
Q How was the 2021 value computed?
P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)

A The EBITDA was used from July 2020 through June 2021 including capital leases and was multiplied by ten. Then the receivables from members for food, dues, et cetera, and the receivables from members for refundable and/or non-refundable deposits were added to that figure.
Q And in cell C357, it states, "6/30/21-upon the advice and guidance of Marcus & Millichap, golf course industry experts, a normal golf course with a consistently positive EBITDA trades at six to eight times, but the last few purchases have been 9 to 10 times." Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q And in the valuation that we saw at cell G356, the ten times number was used; is that right?
A I believe so.
Q And that's the highest number that was reflected in the advice provided by Marcus & Millichap?
A Yes.
Q Mr. Birney, take a look at cell C640. We looked at this a minute ago just to gain and understanding of the phrase "net book value," but I want to focus you on the other part of the note that reads, "6/30/21-location has not had" -- "has not consistently had a positive EBITDA and resorts are not usually valued on gross revenue multipliers, so we used net book value."

What does it mean that this property "has not had consistent" -- excuse me, "has not consistently had a positive
P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)

\section*{1 EBITDA?"}

A It means that Turnberry has not consistently had a positive EBITDA.

Q And just for a layperson who doesn't fully understand the term "EBITDA," can you explain that?

A Sure. It means Earnings Before Interest Taxes
Depreciation and Amortization. So it is similar to net income before all those things.
Q Is it a way of conveying that the property or at least in this cell the property has not consistently had positive net income?

A I would have to see the financials to confirm that.
Q So your understanding of the word "EBITDA" is earnings before the other thing I said earlier, the acronym?

A Yes.
Q Did you ever do a calculation of a Turnberry valuation for 2021 using a gross income multiplier?

A I don't remember.
Q Did you ever discuss with anybody whether to use a gross income multiplier to value Turnberry in 2021?

A Yes.
Q Tell us the substance of the discussion.
A I think I discussed with Ray Flores the question, probably Alan Garten.

Q Without getting into the substance of any legal advice,

\section*{BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)}

can you describe whether any calculation of valuation based on gross revenue was discussed in that conversation?

A I really don't remember.
MR. HAREN: All right. Let's just pull up on the screen Plaintiff's Exhibit 2270.
Q I just want to see if that refreshes your recollection.
MR. HAREN: I assure the Court we will not be going through this entire document.

Q Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?
A Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A The income statement for Trump Turnberry.
MR. HAREN: I would like to move this document into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 2270.)
Q Mr. Birney, do you see on the first page there is a line about ten lines down that says "total revenues"?
A Yes.
Q Do you have an understanding of the figure in that line in the column that is entitled, "Y-T-D actual"?

A Yes.
Q What's your understanding?
A That is the year-to-date actual total revenue for Trump

Turnberry through December 2020.
\(2 \quad \mathrm{Q}\) The number is 6.6 million and change?
3 A Yes.
4 Q And then the next column over, what's your understanding of the 21.6 million that's reflected there?

A That is the total budgeted revenue for 2020.
Q Presumably, it is a COVID year, so the revenue brought in was a lot less than the revenue expected. Is that fair?
A Yes.
Q All right. And where it says in the next column over to the right "Y-T-D last year," in the context of this statement, does that refer to 2019?

A Yes.
Q So what is your understanding of the figure in the total revenues line in that column?

A The figure is the 2019 revenue.
Q So the budgeted total revenue for 2020 was 21.6. The actual revenue for 2019 was 19.5 ; is that fair?

A Can you repeat the question?
MR. HAREN: Sure. Could I have a readback, please? THE COURT: Please.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was read back.)
A Yes.
Q Did you ever look at these total revenue figures in the context of deciding whether to use a gross revenue multiplier to value Trump Turnberry for the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition?

Q What do you recognize it to be?
A A spreadsheet that I created.
Q Can you describe for the Court the contents between Column B and Column O?

A Sure. It lists the financial results for each golf club for various periods ultimately using the last 12 months since June of 2021. Asset \(\mathbf{T} 12\) it means the past 12 months. It shows increases over the last two years and then it shows what multiplier may be used in Columns N and O .

Q So the figure in Columns N are those calculated values?
A Yes.
Q And are they based on the method that's then listed in Column \(O\) in the same row? Let me see if \(I\) can do it in a less generic way. So Column O Row 6 states: " 10 X EBITDA." Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q Is that the method that's used to compute the numbers that is in the same row in Column N?
A Yes.
Q And so just so that we can understand the nature of the document is that true all the way down in those columns to the bottom of the sheet? In other words, there is a method listed in Column O and then there is a number computed based on that number in Column N?
A That appears to be with -- what's on the screen right
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}

S3. Do you have an understanding of what that refers to?
2 A Yes.
3 Q And what's your understanding?
4 A The total fixed assets for that period.
\(5 \quad\) Q And why is it gross as opposed to net?
6 A Because it does not include depreciation.
7 Q And do you have an understanding of Cell U 3?
8 A Yes.
\(9 \quad \mathrm{Q}\) And what is your understanding?
10 A That is the method that was used in the past, however many years using the total fixed assets with a 15 percent premium added onto the light blue cells.

Q And because it says "gross book value," does that mean depreciation was not removed or the 15 percent was added? A Yes.

MR. HAREN: I'd like to scroll down a little bit more, please. And I think you'll have to spread Column Q out and Column \(S\) out to see the numbers on the bottom. Q So Mr. Birney, we're looking at Row 48 Columns N through \(U\). I just want to see if \(I\) understand these figures correct. So figure in Column U 48, that's a total of what the gross book value with 15 percent method yields?
A Yes, it says some of the cells above in that column.
Q And just to get a comparison between U 48 and \(N 48\), I think you'll remember that \(\mathbf{N} 48\) is the number computed based on
P. Birney - Plaintiff - direct (Haren)

1 the various multipliers; right?
A Yes.
Q And so comparing Cell N 48 to \(U 48\), you can see the difference of about \($ 230\) million give or take between using a gross book value with 15 percent and using revenue multipliers. Is that fair?

A Revenue and EBITDA multipliers, yes.
MR. HAREN: All right. Let's go to Plaintiff's Exhibit 344, please.
Q Mr. Birney, do you recognize this document?
A Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A An e-mail from myself to Caitlin Carey and Jeff McConney.

MR. HAREN: I move this document into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 344 in evidence.)
Q Just want to direct you to page two. Do you have an understanding of who Caitlin Carey is?

A Yes.
Q And what's your understanding of who she is?
A She works -- or she worked at the time of this e-mail at Deutsche Bank.

Page 1374
Q And do you see in her e-mail of November 10, 2017 to Jeff McConney copying you, she writes: "Hi, Jeff. I have a somewhat of an annoying but necessary request. We received the covenant package while you were out, thank you Patrick, and the guarantor certificate only references endeavor. Since he also provides a guaranty for OPO as well, we would need a compliance certificate referencing this separate facility. Since covenants are the same for both loans we can combine for next year but for 2017, can you provide the separate form. We just want to make sure all the Is and Ts are dotted and crossed. Thank you."

And you'll see following that e-mail there is a response from Mr. McConney that says: "Hi, Caitlin. No problem. Can I get it to you next week? Jeff."

And following those exchanges there is an e-mail on the first page from you to Caitlin Carey, copies Jeff McConney stating: "Caitlin, as discussed, see attached compliance certificate for Trump Old Post Office LLC. Let us know if you need anything further. Thank you. Pat."

And the attachment to the e-mail begins on page four of the exhibit and it pertains among other things to -- and this is in the middle of the page, guarantor's Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2017. It's item number one in the first bullet. And then on page five of the document there is a signature that says underneath the signature line, "Donald J. Trump by Donald J. Trump, Jr. as attorney in fact." Do you see

Q In cell J91, those expenses total to \(\mathbf{1 2 . 6}\) million. Is that what the document indicates?

A Yes.
Q Are any of -- when it says "unallocated," does that mean that these expenses are not allocated to the assets listed higher up in the spreadsheet?

A Can you, please, scroll up slowly? Higher, please.
Yes. I think it means it doesn't include any corporate payroll or overhead that's already listed in the rows within the business segments.

MR. HAREN: Okay. Let's go back to the e-mail, Exhibit 1293, and scroll down page two or three where the attachment is.
Q So Mr. Birney, this is the other attachment, the cover memorandum. Do you recognize that?

A Yes.
Q Did you prepare this document?
A Yes.

1 Q It states in the first line, "As per your request," and you see that the memorandum is from Allen Weisselberg to Don, Jr. Ivanka and Eric.
Do you have an understanding of what "as per your request" as it is used in this document means?
A My understanding is they requested to see the financial performance based on this memo.

Q And by they, do you mean the people in the "to" ine in the memo?

A It's possible. I mean, it's probable.
Q You prepared the memorandum, right?
A Yes.
Q Did you have an understanding when you prepared it of who it was for?

A Yes.
Q What was your understanding?
A It was for Don, Jr., Ivanka and Eric.
Q It states at the bottom of the memo --
THE COURT: One minute.
Q "After reviewing the enclosed, let's get together to discuss at your convenience."

Are you aware of any discussion among Allen
Weisselberg, Donald Trump, Jr., Ivanka Trump and Eric Trump regarding this memorandum?

A Any discussion after this memo was sent?

Q Either one, before or after. Let's start with before.
A I don't know. I -- I don't remember any of these meetings. I may have been invited. I may not have been invited.

Q Do you have a recollection sitting here today as to whether this memorandum or the native spreadsheet Exhibit 1293 were discussed in the meeting with Allen Weisselberg, Donald Trump, Jr., Eric Trump and Ivanka Trump?

A I don't remember any meetings.
MR. HAREN: Okay.
THE COURT: Okay. Let's take a 10-minute break. I will see you back here in 15 minutes.

THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is back in session. Please be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: The witness, please.
THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.
(Witness resumes the stand.)
THE COURT: Let's continue.
Q Mr. Birney we are going to switch topics to did there come a point in 2021 when you participated in a virtual meeting about the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition?

A Yes.
Q Did that meeting occur over a service called Google

Page 1390

\section*{Meet?}

A Probably.
Q Can you describe what Google Meet is?
A Google Meet is a video call service through Google.
Q In a Google Meeting, you can speak to people about video and share documents; is that right?
A Yes.
Q The meeting that I asked you about, how many participants were in the meeting?
A I worked remote for 2021, so there were a lot of these calls. So can we be more specific about which meeting you're referring to?

Q Sure. Specifically a meeting over Google Meet about the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition.

A There were multiple meetings in 2021 as I was remote.
Q Were there any meetings about the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition in which Donald Trump, Jr. and Eric Trump participated?
A Yes.
Q So about -- speaking about that meeting, how many other participants were there other than those two people?
A Myself, Alan Garten, Ray Flores, Jeff McConney.
Q Allen Weisselberg was not in the meeting?
A I don't think Allen Weisselberg was in that meeting.
Q Approximately when did this Google Meeting occur?

Page 1391
\(5 \quad\) Q What did you share?
6 A I shared documents on the screen.
7 Q And what were those documents?
8 A I believe I toggled between a few documents during the 9 call. One I think was a Statement of Financial Condition
10 summary. One was the supporting data spreadsheet. And we may it.

A Yeah, I'm sure it had a title.
Q Would the title have included the phrase SOFC?
A I don't -- probably.
Q I'm only asking these questions because I'm not aware that we have a copy of this particular summary, so I'm trying to get an understanding of how it appears or what words are used in

Would the phrase "Statement of Financial Condition" or "SOFC" likely appear in the summary spreadsheet you're describing?
A Likely.
Q Focusing back on this Google Meeting, were any valuation methodologies discussed on the call?
MR. ROBERT: Objection.
THE COURT: What are the grounds?
MR. ROBERT: This is a meeting with Alan Garten who is general counsel of the Trump Organization, so whatever discussions they had at this meeting is subject to Trump Organization privilege as well as my client's privilege.

MR. HAREN: I would state Mr. Birney has already testified about this in his transcript. This issue has been out in the public for many, many months.

MR. ROBERT: Yes. So Mr. Birney testified for a period of five days before the Attorney General in the examination under oath stage and the issues that Mr. Haren
P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)

Page 1392 have seen the Word document which would have been the -- a draft of the final Statement of Financial Condition.
Q You mentioned a Statement of Financial Condition summary. What did you mean by that?
A I think I put together a one-pager, like a one-page spreadsheet that showed the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition versus the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition with some sort of a difference in probably dollars and percentage between the two.
Q Can you describe visually how the spreadsheet looked?
A From what I remember, it was a fairly simple one-page spreadsheet with asset or asset classes on the left column and 2020 or 2021 on the next column, and then the other year on the column after that and then a difference column.
Q Did the spreadsheet have a title?

1 is about to get into didn't happen on the first two days and 2 it was only the first two days that the Trump Organization 3 was allowed to have counsel in the room. Mr. Garten was in the room as well as the attorney for the Trump Organization.

On the subsequent three days, it is my understanding the Attorney General specifically prohibited the Trump Organization from having an attorney there. So to the extent Mr. Birney did testify about it at that point, we were not in the room to be able to object to it that this was a privileged conversation. That's why we are now making the objection that it is privileged.

MR. HAREN: The Court ruled in September of 2020 this is about documents in the possession of Morgan Lewis & Bockius that all documents related to preliminary valuations of the Seven Springs easement as documents related to a preliminary valuation are of a business and not legal nature. The question posed to Mr. Birney during his examinations, which I will just say again, you have had transcripts of for ten months and have been out in the public pertain to valuation and valuation discussions, not legal advice.

MR. ROBERT: Those documents, as far as I know, are not the public domain. And to your point, Mr. Haren, if you're talking about a court ruling in September of 2020, my notes show that the three days of the examinations when this issued came up were in 2022. So whatever ruling the Court had then may have been documents maybe appropriate to Ms. Dillon's testimony. Right now, we are talking about what Mr. Birney knows, what took place in that conversation. I think you've established in that Google Meeting virtually that there were people in the room including my clients and the general counsel. So our view is that meeting is absolutely privileged.

MR. HAREN: So I direct you to plaintiff's statement of undisputed facts, Exhibit 138, NYSCEF 946 containing Mr. Birney's testimony from pages 1183 through 1197 currently sitting on the docket of the court, discussed at summary judgment. It is part of the record. It is in public with no objection from your clients discussing the content of this meeting.

MR. ROBERT: Right now for the first time, you're asking a witness under oath to discuss the substance and consents of the meeting. To the extent whatever is out there is out there, but right now, this is the first opportunity we have to object to this fact, that this was a privileged meeting.

MR. HAREN: You had the opportunity to make that objection since you received the transcripts of investigative testimony back in 2022 and you could have made the same objection in the summary judgment papers.

MR. ROBERT: I am not a aware of a procedure whereby something that happened in the past, we are under an obligation until you have a witness on the stand that you are now inquiring about the substance of that conversation. As I said, the Court had, as far as I understand, extensive briefing during the special proceeding. Obviously, Mr. Kise and I were not part that of that, but in my reading of it, Your Honor made certain with third parties and whatnot. Notwithstanding any of that, Mr. Birney's testimony, as far I understand, was not part of what this Court's ruling was.

MR. HAREN: I will just say in line with the Court's prior rulings, that valuation is of a business and not a legal nature, I plan to keep my questions specifically to the issue of valuation and Mr. Birney's prior testimony, which in any event is admissible as an admission of a party because he is a Trump Organization employee.

MR. ROBERT: But you can't have an admission of a party when there is a conversation with counsel for the party while there's already an investigation that's underway. I don't remember the date that you started your investigation, but clearly, these meetings in March of 2022 is when it's, as far as I know, very active especially in this court with regard to enforcement of subpoenas and your investigatory practice. So there is no question that during this time, whatever conversations happened with counsel for

1 ruling which related to communications that took place, I 2 believe, with Ms. Dillon in the 2015, 2016, 2017 time 3 period. Historical conversations, I will call it. That's a 4 very different thing than a conversation during the course 5 of an ongoing Attorney General investigation where a lawyer 6 is present and the subject matter of the investigation is 7 the subject matter of what they're talking about. So it's 8 no longer strictly business.

I mean, now you're talking about conversations that are taking place while there is an active investigation about that very subject. That's very different than the Court's prior rulings because the Court's prior rulings again related to historic conversations before that predate as far as I know even any investigation. So now you've got -- and there are no third parties involved in this particular conversation.

This isn't a situation where you have outside counsel or outside parties. This is all self-contained within the corporation. They're discussing the Statement of Financial Condition. Those very Statements of Financial Condition including the 2021 statement are the subject of the Attorney General's investigation and now case. So I think to say that there's been any waiver or that these would not be privileged in some way because they relate in part to business doesn't take into account the context of

1 the Trump Organization is a privilege of the Trump Organization.

THE COURT: All right. Give me a moment.
MR. ROBERT: Yes, sir.
(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
THE COURT: I'm not going to try to untangle the whole history of what was waived or not. However, the fact that there was a lawyer in the room doesn't mean that there was any attorney-client information being passed back and forth. The client asking or the attorney responding, this was all business. And my next point, basically, this is all -- this was all business related and that's what the earlier rulings were.

I understand that counsel -- current counsel for defendants weren't there, but when I looked at this extensively and finally, I don't know what the questions are. Nobody knows what the questions are except the questioner, so I'll overrule -- there is a general objection because a lawyer was in the room is the attorney-client privilege, but if there is a specific question that addresses legal advice, we can revisit it as opposed to business advice.

Mr. Kise.
MR. KISE: Yes, Your Honor. Thank you. So I think we have to draw a significant distinction between the prior the conversations because these are no longer -- at this point, they're no longer business conversations. At this point, these are corporate employees and officers with the general counsel of the corporation discussing actively -- discussing a subject that is actively under Attorney General investigation.

And so I don't see how the privilege -- the privilege would be at its peak under those circumstances respectfully, Judge, because that's where the privilege would apply the most is when the corporation is discussing internally the very subject matter that is at the core of the investigation.

THE COURT: Cliff, have you been teaching New York law to Cliff here?

MR. ROBERT: He's doing great.
THE COURT: He's pretty good at that. I think that's a wonderful distinction. However, just the fact that a lawyer is present in the, room we don't know that he said anything or that they asked him anything. Overruled without prejudice based on the particular testimony we hear.

MR. WALLACE: Your Honor, I apologize for interrupting my colleague, but I guess this raises one issue which Mr. Haren mentioned during the exam which is we don't have any documents or the underlying documents presented during this meeting. If those were withheld because of

1 privilege, but haven't been logged, we would appreciate identification of those documents that were withheld during this period for privilege if there are -- if that is the reason we don't have some of these materials and we're happy to put in a letter, so that it is reflected; but I think we would like to make that request.

THE COURT: Exactly. You'll have to really specify where we are in this. I just want to also return to what Mr. Kise said. I specifically said I'm not claiming -- I'm not ruling based on waiver because that would take a lot of unpacking at this point. So objection is overruled. You are not prejudiced based on the specific testimony and let's continue.
Q Did you answer the question were any valuation methodologies discussed on the call?

THE COURT: Repeat that louder.
Q Were any valuation methodologies discussed in the Google Meeting?

THE COURT: Please answer.
A Yes.
Q Which valuation methodologies were discussed during the Google Meeting that we are discussing now?
A The golf course valuations.
Q And specific, did you discuss any information learned from Marcus & Millichap during the Google Meeting?

\section*{P. BIRNEY - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)}

1 would object to its introduction.
The New York Evidence guide which is only in line, you apparently don't have that statute, but provides at Section 4.19 that evidence measures taken after an event, that if taken before the event would have made injury or damage less likely to result in civil proceedings is not admissible when offered to prove culpable conduct in connection with the event. So I realize that this comes up as in most experiences -- this issues comes up with respect to negligence cases --

THE COURT: Exactly.
MR. KISE: -- whatnot, but based on the plain language of 4.19, it is not limited to that. The only case so far that I can find, I know you're not going to like this, but the only case so far that I can find that makes this point is the Domino's case where the court there pointed out that the notion that a company would react to a government investigation in which it clearly was a target by taking such steps meaning -- I am skipping the long form -taking steps, meaning remedial steps is hardly surprising. Indeed, to the extent they might be considered "subsequent remedial measures," which should be encouraged rather than discouraged, their admissibility is doubtful.

So based on the plain language of 4.19 , anything that relates to any kind of subsequent remedial measure that

Q Did you convey any information about the impact of that advice on the golf course valuations in the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition?

Q What did you convey about that? Keep your answer specifically to valuation.
A I believe I said the only thing that really changed from last year was the golf courses. The reason we changed the golf course valuations is because we had a call with Marcus & Millichap and they advised similar to what I testified previously that they -- they value golf courses using eight to ten time EBITDA or two to three time revenue multiplier.

Q And you would agree it was a fairly significant change in valuation method from how the golf courses had been valued in the previous years?
A It was different.
Q Did you want to make Eric Trump and Donald Trump, Jr. aware of the change?

MR. KISE: Your Honor, objection. So I'm not exactly sure where's he going with this, but I also want to put another objection on the record. To the extent the question is calling for evidence of subsequent remedial measures, changes that were made during the course of time that relate to perhaps a reaction to the investigation, we was taken during the course of the investigation, we think is inadmissible for that reason, that it is evidence that's consequent to remedial measure.

The other thing I will point out --
MR. HAREN: Am I able to respond to the first point before you go to the second point?

MR. KISE: It is all connected.
THE COURT: Let Chris continue.
MR. KISE: I want to make sure the record is clear that the objection on privilege is a continuing objection, not that we have to object on each question.

THE COURT: Yes, that's understood. Let me also go back to that. I used to -- in another case, I've done a lot of research on the attorney-client privilege and the one thing that's very clear is you can't take a non-privileged document, give it to an attorney and say now it is privilege, which seems to me somewhat similar. You can't put an attorney in the room. There is a meeting about accounting matters, valuation matters. I don't know what Mr. Garten's knowledge of accounting and valuations is, but just the fact that he is there, I'm just adding that I'm not arguing your point.

First, threshold question. Does anyone know if the subsequent remedial measure rule applies in non-jury cases?

MR. KISE: I have never heard of a non-jury

\section*{exception to it.}

THE COURT: Nor have I, but I'm just wondering.
MR. KISE: I have never heard of a non-jury exception.

MR. HAREN: Certainly, at lunchtime, research topic.

THE COURT: Let's hear the general response to the subsequent remedial measure objection.

MR. HAREN: Sure. So I'm not asking the question for the purpose of showing a subsequent remedial measure that was or wasn't taken. There is an issue in this case as who as the top executives of the Trump Organization from 2017 to 2021 had authority to take certain steps. And I'm asking the question to establish the role of certain people in approving a change in valuation methodology during the relevant period. That is the reason for the question, not to establish or use any remedial measure that was taken to show culpability.

MR. KISE: So to the extent it is not designed to show culpable, than obviously the objection wouldn't apply; but I stopped because I wasn't sure of that. So if that's the representation that they're not seeking to introduce this, that's fine.

With respect to the privilege, one more thing, though, and that is the change in methodology. What hasn't been established is whether or not that change in methodology came about as a result of the question by counsel or a recommendation by counsel. That's the danger of getting into all of this, is that there should be some recommendation by counsel that hey, you guys should do "X" or you guys should do "Y."

This is why we think that these conversations are inherently privileged and Your Honor is right, not simply because an attorney is in the room. It is not converting an otherwise non-privileged conversation, but to the extent that these changes are discussed in the context of an ongoing investigation and methodologies are changed as a result of advice from counsel, and I don't know that this witness or any other witness is necessarily equipped to draw those fine distinction, which is why we are raising.

Q So would it refresh your recollection if we pulled up some of your prior testimony, pages 1194 to 1195 ?
A Sure.
Q Starting at line 17:
"QUESTION: So I'm trying to understand, the change is discussed about golf club valuation method. You described it as a consensus decision among you, Mr. Garten and Mr. Flores; correct?
"ANSWER: Yes.
"QUESTION: Does that decision need to be approved by someone else at the company who is superior to the three of you after it's made in your group consensus?
"ANSWER: I don't know if there was an official approval. I think that's why it brought up the change in methodology in that call with Don and Eric."

And I just said "okay" and you continued your answer: "So that they were at least aware."

Does that refresh your recollection as to whether you wanted to advise Donald Trump, Jr. and Eric Trump about the change in golf course methodology that occurred in 2021?
A I discussed it. I don't know if I wanted to discuss it. Can you ask the question in a different way maybe?
Q Sure. We can look at your testimony. It says "I think that's why it brought up the change in methodology in that call with Don and Eric so that they were at least aware."

MR. KISE: For all the reasons except proof of a conspiracy, the fact that Mr. Weisselberg said anything to Mr. Birney, Mr. Birney is not a coconspirator, he's not alleged to be a coconspirator. In order for it to be evidence of a conspiracy, you would then have to go to the truth of the matter. In other words, is it true what Mr. Trump told Mr. Weisselberg about increasing the statement. Exactly

MR HAREN I would jus including People versus Caban, 5 NY3d 143. "The acceptance an element of a conspiracy."

There is case law about statements like this that indicate they tend to show the existence of an agreement and they can be admitted for that purpose. So we're happy to put in a letter on that if there is some need to further specify the purpose for which the statement can be used, but there is -- I don't think there is any doubt that the evidence itself is admissible for the reasons Mr. Wallace mentioned.

MR. KISE: I think we might because again the case law I believe Mr. Haren is referring to are case law about statements between coconspirators, not between some alleged conspirator and some third party about what some other alleged co-conspirator said. That's the heart of hearsay. So while statements between coconspirators might be admitted for that purpose for demonstrating an agreement, the having - they're mixing concepts which is not infrequent. They're mixing hearsay and they're mixing, you know, the center, but we can brief all this. We don't have to spend all day --

THE COURT: Okay. By tomorrow, two-page minimum?
MR. KISE: We would need to see -- yes, yes. We need to see what their case law is, but yes.

THE COURT: Okay.
MR. HAREN: Thank you, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. Will there be any cross examination of this witness at this time?

MR. KISE: No, not at this time.
THE COURT: Plaintiff, would you like to call your next witness?

MR. AMER: Yes, Your Honor. The People call Mark Hawthorn.
(Whereupon, the witness enters the courtroom and approaches the witness stand.)

THE COURT OFFICER: Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear or affirm that any testimony you give will be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth?
MARK HAWTHORN, called by and on behalf of the People, having been first duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows:

THE WITNESS: Yes.
THE COURT OFFICER: Please have a seat.
State your full name and either business or home address for the record.

THE WITNESS: My name is Mark Hawthorn. My business address is 725 Fifth Avenue, New York.

THE COURT: And please speak right into the microphone, directly like this, loudly, clearly, slowly.
DIRECT EXAMINATION
BY MR. AMER:
Q Good afternoon, Mr. Hawthorn. It's good to see you again. Just for the record, my name is Andrew Amer on behalf of the People. Are currently employed?

Page 1414

A Yes.
Q And where are you employed?
A The Trump Organization.
Q And what is your current title?
A Chief operating officer of Trump Hotels.
Q We'll circle back to your employment responsibilities in a minute, but can you summarize for us your educational background after high school?

A After high school I attended the University of Florida. I studied accounting, got a bachelor's and a master's degree in accounting, graduated in the year 2000.
Q And since graduating have you received any professional certifications or licenses?
A Yes, the CPA license in the state of Florida.
Q And what did you have to do generally speaking to obtain your CPA license?
A You need to meet the required school credits to sit for the CPA exam and then you have to sit for the CPA exam to be awarded the license and you have to upkeep your license by taking continuing professional education.
Q Can you describe for us your employment history after graduating from University of Florida with your bachelor's and master's degrees in accounting?

1 A Yes. After graduating, I was employed in the public accounting industry. So first, for Arthur Anderson from 2000 to 2002 then at Ernst & Young, 2002 to 2004.
Q And what type of work generally speaking did you do when you were employed by those accounting firms?
A I did audit engagements on behalf of the accounting firm, for both public and private companies.

Q And when you say "private companies," is that similar to the Trump Organization?

A It would be a company that doesn't have public stock or public debt versus an SEC registrant being a public company.

Q Just to circle back to my question, that's similar to the Trump Organization; correct?

A Correct, the Trump Organization does not have stock or public debt.

Q And where did you next go after your employment with those two accounting firms?
A Then I worked in an industry at a organization called Kerzner International. I joined there in 2004 as a financial reporting manager. That's a hospitality firm that owned and operated luxury resorts. I continued to work there until 2016 in various levels of responsibility in finance and accounting and treasury.

Q Did you do audit work there as well?
A I did not. I was a client -- I was the actual client.
M. Hawthorn - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 1416
I worked with the auditors of the company, but I was a representative the company, so I wasn't necessarily auditing. I was preparing the information.

Q And just so I understand you were preparing information that you were providing to the outside accounting firm who was the auditor; is that right?

A That's correct.
Q And what did you understand your responsibility to be in terms of providing information to the outside accounting firm?

A To be responsible, diligent, provide truthful information that's accurate.

Q Can you -- and then am I correct you went to the Trump Organization in 2016?

A In February of 2016, I was hired as the chief accounting officer of Trump Hotels and I've remained in employment there with varying degrees of promotion, currently in my role as chief operating officer of Trump Hotels.

Q Why don't we go through the various titles that you have held at the Trump Organization. You mentioned chief accounting officer, which is the -- that's the position you started at?
A Correct.
Q And who did you report to in that position?
A I reported to a gentleman named Eric Danzinger who at
M. Hawthom - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 1417
the time was the CEO of Trump Hotels.
Q And what was your next position after chief accounting officer?

A I really just continued in that role. In that role I was the highest financial responsibility person in the hotel division, so simply in I believe January of 2020, my title was just updated to chief financial officer, although my duties were pretty much similar, still reporting to the CEO.

And then the CEO departed the company in May of 2022 and I was promoted again to chief operating officer overseeing the operations aspects of the hotel division.

Q Has anybody assumed Mr. Danzinger's position as CEO of the hotel's division?

A No. There is no CEO, but effectively I now oversee the hotel brand operations.

Q So are you the most senior executive person within the hotel's division of the Trump Organization?
A Yes.
Q And can you just explain to us how the hotel's division fits within the overall corporate structure of the Trump Organization?
A Everything related to the hotel properties that we own and/or manage. So the organization as you may be familiar owns commercial real estate, operates golf courses and has other holdings, so the hotel division operates specifically to the owned and managed hotels in the hotel portfolio.

\section*{Hawthom - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)}

Q Are there other divisions that are at the same level as the hotel division that deal with the other aspects of the business that you've just mentioned?

A I would say, you know, there is the golf -- private golf club and public golf clubs, which is part of hospitality. Then you have real estate realty division. Those are the two that come to mind that I might interact with the most.

Q For a golf course that also has a hotel, how does that fit in?

A It's both -- right. It's a golf resort, let's say. So we have several properties that have overnight accommodation, right, for a hotel where guests can stay. Then those hotels may also have golf courses situated on them. So the consolidated reporting would be under the hotel division auspices, but I would work with individuals in the golf division as well.
Q Now, in terms of going further up the chain where does the hotel division report into?

A So currently I report to Eric Trump.
Q And what is Mr. Trump's position?
A I believe he's EVP of the Trump Organization.
Q And just for the record, executive vice president?
A Yes, I believe that's right.
Q And who has been the direct report to the head of the hotel's division since you joined in 2016 through today?

\section*{M. Hawthorn - Plaintiff - direct (Amer) \\ Page 1419}

A So if I understand your question correctly, so the CEO of Trump hotels, my former boss, Mr. Danzinger, reported to Eric Trump prior to his departing and now that I'm in that effective role, I report to him.
Q So just to summarize for the entire time that you've been with the Trump Organization the hotel's division has reported directly into Eric Trump; is that right?

A I think that's fair.
Q You spoke about the accounting function within the hotel division. How does that relate to the accounting function over which Mr. Weisselberg presided as chief financial officer while he was at the company?

A So in my role I would oversee the accounting and finance for the hotel properties and I would provide information as requested from time to time from, let's say, the corporate accounting function, which was led by Mr. Weisselberg at that time when he was employed there.
Q And you are getting directly to my inquiry. There is a separate corporate accounting group that's separate and apart from the hotel's division. That was the group that Mr. Weisselberg was the head of while he was at the company; is that right?
A Yes.
Q And who did you interact with in corporate accounting?
A From time to time Mr. Weisselberg, Jeff McConney, Donna

Kidder. Those are probably the three individuals most interacted with.
Q And by the way, where is your office located in relation to the corporate accounting group?
A Different floor. So I'm on the 25th floor in Trump Tower; that group is on the 26th floor.
Q And can you just describe to us what your working relationship was with Mr. Weisselberg during the period of time that you both overlapped at the company?

A More like a helpful business partner. If information was required, I would provide information.

Q Was there any direct or dotted line reporting relationship between you and Mr. Weisselberg?

A I was -- perceived him to be more senior than me, so if there is an aspect he required my help, I would certainly provide him information, but my direct report was to Mr. Danzinger.

Q And can you also describe your working relationship with Mr. McConney during the period of time that you overlapped with him?
A Similar to as I described.
Q Did you work at all with Patrick Birney?
A Yes.
Q And what was your working relationship with Mr. Birney during that period of time since you started at the company in
M. Hawthom - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

\section*{2016?}

A Similar interactions. If there was information that in his role he required from the hotel division, then it would be my responsibility to provide that information.

Q And you mentioned that you currently report in to Eric Trump; correct?
A Yes.
Q And have you reported directly into Mr. Eric Trump since you -- since Mr. Danzinger left?

A Correct, since May, I guess, March of 2022.
Q And during the time that you've been employed with the Trump Organization since 2016, what has been your understanding of Eric Trump's role at the company?

A He is, you know, the leader of the company along with his brother Don, Jr.. I would say Eric is mostly involved in the operations whereas Don oversees development.

Q In connection with operations would you consider Eric Trump to be the chief decisionmaker at the company?

A Yes.
Q Mr. Hawthorn, you testified that you are a certified public accountant; correct?

A Yes.
Q Are you familiar with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States commonly referred to as GAAP?

A Yes.

Hawthom - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)
Page 1422
Q And were you required to become familiar with GAAP for purposes of obtaining your CPA license?
A Yes.
Q And do you continue to keep up with developments concerning GAAP as part of your continuing education that you testified to as a requirement for maintaining your CPA license? A Yes.
Q What is your understanding of what GAAP is broadly speaking?

A GAAP is a set of principles that oversees the accounting function, the books and records of how they're kept at a company that follows GAAP. So GAAP is an accrual basis method of accounting that is widely recognized and followed for private and public companies that are required to report under GAAP.
Q Are you familiar with something known as a compilation engagement?

A Yes.
Q What is your understanding of a compilation engagement?
A Generally speaking a compilation engagement is an engagement where an accounting or audit firm would engage -would be engaged by a company to put together a financial statement and it would be the lowest level of assurance as opposed to an audit.
25 Q When you say "lowest level of assurance" and you mentioned "audit," are there other types of engagements that would come between an audit and a compilation in terms of level of assurance?

A The three I'm most familiar with would be compilation, agreed-upon procedures and an audit.
Q And what do you mean when you say "lowest level of assurance?" What does that mean?

MR. KISE: Your Honor, objection. Has this witness been called as an expert? I'm not sure what relevance this has. He's here as a fact witness and I've given Mr. Amer some latitude, but he's asking what appears to be expert testimony about GAAP.

MR. AMER: This is about his professional experience in connection with what he will soon testify is his involvement in the Statements of Financial Condition.

MR. KISE: Subject to that connection.
THE COURT: Objection sustained. I agree. I have a somewhat strict view of fact witnesses; what did you see, what did you hear, what did you do, and this seems to be to be asking more for expert testimony and you said you're about to get to what he does, so let's get to what he does. Q Since joining Trump Hotels have you had any responsibility for compilation engagements?
A Yes.
Q Which Trump entities have you worked on compilations

for?
A 401 North Wabash Venture LLC, which is commonly known as the Trump Chicago property, Trump Endeavor 12. That's the legal entity of the ownership of Trump International Doral.
Q And which accounting firms have you worked with on those compilation engagements for the Trump Organization?
A I've worked with Mazars and I've worked with Whitley Penn.

Q And at Mazars who was the engagement partner you worked with on those compilations?

A That was Donald Bender. Transcript continues on the following page....

Q And do you have an understanding as to why these two entities had to prepare compilations?
A They were required under property loans for those properties, so that they would have to be submitted to the lender.

Q And can you generally describe your role in connection with working on these compilation engagements for the Trump Organization?

A Sure. I had responsibility of oversight of those reports.

Q And what does that entail, oversight?
A So if I may explain in appropriate context, so each property has its own financial controller. It maintains its own general ledger, data. So those properties would report those -- the general ledger data in their financial statements that I would review and oversee, and I would work with the accounting firm to get them the information they require in order to prepare the compilation report.
Q And did you have an understanding as to what your obligation was as the client in providing information to Mazars and Whitley Penn as the outside accounting firm?
A Yes.
Q And what was your understanding?
A I provided the general ledger and oversaw that the report was provided to them was from our system and was what they needed to prepare the statement.
Q Did you have any understanding as to whether you had an obligation to provide truthful and accurate information to Mazars and Whitley Penn?
A I certainly did.
Q What was your understanding?
A To provide such information that was truthful and accurate.

Q We have been talking about compilations that you worked on with Mazars and Whitley Penn for Doral and Chicago.

Did you become aware at some point in time that there was a compilation prepared for Donald J. Trump that was his personal Statement of Financial Condition.
A I would say in 2021.
Q In 2021, you did become aware of such a document, correct?

A Yes.
Q What were the circumstances under which you first became aware that there was a Donald J. Trump personal Statement of Financial Condition?
A I was aware of it through the media reports of it at that time and this ongoing litigation. My personal involvement with it was very limited. In addition to the compilation reports that we discussed, I was also tasked with overseeing audits of other entities that required financial audits. So there's entities that we have in our ownership that the company has in its ownership in Scotland. So we have -- there is a Hotel Trump Turnberry. There's also Trump Aberdeen.

In working with the outside accounting firm for those audits, there was a situation that that they had required additional information about the parent company and led me to seek out some information from that statement to help them for that specific purpose.

MR. AMER: I would like to go ahead and mark as Exhibit 1380 Plaintiff's 1380, a series of e-mails.
Q Mr. Hawthorn, you'll see this consists of some e-mails back and forth and then on page nine of this exhibit, there is a memo from you to Barry Masson and Fiona Kenneth.

Do you recognize this as a memo that you prepared and sent to them?

A Yes.
Q Do you recognize the e-mails that are at the front of this exhibit as being e-mail exchanges between you, them and an individual known as Camron Harris at Whitley Penn?

A Yes.
MR. AMER: Your Honor, I ask that this be admitted into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1380.)

\section*{M. HAWTHORN - DIRECT (MR. AMER)}

Q The subject of the e-mails is audit update. What is that?
A That is, as I was describing previously, the audits of the legal entity SLC Turnberry Limited and Trump International Golf Links Scotland Limited which is commonly known as Trump Aberdeen.
Q And just to clarify, is this audit update one of the ways in which you first learn that there was a Donald J. Trump personal financial statement?

A It was probably around that time in addition to the media scrutiny of it.

Q Can you just explain for us who the two recipients of the top e-mail and also your memo are, Barry Masson and Fiona Kenneth?
A Those are the respective audit partners from the firm Johnston Carmichael. So in the context of this audit is Johnston Carmichael was working through the audits of the two entities I described in Scotland and they were requiring some additional information for their audit procedures.
Q Why were you the individual who was tasked with addressing their issues?

A Because those fall into the hotel division and so as I described earlier, my oversight of audits and compilation work in the hotel division dealt to me.
Q Had you done this type of audit update with them in
M. HAWTHORN - DIRECT (MR. AMER)

Page 1429
1 prior years?
A This year was a year where they had indicated they 3 needed more information because their audit procedures had become more rigorous and they had standards that had changed since a previous year. And effectively, what they were doing is for the narrow approach of testing the financial viability of those Scotland entities, they had asked for information about the parent company and the parent company's financial wherewithal in the event that these Scotland entities needed financial support.

In the past, this audit evidence was satisfied by some internal communication and letters effectively from the company vouching that we have the ability and the intents to hold this asset, to fund this asset if necessary. That in the past satisfied their requirement. In this particular year, they kept asking for more information and more documented information about the financial wherewithal of the parent company.
Q And just so I understand what you're explaining, that was due to a rule change in Scotland?
A That's what they explained to me. Not a rule change in Scotland, but they described it. It was probably some e-mails about it, about their auditing standards being more rigorous in the U.K.
Q Let me ask you to turn to page four of this exhibit. Just focus on Ms. Kenneth's e-mail to you and just read some portions of it and I'll ask you some questions. The paragraph that begins "while we have received, she writes, "While we have received stress tested forecasts for each of the entities, we have not yet received any information from you in relation to going concern points four to six of my e-mail of August 6th."
M. HAWTHORN - DIRECT (MR. AMER)

So let me just stop there and say, what was your understanding of the going concern points that she is referring to?
A There was probably a separate attachment or another e-mail of the information that she required for her audit testing. I don't recall off the top of my head, but effectively in what they were trying to again accomplish is provide some evidence or comfort for the reader of those financials that -that those entities have financial backing from a parent in the event they may need it.
Q She goes on to say, "Obtaining evidence of both intention and ability to support is critical to us being able to provide an unmodified audit opinion."

Is unmodified audit opinion the same as we refer here to an unqualified audit opinion?
A I believe so, yes.
Q She then says, "In relation to this, it might help us if we are able to understand more about where the funds that would be used to support the U.K. businesses would be coming from." Is that what you refer to as needing more information about the parent?

PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK \(v\).

\section*{M. HAWTHORN - DIRECT (MR. AMER)}

Page 1431
A Correct.
Q And by the way, if we go to page -- we will come back to this, but if we go to page six, you see the bottom paragraph, she has a heading that says "going concern." Is that your understanding of what she was referring to by going concern?

A I'm just reading through it. Yes, so similar to in the U.S., an entity to be a going concern that the financial statement and the opinion associated with it determines that there is another evidence that the entity will exist beyond 12 months. You think about the context of the time of this ask, this is the 2020 audit. If you recall, 2020 was a year when the world shut down to travel and tourism because of the COVID pandemic, so the financial statements on their own for these entities were not as robust as in past years because people couldn't travel to the resorts and the resort couldn't operate.

So if someone is looking at this financial statement in the U.K. in a vacuum, without any other information, they might say to themselves this entity is not having a great financial year. It might be not a going concern because it may not have enough of revenue to generate it for the next 12 months. The case that the auditor is looking for is trying to understand okay, if this entity can't exist over the next 12 months, if it doesn't have enough revenue, is there support available from its parent company to sustain it. So that's the nature and the purpose of this line of questioning.

Q Let's go back to page four. I just want to focus you again on the same paragraph we were looking at. The last sentence of that paragraph states, "In the absence of obtaining a set of "group accounts for the Trump Organization," we do need to find other means of corroborating the position."

What did you understand Ms. Kenneth to mean when she refers to corroborating the position?

A So they're trying to satisfy their audit requirement if a probably other clients that they have have a parent company that has publicly traded financial statement, audited financial statements, holding company financial statements, those would be readily available and exist that a company to provide. In the case of the Trump Organization, it has no requirement to do "group accounts" or a roll-up set of historic financial statements because there's never been a need to do so. So for her to corroborate that information, she needed additional information which is why I wrote this memo and provided the exhibits to satisfy her requirements.
Q Let's go ahead and look at your memo which is -- starts at page nine of the exhibit, and you write in the first paragraph, "In connection with the audits of golf recreation, Scotland Limited SLC, Turnberry Limited and Trump International Golf Links Scotland Limited, which you define as the Scotland entities, for the year ended December 31, 2020, we

1 are providing certain financial information of ownership to demonstrate the financial viability and ability to fund the operations of the Scotland entities, if required," correct?

A Yes.
Q Again, which golf courses does this relate to?
A So SLC Turnberry Limited is Trump Turnberry and Ayrshire, Scotland. West coast of Scotland is Turnberry. East Coast of Northern Scotland is Aberdeen, which is the other entity Trump International Golf Link Scotland Limited.

Q And you go on to say the ultimate ownership of the Scotland entities is the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust dated April 7, 2014, the trust has ownership of significant cash and cash equivalents, real estate, management and license agreements and other assets (the group assets) as well as accounts payable and long-term loan obligations the (group liabilities), the long-term loans are collateralized and serviced from cash flows generated by the underlying real estate assets."

So were you familiar with the revocable trust as of the date of this memo?

A Yes. The ownership entity of the ultimate parent of the Scotland entities.

Q Was that something you were aware of beginning with your employment with the Trump Organization soon thereafter in 2016?

A Probably as soon as I encountered a question where in operations, one of the hotels needed to report who their owner was, so I learned over time what the org chart looked like and ultimately that the trust was the ultimate owning parent entity of the various hotels that I worked on.

THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
Q You go on to say, "The trust does not prepare a consolidated financial statement on a regular basis. However, a recent accounting compilation as of June 30, 2021 prepared by the trusts accounting firm Whitley Penn provides for the following at their estimated current values."

First of all, where did you get the information about the trust not preparing a consolidated financial statement, but having a compilation as of June 30,2021 ?
A Right. So this is when I became aware of the Statement of Financial Condition being the most available type of document that is like a group consolidated financial statement. So I knew it existed.
Q I'm just trying to get more specific. Where did the -- did this information come from for you to put it in this memo?
A The dollar amounts or the words?
Q The paragraph above the first bullet. The fact that there was this compilation, the date of the compilation, and that it was prepared by Whitley Penn? Where did you get that information from?

\section*{M. HAWTHORN - DIRECT (MR. AMER) \\ Page 1435}

A In my position, I certainly know what -- that the company does not have a consolidated financial statement like you just can't go on scc.gov and get the Trump Organization financials. So I was aware, like I said, through media reports and knowing that this other document is prepared and out there, that that would be some level of description of assets that could satisfy the scowled auditor's request for this matter.

Q You say very specifically that the compilation provides for the following at their estimated current values. That phrase "estimated current values," where did you come to learn that the compilation provides for estimated current values?

A So for me to write this memo and fill in the numbers provided there, I had to get that from Patrick Birney. I didn't get a copy of the statement, but I understood how much cash -- how much cash does the organization have, what's the holdings that they have, so that I could write this memo on behalf of this request.
Q Was there a specific reason why in your memo to the Johnston Carmichael accountants that you mentioned that the compilation set forth estimated current values?

A My understanding of the statement is it is not a typical historical cost GAAP financial statement; that it is a statement that provides an indication of value and that was the purpose of this statement.
Q Did you at the time that you wrote this memo have a

A No.

Q Did you have any understanding as to why it might be -- well, was there an issue with you getting your own copy of the statement?
A I just knew it was a very sensitive document. It was already in the press and scrutinized and I didn't need to be any

MR. AMER: Now is a good time, Your Honor.
THE COURT: We will see you all at 2:15. Have a good lunch.

MR. AMER: Can I just ask that the witness be admonished not to discuss his testimony with counsel?

THE COURT: I hereby admonish you not to discuss your testimony with anybody. Thank you. Have a good lunch.
(Witness exits the stand.)
(Whereupon, a luncheon recess was taken.)
M. HAWTHORN - DIRECT (MR. AMER)Page 1436specific understand of what the phrase "estimated currentvalues" meant?
    A Sure.
    Q What was your understanding?
    A The fair value of the assets at a point in time.
    Q And the point of time of this particular compilation, did you understand it was as of June 30, 2021?
    A Yes.
        THE COURT: One-minute warning.
    Q For purposes of preparing this memo, did you obtain a copy of the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J.
    Trump.
    A I did not obtain a copy. I had a phone conversation with Patrick Birney to get the limited information and then what I did in a conversation with Fiona and Barry, the auditors from Scotland, I suggested that we could organize a virtual Zoom meeting, in effect a Google Meet with Camron Harris because Camron Harris was the audit partner that issued the compilation with Whitley Penn, and so they -- they were keen to that idea, so that way, I could stay out of it. It is not really my area and so we organized a Google Meet. Camron Harris -- Q You're getting ahead of me. We will get to the Google
        Meet, but let me just ask one more question.
        Did you ask to get a copy of the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition?

Did you ask to get a copy of the 2021 Statement of Financial Condition?

THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is back in session. The Honorable Judge Arthur Engoron presiding.

Make sure all cell phones are on silent. Laptops and cell phones will be permitted but only to the members of the press. There is absolutely no recording or photography of any kind allowed in the courtroom. Now be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: Counselors, are we going to put the schedule of witnesses for the week on the record at this point?

MR. WALLACE: Certainly, Your Honor. I will say for the People we are going to continue with Mr. Hawthorne's testimony this afternoon. The next witness will be Donna Kidder.

THE COURT: When do we expect to start her?
MR. WALLACE: I expect that will begin this afternoon. I don't know that that would be completed this afternoon, though.

Following witness would be Doug Larson, a former Cushman & Wakefield employee followed by Dave McArdle, also Cushman & Wakefield employee. After that, our next witness would be Ray Flores, a former Trump Organization employee; Jack Weisselberg, an employee of Ladder Capital; Craig Robertson, also an employee of Ladder Capital; and then later in the week Dave Orowitz, a former Trump Organization

\section*{employee.}

I would just add that exactly how we proceed through that it do appears on which precise day it may depend a little bit on which of the witnesses the defendants choose to cross examine.

MS. GREENFIELD: Just one clarification about earlier this morning I thought you mentioned Allen Weisselberg being recalled.

MR. WALLACE: No, sorry. That was Jack Weisselberg, his son.

MR. ROBERT: Jack is not tomorrow.
MR. WALLACE: Jack is not available tomorrow.
MR. KISE: Mr. Cohen is not coming this week.
THE COURT: The earliest that he will testify, apparently subject to my receiving the all-important doctor's note, is a week from today, Monday. So he will not be here this week.

MR. KISE: This is a key witness for the government. Of all the witnesses in the case they chose to play him on the video in their opening. So we just want to be sure that we have some understanding of that schedule. And I know Your Honor is doing what you need to do there and everyone else, including the government is moving around Mr. Cohen's schedule now. So I would ask to the extent that becomes an issue on our side that we would have the same

\section*{Proceedings}

1 accommodation. I don't think it will, but if there becomes
2 a scheduling conflict of some kind, we would want the same accommodation.

THE COURT: Sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. That's the theme of this trial.

MR. WALLACE: And I would note we tried to be cooperative and scheduled Mr. Cohen later because of counsel's schedule, so I think we could continue to cooperate on these issues and appreciate everyone's flexibility to the degree necessary.

I will also add, though, we did play testimony from Eric Trump, Donald Trump, Jr., Donald Trump, the father, and Allen Weisselberg during my opening.

THE COURT: Yes, but they're all defendants.
MR. WALLACE: Fair enough, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Right. And just to repeat, the earliest Michael Cohen will testify apparently subject to a doctor's note, which I hope to receive later today, would be a week from today, Monday the 23rd, but even that day is not definite.

\section*{Yes?}

MR. KISE: I just also want to note for the record because I would be remiss if I didn't. He does continue to be active -- for whatever this is worth to the Court, he does continue to be active on social media. I know you can

1 do that from a hospital bed, but he does - I'm not a social 2 media person, but I see he does continue to be active in his 3 pursuit of my client on a fairly frequent basis on social 4 media so he doesn't appear to be that infirmed.

290 million and restricted cash and escrow deposits in excess of 28 million. I think we established when you wrote this memo you did not have in your possession a copy of the 2021 statement; correct?
A Correct.
Q So where did you get the figures that you used for this first bullet point?

A So I had a conversation with Patrick Birney who is in possession of the document.

Q And if we can pull up the 2021 statement. It's Exhibit 1354 and maybe we can put it next to that paragraph in your memo. If we can go to page four of the statement, which is the assets page, you'll see that this statement lists cash and cash equivalents at 293.8 million and escrow reserve deposits, restricted cash and prepaid expenses at 28.3 million. Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q And does that correlate to what you have in your first bullet?
A Yes.
Q When you obtained this financial information from Mr. Birney, which you then forwarded on to the Johnston Carmichael accountants to address their audit needs, were you comfortable passing along the information without having seen the statement for yourself?

Q And would you have passed along the financial information in this first bullet if you had any doubt about the accuracy of the information?
A The point of the memo is to just evidence that the parent has sufficient liquidity and a lot of holdings so I really was just trying to evidence that the parent has its financial wherewithal. I would have had no issue sending forward the statement if it was in my possession, but I didn't need to have it or have it and I felt it was a better way to have the auditors speak to each other and that satisfied my requirement. I had a singular focus in this memo and that was purely getting the audit of the Scotland entities completed.
Q I think my question was a little simpler, so let me try again.

Would you have passed along the financial information in this first bullet which you received from Mr. Birney if you had any reason to doubt the accuracy of the information? It's just yes or no?

A If I doubted the accuracy would I have passed it along? I would not have passed it along unless I had some evidence or some comfort that the information was generally accurate, right.

Q And I draw attention in the first bullet to the amount of unrestricted cash and cash equivalents of -- in excess of 290 million. Why call out that figure?

A That's the most relevant to the Scotland auditors. I mean, they care about available working capital that would fund the Scotland operations. So if I'm just thinking about telling these auditors hey, the parent has a lot of liquidity, can I show you a bank statement, hence why I attached the bank statement to evidence, there is significant amounts of cash as well as, you know, it's not -- it's -- it's stated in this way to evidence that the parent has financial wherewithal to support these entities.

Q Did you have an understanding when you sent this memo to the accountants at Johnston Carmichael about who controlled the unrestricted cash and cash equivalents amounts in excess of 290 million?

A I understood that it was controlled by the trust.
Q Would you have knowingly provided to the Johnston Carmichael accountants a figure for cash and cash equivalents that included amounts not within the control of the trust?
A If I knew that I wouldn't have probably provided that.
Q Why not?
A Again, you're trying to evidence the amount that the trust has to satisfy any potential cash needs of the Scotland operation.
Q And in order to satisfy that requirement would the cash and cash equivalents have to be within the control of the trust?

A Right. Hence why I sent them a bank statement of 133
M. Hawthom - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

1 million.
Q Did you have an understanding -- well, let me ask you about the 28 million because you also call out that amount which is restricted cash and escrow deposits. Why did you call out that?
A It's just, again, further evidence that this is a very liquid company with sufficient holdings that is able to support the needs of its properties if required.
Q Now, in terms of the assets on the list, is the escrow -- the restricted cash and escrow deposits sort of the next level of available liquidity?

A Correct.
Q And did you have an understanding when you sent this memo to the accountants at Johnston Carmichael about who controlled the restricted cash and escrow deposits?

A I understood it was controlled by the trust.
Q Now, Mr. Hawthorn, are you aware that Mr. Trump has a 30 percent minority interest in something known as the Vornado Partnership Interests?

A Vaguely familiar.
Q I'm going to put up on the screen Plaintiff 3041, which is defendant's response to Plaintiff's 202 statement and specifically the response to paragraph 403.

Now, there is a chart that you'll see that has statement year, amount included based on 30 percent share in
. Hawthom - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)
Page 1446
Vornado Property Interests, total cash liquidity reported and then Vornado Property Interests cash as a percent of total cash. And I just want to draw your attention to the line for 2021. You'll see it has "total cash liquidity reported." That's the 293.8 million figure that was in the statement for 2021 and that's the number you then reported forward to the Johnston Carmichael accountants; correct?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And the defendant's response is that it's undisputed that the values listed are those reflected in the SOFCs and the amounts attributable to the Vornado operating entities are as stated. Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q So I'm going to ask you to accept that as being undisputed.

Now, during Mr. McConney's testimony we've been referring to that \(\mathbf{3 0}\) percent interest as Vornado cash, so I'm going to use that reference in my questions as well; okay?
A Okay.
Q As the chart shows for 2021, the total cash is 293.8 and of that figure, 32 percent or 93 million and change is Vornado cash. Do you see that?
A I see it.
Q Let me show you some testimony from Mr. McConney in this trial. It's at page 619 of the transcript and it's line 15

Mr. Hawthorn, these are a series of e-mails between you and the Johnston Carmichael accountants as well as Mr. Harris at Whitley Penn that all postdate your November memo; correct? A Yes.

MR. AMER: Your Honor, I'd ask that this be admitted into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiffs Exhibit Number 3146 in evidence.)
Q And this e-mail exchange relates to setting up the Google Meet call; correct?
A Yes.

A Correct.
Q And the second sentence says, "I would also welcome a follow-up conversation if you can be available sometime Wednesday, November 24th." Done the British way; correct?
A Correct.
Q Okay. And did they express a need in the discussion you reference here to have a follow-up conversation after receiving your November memo?
A I don't remember exactly, but I remember probably some phone conversations to make sure that they were satisfied in the information they required. So it culminated in the Google Meet that you had mentioned.
Q Well, is it correct then that they were not satisfied just with the memo and that they needed an actual call?

A They were interested for their audit work papers to document that they had more information than just my memo.
Q And in the e-mail above, which is actually an e-mail you sent to Mr. Harris on December 7, 2021, you enlist his assistants with a joint Google Meet virtual call with the Johnston Carmichael accountants to discuss the financial condition; correct?
A Correct.
Q Was it your understanding that the Johnston and

Hawthom - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Carmichael accountants needed to put eyes on the Statement of Financial Condition?

A They expressed an interest of that, so I helped to organize this to accomplish that.

Q And you enlisted Mr. Harris because he had the statement and you didn't; is that right?

A Correct.
Q Okay.
A And it was helpful for auditors to speak to each other because they talk the same language and understand you like Camron also understands their objective of trying to solely meet an impairment test for their individual audit.
Q You spoke their language too, didn't you?
A Correct.
Q Okay. Now, if you look at the first page of the exhibit, the bottom e-mail is from Mr. Masson to you also copying Ms. Kenneth and he indicates in the second paragraph "will we be able to have sight of the compilation report during the call?"

A Yes.
Q So that was something they needed to do for their audit procedures; is that right?

A They requested it, yes.
Q And then your e-mail at the top confirming that you will arrange and plan to have a sight of the compilation report

Q And you did in fact have this Google Meet virtual call with the Johnston Carmichael auditors and Mr. Harris of Whitley Penn; correct? \\

11 & Q A representation to the accountants that was \\ 12 & inaccurate. \\
13 & THE COURT: I will allow that. \\
14 & Q \(\quad\) Do you need the question again? \\
15 & A \(\quad\) Maybe just say it one more time, so we are clear. \\
16 & Q \(\quad\) Based on the chart that we looked at, Mr. McConney's \\
17 & testimony and your involvement on the call, do you think that \\ 18 & reporting the $293 million figure as a cash and cash equivalent \\
19 & figure was a misrepresentation? \\
20 & THE COURT: No. We said "incorrect." \\
21 & MR. AMER: I'm sorry. I thought given my \\
22 & definition, I could ask it that way, but I will rephrase it. \\
23 & THE COURT: Rephrase it. \\
24 & MR. AMER: Okay. \\
25 & Q \(\quad\) Based on the chart, Mr. McConney's testimony and your \end{tabular}
figure to the Johnston Carmichael accountants as a cash and cash equivalent figure was inaccurate?
    A I think yes.
    Q And do you think -- I think you also mentioned in your prior answer you thought it was an overstatement, correct?
    A Correct.
    Q Was that overstatement which the chart indicated was 32 percent Vornado cash, was that material?
    A Not for the purposes of this analysis.
    Q Well, just the 32 percent overstatement. You don't think that's material?
    A Not for the purposes of this analysis.
    Q Is it material in terms of accounting materiality?
            MR. KISE: Objection. It is calling for an expert conclusion again. He already answered the question.
        THE COURT: Sustained.
    Q Do you know, to your knowledge, if the Johnston Carmichael accountants were ever advised subsequent to the call that 32 percent of the \($ 293\) million figure was Vornado cash not within the control of Mr. Trump or the trust?
    A I don't believe so.
    Q Now, I'd like to turn to another topic, hotel management valuation. Let's go ahead and mark Exhibit 1308.
25 You'll see the bottom e-mail is an e-mail from Mr. Birney to you asking you to -- if you could update the THC management company valuation spreadsheet as of June 30, 2021, and then the e-mail above that is your response to him.

A Yes.
MR. AMER: There is a blank page, second page which is the native version which is the attachment to the e-mail. I'd ask that this be admitted into evidence, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1308.)
Q What is the spreadsheet that's referenced in this e-mail?

A This is a listing of Trump hotels properties.
Q Is this the spreadsheet -- do you recognize this as the spreadsheet that you're attaching in the top e-mail that you then send back to Mr. Birney?

A I do.
MR. AMER: Your Honor, I'd ask that we admit the native spreadsheet.

THE COURT: Granted. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit.)
Q Now, your e-mail to him, if we could just go back to that, indicates that it's reflective of the most current 2021 forecasts and 2022 budget projections and follows methodology as
. HAWTHORN - DIRECT (MR. AMER)
Page 1458
applied in previous years. Do you see that?
A Yes.
3 Q Was this something that you provided to Mr. Birney in previous years?
A Yes.
Q And for how many years had you been providing Mr. Birney with updates of this spreadsheet?

A I don't recall exactly. Maybe since 2017 or something like that.

Q Did you have an understanding when you received the request from Mr. Birney to send an updated spreadsheet why he was asking for it?

A No.
Q Did you have any understanding as to what use he was going to put the spreadsheet to?

A No.
Q Let's go to the spreadsheet, so I can ask you some questions about it. You'll see it has two tabs to the spreadsheet where on the summary tab and then there is a cash flow projection tab. Let me start with the summary tab. What properties is this summarizing?
A Trump hotels managed and owned properties.
Q Are these are hotels that are part of the hotel division that you were in charge of?
A Yes.

Page 1459
1 Q In charge of?
2 A Yes.
3 Q What does management mean under agreement type?
4 A It means that Trump hotels is the manager and has an HMA or hotel management agreement for that property.

Q Now, under the column C, initial term, some properties say "owned." What does that signify?
A That means it is the manager and the owner.
Q And in accounting terminology, is there some phrase used to discuss -- to reference this type of business arrangement between where the same properties are both owned and managed by the same entity? I can rephrase it.

You mentioned that for these owned properties, the Trump Organization is both the owner of the hotel and the entity that manages; is that correct?
A Correct.
Q Is it an affiliate of the hotel owner that's managing the property?

A There is a separate legal entity that's established to be the management company, so that the hotel can operate under the Trump hotel's brand and have a similar-looking feel like every other hotel in the brand regardless of who the owner is.
Q So just to go back to my question, I am correct that it would be an affiliate that would be the managing entity -A Other entity owned by the trust.

\section*{M. HAWTHORN - DIRECT (MR. AMER)}

Q And is this type of business arrangement something that accountants call a related party transaction?
A That could be a common term for it, yes.
Q And then for the other hotels where it doesn't say "owned," but has a number of years, what does that signify?
A That would signify the term of the management agreement, how long it -- and it says initial term, so I guess the initial -- most hotel management agreements are long-term from 10 to 15 to 30 years, or they have extension rights that could be at the manager's option, so I think this is just trying to categorize in a summary cell the nature of the HMA or the hotel management agreement.

Q I guess what I'm wondering is for those properties where there's a number of years under initial term instead of owned, does that mean it is owned by somebody else?

A Say that again. I'm sorry.
Q Sure. For those properties where it is indicated under initial term a number of years instead of the word "owned," does that mean that that property is owned by an entity outside the Trump Organization?
A Correct.
Q So those would not be related party transactions, correct?

A They would be an owner outside the trust. There's a 25 little more complication to this, but I'll just try to answer
M. HAWTHORN - DIRECT (MR. AMER)

Page 1461

\section*{yes or no.}

THE COURT: If you can without misrepresenting or being inaccurate.
Q Just to make sure we're on the same page, where the initial term says "owned," it means both the hotel property and the entity that manages the property are both Trump Organization entities and it is a related party transaction, correct?
A Yes.
Q And for those properties where instead of saying "owned," it is a number of years under column C, that would be a situation where the Trump entity manages the property, but the property is owned by another company?

A I'm going to say yes. I just see one example on there where there is co-ownership, but I understand what you're saying.

Q On row 16, it says, "Value of existing portfolio and then there is a figure of almost 119 million for the value of existing" -- does that total for the value of existing portfolio include the value of management agreements for the related party transactions?
A So you would have to go to the second tab and you could see that is a projection for all the hotels and all the hotels because there is a management agreement assigned -- there is a management agreement contemplated and assigned I believe that rolls up to the top sheet.

Q So is the answer to my question yes?
A Can you say your question one more time?
Q Sure. The figure of 1 -- almost 119 million for existing value of existing portfolios includes the related party transactions as well as the hotels that are either entirely owned by some other entity or there's some co-ownership?

MR. KISE: Objection, Your Honor. It is a compound question. He's asking him two different things. He's already answered the first part of the question. He already explained what the 118 figure is derived from by reference to the cash flow projection, but now Mr. Amer is asking him a different question that's compound which is trying to combine the cash flow with the value of the hotel either owned or on the other hand entirely owned or some other entity. That's a very different question.

MR. AMER: I think I'm asking him the same question and just asking to summarize the upshot of what he just already said.

MR. KISE: Then it has been asked and answered. There is no reason to summarize it. He already answered about where the 118 came from. He told you exactly where it came from. I know what Mr. Amer is trying to do and I am not going to say it in front of the witness and Mr. Amer knows exactly what he's trying to do.

THE COURT: Mr. Amer I will either ask for a readback. We, can all kind of decide whether it is compound question, or you can just ask differently. Up to you.

MR. AMER: I'll try it more clearly.
Q Because you've looked --
THE COURT: You deem that withdrawn?
MR. AMER: We can deem that withdrawn.
Q You looked at the second tab before in order to answer the prior question and now we are back to the summary tab. And I just want to confirm that the value of almost 119 million which is listed as the value for existing portfolio includes all of the properties on the summary page that is above that row; is that right?

MR. KISE: Same objection.
THE COURT: Asked and answered?
MR. KISE: Yes.
THE COURT: Overruled. I generally don't like that objection. You know, let him ask it again.

MR. KISE: He is asking a very different question and he knows exactly why.

THE COURT: If it is a different question, then it is not asked and answered.

MR. KISE: It is a misleading. If he is looking for clarification, then the clarification question is does the 118 million that's on that page, is that the sum of what's on --

\section*{M. HAWTHORN - DIRECT (MR. AMER)}

MR. AMER: This is a speaking objection and it is not misleading at all. The witness can either understand it and answer it or tell me he can't understand it.

MR. KISE: He's asking if it includes a value of the properties themselves. That's what he's asking.

MR. AMER: No, I don't think I asked that. I asked if it includes the existing portfolio for the properties above. I think it's fairly straightforward, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Just ask it again, but I don't see anything objectionable about it.

MR. AMER: Can I get a readback on this one, Your Honor?

THE COURT: Yes.
MR. AMER: Thank you.
THE COURT: We will all listen carefully.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was read back.)

MR. KISE: Same objection.
THE COURT: There is no objection or it is overruled. Please answer.
A Yes.
MR. AMER: That wasn't so hard, was it?
Q In each year from 2016 through 2021 that you provided Mr. Birney with an updated spreadsheet, did you include the value of management agreements between Trump Organization affiliates as part of the value of the existing portfolio?
M. HAWTHORN - DIRECT (MR. AMER)

Page 1465
THE WITNESS: Is this one I can answer in a non-yes or no?

THE COURT: I think so.
THE WITNESS: Just in the nature of how this works? THE COURT: I think you can answer yes, no.
Mr. Amer, are you looking for a yes-or-no answer? MR. AMER: I am.
THE COURT: To me, it is a yes-or-no question. So, please, answer yes or no.
A Can you restate the question again?
Q In each year from 2016 through 2021 -- actually, I'll revise that because I think you said you only did it back to 2017. In each year from 2017 through 2021 that you provided Mr.

Birney with an updated spreadsheet, did you include the value of management agreements between Trump Organization affiliates as part of the value of the existing portfolio, yes or no?

A Yes.
Q And so you did include related party transactions in each of those years then?

A There's value to those transactions, yes.
Q And let's pull up the 2021 Jeff supporting data which is Exhibit 1352 in evidence. Let's go to row 1117. You'll see under ^ /HR-PBGS deals in this row, it says, "management company valuation" and for the June 30, 2021 column, there's a value of 118.9 million. Does that appear to you to track your spreadsheet value?

A Yes. I'm not familiar with this sheet. However, that appears to be the same number.
Q So this appears to be the number you provided to Mr.
Birney in your update, the spreadsheet under total value of existing portfolio, correct?

A Yes.
Q Now, if we could go back to your spreadsheet, the other exhibit, sorry, which is 1308 native. You see row 18 says, "Value of future portfolio, N/A." What does that mean?
A That's none or non-applicable.
Q Was there a decision made to remove the value of future portfolios from this spreadsheet?

A I think as of this point in time, there was nothing in the pipeline that was to be future developed as compared to previous years when there were future developments on the horizon and evidenced by HMAs.

Q Well, let me just understand because row 18 doesn't have a zero value. It has an N/A. So was it -- to your knowledge, was it a determination made that you no longer needed to provide a value for future portfolio as opposed to --

A No.
Q Let me just finish my question -- as opposed to there being zero value to future portfolio?

Page 1467

A In this example from 2021, there is no future portfolio to value.
Q Why is that?
A Because there is no future other developments or hotel developments from this point going forward.
Q So the Trump Organization ceased developing new hotel projects?
A No, but the frequency was less than in previous years.
Q Did Mr. Birney tell you that you didn't need to put any value in for future portfolio, if you recall?
A I don't recall.
Q Let's look at the second tab which says, "cash flow projection." Can you describe generally what's reflected under this tab?
A This is a summarization for each property by year of a calculated management fee.
Q Is this management fee based on the management agreement?

A I believe in most cases, yes.
Q Let's look at rows 141 to 145 . So it says, " 141 Trump cash flows from hotel operations "and then there is a series of numbers. What does that reflect?
A I have to click on the formula to refresh my memory of this.
Q Why don't we click in B141. I don't know if that's going to help you.

A I don't see anything. There is a formula up there. Do you see the formula bar. It just says equals B138. So then can we go to B138.
Q Does row 141 reflect the cash flows from the managing agreements, the management agreements?

A I'd have to work through the formulas and see what's in B138.
Q Why don't we click on B138 and the witness can see the formula?

A Okay. So 133 would be the summarization of revenue list. B136 which is an approximation of management company expense. So if you go to B133, could we just see that that's a summarization of the numbers above \(i t\).

Q What is 142 , row 142 ? What does that reflect?
A Time value of money.
Q Why do that calculation?
A Because a dollar today is worth more than a dollar in the future.
Q And how are you adjusting the cash flows for inflation as it is indicated here in row 142 ?
A Looks like three percent.
Q What is reflected in -- well, so is row 143 then the 24 calculation that takes the number from 141 and discounts it for 25 inflation?
M. HAWTHORN - DIRECT (MR. AMER)

Page 1469

1 A Correct.
\(2 \quad Q\) And then what does row 144 do?
3 A It appears to apply a discount factor.
4 Q Why is a discount factor being applied?
5 A I didn't set up the template, so I'm not familiar; but 6 generally speaking, it is to apply some factor of the risk of 7 not all the management fees being collectible or realizable.
Q Is row 145 then a product of taking 143 and applying your discount factor in row 144 ?
A Yeah. If we can click in B145, you could probably see that.

Q And that confirms it?
A Yes.
Q What does the present value of the Trump cash flows represent?

A That appears to be the gross number adjusted for the discount factor and the inflation factor.

Q And why does this spreadsheet calculate the present value of the Trump cash flows?

A Again, I don't know the purpose, end purpose of this spreadsheet; but from my doing it over several years and putting in the inputs, my understanding is, again, if you're cash flowing out into a future period, if you want to get a value as of this point in time, you need to apply present value concept to get a value as of the point in time of the analysis.
M. HAWTHORN - DIRECT (MR. AMER)

Q Is applying an inflation factor and discount factor to get a present value for future cash throw something that you knew how to do at least as far back as 2016 when you joined the Trump Organization?

A I'm familiar with the concept.
THE COURT: That didn't answer the question.
Q Right. My question is a little different. It's more specific. Was applying an inflation factor and discount factor to get a present value for future cash throw something you knew how to do at least as far back as 2016 when you joined the Trump Organization?

MR. KISE: Objection.
A Yes.
MR. KISE: Inflation and discount are two different things.

THE COURT: I think the question acknowledged --
MR. KISE: He's asking about the discount factor, that's fine; but inflation throws a different element into it. Inflation -- accounting for inflation is very different for inflation for a discount.

THE COURT: That doesn't negate the question, so -
MR. KISE: It is a compound question. It is asking him two different questions.

THE COURT: No, he is not. He's asking one question about two factors combined.

Page 1472

A Then go back there. Yes, sir.
Q I would like to look at an earlier spreadsheet you sent to Mr. Birney. Let's pull up Exhibit 1218 -- the native.
Actually, let's go to the document first and then --
THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
Q Mr. Hawthorn, do you recognize this as an e-mail exchange you had with Mr. Birney where you're providing him with the updated spreadsheet in \(2018 ?\)
A Yes.
MR. AMER: I'd ask that this be admitted into evidence, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Granted. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiffs Exhibit 1218.)
Q The bottom e-mail from you to Mr. Birney, down a little bit more, the bottom of the first page. You indicate, "Soho was in last year's file, not in this year's." Can you explain that?
A Trump Soho is a hotel under management that the owner bought out the management agreement in 2017. So if in a previous version there was a value probably ascribed in the management contract, it would no longer be in a future year because the cash was already realized from a sales transaction under the HMA.

\section*{Hawthom - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)}

Page 1473
Q And then in the e-mail response from Mr. Birney he says, "okay, great. Please send worksheet that's synonymous with the spreadsheet we've been looking at;" is that correct?
A Yes.
Q And then he says, "Allen is okay with the figures." Do you know who he was referring to?
A It appears to be Allen Weisselberg.
Q Do you have an understanding how Mr. Weisselberg could be in a position to be okay with the figures before you send your spreadsheet?
A No.
Q Was there any, you know, high level of summary of the numbers that was provided in advance of sending the spreadsheet to your recollection?
A No.
Q So sitting here today you don't have any understanding as to how Mr. Weisselberg could be okay with the figures without having gotten your spreadsheet; right?
A Yes. I can't make any context comment of that. All I did was put in the numbers in the spreadsheet for Patrick and send them to him.
Q And then, of course, the top e-mail is your forwarding the spreadsheet; correct?
A Yes.
Q Just at the risk of wanting to clarify, am I correct
. Hawthom - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)
Page 1474
that you did not have any understanding when you received this request and then sent the worksheet why Mr. Birney was asking for it; correct?

A Correct.
Q And you did not know how he was going to use the spreadsheet; right?

A Correct.
Q My next questions are on the worksheet, so if we want to take our break now, does that make sense?

THE COURT: Yes. But just before you go, I want to address Mr. Kise's objection on the compound question.

If the question is was the building made of brick and was the temperature cold, that's a compound question, requires two answers. If you ask are you able to do \(A\) and \(B\), only if you can do A and B, should you answer yes. If you can't do either, you can only do one, you shouldn't answer no. So that's why I regard it as a single question. But I see your point.

Okay. Let's take our usual ten-minute break over the course of 15 minutes.
(Whereupon, there is a recess in the proceedings.)
THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is back in session. Please be seated and come to order.

MR. KISE: Just a quick housekeeping, Your Honor. I'll let Mr. Amer answer the question about of how long he's
\begin{tabular}{|cc}

\(\mathbf{1}\) & going to go. We just wanted to know if he's going to be -- \\
2 & can we let Ms. Kidder go and start her for 15 minutes? It's \\ 3 & up to you. \\
4 & THE COURT: What do you think we should do? \\
5 & MR. AMER: I think I probably have a half an hour. \\
6 & I'm fine if the Court is okay to not start a witness for \\
7 & 15 minutes if that's where we end up, but that's entirely \\
8 & Your Honor's -- \\
9 & THE COURT: I like to use every available moment, \\
10 & but a half hour, let's start her, if that's okay. \\
11 & I assume no cross examination of this witness at \\ 12 & this time? \\
13 & MR. KISE: No. \\
14 & THE COURT: I shouldn't have asked in the negative. \\
15 & I should have asked you were you planning on any cross \\

17 & MR. AMER: I should mention my time estimate did \\

19 & THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering. \\
20 & (Whereupon, the witness enters the courtroom and \\ 21 & approaches the witness stand.) \\
22 & THE COURT: Would Mr. Kise ever object? Let's see \\
23 & if we can move things along rapidly. \\
24 & Okay, let's continue the examination of \\ 25 & Mr. Hawthorn.
\end{tabular}
M. Hawthorn - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 1476
Q Mr. Hawthorn, we were discussing Exhibit 1218, your e-mail where you forward the spreadsheet in September of 2018.
So let's go ahead and pull up this native Plaintiff's 1218, which is the spreadsheet.

MR. AMER: Your Honor, I ask that this spreadsheet be admitted.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 1218 in evidence.)
Q Do you recognize this as the updated spreadsheets you sent to Mr. Birney in September of 2018?

A Yes.
Q Now, I notice the first two tabs "summary in cash flow projection" are the same as the 2021 spreadsheet we saw; correct?
A Yes.
Q And let's look at that first tab, the summary tab.
For this spreadsheet there is a value of 45.2 million roughly on Row 25 for a value of future portfolio. Do you see that?
A Yes.
23 Q So that's different from what we saw in 2021 where it 24 said N/A; correct?
25 A Yes.

\section*{to an LOI?}

A I don't know unless we look specifically.
Q Okay.
A In that aspect I would defer to my boss at the time, Mr. Eric Danzinger, the CEO of the group.

Q Now, in addition to those first two tabs that we looked at, there are additional tabs that follow existing AI projections, future deals, fee projections, new openings, and new signings. Do those all relate to the future portfolio?
A Not the word "existing," but the one that says "future" would.

Q Okay. Do you know why there was no existing AI projections tab in the 2021 spreadsheet?

A I think it was at that time that it was concluded that that brand would no longer move forward whereas in 2018 it was very much a real thing.
Q And why don't we discuss that tab "existing AI projections." What is that?

A This was a concept for an American Idea hotel brand, which is a franchise hotel brand concept that was brought to market by the Trump Hotels team in 2016 and a concept that would have a different level of service versus a luxury Trump Hotels product.
Q And is it your understanding then that this -- the information on this tab would flow into the existing portfolio?

1 A I don't know. We'd have to see where it links, but existing AI projections I can tell you that these hotels did not open ultimately, but at the time there were signed hotel management agreements. There was a lot of work done by the hotel team to gather up this brand franchise concept and so it was very much a real thing during 2018.
Q I guess it's just a simpler question as to whether it's part of the existing portfolio or the future portfolio, if you know?

A I would -- I would presume future because it's not open. My understanding is that existing is that there is a hotel that's operating versus future which is to open.

Q Let's look at rows -- under -- let's look at the next tab, "future deals fee projections," Rows 23 to 28 . Can you tell me what those reflect?

A I guess they were projections at the time this was prepared of future hotels. If you -- I did go -- if you scroll up.

So you see in Row 5 there is another place called Scion. That was a lifestyle brand of hotel division that the brand was also launching at the time of American idea. So you had three brands. You have the Trump Hotels luxury brand, upper at the high end of the market Scion, more of a lifestyle hotel four star and American Idea being a franchise model hotel.
Q And I guess my question's more specific to Rows 23 to 28 which ends with Row 28 being present value of Trump cash flow. So is this similar to what we saw before where you're doing a calculation to include inflation and then a discount factor to get to present value?

A Yes.
Q And does doing this type of calculation have any relationship to getting to an estimated current value for the management contracts?

A Yes.
Q In what way?
A So conceptually it looks like it's taking the expected cash flow streams from management fees and future years and discounting them back to current time of this evaluation.

Q And that gets you to estimated current value?
A Yes.
Q Let's look at the new openings and new signings tabs. So what are new openings?
A This I believe is a tab to estimate the opening dates of new properties and the year they would open.
Q And starting in Row 12 through Row 28, you'll see it says "TBD" under "property." What does that stand for?

A That would probably just be a placeholder, to be determined.
Q And in some rows the number of keys is zero, but in others it's 250 . Why is there that difference?
M. Hawthom - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

1 A Can you show me the 250?
So this could have been based on the pipeline and trend of new development, the expected opening of hotels with 250 keys in those particular years.
\(Q\) Is number of keys synonymous with number of rooms in the hotel?
A Yes.
Q And let's look at the new signings tab. Again, you'll see that starting in Row 9 all the way through the rest of the entries under "property" it says "TBD" again. What does that signify for this tab?
A It's a placeholder again. Same thing, to be determined.

Q And again, in some rows the number of keys is zero and in other rows it's 250 . Same answer as a prior tab?

A So, again, a presumption that the average number of keys of a new hotel development would be 250 that the brand would sign these developments in these years and they would open thereafter after a period of preopening.

Again, these based off of signed hotel management agreements, signed letters of intent and/or updates from the CEO of Trump Hotels and the work that was being done by the development team of future properties.
Q And just the last part of your answer where you say 25 "updates from the CEO of Trump Hotels" that's Mr. Danzinger?
M. Hawthom - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 1482
A Yes.
2 Q And by that do you mean to include discussions that he's had with property owners?
A He would have had those discussions but we would have asked his input on this projection.

Q I'm just trying to identify the bases for including him in the spreadsheet. You said signed hotel management agreements, signed letters of intent and then you describe this third category of updates from the CEO. So are the updates something different than LOIs and management agreements?

A I can't speak to it because he was closest to the information, but, like, just as an example, if you are going to open a new hotel with one owner and you have a signed HMA, that hotel owner may say I want to do three more, five more, ten more hotels with you and these are all ready to go. So that could be an example. But in this particular case from 2018 it's hard to remember or know.

Q At least your understanding is that some of these TBD deals are management agreements, some are LOIs and some may be something else. Is that fair?

A I think that's fair.
Q And the something else would be not anything in the form of a signed agreement; correct?

A It could be -- again, I defer to the hotel group CEO at 25 the time who had the connections, who had the wherewithal to formula signifies as a matter of using an Excel spreadsheet. This formula means that you're pulling the number from the new signings tab at D 34, doesn't it?

A Sure. Can we see what it is?
Q Sure.
A New signings D 34.
MR. AMER: 34, not 24 .
A Okay.
Q So this D 34 is the sum of E 34 to L 34 ; correct?
A Yes.
Q And then the new openings tab is pulling the number from this tab into that tab; right?

A Yes.
Q Okay. So let's go back to new openings.
Now, if we click on the next two, Row 38 D, same formula; right? You have to answer.
A Yes.
Q And the one below that?
A Yes.
Q So -- and I've looked at all of these in this column and every single one of these formulas is pulling the number from the new signings tab. Does that sound right to you?

A Okay, yes.
Q So all of the number of keys information in the new
M. Hawthom - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 1485
openings tab is just being pulled from the new signings tab; correct?
A Yes.
Q Okay. Now, let's go to the future deals projections tab. And in the Scion -- is it pronounced Scion?
A Yes.
Q The Scion section. Let's go to Row 7.
See it says "total keys?" In Column G for 2022 it says "1250." So what does that represent?

A That would be the room count of the openings of hotel in 2022 projected from 2018.

Q Okay. And if we look at the formula for that cell it says it's F 7, which is 2021 plus the sum of new openings H 6 to H 81. Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q Okay. But we've already established that all of the figures in the new openings tab are being pulled from the new signings tab; correct?

A Right. You have to sign a hotel deal before you open it.

Q Okay. I'm just trying to understand the relationship between these three tabs and the future deals fee projections for the number of keys in Row 7 is being pulled from the new openings tab which in turn gets pulled from the new signings tab; correct?
. Hawthom - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)
Page 1486
A Correct.
Q Okay. Can you walk us through the calculation in Column \(G\) to explain how the number of keys is being used, if at all, to generate the total revenue figure?
A Let's go to room revenue in G 12 and see how that's derived. Right so you would take the total number of rooms times the number of days in the year and you would assume an occupancy rate that is how full the hotel is with guests.

So if you took 1250 times 365 you get 465,000 .
Presuming there is 70 percent occupancy you'd have an occupied room nights of 319,000 times an average rate of \($ 450\) is the room revenue in this file.

Q And again, the total keys includes potentially new signings that are at the moment either could be a letter of intent or something else?

A No. It only includes new openings, right. That's what the formula says.

Q Okay. But we already discussed that new openings is pulling the number from the new signings tab; correct?

A It is, but --
Q Okay. And that Column G calculation then feeds into the summary tab for future portfolio; correct?
A It should I guess if we follow the formula through.
Q Well, just conceptually that's what you're doing; right? This is part of --

DONNA KIDDER, a witness called by the Plaintiff, after having been first duly sworn by the Clerk of the Court, took the witness stand and testified as follows:

THE COURT OFFICER: State your full name and home or business address for the record.

THE WITNESS: Donna Kidder. 721 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10022.

THE COURT: Now, that's a nice, loud voice, right.
Keep at that level and please commence the direct examination.

\section*{DIRECT EXAMINATION}

BY MR. HAREN:
Q Good afternoon, Ms. Kidder. Good to see you again. Can you, please, describe your educational background after high school.
A Some college.
Q Do you work at the Trump Organization?
A Yes, I do.
Q What is your title there?
A Assistant controller.
Q When did you join the Trump Organization?
A March 2007.
Q And what was your position when you joined the Trump Organization?

\section*{D. KIDDER - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)}

Page 1492
A Senior accountant.
2 Q Who was the chief financial officer of the Trump Organization when you joined the Trump Organization?
4 A Allen Weisselberg.
5 Q And who was the controller of the Trump Organization when you joined the Trump Organization?
A Jeffrey McConney.
Q What was the assistant controller when you joined the Trump Organization?
A Eric Sacher.
Q And who did you report to when you started at the Trump Organization?

A Eric Sacher, Jeffrey McConney and Allen Weisselberg.
Q Did there come a time when Eric Sacher left the Trump Organization?
A Yes, there did.
Q At some point after Mr. Sacher left the Trump Organization, did you become the assistant controller?
A A few years after that.
Q Did that occur approximately in 2010?
A Approximately.
Q Can you describe in general terms what your responsibilities have been as assistant controller?
A Cash management, overseeing a staff of approximately six at any different time, cash flow reports, condominium cash

Page 1494
Birney.
Q And you say "at the time." Did there come a time when Mr. Weisselberg stopped being involved in that process?
A When he pled guilty to tax fraud.
Q Okay. In your role as assistant controller, do you think of some entities as having their accounting work done in-house?

A Yes.
Q What is the phrase "in-house" refer to in the context of that work?

A The corporate office and it would be billing, accounts payable, budgets.

Q And which entities have their accounting work done in-house as you understand that term?

A 40 Wall Street, Trump Tower Commercial, the various owned retail and residences, Trump Park Avenue.

Q When you say "owned retail," what are you referring to?
A In condominium building such as Trump Park Avenue,
L.L.C. There are sponsor-owned units that are retail, so we would maintain the books and records there, the leasing.

Q And I think you described these as outside entities a minute ago, but were there entities that did not have their accounting work performed in-house?

A Yes.
25 Q And which entities were those?

Page 1495

1 A All of the hotels such as the Doral, Trump Old Post Office, the hotels and golf courses overseas, and all of the golf courses that we owned, Colts Neck, DC, The Vineyard, their books and records were kept outside.
\(5 \quad\) Q And did those entities have their own controllers?
6 A Yes, they did.
7 Q Did those entities have a procedure for providing their cash position to you regularly?

A Yes, they did.
Q How often did they provide their cash position to you?
A They were instructed to provide it every week whether Friday by 5:00 or Monday morning.

Q You say "were instructed." Instructed by whom?
A Byme.
Q And for the entities that did not have their accounting work performed in-house, did their cash position reports ever request cash?
A Occasionally, they did.
Q And was there an approval process for those cash requests?

A Yes, there was.
Q And whose approval was needed for a cash request to be granted?

A Allen Weisselberg at the time.
Q And can you describe the process by which his approval was obtained?

A The e-mail would be sent while he is still working in the accounting department. I would compile the report and we would discuss who needed financing and for what purposes. He would okay it. I would then fund the golf course or the hotel, what have you, each entity.
Q And where would the funding typically come from?
A From an owned entity. Prior to Donald Trump becoming president, it would have come from him directly. After that, the structure was the trust, Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust.

Q And did an entity called DJT Holdings, L.L.C. play any role in that process?

A Yes, the structure was the trust, DJT Holdings, L.L.C. and occasionally, there was a third entity after the Holdings called DTTM, L.L.C.
Q And for entities that did not have their accounting work performed in-house, did they ever distribute cash higher up in the hierarchy of Trump Organization entities?
A Yes.
Q Can you describe the process by which that occurred?
A Well, they would have a profit and they would get approval to distribute cash to the owned entity.
Q And prior to Mr. Trump becoming President of the United States, would that cash be distributed up to him?
A There might have been an entity in between, but ultimately, he was the only owning beneficiary.
Q Subsequent to him becoming the President of the United States, was there an ultimate endpoint for those cash distributions?

A The trust.
MR. HAREN: Let's put up on the screen Plaintiff's Exhibit 1306.
Q Ms. Kidder, do you recognize this document?
A Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A It appears to be the budget projection for 2015 for 40 Wall Street.

MR. HAREN: I would move this document into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations. THE COURT: Understood. Overruled. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1306.)
Q Let's move to PX 1306 native one.
Ms. Kidder, the document on the screen, do you recognize it?

A That's the spreadsheet for the projected budget for 40 Wall Street. MR. HAREN: I move this native file into evidence. MR. ROBERT: Same objection. I thought it was all

\section*{part of the one exhibit anyway.}

THE COURT: I thought so, too, but it is all in. It is all in evidence.

MR. HAREN: All right. We have had a practice of doing the native files separately, so I just want to make sure that if there is a - if someone moves in evidence an e-mail that has native files attached, that the whole exhibit will come in. Is that correct?

MR. ROBERT: Why don't we just take it as it comes, but at this point, I thought it was all coming in as to this exhibit; but my same objection, Your Honor has already ruled is coming in.

> THE COURT: Right. We will do it ad hoc. MR. HAREN: Okay.

Q Ms. Kidder, before asking you about the document, just can you describe Mr. Weisselberg's involvement in the 40 Wall Street budget process?

A Yes. He would have the final review after everything was compiled. The operational expenses were compiled by Matthew Calamari who is the COO and the building manager, I believe, in 2015 was Steve LaFiosca (ph). By operating expenses, I mean anything that was relevant to operating the building. For example, I want to say messenger and delivery because that's all I see, but also payroll. If you go down, contracts, anything like that. For real estate taxes, we would have reached out to

Marcus Pollack (ph) for projection and he would have provided that. For the ground rent, there's actually an agreement. For the income, I would have prepared an income projection by any lease that was already in place. There are no assumptions in this. He would have -- Allen Weisselberg would have reviewed everything as well as Matthew Calamari would have reviewed everything and they would have tweaked or questioned or changed any numbers that they felt were too high or too low operationally. For the income, it was what it is. So it was what it was, I should say. So if there was a lease, it was in the income.

Q So just speaking generally, the time period from 2011 to 2021, what was Mr. Weisselberg's involvement in the 40 Wall Street budget process at a very high level?

A Final approval.
Q Do you have an understanding of the figure in cell Q151 down to 153 ?
A 15 -- so 151 ?
Q Excuse me. It is \(\mathbf{O}\) from 151 to 153.
A So 0151 to 153 . Would you move it over a little, so I could see the titles --

MR. HAREN: Zoom out a little bit. It is a very wide spreadsheet.
A Yes, I know, unfortunately. All right. So there are a few different totals here. You would have the NOI before debt service, after debt service in Capex. The final number is -- in some months, it is a profit and in others it is a loss, but ultimately for that year, it was projected a loss of \($ 4.1\) million.

Q And that's the -- scroll back to the left.
That's a total NOI after debt service and Capex?
A Yes.
Q And Capex refers to capital expenditures?
A Capital improvements, tenant improvements, lease, any leasing commissions. It looks here -- it is just a whole number. It is just one building improvement number. The capital improvement is just one line and that's for building improvement. That's what that code is.

Q So speaking in reference to the negative \($ 4.17\) million number, in your experience, if a business within the Trump Organization has negative income after debt over the course of a year, does someone have to advance money to the business?

A Yes.
Q Who does that?
A The owning entity.
Q So does that mean prior to Mr. Trump becoming president, he would advance the money?

A That's correct.
Q After Mr. Trump became president, the trust would advance the money?

\section*{KIDDER - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)}

Page 1501
A That is correct.
MR. HAREN: Let's go to Plaintiff's Exhibit 1078.
Q Ms. Kidder, I'll direct your attention to the bottom of the first page continuing on to the second page. There is an e-mail from you to a person named Joseph Piantedosi copying Brian Lynch and Jeff McConney with the subject "re TNGC Westchester cash position." Do you see that?

A I do.
Q Do you recognize this document?
A Yes, I do.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A This is the first time it appears that Jeff instructed a controller to pay a management fee and have it hit the books instead of just a journal entry.

MR. HAREN: I move this document into evidence. THE COURT: Granted. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1078.)
Q Looking at the e-mail on December 23rd of 2016, the e-mail states -- it has a subject of, TNGC Westchester cash position and it says, "Hi, Donna. I have attached the cash position for the club. We are positive we will be able to meet the payroll for next week with the existing funds." Do you see that?
A Yes, I do.

Q Is this e-mail an example of what you called an outside entity sending you a cash position update?

A Yes, it is.
Q This is the time of e-mail you would receive weekly from those outside entities?
A Yes.
Q Is it typical to sweep funding from operating entities within the Trump Organization?
A Yes, it is.
Q Why does that occur?
A Because we don't like to keep too much excess funds at entity level. Instead, we sweep it up to the owning entity for investment.

Q And can you just describe in a little bit more detail what you mean by "sweep up to the owning entity"?
A Well, if the golf course here had excess operational funds, he would issue a distribution to the owning entity.

Q And ultimately, I think you described the process, but for some entities or -- excuse me. Before Mr. Trump became president, the distribution would ultimately go up to him; is that correct?

A Correct.
Q And after he became president, the distributions would go up to the trust?

A Correct.
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline & DER - DIRECT (MR. HAREN) Page 1503 \\
\hline & Q I'm looking on page one on to page two of Plaintiff's \\
\hline & Exhibit 1078. I think you mentioned this already. It \\
\hline & states -- excuse me. It is the top of page two. It states, "I \\
\hline & will be sending 405,388.38 which in turn you need to send right \\
\hline & back as a 2015 management fee". Do you see that? \\ \hline 6 & A Ido. \\
\hline & Q And was there a reason that before the end of the year \\
\hline & in 2016 there needed to be a monetary transfer of an amount for \\ \hline & a management fee from the TNGC Westchester? \\ \hline & A Sorry. Can you just repeat that question? I didn't \\ \hline & hear the first part. \\
\hline 12 & MR. HAREN: Sure. Can I have a readback, please, \\
\hline 13 & Your Honor. \\
\hline 14 & THE COURT: Read back, please. \\ \hline 15 & (Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was \\ \hline & read back.) \\
\hline 17 & A They didn't have enough operating cash left over at the \\ \hline & end of the year. \\
\hline 19 & Q So you needed to send them $405,000 and change and have \\
\hline & them send it right back as a management fee? \\
\hline 21 & A Correct. \\
\hline 22 & Q Did you have an understanding how 405,388 was \\ \hline & calculated? \\
\hline 24 & A Mazars calculated the management fee based on the gross \\
\hline & profits at four and-a-half percent. \\
\hline
\end{tabular}
25 profits at four and-a-half percent.

\section*{D. KIDDER - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)}

Q Was it four and-a-half percent of gross revenue or four and-a-half percent of gross profit?

A Revenue.
Q Let's move to Plaintiff's Exhibit 1133. Ms. Kidder, in reviewing this document, if you could turn to page three and review up from there. That might be easier.

A It looks to be a couple of documents in one, but yes, I recognize it.

MR. HAREN: I move this document into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: I want to make sure this is one chain of e-mails. The witness said it looks like it is several together.

MR. HAREN: It was produced to us like this.
MR. ROBERT: Sorry? In hard form or electronic form?

MR. HAREN: In the form in which it exists here.
MR. ROBERT: So that means it is one e-mail exchange.

MR. HAREN: It means it is a series of e-mails and one chain that has the items on the last page. They kind of stack up.

MR. ROBERT: Okay.
THE COURT: So we treat it as one document. Is that agreed?

MR. ROBERT: I just wanted to make sure that it is one exchange in the e-mail because of the witness' answer.

Page 1505
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1133.)
Q Ms. Kidder, directing you to page three of the document, in the middle of the page, there is an e-mail from Jennifer Minton to you with the subject "Charlotte funding request 12.23.16." Do you see that right there in the middle of the page?

A Yes, I do.
Q Who is Jennifer Minton?
A She is the controller for the golf course in Charlotte.
Q Do you understand the subject "Charlotte funding request" to refer to the sort of weekly cash reports that you mentioned earlier?

A Yes, I do.
Q On page three, you asked her "Out of the 531 K , can any of that be considered as a distribution to DJT"?

A Yes, I see that.
Q What did you understand that to refer to at the time?
A In this e-mail, there would have been an attachment which would have been her cash position. I asked if any of her cash balance could be considered a distribution.

Q And so that refers to the process you described earlier of seeing if there is excess cash left in an operating entity?

\section*{IIDDER - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)}

Page 1506
A Yes.
THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
Q Ms. Minton, the subsequent e-mail at the top of page three and starting from page two, she writes, "We have never done this transfer for the management fee before, so I guess it wouldn't matter what we consider it." Do you see that?

A Which -- I'm sorry. Which one?
Q It is at the top of page two of the document. It begins with, "I had something come up unexpected yesterday and I'm out of the office today. I wanted to reply, sorry, but I am confused." Then it says, "We have never done this transfer for the management fee before, so I guess it wouldn't matter what we consider it."

My question is, did you understand Ms. Minton to have been asking you how to classify a management fee?
A Yes.
Q And your response on page two states, "It is a management fee. Allen would like it below the line." Do you see that?

A Yes, I did.
Q Is that Allen Weisselberg?
A Yes.
Q Allen Weisselberg gave direction as to how Trump Organization golf clubs classified their management fees?

A Correct.
\(1 \quad Q\) And what did you understand below the line to mean?
2 A After all of the operating expenses and the -- in the -- the first NOI, just as I showed you in -- on 40 Wall Street, they would have a report and it would have different NOIs before management fees, before Capex such as that. So that's what he means by below the line.
Q There would be a net operating income generated before the management fee was subtracted?
A The NOI would be before the management fee, it would be higher and then after the management fee, it would be less.

Q In the e-mail, again, in the middle of page two, you stated to Ms. Minton, "He would like it recorded below the line. He also suggests that Ed already knows how to show it on the reports that are provided to AW/Ron/Patrick, so he can advise." What did you understand that sentence to refer to?

A Ed Raymundo is the controller at the Florida properties in Mar-A-Lago and he has been reporting this for years before Jennifer Minton was hired and she had never seen an entry like this on her books, so he was just going to show her how to do it on the golf reports.
Q And what did you mean reports that are provided to AW/Ron/Patrick?
A Those are the monthly reports from the golf courses, profit and loss, income and expense, balance sheets.
25 Q So those monthly reports that you're describing, can you be more specific about what they contain?

\section*{D. KIDDER - DIRECT (MR. HAREN)}

A From what \(I\) have seen, it is a profit and loss statement, an income and expense statement, a balance sheet. There might or might not be management fees attached. They usually went direct to Allen, Ron and Patrick.
Q And these monthly reports contain income and expense information for each of the golf clubs in the Trump Organization?
A Just the one they were responsible for. Each controller would submit their own reports.

Q So each of the controllers would submit a report with the income and expenses for their property?

A Correct.
Q And did you have an understanding that Patrick Birney -- you are referring to Patrick Birney, right?

A Correct.
Q Did you have an understanding that Mr. Birney would then consolidate that information into a single report?
A I don't know what he did with all of the reports.
of the page, you wrote "I sent you a separate wire yesterday so you can pay the management fee. (It also happens to be 531,903.42). Do you see that?
A Yes.
25 Q Is this another instance in which you sent funding to a club for it to immediately send it back as a management fee? A Yes, it is.

MR. HAREN: I think that's a good place to stop for the day, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Hold on. As usual, ten o'clock tomorrow. Have a good evening.

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, can you give an admonition to the witness before she departs not to discuss her testimony with anyone.

THE COURT: I hereby admonish you not to discuss your testimony with anyone.

THE WITNESS: Yes, Your Honor.
(Witness exits the stand.)

In The Matter Of: \\ NYS Attorney General v. \\ Donald Trump et al.
}

\section*{Donna Kidder, Douglas Larson \\ October 17, 2023}

Janelle C. London, RMR, CRR & Nicole Robinson, SCR

Page 1514
\(1 \quad Q\) Do you have a practice of preparing spreadsheets like this at the Trump Organization?

A I prepare it every week.
Q And what is the purpose of this spreadsheet?
A To show the cash positions of the entities that are holding accounts are owned entities, owning entities.
Q And prior to Mr. Trump becoming president of the United States was the purpose of this document to allow Allen
Weisselberg to give Mr. Trump an update on the cash position of the entities contained in the spreadsheet?

A Correct.
Q And was that the -- can you describe the purpose of these spreadsheets after Mr. Trump became president?

A It's still the same practice except it doesn't go to President Trump directly.
Q Okay. Thank you.
MR. HAREN: Now, focusing on the e-mail, Exhibit 1300, and the spreadsheet, Exhibit 1300 native, I'd like to move those documents into evidence, please.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to are received and marked Plaintiffs Exhibit Numbers 1300 and 1300 native in evidence.)
Q Ms. Kidder, focusing on the spreadsheet, I'd like to -there is a tab at the bottom titled "cash."

1 What -- actually, let me go back to a different question.

When were you first assigned the task of preparing weekly cash spreadsheets of this sort?

A When Eric Sacher resigned and I was assigned this task.
Q And that was in about 2008 as we discussed yesterday?
A Correct.
Q Okay. I'd like to walk through Rows 11 through 26.
Can you -- do you have an understanding of the information contained in those rows?
A Yes.
\(Q\) And what's your understanding?
A The first line is a checking account at Capital One, the second is a money market account at Capital One. If you scroll over I could see if there is another column that says the name.

I believe that was personal. The other way. The other way. Okay.

So this was 2016 prior to President Trump becoming the president, so everything was still in his name as far as the Capital One account. It was not yet in the trust. That's his personal account. Capital One Money Market is his personal account.
Q Just -- without speaking specifically about the particular accounts, just as a general matter what is the 1 information reflected in Rows 11 through 126 ?

2 A Cash position as of that day.
\(3 \quad Q\) And what is the relationship between that information and what you described yesterday as owner entities?
A He's the owning entity.
\(Q\) And so the cash flows up?
7 A That is correct.
\(8 \quad Q\) In Columns \(Q\) and \(S\) in Row 80, I'd like to direct your 9 attention to some figures. Do you have an understanding of the information contained in Cell Q 80?

A Yes.
\(Q\) And what's your understanding?
A It's the cash total of the lines above it.
Q And how about R 80?
A That's the restricted cash or investments.
Q And S 80?
A The available cash and investments.
Q So is the idea that there is a total sum as restricted and taking out restricted, what's in \(S 80\) is what remains?

A That is correct.
Q Okay. Can we turn to the tab of the spreadsheet entitled "AW REC." And first, do you have an understanding of the phrase AW REC?

A Yes. This was a spreadsheet Allen Weisselberg created 5 to fill in, so it's Allen Weisselberg's reconciliation and as

Page 1517
1 the title states it's funding for the TU settlement.
\(2 \quad Q \quad\) And what does TU settlement refer to?
3 A Trump University.
4 Q Directing your attention to Row 36. Do you see the 5 figure in G 36 of \(16,567,203\) ?
6 A Yes.
7 Q Does that come from the cash tab that we looked at as 8 the portion of the cash that was not restricted?
9 A It should.
10 Q And then I'd like to scroll or just look at Row 37 where it states "see A and see above" and there is a figure of 5.6 million. Do you see that?

A I see that.
Q Why are those figures subtracted here?
A Would you be able to scroll up?
Q Sure.
A I don't recall. This was awhile ago I did this spreadsheet.

Q Sure. We can take a look through.
Do you see that Item \(A\) is 3.1 million in current cash?
A Yes.
Q And Item C is 2.5 million in MAL/TIGC?
A Yes.
Q Do you have an understanding of what MAL/TIGC refers to?

1 A That I do recall or understand. MAL is Mar-A-Lago, TIGC is the golf course in Florida and that would anticipate a distribution of that amount.
Q And there is a heading of this section that states
"funding for TU settlement" and there is a total in Cell G 10 of 25 million. Do you see that?
A Yes.
3 And do you have an understanding that the figures above
25 million are the sums of money that are funding for TU settlement?
A Yes.
Q And do you have an understanding of the Cell G 8?
A Yes.
Q And what's your understanding?
A That was a Ladder Capital loan Allen Weisselberg took out. I believe it was for Trump Plaza to add to the cash required to pay the Trump University settlement.
Q And I'd like to go back to -- go down to Cell I 42.
Do you see in Row 42 it states "projected cash liquidity" with an asterisk and there is a figure of \(8,087,203\) ?
A Ido.
Q And in Row 45 there is an addition of \(1,667,000\) for PH 28 sale net?
A Ido.
25 Q Do you have an understanding of what PH 28 sale net

\section*{Proceedings}

refers to?
A That was the anticipated sale of penthouse 28, the net profit at Trump Park Avenue LLC.

Q So there is a projected cash liquidity in Cell I 42 and then the net from the sale of PH 28 of 1.667 and that sums to cell -- the number in I 46; is that right?
A That's how it should add, yes.
Q Okay. Ms. Kidder, I'm going to shift to a different topic, 40 Wall Street budgets.

We spoke yesterday about the budget process for 40 Wall Street. How did that process work for other entities that you considered in house?

A The only other entity that we actually prepared a budget for was Trump Tower commercial and it was exactly the same process.
Q And can you explain more what you mean by "exactly the same process?"
A Sure. So for the income based on the leases in place I would prepare the income projection for the budget year. For the expenses it would be Matthew Calamari. He would put that together if there were any capital improvements to the building. I would speak with Michael Calamari. Leasing commissions, whatever attorney was working on leases, if they had a number I would add that. We would work as a team and put the numbers together and then the budget, the projected budget, would go to 1 Allen Weisselberg for approval and review.

Q And that process was the same from 2011 to 2021? A Yes.
Q And do you have an awareness of how the budget process works for club properties in the Trump Organization?

A Not really, no.
MR. HAREN: Let's move to Plaintiff's Exhibit 1295.
Q Ms. Kidder, do you recognize this document?
A It says it's the 40 Wall Street 2011 Operating/Capital Budget.
Q And do you recognize it?
A It looks like something I would have prepared, yes. MR. HAREN: I move this document into evidence. THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 1295 in evidence.)
Q So I just want to start at the bottom in Cell R 108 and work up from there.

Do you have, Ms. Kidder, an understanding of the information in Cell R 108?
A It's a loss for the year.
Q And what's the amount of the loss?
A \($ 4,851,994\).
Q I'd like to scroll up in the spreadsheet to the item for interest expenses. Do you see in Row 22 it states "interest on mortgage?"

A Yes, I do.
Q And do you see that the amount is \(9,288,267\) ?
A Yes.
Q And elsewhere in the spreadsheet there is an expense for building improvements of 1.8 million. I think it's at the bottom. Do you see that in Row 106?
A I do.
Q So I'm going to represent to you that if you start at a loss of \(4,851,994\) and you add back in the interest expense in the building improvements expense you get to a figure of 6,236,273.

MR. HAREN: And I think as in prior instances the Court can take judicial notice of the mathematical calculation.

And I'd like to pull up on the screen Plaintiff's Exhibit 1573.
Q And Ms. Kidder, I'm not going to ask you any questions about this document, but I just want to point out that some figures match.

MR. HAREN: So could we go to page 138, please?
Q Ms. Kidder, do you see that under operating expenses --
MR. ROBERT: Objection, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Go ahead.

MR. HAREN: Im going to move into evidence now the -- not the appraisal, but the budget Ms. Kidder prepared because I haven't done that yet. I'd like to move --

MR. ROBERT: As to that in the previous one the statute of limitations, objection, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I understand that as a standing objection on the record and -- but the document is in evidence. Granted.

\section*{MR. HAREN: Thank you.}

Can we pull up Plaintiffs Exhibit 1296, please?
Q Ms. Kidder, do you recognize this document?
A Yes, I do.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A One of the assumption reports Allen Weisselberg would request that I prepare periodically.

MR. HAREN: I move Plaintiff's Exhibit 1296 native into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in.
It's a standing objection, but if you feel the need, you can say it every time.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 1296 in evidence.)
Q Ms. Kidder, do you see at the top of the page reads:

1 "40 Wall Street LLC six-year budget projection?"
2 A Yes, I do.
3 Q And you prepared this document?
4 A I did.
5 Q Did anybody give you instruction as to how to prepare this document?
A Yes.
\(8 \quad \mathbf{Q}\) Who did?
9 A Allen Weisselberg.
10 Q Did Mr. Weisselberg direct you to prepare this document?

A Yes, he did.
Q Does this document contain assumptions?
A Yes.
Q Did Allen Weisselberg direct you to make the assumptions contained in this document?
A Yes, he did.
Q I'd like to look down at Column \(R\).
Do you see the information in Cell R 10 that states "assumed full lease up 1/2013?"

A Yes, I do.
Q What does that indicate?
A It means that whatever vacant space at the time was to be assumed as fully leased up as of \(1 / 2013\).

Q And is that one of the assumptions Mr. Weisselberg

\section*{Proceedings}

Page 1525
directed you to make?
A Yes.
Q And the next row down where it states on the left side in Column C and D "pending lease assumption." Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q What does that indicate?
A That's also another line item Allen had me assume that there were at least leases that were currently out and pending signing, so he wanted to break that out on a separate line.

Q And is the assumption that the pending leases would generate the figures in Cells \(J\) through \(Q\) an assumption that Mr. Weisselberg directed you to make?

A Correct.
MR. HAREN: Can we zoom out a little bit?
Q Ms. Kidder, if we could scroll down through general expenses and administrative expenses all the way to the bottom.

Are there in this six-year budget projection any line items for leasing commissions?
A I don't see any.
Q Tenant improvements?
A I don't see any on the spreadsheet.
Q How about capital expenditures?
A There aren't any on this report.
Q Did Mr. Weisselberg ever convey anything to you about what this document would be used for?

A No, he did not.
MR. HAREN: Let's move to Plaintiff's Exhibit 1032.
Q Ms. Kidder, this document is very large. I'm not going to show you a ton of it, but I will just state it was produced in this form and I'd like to direct you to page three.

Does this page of the document appear to be a scan of the six-year budget projection that you prepared that we just looked at as Exhibit 1296?
A I don't know if it's the same one, but it's definitely a six-year budget projection that I prepared.

Q And you can see on the right side it contains the same language "assumed full lease up \(1 / 2013\)," do you see that?

A Yes, I do.
Q Included in vacancy assumption calculation as pending lease assumption, does it appear to you to be the same or similar to the exhibit that was number 1296 ?
A It is the same or similar.
Q And did Mr. Weisselberg direct you to prepare this document?
A Yes.
Q And did Mr. Weisselberg direct you to make the assumptions that are contained in this document?
A Yes.
Q I'd like to direct your attention lower on the page to where there is some handwriting.
Proceedings
1 \(\quad\) Ms. Kidder, do you see on the right side of the page the Figure \(131,171,910\) when divided by five is \(26,234,382\).
And I'd like to switch to Plaintiff's Exhibit 788, the 2011 Supporting Data and look at Rows 112 to 119.
Q Ms. Kidder --
THE COURT: Normally you pause when you say you'd like me to take judicial notice so.

MR. HAREN: My apologies, Your Honor.
THE COURT: I created my own pause. I will take judicial notice of the math, assuming it's correct.

MR. HAREN: Thank you.
THE COURT: I'm sure you checked it five times.
MR. HAREN: I probably had done the adding and subtracting many times at this point. I appreciate that.
Q Ms. Kidder, in Cell G 119, do you see a net operating income of \(26,234,400\) ?
A I see that, yes.
Q And do you see that the document states "average income for the five-year period 2013 to 2017" in Cell B 114 ?

A I'm sorry, which cell?
Q It crosses over into B and C, but it's Row 114.
A The number that's 47819 ?
Q Yes.
A I see that, yes.
Q And do you see that in Row 116 it states "average expenses for the five-year period 2013 to 2017 in the amount of \section*{Proceedings}

\section*{21,585,000?"}

A I see that.
Q Did you ever when preparing the six-year cash flow projection in Exhibit 1296 have an understanding that it would be used to value 40 Wall Street for the purposes of a Statement of Financial Condition for Mr. Trump?

A No, I did not.
Q Moving to a new topic of management fees.
Ms. Kidder, I want to just talk about the refinancing of 40 Wall Street in 2015 with Ladder Capital Finance. Do you generally recall that that occurred? A Yes.

MR. HAREN: I'd like to mark Plaintiff's Exhibit 652.

THE COURT: It's marked. Are you looking to introduce it into evidence?
Q Ms. Kidder, do you recognize this document?
A Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A Allen Weisselberg instructed Haroula Zapantis to provide the trailing 12 as of \(3 / 31 / 15\). So she prepared it, sent it to me and I forwarded it on to Allen Weisselberg who then forwarded it on apparently to Jack Weisselberg.
Q Just to clarify, when you say "trailing 12," what are you referring to?

Page 1531
A Yes.
Transcript continues on the following page.....

Q Who is Haroula Zapantis?
A She is a senior accountant at the Trump Organization.
Q Did Jeff McConney and Allen Weisselberg generally supervise her work?

A Yes.
Q And I would like to take a look at the attachment beginning on page two. I think you actually answered my question about this document, so I'll just move to admit it.

MR. ROBERT: Objection; statute of limitations.
And is it with the attachment, too, so we make sure it is one document?

MR. HAREN: Yes, it is one document. The attachment is not needed.

MR. ROBERT: Same objection.
THE COURT: Same ruling. Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 652.)
Q Let's move to Plaintiff's Exhibit 636. Ms. Kidder, do you recognize this e-mail and its attachment?
A Yes, Ido.
Q What do you recognize them to be?
A The year-end cash flows for the periods requested for 40 Wall Street year ending December 31, 2012, 2013 and 2014.

MR. HAREN: I move to admit this document into

Page 1533
evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Same objection.
THE COURT: Same ruling. Granted. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 636.)
Q Ms. Kidder, focusing on the e-mail on the first page, do you see a request from Jack Weisselberg?

A I do.
Q And what is Mr. Weisselberg, being in this case Jack Weisselberg, asking for?
A The attached information.
Q And when you say "attached information" -- well, he states in his e-mail, "Please send me the 2012-2014 year-end cash flow statements for 40 Wall." Do you see that?

A Yes, I do.
Q You understood him to mean -- what did you understand that to mean at the time?
A The year ending December 31st and corresponding year cash flow statements. That's what is attached.

Q And before you sent him the attachment, did you obtain approval to do so?

A Yes, I did.
23 Q From whom?
24 A Allen Weisselberg.
25 Q I'd like to direct your attention to page three of the 2 Q And it is identified by "DM." Does that again refer to manual transaction?

A That does.
Q And do you have an understanding as to why only -- why this figure was omitted from the cash flow report provided to Ladder Capital?
A Again, Allen Weisselberg said it was a payment to an affiliated company and didn't need to be included for that purpose.

Q When he said "a payment to an affiliated company," did he have a phrase that he used?

A That's the best of my recollection.
Q Understood.
THE COURT: That wasn't the phrase, though, right?
That wasn't the phrase he used. He's looking for certain words.
Q Would it refresh your recollection if I told you that in your testimony, you said one pocket to another?

A Okay. One pocket to another.
MR. HAREN: Okay. Let's move to Plaintiff's
Exhibit 1026.
Q Ms. Kidder, do you recognize this document?
A Detailed general ledger 40 Wall Street, L.L.P. calendar year 2014.

\section*{Plaintiff's Exhibit 1026.)}

MR. HAREN: Let's move to Plaintiff's Exhibit 1063.
Q Ms. Kidder, do you recognize this document?
A Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A It appears to be another trailing cash flow that was prepared for Jack Weisselberg.

Q On page two of the document, I want to direct you to the far right-hand column. And the print on this document is very small, so we're going to have to zoom in.

Under administrative expenses, do you see that there's a row for management fees and expenses in the amount of \($ 100,000\) ?

A Yes, I do.
MR. HAREN: Could we put on the screen with this image the same image from the version sent in Exhibit 652. Q So, Ms. Kidder, on the right, you'll see that there's a list of administrative expenses. Next to management fees and expenses, it states \($ 1,007,988\) and that was in the version you sent on April 10, 2015 in Exhibit 652. And then here in Exhibit 1063, the figure has been reduced to 100,000 in the version sent on April 21st of 2015.

Do you have an understanding as to how the management fee number came to be reduced to 100,000 ?
A Allen Weisselberg instructed me to make the change.

\section*{DDER - DIRECT(MR. HAREN)}

Page 1541
MR. HAREN: I move Exhibit 1063 into evidence. MR. ROBERT: Same objection.
THE COURT: Same ruling and granted. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1063.)

MR. HAREN: Let's move to Exhibit 1061. This is related to the transactions that we've been looking at.
Q Ms. Kidder, do you recognize this document?
A Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A It seems to be a chain of questions relating to the finance.

MR. HAREN: I move this document into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Same objection.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1061.)
Q In the e-mail on page one is a question from Jack Weisselberg to you and it reads, "I have some questions on the historicals (some of which related to potential one-time costs)."

Do you have an understanding as to what Jack Weisselberg was referring to there?

A He's asking questions about what we tagged as one-time costs on the information that was sent to him previously.

Q And looking further into the items in the e-mail that he sent to you, there is a question there about real estate taxes. Do you see that?
A Ido.
Q And in number two, "There's a question about one-time items that need to be removed, but the G&A operating expenses drop significantly from 2012 and 2013 to 2014 and the T-12."

Do you have an understanding as to what that refers to?
A The T-12 means trailing 12.
Q And do you have an understanding of what Mr.
Weisselberg meant by "G&A operating expenses drop significantly from 2012 and 2013 to 2014 and the T-12"?
A He's asking why the expenses in those categories dropped in those years significantly.

Q And he concludes by asking, "Am I missing any other non-recurring costs." Do you see that?

A Yes, I do.
Q Do you have an understanding as to why Jack Weisselberg was asking about non-recurring costs?
A Because if it is an extraordinary expense, it wouldn't be factored into financing. For example, if you have a legal invoice for a tenant that you're evicting that's \($ 750,000\) in one year, you wouldn't expect to see the same number the next.

Q In looking at page one at the top, there is an e-mail from you to Allen Weisselberg.

\section*{D. KIDDER - DIRECT(MR. HAREN)}

Why did you forward Jack Weisselberg's e-mail to Allen Weisselberg?
A That was standard practice and item number one, I wouldn't know how to answer. That's why there's a question mark. I wasn't involved in any tertiary filings with Marcus & Pollack. Number two I did answer because I knew that the operational team and Allen Weisselberg were cutting the expenses as much as they could.
Q And there's a reasons in item two to the test required at one point by the bank. Does that refer to a debt service cover ratio?
A That is correct.
Q What's your understanding of what debt service ratio means?

A Minimal. I just -- Jeffrey McConney prepared that calculation.
Q Moving to a new topic, Plaintiff's Exhibit 1282. Ms. Kidder, we're going to spend a little bit of time talking about some penthouses at Trump Park Avenue.
A Okay.
Q Ms. Kidder, do you recognize this document?
A Yes, I do.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A I used to track all of the deals and agreements for Ivanka Trump, so I prepared a spreadsheet.
D. KIDDER - DIRECT(MR. HAREN)

Page 1544
Q So this spreadsheet that's attached to the e-mail is something you prepared?
A Yes.
Q And it was part of your practice to prepare spreadsheets of that type?
A For Ivanka, yes.
7 Q Can you give us a time period as to when that was part of your responsibilities?
9 A I believe it was in 2010 it started up until June of a 10 couple of years ago.

Q Okay. Does 2017 sound about right?
A Yes.
Q Who is Lizabeth Kyprislidis?
A She works for the Trump Organization, trademarks, licensing.

MR. HAREN: Actually, can I move the e-mail into evidence?

THE COURT: Granted. It is in.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Understood.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1282.)

MR. HAREN: Let's pull up 1282 native.
Q Ms. Kidder, the spreadsheet on the screen reflects the document you prepared?

\section*{D. KIDDER - DIRECT(MR. HAREN)}

Page 1545
A Yes, it does.
MR. HAREN: Could we go to the PH28 tab, please. I move the native file into evidence.

THE COURT: It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit.)
Q Do you see at the top of the page it reads, "502 Park Avenue Penthouse 28"?
9 A Yes, I do.
10 Q What's your understanding of that phrase?
11 A It was an agreement between Ivanka Trump and Jared Kushner and Trump Park Avenue, L.L.C. to rent Penthouse 28 at 502 Park Avenue.

Q And do you see next to agreement date it reads, "January 6, 2011"?

A Yes.
Q Next to the word "terms," it indicates a start date of January 1, 2011?
A Yes.
Q And next to the word "conditions," it reads "Tenant shall have exclusive right during the term of this lease to purchase the unit at the price of \($ 8,500,000\) "?
A Yes, I see that.
Q Did you obtain the information in this tab concerning a lease of Penthouse 28 from somewhere?

1 A From whichever attorney worked on the lease. I don't recall the name.
3 Q But did you obtain the information from the lease?
4 A Yes, I did.
\(5 \quad\) MR. HAREN: Let's move to Exhibit 1278.
6 Q Ms. Kidder, do you recognize this e-mail?
7 A I recognize the e-mail.
8 Q And what do you recognize it to be?
9 A That I sent Jeff McConney an attachment of the agreements for 2012 for Ivanka deals.

Q Just so I understand, you understand the attachment to be a similar spreadsheet to the one we looked at a minute ago?
A Yes.
Q And you were sending Mr. McConney a copy of it on November 28, 2012?

A Apparently so, yes.
MR. HAREN: I move the e-mail into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. Granted. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1278.)
MR. HAREN: Can we move to 1278 native, please.
Q Ms. Kidder, this is the attachment to the e-mail?
MR. HAREN: And if we could again click on the tab PH28.

\section*{D. KIDDER - DIRECT(MR. HAREN)}

Page 1547

\section*{THE COURT: Granted.}

Q Ms. Kidder, does the information on this tab reflect the lease between Trump Park Avenue, L.L.C. and Ivanka Trump and Jared Kushner for a lease Penthouse 28 at 502 Park Avenue with an option to purchase of \($ 8.5\) million?
A Yes.
Q So you provided that information to Jeffrey McConney in the spreadsheet on November 28th of 2012?
A Yes.
MR. HAREN: I move the native file into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit.)

MR. ROBERT: Same objection.
MR. HAREN: Could we move to Plaintiffs 618, please. For the record, this is a 14-page document produced in this action by Ivanka Trump.
Q Ms. Kidder, I would like to direct your attention to page 14. Do you recognize this e-mail?
A Yes.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A It is an e-mail from Sonja Talesnik regarding the modification of Penthouse 20 and 28.
Q And who is Sonja Talesnik?
25 A She is an attorney at the Trump Organization.

Q And can you speak just in general terms to her areas of work at the Trump Organization?
A Well, usually, she just deals with the management of the condominiums, but apparently in this instance, she assisted in the preparation of these two documents.
Q When you say she works on matters relating to condominiums, what do you mean?
A She works with the management team for the homeowners associations that we manage.
Q In looking at the e-mail on the page, do you see that there is a line at the top that reads, "Please see amendment to the lease that provides that the right to purchase the PH 28 has been surrendered"?
A Ido.
Q And do you have an understanding as to what that means?
A That means that Ivanka Trump and Jared Kushner no longer would be exercising the right in the lease to purchase Penthouse 28.
Q And then it follows with "re-PH20 "and it states,
"Attached to the lease for PH 20 , which will commence November 1, 2015 "and it continues, and then item D states to the far right, "Tenant shall have the exclusive right which is not assignable during the term of this lease "-- let me read that again because I missed the parenthesis.
"Tenant shall have the exclusive right (which right is not assignable) during the term of this lease to purchase the unit at the price of \($ 14,264,000\), notwithstanding the filing of any amendment to the offering plan that may increase the price of the unit."

\section*{KIDDER - DIRECT(MR. HAREN)}

Do you see that?
A I do.
Q Did you have an understanding on or about the date of this e-mail that Ms. Trump had an option to purchase this penthouse unit for \($ 14,264,000\) ?

A Yes.
Q Where did you gain that understanding?
A From this e-mail and the attachments.
MR. HAREN: Okay. Let's move to Plaintiff's
Exhibit 1157, which is already in evidence.
Q Ms. Kidder, do you see in Exhibit 1157 an e-mail from Patrick Birney to you copying Allen Weisselberg and Jeffrey McConney?

A Yes, I do.
Q And the subject is 2015 Trump Organization corporate cash flow.
A Yes.
Q And in the e-mail, Patrick writes, "Donna, see attached 2015 Trump Organization corporate cash flow shell."

A Yes.
Q Do you have an understanding of the word "shell" in

\section*{D. KIDDER - DIRECT(MR. HAREN)}

Page 1550
this e-mail?
2 A An un-filled out Excel spreadsheet.
3 Q Pulling up the native document that's also already in evidence, do you have an understanding as to who created this Trump Organization corporate cash flow shell?
6 A Patrick Birney at the direction of Allen Weisselberg.
7 Q Mr. Weisselberg and Mr. McConney are copied on Mr.
Birney's e-mail that's Exhibit 1157. Do you have an understanding as to their involvement in the generation of the 10 Trump Organization corporate cash flow spreadsheet?
A They would have created the parameters and instructed Patrick and myself from the parts that I was responsible for what to include.
Q Thank you.
MR. HAREN: I'm going to move to a different topic, licensing and incentive fees, and I'll turn to Plaintiff's Exhibit 3169.
Q Ms. Kidder, do you recognize this document?
A Yes.
Q What do you recognize that to be?
A It is a report that I was instructed by Jeffrey
McConney to prepare every year at this time; at this time being usually for that range, July to June.
Q And speaking generally about this report that you prepared every year, what does it contain?

\section*{D. KIDDER - DIRECT(MR. HAREN)}

Page 1551
A It contains the projected amount of license fees and/or incentive fees that would be received through the license deals from that date through the ending date.

MR. HAREN: I move this e-mail into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiffs Exhibit 3169.)

MR. HAREN: Could we, please, pull up Exhibit 3169 in native form.
Q Ms. Kidder, do you recognize the spreadsheet on the screen?
A Yes.
Q And what do you recognize it to be?
A The projection. Some of the numbers are actual if it was prepared in September and then started in July and the rest would be a projection.
Q The information that is in column B, how did you obtain that information?
A So per the instructions given to me by Jeffrey McConney, I was to take the -- and you could see the explanation based on projected sell-out of remaining units to -- as if they would all sell out in that timeframe.
Q And how did you go about obtaining the information to do the analysis?
A From the licensees. They would have a projected sell-out or the selling price for all of the remaining units.
Q And can you walk us through what -- just how far the numbers are calculated from column \(B\) over to column \(G\), not about the numbers themselves, but generally what the columns reflect?
A We will start with A27. That seems to be easiest because that's actually the entire amount is based on a project asked sell-out. That's a report provided by the licensee of all the units that they have for sale, Trump-branded units. That is the fee based on whatever the percentage is of royalty in the agreement. That's the total fee.

Then the next column is zero. And the column E is TTT. That was the entity that received I want to say 21 percent or a piece depending on what the agreement said of the license fees.
The net is to DJT, that's to Donald Trump, which is the license fees less the fees payable to TTT.
Q And just so I understand, column \(B\) is the total fee. Then there is some amount taken out for less TTT which might be zero. And then there's some amount taken out for TTT. And then what remains in column \(G\) is the net?
A Correct.
Q And what does TTT refer to?
A TTT Consulting, L.L.C.
Q And what is TTT Consulting, L.L.C.?
A It was an agreement with Eric Trump, Donald Trump, Jr. and Ivanka Trump to receive a percentage of fees generated by certain license deals.

Q Are there any assumptions built into the information contained in column \(B\) regarding sell-out timing?
A Well, the calculation in and of itself is an assumption if column B was an assumption because they would only get fees if we received column \(B\).

THE COURT OFFICER: Please raise your right hand.
Do you solemnly swear or affirm that any testimony you give will be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth?

THE WITNESS: I do.
THE COURT OFFICER: Please have a seat.
Please state your full name and either home or business address on the record.

THE WITNESS: Douglas Larson. 125 Park Avenue, New York, New York.

THE COURT: Okay. Counsel, please proceed.
Mr. Larson, sounds like you have a nice loud voice. Just remember to speak right into the microphone.

THE WITNESS: Sure.

\section*{DIRECT EXAMINATION}

BY LADOV:
Q Good morning, Mr. Larson. Where do you currently work?
A I work at Newmark.
Q And what is Newmark?
A Newmark is a full-service real estate company.
Q And what is your title there?
A Executive vice president.
Q What is the scope of your work at Newmark?
A Valuation advisor, appraiser.
D. Larson - Plaintiff - direct (Ladov)

Page 1559
\(Q\) So are you a professional appraiser?
2 A Yes.
3 Q Do you hold any professional licenses related to your work?

A Yes. I'm a certified New York real estate appraiser.
6 Q And within that New York real estate appraisal work do you have any specializations?
A Yes, office and retail.
THE COURT: Witness please be a little closer to the microphone like this.

THE WITNESS: Okay.
Q And maybe you can just explain for us briefly what's the difference between office and retail property?

A Retail properties are, you know, occupied or leased to merchandisers to sell goods and office space is occupied by office users.
Q How long have you been with Newmark?
A Six years.
Q And where did you work prior to Newmark?
A Cushman & Wakefield.
Q And what is Cushman & Wakefield?
A It's also a full-service real estate company.
Q How long were you at Cushman?
A Almost 25 years.
Q What title did you hold when you left Cushman?

A I'm trying to remember. Senior director. I can't recall exactly.
Q And so was the work you did at Cushman the same as the work you're doing now at Newmark?

A Yes.
Q And have you spent your entire career as a professional appraiser?

A Yes.
Q So Mr. Larson, I'd like to show you a copy of an appraisal that has already been entered into evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 118, and I'm going to walk through this document with you for a couple of minutes just to understand a little bit about what your appraisal practice entails. So if you can turn to page eight of this document.

Are you familiar with this document, Mr. Larson?
A Yes. This is an appraisal prepared by Cushman & Wakefield for Ladder Capital.

Q And what's the property being appraised here?
A It's 40 Wall Street.
Q And you can see it says an "Appraisal report as of June 1, 2015." So what does that signify?

A That is the effective date of value.
Q And if you turn, I guess, like, three more pages to page 11 of this document, is that your signature, Mr. Larson?
A Yes, it is.

Larson - Plaintiff - direct (Ladov)
Page 1561
\(1 \quad Q\) And does your signature signify that this is the final version of this appraisal report?
A Yes.
Q And there is two other names listed here. Can you just tell me who those people are?
A Naoum, Mike Papagianopoulos and Robert Nardella.
Q And what was Mr. Papagianopoulos's role in working on this appraisal with you?

A He worked on our team appraising office properties.
Q And what was Mr. Nardella's role?
A Easy area leader.
Q And Mr. Larson, does this report accurately describe the information that you received along with your colleagues to perform this appraisal?

A Yes, it does.
Q And this appraisal report, does it accurately describe your analysis of that information?

A Yes, it does.
Q So does this appraisal report accurately state your opinion of the value of 40 Wall Street as of June 1, 2015 ?
A Yes.
Q I'd like to turn to page 118 of the document and you'll see here there is an addendum that reads "Engagement Letter."

Can you just tell me generally speaking what is the importance of an engagement letter to an appraisal engagement?

1 A Every appraisal requires an engagement and it states the terms of the agreement between client and appraiser.

Q So let's look at the letter here just to understand what some of those terms are.

MR. LADOV: Can we scroll down to page 188 ?
Q And we can see that this letter describes the anticipated scope of work.

MR. LADOV: Can you scroll down a little bit more?
So the first header there is "USPAP Compliance."
\(Q\) Do you understand what USPAP refers to?
A Yes, it's the Uniformed Standards of Professional Appraisal Practice.
Q And, again, at a high level what does USPAP compliance mean?

A Every appraisal needs to be USPAP compliant and it states the scope of work, the process of preparing an appraisal.

Q And does USPAP apply to any opinion of value that you may work on as an appraiser?

A Can you restate that?
Q I guess what I'm asking is if you were doing -- so we know that this full 2,300-page appraisal report, you need to comply with USPAP to perform this work, but if somebody came to you and said "I don't need a full appraisal report, I just need you to help me value my property over here for a specific asset, I want to figure out what it's worth," do you need to comply

1 statistics, surveys, data collected from public resources in discussion with other real estate professionals in prior appraisals.

Q And this is all your standard practice in the regular course of business; is that correct?
A Yes, absolutely.
Q And then below that it reads, quote, "Consider and develop those approaches relevant and applicable to the appraisal problem. We anticipate developing the following valuation of approaches."

And there is two approaches listed, the income capitalization approach and the sales comparison approach.

So just taking those one by one, can you explain to us what the income capitalization approach means?
A Yes. It's -- there are two components of it; the direct capitalization and a discount cash flow analysis. The requirement in New York City and complicated assets, the primary method of value is discount cash flow. And it looks and reviews of income less expenses and operations and occupancy and rents of the property.
Q And then once you've determined that income when you're using that method what do you do next to try to determine the value of the property?

A You apply investment rates.
Q And are investment rates similar to cap rates?
D. Larson - Plaintiff - direct (Ladov)

Page 1563
with USPAP there as well?
A Yes, every appraisal needs to be USPAP compliant.
Q So from your answer I understand that there is no difference to you as an appraiser between an appraisal, meaning this formal report and any opinion of value that you might offer for a specific real estate property?
A It would need to be USPAP compliant, correct.
Q So looking down here where it says "general scope of work," the first item listed is "inspect the property to the extent necessary to adequately identify the real estate."
Did you inspect this property as part of your appraisal?
A Yes.
Q And why do you do that?
A Well, we look at the condition of the property, we look at the condition of the space, the tenancy fit outs, mechanical system. So it's a complete inspection.

THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
Q You just got here.
So the second item here says "research relevant market data in terms of quantity, quality and geographic comparability to the extent necessary to produce credible appraisal results."

Again, can you just tell us generally what you did to comply with that requirement?
A Well, we look at, you know, market trends, market
D. Larson - Plaintiff - direct (Ladov)

Page 1565
1 A Yes, it's one of the investment rates that's used.
2 Q Sir, what exactly is a cap rate?
3 A A cap rate is -- it's net operating income divided by a purchase price and it's a return on and of an investment.
Q And does the cap rate come into play with the direct capitalization method as well?
7 A Yes.
8 Q Okay. And can you just explain for us how that works?
9 A So a net operating income needs to be calculated and 10 the capitalization rate, that overall capitalization rate is 11 applied and produces a value by direct capitalization.
Q And what factors go into determining a cap rate when you're doing that kind of an analysis?

A You typically look at sales and extract those capitalization rates, you discuss with investment sale brokers and professionals, look at investor surveys and extract it from the market.
Q And sorry, you said singles in your answer. What do you mean by singles there?

A I couldn't hear you.
Q I think one of the first things that you said was you look at singles. Maybe I misunderstood you?

A No. I don't think I said singles.
Q Okay. Sorry. So you also -- sorry. Why don't you 25 explain?

that we were just looking at with the Trump Organization or any of its affiliated entities as a client?

A I have not.
Q Has the Trump Organization ever paid you for appraisal services?
A They have not.
Q I know this question is going to be redundant, but has the Trump Organization ever paid you for any other kind of valuation services?
A No, they have not.
Q As we saw from that last report, you have appraised properties owned by the Trump Organization, correct?

14

22 A Yes. This is an e-mail blast that I send out regarding 23 market information and also there is an -- looks like there is

\section*{24}

\section*{D. LARSON - DIRECT (MR. LADOV)}

Page 1571
you sent out for now.
A Okay.
Q You said "e-mail blast." What does that mean to you?
A They send out marketing information to a wide variety of real estate professionals for marketing purposes.
Q And when you say "marketing purposes," what do you mean by that?
A It's -- it's a way to get a company's information out so -- and a way to get your name out to clients for potential work.

Q And do you have an understanding of how large your mailing list was for these e-mail blasts?
A It's very large.
Q And this e-mail was coming from your Newmark account, but did you do similar e-mail blasts when you were at Cushman & Wakefield?
A Yes.
Q I would like to scroll up now and in the forward of this e-mail, you can see some of the different attachments. Can you just describe generally what those documents are?
A Yes. The attachments read, New York City office market overview, office building sales, office market overview, another office market overview, trends in the market, some leasing information, so -- Q So these are market reports that you're sending out to your clients based on recent sales data; is that right?
A Yeah. This is -- this is recent information that, you know, we would have put together to send out, yes.
Q So I would like to take a couple of moments to look at the second document on this list labeled "officebuildingsales.dot.pdf and it begins on page 39 of the document. So again, when you were talking earlier about deriving cap rates from properties or dollars per square-foot from properties, is this the kind of information that you used in your practice?

A Yes.
Q And then in addition, this document - you can scroll down. You'll see it.

It includes about 20 different sales comps. You would share this with your client, so they could get an understanding of market conditions; is that correct?
A That is correct.
Q Just turning back to the e-mail looking back at page one of the document, I think you started to say this before, but at the top, you can see that this is a forward from Jeff McConney to somebody else at the Trump Organization dated September 6, 2018. Do you know Jeff McConney?

A Yes.
Q How do you know him?
A Through appraisal appraisals that we did.

LARSON - DIRECT (MR. LADOV)
Page 1573
Q So he was your contact at the Trump Organization for some of those appraisals; is that correct?

A Yes. His name would have been provided by the lender as the property contact.

Q So I would like to turn now to look at one of the properties that you did not appraise for the Trump Organization, a property called Niketown.

MR. LADOV: Can we turn to Plaintiff's Exhibit 707 and turn to page 8 of 25.
Q If you are okay with the screen, I could kind of keep going.
A Yeah, I can see the screen.
Q All right. So I just want to read the first couple of sentences under Niketown. It says, "Mr. Trump is currently the owner of 100 percent of the equity interests in the entities that are the lessees with respect to two long-term ground leasehold estates relating to the land and buildings located between Fifth and Madison Avenues and principally on 57th Street in New York City. On December 8, 1994, the premises were leased to Nike Retail Services, Inc."

So based on that description, how would you characterize the Niketown property?
A This is a retail property.
Q As compared to an office property?
A Correct.

1 Q I would next like to turn to Plaintiff's Exhibit 708. So Mr. Larson, this is a supporting data spreadsheet that Jeff McConney of the Trump Organization provided to an outside accounting firm named Mazars. This spreadsheet along with other documents was used to support Mr. McConney's evaluations of Trump Organization assets and then those values were included in the annual Statements of Financial Condition that we just looked at and the reason I'm showing you this is because this document shows certain conversations involving you that I would like to ask you about.

MR. LADOV: So if we could scroll down to line 62.
Q Again, you'll -- you can see that this is the information used to value Niketown, the property we were just talking about. And I think you can also see that this is an analysis that valued Niketown at \($ 287,600,000\).

If I direct you to lines 80 and 81, do you see that the support shows that the value of the Niketown was derived by taking an NOI, a net operating income, of \($ 8,456,103\) and applying a cap rate of 2.940 percent. Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q Is that calculation what you described earlier as the direct capitalization method?
A Yes. Applying a cap rate to net operating income is a direct cap approach.
Q Sir, I would like to scroll down and direct you to the notes at line -- at lines 92 to 97 . It says there under "cap rate," "9/17/13, per telephone conversation with Doug Larson of Cushman & Wakefield, cap rates for retail properties in upscale areas like Times Square and the Fifth Avenue area are usually almost 60 basis points lower than office space. To be conservative, we reduced the cap rate used on Trump Tower by 50 basis points to arrive at the cap rate used by Niketown."

2
    So Mr. Larson, do you have any specific recollection of a phone call with Jeff McConney on September 17, 2013?
    A No.

Q Did you know back in 2013 that Mr. McConney was citing you as a source for his property valuations in this document that he was sending outside the Trump Organization?
A No, I wasn't aware.
Q Did you advise Mr. McConney to value Niketown by reducing the cap rate used on Trump Tower by 50 basis points and then using that cap rate to reach a value?
A Well, you would probably want to apply retail sales cap rates to look at rather than adjusting office cap rates which are a different property type. It doesn't make sense.
Q So if it doesn't make sense to you, is it your opinion that you would not have offered this advice to Mr. McConney back in 2013?
A I don't recall doing that.
Q And you mentioned that you would use retail comps for a property like Niketown; is that right?
A Yes, you would look at retail comps.
Q We looked a moment ago at an e-mail blast that you sent out sales information to clients. Would some of that sales information include retail comps?
A I don't know. Could you show me again?
Q Well, I'm not thinking of that specific e-mail, but generally speaking, did you at -- when you were at Cushman &
Wakefield have retail comps that you shared with clients who were seeking that kind of information?
A Yes, we have retail comps.
Q So does this 2013 valuation of Niketown reflect your opinion of value for this property?

A No, it does not.
Q So now I would like to put these notes side by side with PX 707, the Statement of Financial Condition, and page eight. And you can see at the bottom there, it says, "The current value of \($ 287,600,000\) reflects the net proceeds which Mr. Trump in conjunction with his associates and outside professionals expect to be derived from rental activities pursuant to the lease described above as well as the residual value of the property."

So Mr. Larson, you can see that the value in the Statement of Financial Condition ties back to the number reached in the supporting data for Niketown. Do you see that?

A You would have to scroll over a little bit. Yes, it does.
Q So to the extent that you are the outside professional listed in the Statement of Financial Condition, do you believe it would be accurate to say that the value of about \($ 287\) million was determined by Mr. Trump in conjunction with you?
A No, it is incorrect.
Q You are the only outside professional listed here, is that right, in the support notes?

A Yes.
Q So since the Niketown valuation support referred back to Trump Tower, I would like to take a look at the supporting notes for Trump Tower in 2013 as well and that can be found on lines 30 through 60.

MR. LADOV: You can take down the statement, too.
Q So if I can direct you to lines 39 and 40 , this document shows that Trump Tower is being valued -- this document shows that Trump Tower is being valued by applying a 3.44 percent cap rate to an NOI of a little bit over \($ 18\) million. Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q And then if I direct your attention to the bottom of the screen, and we can blow this up, there is a note for June 30th of 2013. And it states, "Information provided by Doug Larson of Cushman & Wakefield, Inc. which reflects cap rates of
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}

\hline
\end{tabular}
native one. Let's go down to line 72.
So again, you can see that this is Niketown which we were talking about a couple of minutes ago. I just want to direct you to lines 103 to 105. Again, you can see there, there is a similar calculation. This time, the NOI is a little bit over \($ 9.6\) million. The cap rate is 2.48 percent. Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q And that's used to reach a value of \($ 389,600,000\). Is that -- do you see that?
A Yes, I do.
MR. LADOV: Let's go look at the cap rate note for 2016 here. And actually, can we put this note side by side with PX 708 native one, lines 92 to 97 . So that would be the 2016 note and the 2013 note. Great.
Q So Mr. Larson, if you can take a moment to look at these two notes. On the left, we have 2013. On the right, we have 2016. But these two notes are describing an identical valuation method. Do you see that?
20 A Yes, I do.

THE COURT: I'll ask the witness again to speak in the microphone. It's a skill. You have to look to your left, but talk straight.
Q So I would like to now jump ahead to 2017 and this is PX 758. We can put that side by side. If we could leave up PX 742. Again, I just want to focus on the cap rate notes. So it would be line 124 in the 2017 spreadsheet. So on the right-hand side is the document we just looked at. On the left-hand side is the 2017 supporting data spreadsheet.

Do you see that the note in 2017, referring back to the 2016 analysis, has now changed, the date of the phone call with you from September 17, 2016 back to September 17, 2013?

Q And then the note for 2017 also refers to this 2013 phone call. Do you see that?

A Repeat that. Show me.
Q So if you look here at 2017, can you see that both of these notes are referring to a September 17, 2013 phone call with you in order to derive the method used to value Niketown?

A Yes, I see that.

Q And, again, were you aware in 2017 that Mr. McConney was reporting in his work papers to outside parties that he was valuing Niketown based on a 2014 conversation with you?

A No, I was not.
Q As an appraiser, would you use a --
A Also, I was at Newmark in June 2017.
Q So you were no longer at Cushman & Wakefield in 2017 when that note was written?
A Yes.

A There would have been most likely more current sales to look at.

THE COURT: You can answer that yes or no.
THE WITNESS: Yes. Could you repeat the question?
THE COURT: I think you better repeat the question.
MR. LADOV: Can we get a read back on the question,
Your Honor?
THE COURT: Read back, please.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)
A The answer is no.
25 Q And actually, just to correct my question, I said
\begin{tabular}{|c|c|}
\hline D. Larson - Plaintiff - direct (Ladov) Page 1586 & D. Larson - Plaintiff - direct (Ladov) Page 1588 \\ \hline \begin{tabular}{l} office building, but Niketown wasn't an office building, was it? \\
A No. It's a retail property. \\
Q Thank you. \\
And so I'd like to go to one more valuation from \\ Niketown and this time from 2018. And I'm going to show you a document in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 774. \\
MR. LADOV: And we can scroll down to line 91 -sorry. 774 native one? If we can scroll down to the notes about the cap rate for Niketown in 2018 ? \\
Q \(\square\) \\
 \\
\(\square\) \\
\(\square\) \(\square\) \\
20 A Yes, that's correct. \\
21 Q And then in addition, the note for 2017 relies on the \\ 222013 telephone conversation. We've talked about the note for \\ 232018 is now relying on a September 14, 2018 conversation with \\
24 Doug Larson correctly identified as Doug Larson of Newmark. \\
25 Mr. Larson, do you recall having a conversation on \end{tabular} & \begin{tabular}{l}
Q And the date on this appraisal is as of November 1, 2012; is that correct? \\
A Yes. \\
Q And if you flip to page six, is that your signature, Mr. Larson? \\
A Yes. \\
Q And does this appraisal report accurately describe the \\ information that you and your colleagues use to value 1290 \\
Avenue of the Americas? \\
A Yes, it does. \\
Q And does this report accurately state your opinion of \\ the value of 1290 Avenue of the Americas as of November 1, 2012? \\
A Yes, it does. \\
MR. LADOV: Your Honor, I would move this into evidence. \\
MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations. \\
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in evidence. \\
Q So if we can flip to page four of the document, can you \\ tell us what your opinion of the market value of 1290 Avenue of \\ the Americas on November 1, 2012 was? \\
MR. LADOV: I think we need to scroll down a little bit more. \\
A It was \($ 2\) billion. \\
MR. LADOV: And then can we turn to page 11? \\
Q I want to show you some information from the summary.
\end{tabular} \\

Q And, again, were you aware in 2018 that the Trump \\
Organization was stating that they were relying on you as a valuation professional in order to reach these values? \\
A I was not aware. \\
Q \(\square\) \\
And why do you say that? \\
A Because it should have been - I should have been told and, you know, an appraisal should have been ordered. \\
Q And you can't provide the kind of information to value a specific asset without ordering an appraisal and that kind of a formal engagement; correct? \\
A Yes, you need a formal engagement. \\
Q So I want to move on to another property. We're going to look at a property called -- sorry. Excuse me. 1290 Avenue of the Americas and l'd like to show you a document marked as Plaintiffs Exhibit 1824 for identification. \\
A Okay. \\
Q Mr. Larson, are you familiar with this document? \\
A Yes, it's an appraisal of 1290 Sixth Avenue prepared for Deutsche Bank.

\(\square\) \\
A Yes, I do. \\
Q So your appraisal of 1290 was of the value for the property as a whole; is that correct? \\
A Yes. \\
Q Do you value minority interests in your practice as an appraiser? \\
A No. We have specialists who do that in the appraisal group. \\
Q Why do you need a specialist? \\
A Because there is a lot of variables to consider. \\
Q So it would be -- well -- strike that.
\end{tabular} \\
\hline
\end{tabular}

1 And does Cushman employ other appraisers besides yourself who specialize in valuing minority interests?

A Yes, I do.
Q And do you have any understanding of what they do to adjust the value based on those kinds of factors?

A I have very little understanding of that.
Q Then I won't ask you anymore further questions about it.

and 52nd Streets?" Is 3.12 percent the cap rate that you used to value this same property just a few months earlier?
A No. No, it's not.
Q Did you advise Jeff McConney or anyone else at the Trump Organization to value this property in June -- as of June 2013 using a cap rate of 3.12 percent?
A No, I did not.
Q And is this valuation consistent with your opinion of value from the 2012 appraisal of the same property?

A It is not.
MR. LADOV: And actually, I just want to scroll up a little bit in the notes.
Q So that first note reads for 555 California. That's a property we weren't talking about, but it says " 555 based on e-mail from Robert Farwell of Cushman & Wakefield in San Francisco, which also states a similar office building selling for \($ 750\) per square foot which equals \($ 1,125,000,000\) for 555 ."

Mr. Larson, do you know Robert Farwell?
A Yes.
Q And who he is?
A He's an appraiser in San Francisco.
Q And similarly, did you have any response to seeing his name listed in this document?

MR. KISE: Objection. Response same.
THE COURT: I'll ask for something more specific

And, again, it says Mr. Trump owns 30 percent of these properties. And then scrolling down it says for 1290 Avenue of the Americas and 555 California Street, quote, "The estimated current value net of debt of \($ 745,800,000\) is based on an evaluation made by Mr. Trump in conjunction with his associates and outside professionals. This valuation was arrived at by applying a capitalization rate to the net operating income and taking into consideration any debt and return of capital."

Mr. Larson, you already testified that you do not value minority property interests; is that correct?

A I do not.
Q And again, to the extent that you are one of the outside professionals listed here, do you think it was accurate for this document to state that the estimated current value of Mr. Trump's minority interests in 1290 Avenue of the Americas was based on an evaluation made by Mr. Trump in conjunction with you?

MR. KISE: Objection, Your Honor. Mischaracterizes the evidence and this witness has no foundation to testify about this statement in the SOFC. It doesn't mention his name, it doesn't mention anything to do with Cushman & Wakefield. We don't know if that -- he's the outside professional or if it's any outside professional.

MR. WALLACE: I'm going to renew my objections to \hline 8 MR. KISE: I'm not worried about either one. & 8 your signature, Mr. Larson? \\

\hline 9 THE COURT: I appreciate the bode of confidence. & 9 A Yes. \\
\hline 10 Well, the easiest way to rule on this is we haven't & 10 Q Does this appraisal report accurately describe the \\

\(1 \quad\) Q And this is part of a section of your appraisal report entitled, "Income Capitalization Approach." And you talked about that earlier; correct?

A Yes.
Q So do you know whether this \($ 1.4\) million lease with Dean & DeLuca was included in your valuation of the property's income in this 2015 appraisal?

A Yes, it would have been.
Q And if we can turn to page 15 and look at the bottom of the page -- and this is the direct capitalization analysis.

So, again, just to confirm that net operating income number that includes the income from the Dean & DeLuca lease; is that right?
A That is correct.
Q And then you applied a 4.25 percent capitalization rate to that net operating income; is that right?

A Yes.
Q And you did a couple of adjustments, but the final value of \($ 540\) million that was consistent with your opinion of the value of 40 Wall Street at that time; is that right?
A Yes, that's correct.
Q So next I'd like to show you a document that has been admitted as Exhibit 3004 native 01 and it's a spreadsheet similar to the ones that we were looking at.

I would like to scroll down to lines 117 through 136.
D. Larson - Plaintiff - direct (Ladov)

Page 1603
And I can show you here there is a reference here in the 2015 line to a \($ 540\) million Cushman & Wakefield appraisal done June 2015 for loan refinancing of Ladder. That's the appraisal we've been looking at; is that right?

A Yes.
Q And then you can also see in addition to that \($ 540\) million there is additional value listed of \($ 120,348\). Do you see that?
A Yes, I do.
Q And part of that additional value is derived by taking the vacant retail space lease with Dean & DeLuca of \($ 1.4\) million and applying a 3.04 percent cap rate to it. Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q So you already included the Dean & DeLuca lease in your \($ 540\) million valuation; correct?

A That is correct.
Q So is this \($ 660\) million valuation, is that double counting the Dean & DeLuca lease?
A I'm not sure, you know, what they did. I know my -- in 20 the -- in my June 2015 appraisal Dean & DeLuca was included in 21 the valuation.

Q So that's fine. And then I guess the other question I
23 would ask they applied -- whoever did this analysis applied a 24 cap rate of 3.04 percent. Is that the same cap rate that you
25 used to determine the value of 40 Wall Street in 2015 ?

A No, it's not.
THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
MR. LADOV: I think that's fine, Your Honor. I think I actually have one more document to show the witness.

Can we turn to Plaintiff's Exhibit 731 native?
Q And this is another version of the Statement of Financial Condition Supporting Data for 2015. And looking at actually, sorry.

MR. LADOV: Can we scroll down to line 117 ?
Q And so this is another analysis of the value of 40 Wall Street in 2015. And do you see here that the value reached in this document is now \($ 735\) million?
A Yes, 735,400,000?
Q Correct.
A Yes.
Q
\(\square\)

Q And again, 3.29 percent, is that the cap rate that you used in your appraisal in 2015 ?

A It is not.
Q And looking at the note there at the bottom and it says
D. Larson - Plaintiff - direct (Ladov)

for June 30, 2015, quote, "Based on information provided by Douglas Larson of Cushman & Wakefield on 11/23/2015, which reflects a 3.04 percent for 100 Wall Street," and then it says "based on a telephone conversation with Doug Larson on 2/1/2016 since the ground lease still has about 190 years left, the effect on the cap rate is minimal to be conservative. We increased the cap rate from .25 percent to 3.29 percent."

So, again, Mr. Larson, did you work with Mr. McConney or anyone else at the Trump Organization to value 40 Wall Street in this manner for the 2015 Statement of Financial Condition?

A No, I did not.
Q And the cap rate that's described here is not the cap rate that you used in your appraisal in 2015; is that correct?
A Just repeat that again.
Q Sure. The cap rate here of 3.29 percent, that's a different cap rate than the 4.25 percent cap rate that you used in your appraisal; is that right?

A Yes, that is correct.
Q And then finally, I'd like to turn to the Statement of Financial Condition of Mr. Trump as of June 30, 2015. This is Document 729. And I'd like to turn to the top of page nine.

And Mr. Larson, you can see it says, quote, "The estimated current value of \($ 735,400,000^{\prime \prime}\)--

\(1 \quad Q\) An appraisal is a term of art; is that correct?
2 A Appraisal is an -- is an estimate of a market value.
3 Q Is it a term of art?
4 A It's a -- it would really be -- I don't know if you call it a term of art. I'm not sure.

Q Okay. But you would agree with me that if I said that I, as a property developer, valued my property, that does not necessarily mean that I conducted an appraisal of my property, correct?

A Unless you're a certified appraiser, it would not be an appraisal. It would not be an appraisal, you know, a formal appraisal, no.

Q But it would be a valuation, correct?
A I guess you could say that.
Q And there's nothing that prohibits President Trump as a real estate developer from valuing his own properties; is that correct.
A I wouldn't know any -- I don't know.
Q I want to be very clear, Mr. Larson. My question is there's nothing from prohibiting President Trump from valuing his own properties, correct?
A Not that I know of.
Q All right. Do you remember being interviewed by the Attorney General's office on October 29th of 2019?

A Yes.
D. LARSON - CROSS(MR. FIELDS)

Page 1611
\(1 \quad Q\) And there was a record taken of your testimony that day; is that right?

A Yes.
Q Have you looked at your testimony since that day?
A I've looked at it once, yes.
Q When did you look at it?
A Weeks ago.
Q I'm going to direct you to page 207, line five that will be pulled up on the screen here.

A Okay.
Q Do you recall being asked:
"QUESTION: Is that something you would have found significant or remembered? Do you remember it?
"ANSWER: No, I don't remember this, and I'm sure owners value their own properties, so it is nothing that stands out."

That was your testimony, correct?
A Yes.
Q I'll direct you to page 166, line seven:
"QUESTION: So you would say this valuation is inaccurate?
"ANSWER: It's not my valuation. Yes, it could be his valuation or Trump's valuation, but it's not my valuation."

So you would agree nothing prohibits President

Trump as a real estate developer from valuing his property, correct?
A Yes. I guess anybody can do their own valuation.
Q Just because President Trump or any of his designees value their own properties doesn't necessarily mean that he's conducting an appraisal of his own property; is that correct?
A To prepare an appraisal by an appraiser, professional appraisal, you need to be licensed and meet the requirements of USPAP.

Q So would the answer to my question be no?
A Just repeat the question again, so I don't get lost.
MR. FIELDS: May I have a readback, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Yes, read back, please.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was read back.)
A So could you ask it another way, so I understand? I'm sorry. Just want to make sure I'm clear.
Q So Mr. Larson, we've established that valuations and appraisals are two different concepts, correct?

MR. LADOV: Objection.
THE COURT: Yes and no. I don't know that I would let that stand because he said they're interchangeable, but they're also different. Look, I think the term "valuation," it can mean an appraisal, but the fact that somebody owns property or even doesn't own it, they could put a value on it in their head or on paper. So I don't know that I would totally agree with the premise of your question. I didn't hear the question. I only heard the premise.

MR. FIELDS: So let me back up.

A I'm not aware.
Q In terms of the manner in which you value property and I want to use the word "value" deliberately. When you value property, do you apply one of the three valuation methods generally?
A Correct.
Q And those methods are the cost method, the income method and the sales comparable method; is that right?
A Yes.
Q Now, when you conduct an appraisal, do you also use those same three methods to appraise the value of a property?
A The market will dictate what appraisal methodology you 24 use or what -- whether or not you use the cost approach, sales 25 approach or income capitalization approach. The market will dictate that.
Q But you would agree with me that when you appraise a property, you use one of those three methods?
A One or two typically in New York. Cost approach is typically not applied.
Q Let me ask it another way. Is there another method other than the three that we've just discussed that you would employ to appraise the value of a property?
A No.
Q Okay. So then we can agree that the universe of methods available to you or to anyone to value or appraise a property are the three that we've just discussed; namely, the cost approach, the income approach or the sales comparable approach?
A Yes.
Q And your testimony a minute ago was that the cost approach is generally disfavored in New York City; is that correct?
A It's typically not used.
Q And why is that?
A Because there's a lot of depreciation, older buildings in New York which make it less reliable.

Q For both commercial and residential?
24 A I -- I can only speak to office, in commercial.
25 Q The income and sales comp approaches are the methods that are most often used to appraise the value of property, specifically commercial property in New York City; would that be fair?

A Yes.
Q Would you be able to speak to the method used to value properties outside of New York City?
A The methods would be the same outside New York City.
Q So the methods that one would use in Miami, for instance, for a commercial property would be the same methods that would be employed in New York City; is that right?

A Yes, an appraiser would use the cost approach, income approach or sales comparison approach.

Q And to be clear, those are approaches would be the same regardless of whether you're valuing a property or appraising a property?
A It's -- the names of valuation or the term "valuation" or "appraisal," you know, are used interchangeably. When an appraiser does an appraisal, it's an appraisal and we identify it as appraisers as an appraisal report.
Q But when President Trump values his property, it is not an appraisal, correct?

A Anybody valuing their properties can call it whatever 23 they want.
24 Q But when President Trump values his properties, it is 25 not an appraisal, correct?

MR. LADOV: Objection; asked and answered.
THE COURT: I'm generally very liberal on asked and answered.

MR. FIELDS: It is a yes-or-no question.
THE COURT: Sorry, what?
MR. FIELDS: It was a yes-or-no question.
THE COURT: Is it a question or is it just something you're trying to tell us?

MR. FIELDS: It is, Your Honor. The reason why is on direct examination, the witness testified and used the terms interchangeably and he has just testified that the two are different, that an appraisal is something that only an appraiser can do and when President Trump has financial statements that have values, that doesn't necessarily mean they are appraised numbers which this witness testified earlier that he had hoped they were.

MR. LADOV: Objection. It misstates the prior testimony.

THE COURT: Maybe we can all agree. We all know what an appraisal is. It is kind of official. It is formal. You have to be an appraiser, et cetera. The term "value," "valuation" is much looser. Somebody could use valuation to mean an appraisal and that's what the witness said, they're interchangeable. Somebody else could just say, well, the value of my property is X dollars. So I is to say.

Mr. Kise, do you agree or disagree?
MR. KISE: I don't disagree. At least you and I don't disagree. I don't think Mr. Fields and I disagree. The problem is the witness won't say it. For whatever reasons, he's being evasive.

MR. LADOV: Objection.
MR. KISE: You can object all you want. It is pretty obvious only appraisers can do appraisals. They are the only licensed people that can do appraisals. That's it. It's a real simple answer. It is a yes-or-no question. He has refused to give yes-or-no answers and I would ask the Court to admonish the witness like every witness that has come here and say, "If you can answer it yes or no, answer it yes or no." But he is clearly being evasive. I don't know why because it is such a basic question.

MR. LADOV: They are badgering the witness and they are misstating the testimony.

THE COURT: What if we did this? Try to write on a clean slate somewhat. Ask the question. If it is yes or no, and I think it can be answered yes or no, I'll direct the witness to answer it yes or no unless he says he can't.

MR. FIELDS: I apologize, but may I have a readback of my last question?

Q And generally, what is the discounted cash flow analysis?

A Discounted cash flow analysis is typically a lease-by-lease analysis with assumptions for tenants on rollover. So it is a very detailed exercise.
Q And what are you trying to discount or what are you trying to solve for?
A You solve for a value of the property.
Q Present or future?
A It could be at a point. It could be a current value or a perspective value.

Q And when you say "current value," you say -- do you mean a current market value?

A Yes.
Q That is different from a current investment value; is that right?
A Yes.
Q You're aware of what an investment value is?
A Yes.
Q What's the difference between an investment value and a market value?
A A market value has a definition that state under 24 certain conditions - I'd have to look at the definition again.
25 And an investment value are typically -- again, look -- without looking at the definition, it would be under certain assumptions that would be provided to you as an appraiser.
Q And you've been an appraiser for how many years, Mr. Larson?
A 30 years.
Q Could you give me based on your 30 years experience your best understanding of what current market value is?
A So it is a market value that's unbiased. A market value would be as of a certain date, you know, taking into account market conditions of the time. So I would have to look at a definition to be more exact.

Q Would you agree with me that a market value is akin to a value today?

A Right.
Q And an investment value is a value upon a future date, correct?

A It doesn't have to be.
Q But it could be?
A Could be.
Q And as far as you are aware -- or withdrawn.
Can an appraiser do an investment value appraisal?
A Yes.
Q Have you done those yourself?
A I don't recall. I don't remember doing one.
Q It's not something that you have done regularly; is

\section*{D. LARSON - CROSS(MR. FIELDS)}

Page 1621

\section*{that fair?}

A Yes, it is not a regular practice.
Q Are there appraisers that specialize in doing investment value appraisals?
A There could be. I don't -- I'm not sure.
Q But you are aware that investment value appraisals are a thing for lack of a better term?

A It -- yes. It's -- that -- that could happen.
Q And would you agree with me that real estate developers generally request investment value appraisals to determine what the future value of their investment could be?
A Just repeat that again, so I can answer it accurately.
Q Would you agree with me that real estate appraisers often request investment value appraisals to determine what the value of their investment in the future will be?
A So you're -- you're asking me if appraisers request investment value appraisals or the clients?
18 Q Real estate developers.

Page 1622
assumptions into the future; is that fair?
 lender appraisals?

A The majority of our work is for lender appraisals, yes.
Q When a lender -- withdrawn.
When a lender retains you to conduct an appraisal on their behalf, your analysis is retrospective; is that fair?
A We define, you know, the date of the appraisal, the date of the value, and it could be retrospective. It could be a market value as is or it could be a perspective value.
Q The data that you rely on is data that you obtain from the past, right?

A Yes, but we ask for the most current information.
Q Isn't the general understanding in the industry that lender-ordered appraisals are intended to provide the bank with what the liquidation value of a particular property would be?

A A liquidation value is a different definition.

Page 1623

Q Do you understand what that means?
A Yeah. I'd have to look at the definition again to be clear about it, but there is a value called liquidation value which has certain assumptions regarding marketing period and time to sell.
Q What is your understanding of what a liquidation value is based on your 30 years of experience in the industry?
A A liquidation value is potentially for a quick sale and, you know -- but the value would need to be defined and, you know, the marketing period would need to be addressed, the time of sale.
Q So back to my original question, would you agree with me that it's commonly known in the industry that lender-ordered appraisals -- in lender-ordered appraisals, the lender is generally looking at liquidation value to know what they will get for the property in a quick sale?
A They could be and they would request that value.
Q But you as an appraiser know that when you're conducting an appraisal for a lender, that the lender is looking for a liquidation value, correct?

MR. LADOV: Objection; asked and answered.
THE COURT: Asked and answered. But again, not my favorite objection. So if there is a different answer, there is a different answer. Same answer, it is the same answer. You can ask it again without prejudice, not more than five or six times, okay.
MR. FIELDS: I certainly won't.
THE COURT: Can you ask it again or do you need a readback?

MR. FIELDS: At the risk of annoying the court reporter, I'm going to ask for a readback with Your Honor's indulgence. THE COURT: They have a lot of patience.

Read back, please.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was read back.)

Q Whether the lender asks you for a liquidation value appraisal as an appraiser based on your experience, though, do you employ a concert of assumptions to assure the lender of a value they could get in a quick sale situation?

A We would have to be asked to provide that analysis.
Q Were -- to the best of your recollection, were you asked to provide that analysis for the 2011, 2012 and 201540
Wall Street appraisals?
A I would have to look at the appraisals and see what was requested and what values were provided.

MR. FIELDS: All right. Let's turn to Plaintiff's Exhibit 1573 that's been admitted, I believe.
Q Mr. Larson, does this look like the appraisal that you conducted for 40 Wall Street dated November 1, 2011 ?
A Yes.
Q And on the cover page it says it's prepared for Capital One Bank; correct?
A Yes.
MR. FIELDS: And if we can go to page three?
Q Is this the transmittal letter?
A That is correct.
Q And this would be coming from you and directed to Capital One Bank; is that right?

A Yes.

science?
A I've heard that term before. I would probably agree with it, yes.
Q Okay. And to give you an example, we're standing in this courthouse. Could two appraisers equally qualified appraise the value of this property they were standing in today based on the same exact data at two different numbers?
A Yes.
Q And is that because one appraiser may give a little bit more weight to some factors that the other appraiser may give a little less weight to?
A Yes.
\(Q\) And vice versa?
A Correct.
MR. FIELDS: All right. If we could flip to page five of the 2011 report, please?
Q Could we establish, Mr. Larson, that your signature and the signature of Mr. Nardella and Mr. Papagianopoulos appear on the report; correct?
A Yes.
Q And Mr. Nardella at the time of this report was your supervisor; is that right?
A Yes.
Q And you worked closely with Mr. Nardella?
A Yes.

\section*{A Yes.}

MR. FIELDS: And if we could move to page 20, please?
Q In the middle of the page it says "intended use and users of the appraisal."

Under "intended use," it says, "this appraisal is intended to provide an opinion of the market value of the leasehold interest in the property for loan underwriting and/or 9 credit decisions. All other uses are unintended, unless specifically stated in the letter of transmittal."

So would you agree with me that unless otherwise stated in the letter of transmittal that we just looked at at page three that the appraisal can only be used for loan underwriting and/or credit decisions?

A Yes, that's what it says.
Q But you would agree with me that what it says is that it can only be used for those two things; right?

A Yes.
Q And we just looked at the letter transmittal and we agree that the letter transmittal it didn't say anything about any other entity other than the lender or some of its affiliates from being able to use the appraisal; correct?

A Yes.
Q Under "intended user," it says "this appraisal report was prepared for the exclusive use of Capital One Bank and/or JCL

Page 1633

\section*{D. Larson - Plaintiff - cross (Fields)}
affiliates. The intended function is for loan underwriting and/or credit decisions by Capital One Bank and/or participants. It may be distributed to the client's attorneys, accountants, advisors, and investors. All other uses and users are unintended. It may be distributed to the alient's attorneys, accountants, advisors and investors."

After reading this do you have a different opinion or the same opinion as to who this appraisal is intended for and whether entities not affiliated with Capital One Bank could rely on it and use it?

A The same.
\(Q\) If we can move to page 38, please. The second paragraph beginning on the first line where it says "overall asking rents."
"Overall asking rents have fallen \($ 0.28\) per square foot to end the quarter at \($ 39.10\) per square foot."

Why is asking rents relevant to your analysis in this appraisal?

A We look at both asking rents and taking rents.
Q I'm sorry?
A We look at both asking rents and taking rents.
\(Q\) Taking?
A Taking rents or leases that are actually signed.
9 And what do you use the asking rent figure for as part of the appraisal?
D. Larson - Plaintiff - cross (Fields)

A It's additional data to look at.
Q Did you rely on the \($ 39.10\) per square foot asking rent as part of this appraisal?

A It was part of the information we reviewed at the time of the appraisal.
\(Q \quad\) But my question is did you rely on it?
A Yes, we relied on it.
\(Q\) And did the asking rents inform you when you project what a future value might be for that same property?

A Not necessarily.
o So what information do you use when you project a future prospective value with an appraisal?

A We'll estimate market rents today based on infornation of asking rents, signed leases, interviews with brokers and surveys, and a variety of information and then inflate that to a prospective date.
\(9 \quad\) okay. So you said you estimate market rents today.
In this specific appraisal was the estimate of market rents today \($ 39.10\) per square foot?

A That was the asking rent as of the third quarter.
\(Q\) And \(m_{y}\) question is is that the figure that you used in determining the market rent for this appraisal?

A Yes.
9 And then when you value the property or appraise the property into the future the \(\mathbf{$ 3 9 . 1 0}\) per square foot was your

\section*{Page 1635}

\section*{D. Larson - plaintiff - cross (Fields)}
base and you use that to then predict future value?
\(A\) As I said, the \($ 39.10\) is an asking rent. We look at other things and then estimate what the market rent is based on all of this information in the appraisal, including the asking rents in the market.

9 But I think we just established that the market rent at this time was \($ 39.10\), right?

A No, that's not correct.
\(Q\) Okay. So could you look at the appraisal then, please, and tell me what the market rent was at this time that you used in this appraisal?

A Sure. The market rents for office space on floors three through 22 is \($ 32\) a foot or floors 23 through 33 was \($ 34\) a foot. For floors 34 to 49, \($ 40\) a foot and for floors 50 to 63 , $44 a foot.

0 And where are you reading from? what page on the bottom?

A 124 of 191 .
Q Is it common for you to aggregate those numbers to determine what the entire -- what the market rent would be for the whole property or do you have to do it floor by floor?

A It's better to do it floor by floor because rents change in the building with height.

MR. FIETDS: All right. If we can move to page 43, please?
D. Larson - plaintiff - cross (Fields)
\(Q\) First sentence under "Conclusion" you write, 'Downtown's recovery will continue in 2011 with positive job numbers and rising demand."

Would it be fair to say that in 2008 that the housing -- withdrawn.

Would it be fair to say in 2008 the commercial real estate market collapsed in New York?

A Yes.
Q And at this time in 2011 there was more positivity in the commercial real estate market; is that right?

A Yes.
Q In the last sentence of this paragraph you urite: nDowntown is on pace to have a record year in leasing activity with high profile deals like Conde Mast's lease at One Forld Trade." Hould it be fair to say, Mr. Larson, at the time you were conducting this appraisal that was a positive trend in the commercial real estate market?

A Yes, that's what that essentially says.
\(Q\) Things were looking up, not down; right?
A Correct.
MR. FTETDS: If we could turn to page 59?
9 In the middle of the page under the heading "Assessment Information" you note that in 2011, 2012, the total assessed value for this property was \($ 71\) million; is that right? A Yes.

Page 1637

> D. Larson - Plaintiff - cross (Fields)
\(Q\) And to be clear, you did not rely on the assessed value of the property in determining your appraisal number?

A We do rely on this as value.
9 But your appraisal figure was north of -- or 200 million; right?

A Right.
Q Not 71 million?
A Right. Those are two different things.
\(Q\) Completely different things?
A Correct.
MR. FIETDS: If we could move forward to page 104.
9 Onder the heading "Occupancy status" at the bottom. First sentence, "The property 40 wall street is currently 72.88 percent leased to 50 office tenants and four retail tenants." So at this time 40 wall street has an occupancy rate of approximately between 72 and 73 percent; correct?

\section*{A Yes.}

0 And on page 108 you note in the middle of the page under "leese structure of the subject property," first sentence, that "the property is leased to nine major office tenants (defined as tenant spaces greater than 20,000 square foot.)" So at this time there is nine major office tenants; correct?

A Yes.
9 And then if we back out to the third paragraph that
D. Larson - Plaintiff - cross (Fields) begins with "the nine major office tenants." "The nine major office tenants previously mentioned?"

A Yes, I see it.
Q One moment, if you don't mind.
So the first sentence says "the nine major office tenants previously mentioned represent over 40 percent of the property's total rentable area; correct?

A Yes.
0 So at this point there is nine major tenants and those nine tenants represent 40 percent of the total rentable area of this property?

A Yes.
Q Now we can move forward to page 125 under heading "Office Market Rental Growth Rate."

You write: nBased on our recent survey, buyers' expectations in the downtown Manhattan real estate market anticipate rents to increase at CPI.n

\section*{Is CPI the consumer price inder?}

A Yes.
9 "These changes in market conditions result in caw's leasing brokerage group in downtown manhattan to forecast the following rent growths."

And you state that in 2011 the rent growth is zero percent and thereafter it's three percent. You also note below that "we have assumed a growth rate of three percent
D. Larson - Plaintiff - cross (Fields)

Q How did you arrive at this growth rate?
A How did 1 -- can you repeat the question?
Q How did you come up with this growth rate?
A Well, it's explained based on recent surveys, undorwriting by buyers and leasing brokers. The assumption for growth rate was based on those factors.

Q But you used your independent professional judgment to arrive at that three percent growth rate; correct?

A You have to look at the data sources to make an estimate.

Q My question is did you use your independent professional judgment to arrive at that growth rate?

A Yes.
 property value for those future years; correct?

A Yes, possibly.
THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
MR. FIELDS: All right. If we could go to лсL

\section*{D. Larson - Plaintiff - cross (Fields)} beginning in 2012." What does this three percent growth rate represent?

A The growth and office market rents.
0 So would this represent a three percent growth beginning in 2012 of the asking rent in this jurisdiction?

A It's the rent growth assumption for market rent.
Q And --
A Not asking rents.
9 So the market rent figure would be the one that you read five minutes or so ago; is that right?

A Yes.
Q So you are assuming a three percent growth of that figure -- forgive me. Do you remember exactly what it was?

A I'd have to look again.
0 If you don't mind. Page 124, floors three through 22 is 32, floors 23 through 33 are \($ 34\) a foot. Floors 34 to 49 are \($ 40\) a foot and floors 50 to 63 are \($ 44\) a foot.

So you're assuming a three percent growth rate from those figures to project future value; is that right? A Yes.
9 And this growth rate would not start until the end of 2012 beginning of 2013; is that right?

A Yes.
9 So for 2011 and 2012, the growth rate would be zero?
A Yes.

page 140, please?
\(Q\) The lower third of the page there is nnet operating income" in bold on the left. Do you see where it says "net operating income budgeted for 2011 total with \($ 6,236,273\) ?" A Yes.
\(Q\) And this is the net operating income that's used to divide by a capitalization rate to ultimately arrive at a property value; correct?

A Yes.
\(Q\) Not operating income and net income are two different concepts; correct?

A I know what net operating incone is; net incone, I'm not sure of that term.

Q So you don't know that you add interest and depreciation to net income to arrive at a net operating income?

A That sounds like more of an accounting, you know, calculation.

Q My question is are you familiar with that general terminology?

A Yes, 1 -- it's more of an accounting thing. We don't take into account, you know, net income or depreciation or appraisals.

9 But by saying that it's more of an accounting thing it seems like you understand generally what the concept is; correct?

\section*{D. Larson - plaintiff - cross (Fields)}

A I've heard of it before.
9 Okay. So you would agree then just to be clear that net operating income and net income are two different concepts; right?

A Yes, based on your definition of net income they're two different things.

Q Well, no. Not based on my definition. Based on what you've known for 30 years of appraising and known what accountants do?

A Yes, I'm not an accountant. I'm an appraiser and we utilize net operating income.

MR. FIELDS: If we go to page 173?
0 The fourth bullet point that begins with "The report." It says, "The report is to be used in whole and not in part."

Do you understand that to mean that you can't take out pages or subsections of a report? You must use the whole report?

A Yes.

we discussed earlier, Mr. Larson, that the client for this engagement was Capital One Bank; correct?

A Yes .

Page 1643
D. Larson - Plaintiff - cross (Fields) THE COURT: One minute.
Q Therefore, would you agree that the publication of this report or any portion thereof by Capital One Bank without the prior written consent of Cushman & Wakefield is prohibited?

A Yes.
Q And a couple of lines down you see in the middle where it says "No part of the report?"

A Yes.
Q NHO part of the report shall be conveyed to the public through advertising or used in any sales, promotion, offering or SEC material without CGW's prior written consent." This is what you wrote; correct?

A Yes. This is language that the company provides to put in our appraisal in that section of the report.

9 Because the company doesn't want their appraisal information to be handed out to the public; is that right?

A Yes. thir CoURT: Okay. Break time. Ten minutes. He'll see you in 15, but I'd like the attorneys to hold back and come on up here.
(Whereupon, there is a recess in the proceedings.)
Transcript continues on the following page....

THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is back in session. Please be seated and come to order.

THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.
THE COURT: Let's continue with the cross-examination.

MR. FIELDS: Thank you, your Honor.
Q Good afternoon again, Mr. Larson. I would like to move forward a year to November 2012 when you finalized an appraisal for 40 Wall Street and I believe it's -- it is not in front of you. It will be hopefully in a moment. It is Exhibit 121 that's been admitted in evidence.

MR. FIELDS: For the record, that's Plaintiff's 121.

Q Do you recall being asked this morning by counsel for the government about this appraisal, Plaintiff's Exhibit 121?

A Repeat that again.
Q Do you recall having a discussion with counsel for the government earlier in the day about this appraisal that you finalized in November of 2012 or thereabouts?

A Yes.
Q This is your appraisal, right? If we can go to page six. This is your signature on page six as well as the signatures of Mr. Papagianopoulos and Mr. Nardella?
A Yes.
Q And for this appraisal in -- if we go to page four,

Page 1645
you identified or concluded that the market value as is as of November 1, 2012 was \($ 200,000,000\), correct?

A Yes.
Q And then on page five, you identified or concluded perspective market value as of November 1, 2015 for \($ 240\) million.

A Yes.
Q Is this the final appraisal that you submitted to the client in November of 2012 or thereabouts?

A Yes.
MR. FIELDS: Let's bring up Plaintiffs 1435 that has not been admitted in evidence. If we could go to page five.
Q Is this your signature here, Mr. Larson, and also the signatures of your colleagues?
A Yes.
Q And back to the first page, the cover page, again, this is an appraisal for 40 Wall Street as of November 1, 2012 prepared for Capital One Bank and at the bottom, it is prepared by Cushman & Wakefield, Inc., correct?

A Yes.
MR. FIELDS: If we could go to page three.
Q Is this an appraisal that you conducted for 40 Wall Street in or about November of 2012?
A Repeat that. I couldn't hear you.

THE COURT: Let me just say are you asking for the correct one, what you just said, or the final, official one which is what I think you probably really mean?
MR. FIELDS: Your Honor, either of the two.
THE COURT: Well, let's distinguish between them.
Q As you sit here today, Mr. Larson, can you testify if Plaintiff's 121 or Plaintiff's 1435 is the correct or final appraisal for this year?

A No, not sitting here I cannot.
Q Is it possible that you made an error in finalizing the appraisal for this year for this property?

A I don't know. It -- we see value changes before the final frequently and then this is why we have so many reviewers going through these appraisals, to make sure that the very final is accurate, so I wouldn't know.
Q Wouldn't know if you made an error where you had two competing appraisals for the same date; is that your testimony?

Q I suppose that's a question only you can answer respectfully, Mr. Larson. Do you know if it is the first or the Q Okay. My question was as of 2011, at the appraisal we looked at earlier, the capitalization rate was seven percent,

MR. FIELDS: If we can pull up side by side
Plaintiff's 1435 and Plaintiff's 121. 1435, we can keep where it is. Plaintiff's 121 , let's look at page 11.
Q Can you see both the competing appraisals on the screen here?
A Yes.
Q And in Plaintiffs 121, which is on the right, you see that there's a capitalization rate of seven percent, correct?

A Yes.
Q And Plaintiffs 1435, there's also a capitalization rate of seven percent, right?
A Yes.
9 Q So you kept the capitalization rate the same from 2011 to 2012, correct?
A Yes.
Q Plaintiff's 1435, page 20. We looked at this earlier,
Mr. Larson, in 2011, but this is standard language that was used in the prior appraisal relating to intended use and intended user, correct?
A Yes.
Q You have any reason to believe that this has changed from the one we looked at earlier in 2011 to this one?

A No, it looks pretty much the same.
Q If we could move to page 39 of Plaintiff's 1435, you see at the first line, it says, "Overall asking rents have fallen 12 percent per square foot to end the quarter at \($ 40.06\) per square-foot? You see that?

A Yes.
Q And do you recall from our discussion in 2011 that the asking rent then was \($ 39.10\) per square-foot?

Page 1653
A I can't remember the exact number.
Q Do you have reason to doubt the number or would you like me to confirm it with you? I'm happy to.
MR. FIELDS: If we could pull up Plaintiff's 140, page 38.
Q So in 2011, overall asking rents have fallen \($ 0.28\) per square-foot, ten and a quarter at \($ 39.10\) per square-foot?
A Yes, I see it.
Q So the asking rents have come up a little bit, correct?
A Yes.
Q Approximately a dollar or so?
A Yes.
Q But the next sentence in Plaintiff's 1435, we can keep it side by side, says, "Overall asking rents should remain over \($ 40\) per square-foot this year with strong demand. It was feared that after the financial crisis, the downtown market would languish for several years as the financial tenants with the largest footprint in the area suffered during the fallout. As mentioned earlier, media and technology tenants have been the biggest dealmakers recently and have been the biggest drivers of midtown south's improvement. As Midtown South's vacancy declines, tenants have expanded their search to midtown and downtown. The overflow from midtown south should add healthy demand."

1 Is this your -- withdrawn. Are you indicating here that there's positive sentiment in the market for the downtown area at this time?

A Yes, looks like it's starting to get better.
Q So there's a potential trend that's showing an upward trend; is that fair?
A Yes. In comparison with the prior appraisal or rent of 39.10 a foot versus 40.06 . It's very moderate between that period of time.

Q At the bottom of page 39 on 1435, under the heading, "leasing activity," you write that, "Leasing activity is down from a year ago. Downtown had its best year in a decade in 2011 in terms of leasing activity, so it is hard to compare."

Would it be fair to say that 2011 was a record year for leases in downtown New York City?
A It says downtown as best year in a decade since 2011.
Q And you continue. "However, there have been many renewals this year and these do not count towards statistics. Morgan Stanley alone signed a 1.2 million square-foot renewal in the second quarter. It is this sort of activity that has kept the market healthy this year. As tenants look to downtown with midtown south filling up, demand for space will grow. Downtown will not match last year's totals, but the market will continue to improve in 2012 because of greater demand."

Again, just to be clear, this is indicating that there

\section*{D. LARSON - CROSS (MR. FIELDS)}

is a positive sentiment in the market at this time, correct?
A Yes.
Q How does a positive market sentiment affect your analysis?
A We would view the trends in the market and we would look at changes in market rents, changes in assumptions. We look at all of the assumptions between these two appraisals.
Q Positive market sentiment could affect a capitalization rate, correct?
A Yes, it could.
Q And we've established that you kept the same capitalization rate from 2011 to 2012, correct?
A Yes.
Q A similarly situated, reasonable appraiser with your experience could have arrived at a different capitalization rate, correct?
A Yes.
Q In fact, it could have -- he or she could have arrived at a lower capitalization rate, correct?

A It's possible.
Q I mean, a similarly situated appraiser could have put more stock into the positive sentiment in the market at this time to rely upon a lower capitalization rate?
A It's possible. That's possible an appraiser could be higher or lower.

Q And if an appraisal is -- withdrawn.
If a capitalization rate is lower than seven percent, that means the property value would go up, correct?

A Yes, unless there's additional capital or some other change in the property that would offset that.

Q Keeping everything equal, eliminating those variables, if all of that is the same, all the information is the same except a different capitalization rate, namely a lower one, that would result in a higher property value?

A Yes.
MR. FIELDS: Page 107 on the 1435, if we could go to page 107 on the 1435 and if we could put side by side Plaintiff's 1573, page 104.
Q So on the right, Mr. Larson, we have 1573 which is the 2011 appraisal and on the left, we have 1435 which is one of the 2012 appraisals. Does that seem accurate?

A You are telling me 2011 -- just repeat that, please.
Q So 2011 is on the right and one of the 2012s is on the left.

A Okay.
Q Okay. In 2011, the occupancy status was 72.88 percent, correct?

A Yes.
Q And in 2012, in 1435, the occupancy status was 81.65 percent, correct?
D. LARSON - CROSS (MR. FIELDS)

Page 1657
A Yes.
Q So the occupancy status in one year has gone up almost ten percent, correct?

A Yes. It looks like the addition of four new office tenants.

Q I'm sorry. I didn't hear that last part.
A It looks like the addition of four new office tenants, 50 to 54.

Q Right. So there's an additional four office tenants in the 2012 appraisal. The occupancy rate also affects your analysis in arriving at an appraised value, correct?
A Yes.
Q And the occupancy rate can affect both the net operating income for a property, correct?

A Yes.
Q And it also could affect the capitalization rate for a property, correct?

A Can you repeat that?
Q The occupancy status of a property -- withdrawn.
The capitalization rate applied to an appraisal could go up or down depending on the occupancy -- occupancy status of that property, correct?
A That could be one of the variables or it could be market conditions, but we would determine that based on research.

Q And a discount rate you would presume is lower where a building is more occupied than less occupied, correct?
A Yes, but there's other factors and risks that you have to look at, all of the information on the property, and how it's operating. So there are a variety of things that we look at other than just occupancy.

Q Agreed. But Mr. Larson, there are a whole host of subjectivities that an appraiser looks at when arriving at his or her appraised value, right?
A Yes.
Q And these that we are discussing now, cap rate discount rate and the like, are just a number of these subjectivities that you're relying on as an appraiser, right?

A These are all components or part of a valuation or

Q But different appraisers exercising their judgment can arrive at different conclusions based on these same subjectivities; correct?
A Just repeat that one more time.
Q Different appraisers, similarly situated appraisers relying on their independent judgment could arrive at different conclusions based on the same data or subjectivities available to them?
A Yes.
MR. FIELDS: All right. Let's move to 1435, page
111. And put next to it, please, 1573, page 108.

Q All right. So, again, on the left it's 2012; on the right, 2011. Under the heading "lease structure of the subject property," let's start with 2011. "The property is leased to nine major office tenants" in the first sentence; correct?
A Yes.
Q And if we could then back out and look at the third paragraph beginning with the nine major office tenants.

And the nine major office tenants represent over 40 percent of the property's total rentable area; right?

A Yes.
Q And if we look now at the 2012 appraisal, the number of office tenants has gone up to 11 which now represents 50 percent of the property's total rentable area; correct?
A Yes.

Larson - Plaintiff - cross (Fields)
Page 1661
Q So there's been two additional tenants in the last -major tenants in the last year and the percentage has gone up from 40 to 50 percent of the total rentable area?
A Correct.
Q Again, this is a factor a subjectivity that as an appraiser you look at to determine your appraisal value; correct?

A Yes, this is one of the variables we would look at.
MR. FIELDS: If we could go to 127 on 1435 and put that next to 125 of 1573.
Q Okay. Mr. Larson, so here the heading is "Office Market Rentable Growth Rate" and you've identified again the rent growth at three percent in both years; correct?
A Yes.
Q On the right in 2011, the growth rate begins in 2012 and we agreed earlier that's at the beginning of the 2013 year; right?
A Yes.
Q And then if we look at the left -- excuse me -- the rent growth rate is three percent and that begins in 2012?
A Yes, that's what it says.
Q And both instances that would be beginning in the 2013 calendar year; right?
A No. It says we assumed growth in 2012 on both, both 25 appraisals. So -- so the growth rate would begin in 2012 for

THE COURT: I'd appreciate it, of course.
MR. KISE: And one other thing, Your Honor. Again, we've worked these things out, but I was informed this morning that President Trump has conflicts, pretty significant ones, right before November 7th is Election Day so I know we're off then, but the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 8th, I know we were talking about -- and that may work out. It still may work out fine, there is no problem but I just want to note that that he may have significant conflicts the 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 8th.

MR. WALLACE: I want to make sure I have those dates correct. It was November.

MR. KISE: 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and 8th. We're off the 7th, Election Day and not the 6th.

MS. GREENFIELD: We're also off the 10th. We're also off the 10th.

MR. KISE: I know we're off the 10th. Mr. Roberts would like to have the whole week off personally. That's a whole other issue.

THE COURT: I'm sure he's not the only one.
MR. KISE: Well, okay. Ten o'clock tomorrow.
MR. WALLACE: Thank you, Your Honor.
Proceedings are adjourned to Wednesday, October 18th, 2023 at 10:00 a.m.

A Yes.
Q Not all the time?
A I don't know.
Q Well, it says "in some instances," so that means not all the time; correct?
A That's what that would mean, correct.
Q So you are making the assumption that you included in this paragraph; correct?

A Yes.
Q But be that as it may, whether you're included in this paragraph or not, the values and the statements of financial condition and the supporting spreadsheets are Mr. McConney's values, not yours; correct?
A That is correct.
MR. FIELDS: If we could pull up Plaintiff's 115 that has not been admitted.
Q I'm showing you what's been marked, Mr. Larson, as Plaintiff's 115. Do you recognize this to be another e-mail chain between you and Mr. McConney?
A Yes.
Q And on Tuesday, February 28, 2017 -- withdrawn.
MR. FIELDS: If you can go to page two of the exhibit, please?
Q Mr. McConney writes to you on February 27th of 2017:

1 "Hi, Doug. I hope you are well. Would you be able to send me current reports for midtown and downtown Class A office buildings;" correct?
A Yes.
Q And you responded on the next page within a few hours on the bottom, "please see attached. Let me know if you need anything else;" correct?

A Yes.
9 Q So you, again, sent him market information and reports and this is 2017; right?

A Yes.
Q Then Mr. McConney responds on the 28th: "Doug, I'm looking at the information for 1221 Avenue of the Americas, which has a cap rate of 2.9 percent. The building is in the process of being modernized. Building 1290 was recently modernized for a comp. I'd like to use the cap rate of 1221 , but since we are fully modernized can we reduce the cap rate of 2.9 percent?"

Transcript continues on the following page....

Q Do you have any reason to despite that you actually had the call?

A I do not.
MR. FIELDS: All right. If we pull up -- sorry,
Your Honor. May I move into evidence Plaintiff's $115 ?$
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 115.)

MR. FIELDS: If we could pull up Plaintiff's 742. Go all the way to the top.
Q So this is the supporting spreadsheet as of June 30, 2016 and I'll represent to you that the Statement of Financial Condition for 2016 was finalized on March 10th of 2017, okay. So that would have been about nine days after or thereabouts your phone call with Mr. McConney, okay.

A Okay.
THE COURT: We don't know it was a phone call. He said he didn't remember it. He said it might have happened.

MR. FIELDS: He said that he didn't dispute that it happened.

THE COURT: I stand corrected. We still don't really know that it happened, but he is not disputing it. So let's assume it happened.

MR. FIELDS: Fair enough.
Q It was common practice for you and Mr. McConney whenever -- it was common -- was it common practice for you and Mr. McConney to speak over the phone when he requested information from you and you responded please call me?

A I can't recall, but sometimes there were phone calls after, yes.
Q Okay. So if we could go to lines 801 and 802, please. It says, "June 30, 2016, 1290 based on information provided by Doug Larson of Cushman & Wakefield which reflects a cap rate of 2.9 percent for a comparable office building". All right. So if you have plaintiff's -- if we could keep this on the screen, please, but if you have Plaintiffs 115 in front of you, Mr. Larson, it is a two-page exhibit. You see in the middle that Mr. McConney asks you if he can reduce the capitalization rate because 1290 is fully modernized. Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q Then you have -- you ask him to have a discussion with him and you don't recall exactly if this discussion happened, but in the actual supporting spreadsheet at line 801, he uses a capitalization rate of 2.9 percent, correct?

A Yes.
Q So the capitalization rate was not lower as he was initially hoping, correct?
A You'd have to refresh me. What was the prior -- Q Sure. So Plaintiff's 115, he said he was looking for a cap rate lower than 2.9 percent, correct?

Page 1713

A Yes.

Q And here, he used a 2.9 percent cap rate?
A Okay. Yes.
Q So isn't it possible that you and Mr. McConney discussed over the phone that a 2.9 percent cap rate was the better cap rate to use?

MR. LADOV: Objection.
MR. KISE: What's the objection?
MR. LADOV: The witness has already testified that he doesn't recall a phone conversation much less the contents of that phone conversation.

MR. KISE: He testified to a lot of things and now he is recalling a lot more today.

MR. FIELDS: The question was was it possible, Your Honor.

MR. LADOV: The objection stands.
THE COURT: It is speculation, I guess, but I'll overrule the objection. Don't worry. Not that you would ever worry. Do you need the question read back? Do you remember it? Do you want --
Q Is it possible that you and Mr. McConney discussed on the phone that the 2.9 percent cap rate was the better cap rate to go with and not a lower cap rate like Mr. McConney wanted? A It's typically not my practice to, you know, provide a point estimate for a cap rate. It's, you know -- you would

1 have or suggest, make a suggestion like that. We do usually 2 talk in ranges. These are, you know, similar conversations that
3 we had with, you know, over professionals, so when discussing certain sales or whatever. So I don't remember the conversation. So I don't -- I don't remember suggesting a certain cap rate on this building. I don't remember a conversation like that, but he could have used whatever he wanted to.

Q Fair enough. Is it possible that you provided him a range and he chose within that range or chose outside that range?

A Yes.
Q You could have said between 2.8 and 3 is the good range and he chose the middle number? That's possible, correct?
A Sure, but it -- it would be in rounded figures. 25 base points or something like. It wouldn't be that exact typically.
Q And just so we're clear, Mr. Larson, you did an appraisal that we discussed. I think you discussed with government counsel yesterday Plaintiff's 1824 which has been admitted in evidence. I'm not going to ask you a lot of details about it, but you did an appraisal for 1290 Avenue of the Americas prepared for Deutsche Bank as an agent, correct?
A Yes.
Q And that was as of November 1, 2012, correct?

Page 1715

A Yes.

Q And we would just -- we were just having a discussion about information that you were providing to Mr. Larson in approximately 2016 or 2017, correct, about 1290 Avenue of the Americas?
A Yes.
Q So this would be approximately four, give or take, five years after you did an appraisal for that same property?
A Just repeat that, so I understand the dates.
Q Sure. So the discussion that we were just having about the supporting spreadsheet from June 30th of 2016 was approximately four years after the appraisal. You did for that same property in 2012?
A Yes.
Q And at no point did you advise Mr. McConney that the correct capitalization rate to use was the one that you actually used in your appraisal, correct?
A I don't remember having that discussion.
Q But there would have been no need for you to have that discussion because you can use whatever capitalization rate he sees fit, right?
A That is correct.
Q All right. Just the record is clear, this 1290 Avenue of the Americas appraisal contains the same or -- withdrawn. If you can go to page 189 of this report, please. You

2 Q You at least had one lawyer there, correct?
3 A Yes.
4 Q And sir, prior to you meeting with them on Monday, when was the last time you met with them?

A At deposition.
Q Between the deposition and the time you met with them two days ago, isn't it true that your lawyers have had conversations with members of the Attorney General staff; yes or no?
A Yes, there's been some communication.
Q And sir, as part of the stuff that they showed you and I'll use the word "stuff," they showed you those massive spreadsheets that you testified about at length yesterday to Mr. Ladov's questions, correct?

A Yes, I saw those spreadsheets.
Q And they showed you specifically where your name was referenced every time Jeff McConney said in words or substance he consulted and got information from you, correct?
A Yes, I saw some of that information.
Q The same type of information that Mr. Ladov questioned you about yesterday, about where your name would be there and it will be about a conversation that you had with Jeff McConney, correct? Yes or no, sir?
25 A I don't recall all of the topics.

colleague spoke to you about this morning about the conversations you had with Jeffrey McConney, did they?

A No, I haven't seen those.
Q All I want is a yes or no, sir. If I want more, I'll ask you, or I'll ask His Honor to ask you to give me more. The answer is they didn't show it to you, did they?

A No.
Q They spent time --
THE COURT: Wait. Wait. I advise all attorneys not to ask questions in the negative. "They didn't do that, did they?" No or yes could be interpreted either way. it's -- I'm changing what I said before. It is somewhat ambiguous.

MR. ROBERT: I will rephrase the question.
THE COURT: Ask questions in the positive, if possible.
Q Sir, when you met with members of the Attorney General's office on Monday, were you shown the documents that Mr. Fields showed you this morning, specifically Plaintiff's Exhibit 109 and 3184, which show the back and forth between you and Jeff McConney?

A No.
Q Because the first time you saw them was today?
A Correct.
Q So with all of the preparation with the Attorney

Page 1723
General's office, they never decided to show you these two documents, did they?

A No, I did not see those documents.
Q So in all of their prep about your interaction with Mr.
McConney, they never attempted to refresh your recollection with these documents, did they; yes or no?
A No.

MR. LADOV: Objection.
THE COURT: Can we get a readback on that one?
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was read back.)

THE COURT: That's cross-examination. I'll allow it.
Q Answer the question, sir, please.
MR. ROBERT: Do you want it read back with Your Honor's permission? We will read it back to the witness.

THE COURT: We will have it read back one more time.

MR ROBERT: Thank you.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was read back.)
A What do you mean by "illusion"?

| 12 MR. ROBERT: You can fix it however best you can. | 12 Q You know, this morning you were also questioned about |

| 23 THE COURT: Please read back the question. | 23 A It would have been a typo. |

| 1 THE COURT: Objection overruled. | 1 Q That's not my question, sir, please. |
| 2 A You want me to answer? | 2 MR. ROBERT: Your Honor, it is a yes-or-no |

| 4 THE COURT: Yes. | 4 Q Did you backdate it; yes or no? |

| 17 A Most likely. | 17 Q So your position is that this was a typo, right, yes or |

| 19 A No, I know him. | 19 A It most likely would have been a typo, yes. |

| 16 THE COURT: Okay. |  |
| 17 Q Are you aware of any market in New York City |  |

| 13 Q I'm actually going to show it to you as Plaintiff's | 13 A No. |
| 14 Exhibit 1177. It is the same document. Is that the page you're | 14 Q You're an appraiser? |

| 19 A Yes. | 19 Q Would you agree with me, sir, that banks tend to be |
| 20 Q And you testified yesterday that the tax assessed value | 20 very conservative in their values; yes or no, sir? |
| 21 and the appraised value are two different things, correct? | 21 A Not always. |

Q They don't have the same view that my clients do when they're looking at a property of what can I turn this into in five or ten or fifteen years, right?
A Yes.
Q What's my exit strategy tomorrow if there is a default and I have to get out, right?

A Yes. (Continued on the next page.)

aware of it. I don't know what you guys talked about in your meetings.

THE COURT: Overruled.
A Could you repeat the question?
MR. ROBERT: Could I have it read back, Your Honor?
THE COURT: Read back, please.
MR. ROBERT: Thank you.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)
A No.
Q But it doesn't surprise you that an asset was sold for higher than an appraised value; correct?
A Does not surprise me.
Q Because certain assets can be valued in different ways; correct?

A Could you be more specific?
Q Well, when you're evaluating a particular asset there are many factors you need to look at, particularly in real estate; correct?
A Yes.
Q So yesterday, when Mr. Ladov was questioning you, you were asked questions about Niketown. Do you remember that?

A Yes.
Q Did you know that Niketown is situated on one side by Tiffany & Co? Did you know that?

Larson - Plaintiff - cross (Robert)
Page 1739
A I did.
Q And on the other side it's IBM. Did you know that?
A Yes.
Q So would you agree with me that both of those stores are landlocked and Niketown is what is in between them?

A Yes.
Q And sir, when a business is landlocked it and wants to expand isn't it true in many instances even if the value is high they will overpay by exponential numbers to be able to acquire the land?

A It all depends.
Q Well, sir, there is only one 57th Street and Fifth Avenue in the world; true?
A Yes.
Q That's truly the Tiffany location, no pun intended, because Trump Tower is there and Tiffany & Co is there; right?
A Yes.
Q And the mere fact that you have a marquee location adds value, doesn't it?
A Typically, yes.
Q The mere signage on Trump Tower that says "Trump Tower" has value on it, doesn't it?
A Could you repeat that?
Q The mere presence of the name Trump Tower in those big letters in front of the building has a value, doesn't it?

1 A Naming rights have value.
2 Q They do.
And sir, there -- when you have a unique property such as Niketown at 57th and Fifth, there is no cookie cutter valuation method, is there; yes or no?

A Please repeat.
Q When you have a marquee --
THE COURT: Wait. Ask it in the positive, though.
You keep asking negative questions.
Q Would you agree with me, sir, that a unique, unicorn trophy property, whatever you want to name it, there are unique characteristics to the property, valuation is subjective; true?

A Correct.
Q You were asked questions about the statements of financial condition and my colleague, Mr. Fields, held -- showed one to you earlier today and Mr. Ladov showed one to you yesterday. Do you remember that?
A Yes.
Q And you had said that you had remember having seen it; correct?
A The best of my recollection.
Q Was that one of the documents that the Attorney General's Office showed you on Monday?
A Yes.
MR. ROBERT: Can we call up Plaintiff's
D. Larson - Plaintiff - cross (Robert)

Page 1741
Exhibit 729, please? And go to page four? I'm sorry, page six of 26 . I'm looking at the -- and let's go to the second paragraph.
Q And this morning Mr. Fields was drawing your attention to the third line -- let's start from the beginning. You see where it says, "Such valuation methods include?" The beginning, sir?

A Yes.
Q And then we go down three lines and it says "and in some instances outside professionals?"

A Yes.
Q But if you could read the last sentence into the record, sir.

MR. WALLACE: Objection. These aren't his words.
Counsel should be reading it into the record.
THE COURT: I'm not sure my colleagues would agree with me, but I don't think you have an absolute right to make him read something. You can read it if you want.
MR. ROBERT: I'm happy to read it.
Q Are you able to read the words, sir?
A Yes.
Q Would you please read them with Your Honor's permission?
THE COURT: If he wants to read them, he can read them.

Q Aloud, sir.
A "The use of different market assumptions and/or estimation methodologies may have a material impact" -THE COURT: That doesn't say "impact."
A "Effect on the estimated current value amounts."
MR. ROBERT: May I should have read it. I should have listened to Your Honor's admonition before.
Q So sir, what it says is the use of different -withdrawn.

This is something that is contained in President Trump's Statement of Financial Condition; correct?

A Yes.
Q And the language says "the use of different market assumptions and/or estimation methodologies may have a material effect on the estimated current value amounts." Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q You agree with that, sir, don't you? Yes or no?
A I agree on what it says.
Q And you agree that the use of different market assumptions or estimation methodologies may have a material effect on estimated current values, don't you? Yes or no?
A Can you clarify the question? Are you asking -Q

A I would need to elaborate to answer.
Q I'm sure Mr. Ladov is going to have plenty of questions for you, sir, but what I'm asking you there is a delta of a quarter of a billion dollars?

A There was a delta of that.
Q And through your testimony you have said that different market assumptions can make differences in valuations; correct?

A Yes.
Q Just like a different cap rate can affect the value of property; correct?

A Yes.
Q Mr. Fields this morning took you through an analysis of how I think it was like a hundred million dollar difference because based on what the cap rate would be based on the net operating income. Do you remember that?
A Yes.

MS. FAHERTY: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Colleen Faherty here for the People. We call Jack Weisselberg to the stand, please.

THE COURT: Let's get him ASAP.
MS. FAHERTY: Thank you.
THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.
JACK WEISSELBERG, a witness called by the Plaintiff, after having been first duly sworn by the Clerk of the Court, took the witness stand and testified as follows:
THE COURT OFFICER: Please state your full name and either home or business address on the record.

THE WITNESS: Jack Weisselberg. 9079 Dye Cabins, Drive, Park City, Utah.

THE COURT: I'm going to ask the witness, like I ask everybody else, to speak directly into the microphone as close as you can.

Let's proceed with the direct examination.
MS. FAHERTY: Thank you, your Honor.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MS. FAHERTY:
Q Good afternoon, Mr. Weisselberg. I'm going to ask you a few introductory questions first, okay.

So can you, please, just describe your educational background for me?

A Sure. I went to Penn State University; graduated in

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1761
2000.

Q And which campus did you graduate from, sir?
A University Park.
Q Did you have any concentrations or majors from Pennsylvania State University?
A Yes, in real estate.
Q Any other concentration or particular focuses of study?
A Focused on finance.
Q Anything else?
A No.
Q Do you have any postgraduate degrees beyond college?
A No.
Q Do you hold any professional certifications or licenses?

A No.
Q After 2000, once you graduated from Penn State University, can you, please, generally describe for me your work experience?
A I began working at UBS Investment Bank in 2000, May of 2000. Then in 2005, we left UBS, stayed within UBS, but started a hedge fund called Dillon Read Capital Management which was a subsidiary of UBS. In 2007 when the subprime crisis happened, we went back to UBS and I was there for a year until 2008 and then I began working at Ladder Capital in 2008 and I've been there since.

Q So starting with the time when you were at the first position at Dillon Read, what title did you hold there?
A Well, my first position was at UBS and I was an associate director.
Q Did you hold any other titles when you were at UBS?
A I don't recall if I became director at UBS or it was at Dillon Read, but it was around that time.
Q Okay. At any point, were you identified as an analyst in your job positions?
A Yes. When I was an associate, I was an analyst.
That's where I began.
Q And what are your responsibilities as an analyst?
A Well, I was an analyst within with the origination group, so I supported four originators that were bringing loans into UBS.
Q Can you describe for me what that means?
A So when packages would come in, I would enter the data into an underwriting model, look at pictures, go through property, market information, and you know, figure out if a deal would -- could make sense for us to do.
Q When you say "packages would come in," what does that reference to the word "packages"?
A So when somebody wants a new loan, they'll send us an offering memorandum which is just a book that contains all the information necessary to find out if they can get a loan which

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1763
1 will include pictures, it will include rent rolls, operating
2 statements, some market information, and sometimes some sponsoring information as well.
Q So you're gathering information to size up loans; is that a fair characterization?

A Yes.

Q Okay. And you and I both use the same word "size" or "sizing." Can you explain for me what that means, please?

A Sure. It is an underwriting Excel spreadsheet and it is we're analyzing the cash flow of the property for the property and analyzing the numbers to see if they make sense.
Q Okay. And we've also used the term "origination" or "originators." Can you describe for me what an originator is?

A Sure. A loan originator is someone who is out looking for deals and trying to bring in new loans for the company to do.
Q Okay. And the general responsibilities of a loan originator, I heard you just say bring in new deals, but can you drill down a little bit more on what those responsibilities are?

A Yes. It's finding new business and then the client relationship is really through the originator. And then when a loan is actually signed up, they're managing the process and making sure everything is going smoothly.

Q Almost like on the sales end of the business?
A Yeah, you could say that.

1 Q Okay. At any point in your career, did you hold the title of an originator?

A Yes.
Q When did that occur?
A I was a junior originator at UBS when I was an analyst and I was able to bring in my own deals. Took a few years for that to occur, but probably 2004/2005 I started to bring in my own deals.
Q And for how long did you serve as a junior originator? I know you said it started in 2004 at UBS.

A My entire time at UBS including Dillon Read.
Q When did you leave UBS?
A May of 2008.
Q You maintained the same job title that whole time between 2004 and May 2008, right?
A I'm not exactly sure when I was promoted to director, but somewhere around there. Until 2008, yes.

Q Still the same originator responsibilities, though?
A Originator, yes.
Q Okay, great. In 2008, remind me where did you go after that?
A In October of 2008, I joined Ladder Capital.
Q Okay. Any particular reason for the gap between May 2008 and October 2008 between your job at UBS and joining Ladder Capital?

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1765
A Yes. There were layoffs at UBS and across the entire industry in 2008 and I raised my hand for the next round. I just had a child and figured I would have a few months to spend with her before Ladder Capital was set up and ready to go.
Q Okay. And any significance attached to that particular date of October 2008 when you joined Ladder Capital?
A That's when Ladder Capital was started.
Q Okay. And who started Ladder Capital?
A Brian Harris is our CEO along with a few other people.
Q Who were those other individuals?
A Greta Guggenheim (ph), Pamela McCormack (ph) and Robert Pearlman (ph).
Q And did you know all four of those individuals?
A Yes.
Q How did you know those four individuals?
A We all worked together at UBS.
Q Is it a fair characterization that they brought you from UBS along with them to join Ladder Capital?

A Yes.
Q Okay. Anybody in particular bring you along with them to join the Ladder Capital group in 2008?

A I mean, Greta Guggenheim is who I was a junior originator for when we were at Dillon Read, so she was probably the spearhead, but I think all of them.
Q So you reported to Greta Guggenheim at your prior

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MS. FAHERTY)

1
position before Ladder, fair?
A Well, no, because when I went back into UBS for that one year, she had left to begin the process of starting Ladder Capital. So there was a one-year gap in there, but yes, I reported to her prior.
Q Could you remind me about the time period when you returned back to UBS when was that?
A That was in 2007.
Q And why in 2007 did you return back to UBS?
A Because of the subprime crisis, we decided to shut down UBS decided to shut down Dillon Read Capital Management.
Q What was it about you in particular, if you know, was the reason you were able to return to UBS?
A At the time, they gave an option to a lot of us, not everybody, and I was one of the people that was offered the opportunity to come back into UBS, so I took it.
Q Did you have any particular relationships or loans that you were working on that made it a reasonable offer to bring you back into the fold at UBS?
A I'm not sure that was the reason for it. I was working on loans, but I don't think that was the reason why they brought me back in.
Q Were you organizing on any loans with an entity named or associated with the title "The Trump Organization" in or around 2007?

Page 1767
A Yes.
Q And was there a particular Trump Organization loan in 2007 that was included in the transactions that you worked on when you returned to UBS in 2007?

A Yes.
Q Which loan was that?
A That was for Trump Park Avenue.
Q I want to go back to just our discussion a moment ago about sizing a loan and help me as to the basics go down here.
Can you give me the factors that you would include on sizing a loan?
A Well, we look at a rent roll.
Q Okay.
A We look at operating statements, historical, including a trailing 12 statement as well as a pro forma budget, and then we will look at pictures in the property and anything else that's pertinent to the deal.
Q Okay. Anything else?
A If there's a ground lease, we will look at a ground lease. We may look at leases if there are major leases that we are concerned about or we want to make sure we understand pretty well. That's most of what we'll look at.

Q What is the point of that? Why are you trying to understand those factors that you just mentioned?

A When we write a loan, we're looking as if we're going to own the property in case because we write non-recourse loans.
So the bar could give us back the keys, so we look at every loan as if we're going to own the property and we want to understand how it operates and what the cash flow would look like if we took it over.

Q Is there a particular reason why is there a cost to you, to Ladder?

A A cost?
Q Yes.
A I'm not sure I follow.
Q Well, you used the word "non-recourse." Let's start there. Can you define that term for us, please?

A So non-recourse loan is where we cannot go after them personally. If something goes wrong and they default and we foreclose, we take back the property. But other than any recourse obligations that are on that particular loan, it's just the property. We can't go after them personally.

Q So you basically own the property; is that fair?
A We would own the property if they fell down the loan and we took it over, yes.

THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
MS. FAHERTY: Thank you, your Honor.
Q Now, we've just spoken of the word "non-recourse." Is "recourse" a term of art in the banking industry where you work? A Yes.

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1769
Q Can you describe for me what "recourse" means?
A So "recourse" means that you're personally obligated to repay the loan if it is a full recourse loan. Or if there are recourse obligations, you would be personally liable for that specific obligation.
Q Can you provide an example of what it means to be personally obligated?
A It means that we need to be made whole and that you're required to pay it.

Q How would you guarantee with regards to a recourse loan that the bank would be made whole again? Is there anything that you would put into place --

MS. FAHERTY: I apologize, Your Honor. This is a complex question. I'll reask it.
Q How would you guarantee with regards to a recourse loan that the bank would be made whole again?

A We have net worth liquidity requirements that need to stay in place throughout the term of the loan.

Q And if they don't?
A It is a default.
Q Is there an agreement that the bank signs with the borrower to ensure that those terms are in place and defined?
A Yes, it is in the loan documents.
Q Okay. I want to focus your attention on your current position with Ladder Capital.

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1770
When you joined in 2008, what was your title?
A Director.
Q What is your title currently?
A Executive director.
Q Do you recall when -- withdrawn.
When did you receive that title to executive director?
A I can't recall.
Q Approximately how long have you served as an executive director?

A Five or six years, maybe.
Q So approximately five or six years you received the title executive director?
A Approximately, but I'm not exactly sure.
Q Thank you for giving me the approximation.
Did you hold any other titles between that time period from when you served as a director to now with your title as executive director?

A No.
Q Okay. Thank you.
As it concerns your current position as an executive director, are you an originator?
A Yes.
Q How about the phrase "underwriter"? Are you familiar with the term "underwriter" in the banking industry?
A Iam.

Q Describe for me your understanding of what an underwriter is?

A Underwriter on the loan is who gathers all the diligence on every transaction, sets up the third-party reports and analyzes the numbers to decide if it is a loan that makes sense for us.

Q What purpose does that serve in the context of your work?

A Every loan has to go through the underwriting process to make sure that it is a deal that works for us, and they're responsible for putting it altogether and presenting it to a committee of why a deal might make sense or not.
Q Do they assign a value to a particular deal?
A No.
Q Do they -- what type of insights other than the diligence we just described -- what type of insights are they presenting to the bank?

A Well, we're not a bank, but the committee on a loan, they're presenting what the numbers look like and whether it is a deal that makes sense for us.
Q And when you say "what the numbers look like," can you anchor that? And, for example, the collateral that's being used or the deal that you're trying to perform, describe for me what you're referencing.

A They hire an appraiser to get a value. They hire an

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MS. FAHERTY)

you wear both hats as an underwriter and an originator or just one?

A My main priority was underwriting, but I was able to service a few of my clients that I had a good relationship with, so I did originate a few loans during that time period.

MS. FAHERTY: Okay. I think now is a good time for a break, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Have a good lunch, everyone. See you at 2:15. Thank you.
(Witness exits the stand.)
(Whereupon, a luncheon recess was taken.)
AFTERNOON SESSION

THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is now in session. The Honorable Judge Arthur Engoron presiding. Make sure all cellphones are on silent. Latops and cellphones will be permitted, but only to members of the public, members of the press. There's absolutely no recording or photography of any kind allowed in the courtroom. Please be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: If only the witnesses would talk like that.

Tommy, you would make a good witness.
I have a statement first to make on the record.
Attorneys are not allowed to make press statements or give press conferences in the building no matter what time of day, okay.

Okay. Let's get the witness.
THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.
THE COURT: I'll remind the witness, as I always do, that he is still under oath, and let's continue with the direct examination of Jack Weisselberg.

MS. FAHERTY: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q Welcome back, Mr. Weisselberg.
At the break, we talked about how you had the roles of both an originator and underwriter. I want to focus your attention on your current employer, Ladder's, practices.

Can you broadly describe the relationship of the originator and the underwriter performing work?
A Sure. It is completely separate groups and the originator will discuss a new deal with the underwriters to make sure that it is a deal that could work for us. So upfront before the deal is actually signed up, we will have conversations to just go through the numbers and make sure we understand it pretty well.

After that, once we actually sign a loan up, then underwriting takes care over with regard to diligence and getting, gathering all the information together and completing their process, and the originator is in constant contact with them. Anything that they may need from the borrower, they'll

A Yes. We communicate. We work together, but at the end of the day, the underwriter's job is to underwrite the job/ loan and understand the risk and they will communicate with the originator; but it is a separate group that takes care of all the underwriting.

Q You made a reference to assisting in the diligence process. Is it the originator's role to communicate with the borrower to keep the underwriter separate from the borrower?
A No, the underwriter will speak with them directly. Typically, they'll cc the originator on an e-mail to make sure they are aware of everything and the originator should be aware of all conversations that take place. Most of the time, the underwriter will speak directly with the borrower to get the information.
Q That was the general practice that you have observed in your time at Ladder, right?

A Correct.
Q Can you just broadly describe to me the type of financing Ladder Capital offers?

A We lend on commercial real estate. We write first mortgages. Sometimes we'll add mezzanine loans to a first mortgage that we write. We also do balance sheet loans that are shorter term that cover all aspects of commercial real estate.

Q And when you say a "balance loan," what does that mean? Where does that -- where is that balance held?

A A balance sheet loan is a loan that we hold on our books, on Ladder's books.

Q Where else can you hold the loans that you have at Ladder Capital aside from the ones that are maintained on Ladder's own internal books?

A The ones that we don't maintain, we securitize.
Q Can you describe for me what that means?
A We pool together loans and sell them to the broader market in a bond offering.

Q Can we break that apart? You said "we pool together loans." Is that pull or pool together, P-O-O-L?
A P-O-O-L.
Q What does that mean when you're pooling together the loans and you're selling them to the broader market? How does that look?

A So we take anywhere from 30 to 50 loans, maybe less, and we put them altogether into one pool and then we sell it in tranches where somebody will buy the most senior piece and somebody will buy the most junior piece and that's what we do with fixed rate loans.

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MS. FAHERTY)
Q And are there -- what does it mean to be a senior loan that you pool together or a senior tranche?

A The senior tranche is the most secure piece. It's the last lost piece, so that's typically set aside for people that are looking for safer bet and a lower yield.
Q How about junior? What does it mean to be a junior tranche?
A The junior means the first lost piece, so if anything suffers a loss on that loan or in the pool, that's the guy that takes the hit first and he usually gets a higher yield.
Q Do you know who are the purchasers of these two types -- two tranche types of pooled securities?
A I don't know specifically. The junior piece groups that this is what they do. They own --

Q Investors interested in the potentially higher risk, higher rewards?
A Yes.
Q How about the senior tranche? Do you have an understanding about the types of investors in the senior tranche loans?
A It's typically insurance companies or pension funds that are looking for a safer risk lower risk and lower yield.

Q When you say "pension fund," would that be something like I used to be in education. I used to be a teacher. A teacher's unions?

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1778

A It could be.
Q Or we have court officers here, like a PBA in some way.
Are those the type of pension funds that you're referring to, those types of groups?
A It could be. I don't -- I don't work on the securitization side, so I am not selling the bonds, so I don't know who specifically the investors are.
Q Not impossible, but those could be the type of pension funds that would invest?

MR. KISE: Objection. Foundation.
THE COURT: Can you read back the question?
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was read back.)

MR. KISE: My objection is he just testified that he doesn't work on the securitization side, so I am not selling the bonds, so I don't know. So he has no foundation to answer that question.

THE COURT: Sustained.
Q But generally speaking, if I heard you correctly, but please correct me if I misheard, it would be pension fund as a potential investor, right?
A It could be.
Q Thank you.
MR. KISE: Same objection.
THE COURT: Sustained. He says he doesn't know

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT (MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1779

so...

MS. FAHERTY: He offered the testimony, Your Honor, but I understand. I will withdraw.
Q Are you familiar with the phrase "bad boy guaranty?
A Yes.
Q What is a bad boy guaranty?
A The non-recourse carve-out. So every non-recourse loan that we do, we have "bad boy carve-outs" that are intended for bad acts created by the borrower which would turn the loan into being a recourse loan.

Q What are the types of bad acts that would constitute a bad act for a bad boy guaranty?

A I don't recall all of them offhand.
Q Do you know any types of bad acts that would constitute a bad act for a bad boy guaranty?
A Yes. If you bring on environment waste to a property, fraud. Those are the two that I can think of off the top of my head.

Q And does Ladder Capital have bad boy guaranties that it incorporates into the transactions it engages in?
A Every non-recourse loan has them, yes.
Q At Ladder Capital?
A At Ladder Capital.
Q Okay. We were talking a little bit before about how 25 that there are balance loans that Ladder Capital might have. Is it fair to say Ladder does in fact have short-term loans that it maintains that debt on its books?

A Yes, balance sheet loans.
Q Balance sheet loans. Thank you for the correction. And is the answer still yes?
A Yes.
Q Thank you.
THE COURT: You can't just nod your head. You have to say yes or no.

THE WITNESS: Sorry?
THE COURT: You can't just nod your head. You have to say yes or no for the reporter.

THE WITNESS: I said yes.
THE COURT: I didn't hear the answer. I just saw the head.

THE WITNESS: It's okay.
Q Do you recall how many loans you've worked on since you've been at Ladder that have involved either Donald J. Trump or an entity affiliated with the name the Trump Organization?

A I believe five.
Q Five?
A Yes.
Q Which ones?
A We did Trump Tower. We did 40 Wall Street. We did Trump International Hotel & Tower Commercial. We did Trump

Page 1781
Plaza Apartments Commercial and then Trump Central Park South.
Q And Trump Tower, do you recall what year that was?
A I believe it was 2012.
4 Q How about 40 Wall? What year was that one?
5 A That one, I believe, was 2015.
6 Q Trump Plaza Commercial, do you remember what year that was?

A I don't recall.
Q Okay. Trump CPS or Central Park South, do you recall what year that was?

A It was either 2016 or 2017. I'm not 100 percent.
Q Trump International Hotel & Tower in Chicago, do you recall when that was?

A That was in New York.
Q Oh, in New York. Got it. What year was that?
A I don't recall.
Q Focusing on the loan relationship you had with the Trump Organization, can you describe broadly the process for financing that Ladder provided and that's how I'm going to focus your brain on my next line of questions. I want to start with the discussions of those loan relationships. Just broadly, would you have any particular discussions with anyone for those loan relationships with the organization?
A On the Trump side or on the Ladder side?
Q Trump side.

A That would be my father.
Q Who is that?
A Allen Weisselberg.
Q Anybody else at the Trump Organization that you would work with in particular at the beginning of these loan discussions?
A After my father and I discussed the deals, then typically Jeff McConney and Donna Kidder would send over diligence.
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Q All right. So what would you and your father do in these initial discussions?

A Depending upon the deal, I may have approached him or he may have approached me, just to discuss their current financing and what their current loan looked like to see if there is any way that we could refinance that with the new mortgage.

Q So would it be the case if they didn't have a loan with you, you would discuss with your father, if at all possible, Ladder could offer a different financing arrangement. Does that sound about accurate?
A If they did or they didn't there were some loans that we had done eight or nine years prior that we had securitized, so I would call and say this loan is coming due soon, what are your plans, let's chat.

Q Got it. With regards to Jeff McConney, who is he?
A Jeff McConney?
Q Yes.
A He was a senior accountant, maybe the controller at the time.

Q And the nature of your relationship with Jeff McConney and those discussions concerning the Ladder relationship?
A He was more making sure that I received accurate information. So he would send over rent rolls, operating statements, and if I had questions I would give him a call and ask him about it.

Q So fair to say was Jeff McConney your contact to help with the diligence aspect of the loan underwriting or the finance underwriting?
A I wasn't the underwriter on those loans, but in the initial conversation to size the loan it would be Jeff and Donna.
Q Okay. And Donna Kidder, I think you mentioned her name, who is she?

A I'm not sure what her role is. I know she works with accounting.
$Q$ She works in the accounting department?
A I believe.
Q Okay. And describe for me the nature of your interactions with Ms. Kidder.
A Same as Jeff, but on a more sending us the information, questions that I would typically ask to Jeff, sometimes to Donna, as well, but very similar to the relationship I had with Jeff.
Q Any particular properties or just broadly you would reach out to Ms. Kidder?
A That would only be after we were discussing a particular property.
Q And are there any particular properties for which you would have conversations with Ms. Kidder?
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1785
A I don't recall which ones specifically, but probably most of them.
Q Okay. All right.
MS. FAHERTY: Can you please pull up PX 00630 ?
Your Honor, I'm marking for identification
Plaintiff's Exhibit 630 that I'd like to show the witness, please.

THE COURT: Okay.
Q Do you have that document in front of you,
Mr. Weisselberg?
A Yes.
Q Looking at this document, very top message, do you recognize - is that your e-mail address at the top there in the "to" line?
A Yes.
Q And is this an e-mail from Allen Weisselberg at the Trump Organization?
A Yes.
Q That's your father, right?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And in this message, it's dated 2011. I recognize Counsel might have an objection in a moment, but it states:
"As discussed, we are looking for a forward commitment in the amount of 65 million, and a term of ten years to take effect in August 2012. Thanks. Talk to you soon."

Do you see that there?
A I do.
Q And it appears that this is a forward of a message from Donna Kidder; right? Am I reading that correctly?
A Yes.
Q Okay.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I'll tie it in, but I'd like to move this into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Objection, Your Honor. I know we have our standing objection to statute of limitations. This is going back to 2011. By anyone's account, even the account that we disagree with the government with the statute is 2014, so I would object and say this is irrelevant and it's also barred by the statute of limitations and therefore should not come into evidence.

THE COURT: Overruled.
MS. FAHERTY: Thank you.
Q Is this the type of initial outreach you would have with your father when exploring loan deals like we just discussed a moment ago?
A Yes. Typically he mentioned "as discussed." We probably had phone conversations and if Donna sent me an e-mail prior to this then this was a little bit further along, but yes, this is the initial sizing time period.

Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)
Page 1787
Q Okay. And it says in the message "looking for a forward commitment in the amount of $$ 65$ million;" right? A Yes.
Q And a term of ten years to take effect in August 2012; right?
A Correct.
Q What is your understanding of what that message is conveying here?
A He's telling us that he would like us to close the loan in August 2012 and being that it was October of 2011, they were looking for a forward commitment.
Q Okay. And the subject line here, it's a forward:
"TTCOML" and then "October 2011 rentroll.five-year projection?"
Do you have any understanding as to what TTCOML is a reference to?

A Yes.
Q What is it?
A Trump Tower Commercial.
Q Is this a discussion you're having with your father with regards to the Trump Tower commercial loan?
A Correct.
Q Did you, in fact, do a loan on Trump Tower in 2012?
A We did.
Q Okay. Thank you. You can put that to the side -- oh, 25 before you do.

1 If I said the phrase to you, "rate lock," do you have any understanding of what that phrase "rate lock" means?
A Yes.
Q Is this e-mail a reference to a rate lock?
A Well, it's in reference to a forward commitment, which would include a rate lock.

Q Okay. And the forward commitment that's in here, can you describe for me what a rate lock would be?
A A rate lock is when you lock in the interest rate for your loan.

Q Got it.
MS. FAHERTY: Okay. We can put that to the side, please.
Q So once you have a discussion with your father, you're exploring the potential loan deal, here it appears that you and your father were talking more of the terms.

Was there any diligence you would do in connection with those initial conversations with Mr. Weisselberg?
A Well, typically I would ask for a rent roll and operating statements would be the initial conversation so we could start looking at the numbers.
Q Okay. And why would you want a rent roll?
A I'm sorry?
Q Why would you want a rent roll?
A Oh , so we could understand the tenants that are in the
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1790

A Yes.

Q Okay. And in this message, the subject, "Trump Tower," Mr. Weisselberg, it's a little -- Mr. Allen Weisselberg says to you, "please note the numbers reflected in the projection includes a license fee payment from the producers of The Apprentice, (Reilly Worldwide ) is shown as $$ 500,000$. However, the real value of the two floors is approximately" or "approx $$ 100 \mathrm{PSF}$," per square foot "or 2,798,100 or an additional," "add'l 2,298,100 to the bottom line.

Additionally, the Trump Organization occupies approx 37,225 square feet at approximately 75 PSF , equates to an additional 2,791,875 to the bottom line as well."

Do you see that there?
A Yes.
Q And there appears to be an attachment. It's identified by - in 001, I presume. Do you have an understanding why your father -- why Mr. Weisselberg, Allen, is giving you this information about The Apprentice and the square footage of the floor?
A Yes. The -- with The Apprentice space, as well as the Trump Organization space, there was no rent associated with the rent roll, so I probably asked what was going on with this space and why is there no rent associated with it. So we included the $$ 500,000$ that was being paid by The Apprentice as a license fee and he was just suggesting that the real value is probably much building, the rent that they're paying when their lease began, when their lease expires, if they have lease termination options, things like that.

Q Are you trying to understand if the property is generating income, for example?
A Trying to figure out what income the property is generating.
Q Okay. And a rent roll would give you that information; yes?

A That would give us what the rent would be.
Q Okay.
A Yes.
Q It would be a piece of the puzzle?
A Exactly.
Q Great.
MS. FAHERTY: Can you put up PX 631, please?
Thank you.
Your Honor, I'd mark for identification Plaintiffs Exhibit PX-00631.
Q Mr. Weisselberg, we've put it on the screen, but it's in front of you as well. This is another e-mail between you and Mr. Allen Weisselberg at the Trump Organization; right?
A Yes.
Q The date on this message is October 20, 2011, the next day from the message we were just looking at?

Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

higher if we vacated the space and found a third-party tenant.
Q Okay. So the actual value received for the particular space for The Apprentice would have been 500,000 based on this message, yes?

A That was what they were paying.
Q And Mr. Allen Weisselberg is providing for you additional information of what they could have received; is that correct?

A Correct.
Q Okay. And this is the type of information that your father -- Mr. Allen Weisselberg and you have engaged in before to try and assess whether a deal is possible; is that right?

A Correct.
Q Okay. Would information like this help you do back-of-the-envelope calculations as you're deciding whether there is a deal to be made with regards to this transaction?
A Not really.
Q Have you ever performed back-of-the-envelope calculations about a potential loan deal with regards to the Trump Organization?
A On my own?
Q Yes.
A Sure.
Q Do you recall if you did one on Trump Tower?
A I don't recall.

1 O Okay. When you yourself perform back-of-the-envelope calculations, do you incorporate cap rates into those calculations that you're doing?
A Yes.
Q Do you talk cap rates with Mr. Weisselberg, Mr. Allen Weisselberg?
A Sure.
Q When you're discussing the various deals for the Trump Organization, have you talked about cap rates that are possible cap rates to be used on those valuations?

A When we send out an application for a new loan, one of the stipulations -- excuse me -- is loan to value, so we'll try to figure out what we think the appraiser is going to come back at and put an LTV there, a loan to value number, that would make sense. So typically, we'll have those discussions.

Q What is a loan to value?
A It's the percentage of the loan based on compared to the ratio to the value of the property.
Q The value of the asset?
A Yes.
Q Okay, great. Thank you.
Just a broad question, has your father ever called you to discuss cap rates in the market?
A I don't recall, but probably.
25 Q Okay. And just broadly speaking, discuss cap rates and he asked you for advice on a particular real estate asset in a part of Manhattan, would you be able to provide that cap rate type information?

Page 1793
A Not accurately.
Q So you would tell your father no, I'm not providing you a cap rate?

A I may tell him what I think, but that he should probably call an appraiser.

Q Okay. Other than your conversation with Mr. Allen
Weisselberg broadly about possible deals with Ladder, and you reference Ms. Kidder and Mr. McConney, before a deal is consummated are you aware of other individuals at the Trump Organization to your knowledge who would speak with members of the Trump Organization -- Ladder with the members of the Trump Organization?

A Sorry. Could you repeat the question?
Q Yes, that was a poorly worded question.
Other than the names we've already discussed, to your knowledge, are you aware of other members of the Trump Organization reaching out and speaking to members of Ladder Capital about a deal before the loan transaction and the financing transaction is consummated?

MR. KISE: Objection. Are we talking about 2011 or anytime?

MS. FAHERTY: I'm talking generally.
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1794

A Not often, but maybe once or twice.
Q What are the two examples you're thinking of?
A I believe that Mr. Trump would speak to the CEO of my company, Brian Harris, occasionally before a loan closed or was signed up.
Q Can you give me an example of when that occurred?
A Think with the Trump Tower loan that occurred -- it may have happened with 40 Wall, as well, but I don't recall.
Q And what is your understanding as to why Mr. Trump would speak with Brian Harris about a loan deal with Ladder Capital?
A They had a relationship that goes back many years and before a loan closes sometimes they'll have a chat.
$Q$ Do you know the substance of those chats?
A I don't.
Q Okay. You recall that Mr. Harris and Mr. Trump did speak in connection with the Trump Tower deal in 2012?
A I believe so, yes.
MS. FAHERTY: Can we pull up PX 649? Thank you. And, Your Honor, I neglected to move the prior exhibit in. I'd like to move that in subject to I'm aware Counsel have their standing objection.

MR. ROBERT: Objection.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in.
Q Okay. Mr. Weisselberg, you've been handed a document
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1795
that's been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 649. Do you recognize that e-mail address at the top in the "from" bar? Is that your e-mail address at Ladder Capital?

A Yes.
Q It's dated January 8, 2012; right?
A Yes.
Q Do you recognize the e-mail address sportsalley@aol.com?
A Yes.
10 Q What is sportsalley@aol.com?
A That's my father's, Allen Weisselberg's, personal e-mail address.

Q It appears you're forwarding Mr. Allen Weisselberg a message between you and Brian Harris; right?

A Correct.
MS. FAHERTY: Okay. Can we scroll down further?
We're going to go to the underlying bottom e-mail.
Okay, there we go.
Q Looking at the bottom of this first page do you see on January 7, 2012, 10:50 p.m. there appears to be a message to Brian Harris. My understanding is it's from you, but the e-mail header is gone and it says, "quick FYI," dot, dot, dot, "I spoke to DT when he landed in Florida on Friday night and he was congratulating me on getting such a prize. | 18 don't know what it is. They can't impeach their own | 18 These loans aren't even at issue in any shape, form or |

| 20 witness. | 20 THE COURT: Well, you know me, I tend to give some |
| ng to refresh the witness's | 21 leeway. I hope there will be a connection and, as I've said |
| llection. I first want to make sure -- | 22 many times, the statute of limitations limits claims, not |
| MR. KISE: That's clearly not what she's doing, | 23 evidence. |
| clearly. | 24 Also, I think these -- this testimony may be |
| 25 THE COURT: I mean, I think the defendants' | 25 relevant to the requested equitable relief, so I'm going to |

1 allow it for now.

MR. KISE: Let me just pause there and clarify that, Your Honor. How could conduct that's outside the statute of limitations be relevant to any relief in the case? The Court can't consider things -- then you're going to consider things from 1990, 1995, 2000, 2005? I mean, it becomes limitless at that point.

THE COURT: Well, I'm not going to set a particular time limit, but 6312 refers to a pattern and $I$-- the acts would now be subject to a claim, but the pattern I think who would be? We could brief that, we could discuss that.

MR. KISE: I mean, respectfully, Your Honor, I would disagree. The pattern that has to be established is a pattern within the limitations period. Otherwise, 6312 could reach back to 1985 . I mean, it becomes an arbitrary limit which I think is the precise reason we have limitations periods, but if we want to take that up at a different time, that's fine. My only objection now is it's seemingly very irrelevant.

THE COURT: Well, out of an abundance of caution, I'll let her continue. Yes, it's an interesting question to what extent pre-limitations actions are -- could be encompassed with an examination of, quote, "persistent fraud." I think, again, it's the question of the claim. When you look -- I don't know. We'll have to talk about

What is that a reference to being nervous about Gucci's rent becoming public knowledge? Is that in any way connected to a CMBS loan?

A Gucci was the major tenant at Trump Tower.
Q Okay. And what does it mean in this message about becoming nervous to Gucci's rent becoming public knowledge?
A I don't recall specifically what I was referring to in this e-mail.
Q Is there something about a CMBS loan that would make financial information like rent from a tenant in a building becoming public knowledge?
A Yes.
Q And what is that?
A It's a public offering, so the documents for all large loans, usually the top ten, sometimes the top 20 are released publicly.
Q So information about rent in a building would potentially be publicly available in connection with the CMBS loan?
A Correct.
Q Okay. Thank you.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I move to admit this exhibit into evidence, please?

MR. ROBERT: Objection.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in.

23 Q And later on you make a statement "he's also nervous
24 about Gucci's rent becoming public knowledge. As he tends to 25 embellish from time to time."

MS. FAHERTY: And I'll try to move faster, Your Honor. I appreciate what we're all trying to get through here.
Q Just, again, turning your attention to -- I don't know if there was a question pending. I lost it.

The question was do you recall sending that message to Greta Guggenheim on January 22, 2012?
A Reading it now clearly, I did, but I don't recall the e-mail.
Q Okay.
THE COURT: Apparently there are cases that are -or least a case that specifically held that examining conduct pursuant to 6312 can include pre-limitations behavior, and I can get that cite at some point. Sorry to interrupt.

MS. FAHERTY: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q So in the body of this message you're referring to a reference to the Trump Organization?
A Yes.

Page 1807
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 650 in evidence.)

MS. FAHERTY: Thank you. You can put that down. Q Was that your general understanding that the Trump Organization had concerns about financial information becoming public in connection with any of the Ladder loan transactions?

MR. KISE: Objection. At what time period? I mean, anytime period?

MS. FAHERTY: General understanding.
A Yes, I recall it being public was a concern.
Q Was that your understanding throughout the time period that you've been working on the Trump Organization loans?

A Not sure.
Transcript continues on the following page....

| 1 | THE COURT: So let's agree with if there's no |
| :---: | :---: |
| 2 | indication of a time period, it refers to all the time or |
| 3 | just generally. |
| 4 | MR. KISE: So again, at any point without any |
| 5 | specificity? Just okay. I think it's objectionable, but |
| 6 | you're the judge. |
| 7 | THE COURT: I think commonsensically it is limited |
| 8 | by the time period in issue which may be a long time period |
| 9 | I grant. |
| 10 | Q We spoke earlier about a loan on Central Park South in |
| 11 | or about 2017. You didn't recall the time period, right? |
| 12 | A Correct. |
| 13 | Q Okay. Tell me what you recall about that particular |
| 14 | loan? |
| 15 | A It was a short-term balance sheet loan and they had a |
| 16 | property that was unencumbered meaning it had no debt on it and |
| 17 | they came to us for a loan. |
| 18 | Q Which property was that? |
| 19 | A This was located at -- on Central Park South, on Sixth |
| 20 | Avenue. |
| 21 | Q It was the property located on Central Park South, on |
| 22 | Sixth Avenue? |
| 23 | A Yes. |
| 24 | Q So if I say "CPS," would you agree that that's our |
|  | parlance for that same property, yes? |

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1809
A Sure. Yes.
2 Q Do you recall how much that loan was for?
3 A It was 25 million.
4 Q 25 million?
5 A Yeah.
6 Q What is your understanding as to the need for that loan?
A My understanding at the time was that they had a settlement that they needed to pay, so they took an unencumbered asset and we gave them 25 million for it.

Q You said it was a short-term loan. How long was the term of that loan?

A 12 months.
Q 12 months?
A Yes.
Q What is your understanding as to why it was a short-term loan?
A At the time, they were waiting for two apartment units to sell at another property and they thought they would have closed in time for the settlement and when they realized it could not or may not work, they just came to us us. So they knew those two units were going to sell shortly, so they needed a short-term bridge loan.
Q When you say "short-term bridge loan," is that to free 25 up cash?

A It was to provide cash.
Q Provide cash, okay.
Did you say what settlement that was for?
A I did not say.
Q Do you have any understanding as to what settlement that money was going towards?

A I believe it was Trump University.
Q Thank you.
Did you have any understanding at this time that there were cash issues related to their liquidity?

A The understanding that we had was that they had recourse obligations to another lender that limited the amount of cash that they could access. They had to maintain a liquidity requirement and so that was the main thing that was holding them up as well as these two units that had not sold yet.

Q Do you recall who that lender was?
A I believe it was Deutsche Bank.
Q What specifically was the cash issue at Deutsche Bank that you understood?

A As I just mentioned they had a liquidity requirement with debt that they had with them meaning they had to maintain a certain liquidity level. I never knew what that number was, but if they had dipped into cash there was a chance that they could triplex a default on that loan and that they didn't want to do ## that.

Q So in order to get the bridge loan, they avoided triggering a default on their liquidity requirement at that time?

MR. ROBERT: Objection. It is another one of the leading questions that they want to have a summary of something. They can ask a non-leading question and get an answer, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Rephrase it, so that there's no issue about whether it's leading or not.

MS. FAHERTY: I was just rephrasing his words. So I can withdraw, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.
MS. FAHERTY: I think the point is made. Thank you.

THE COURT: Withdrawn.
Q Let's turn your attention to 40 Wall Street and that loan transaction, please.

A Okay.
Q Do you recall how that loan came to you?
A I don't recall if I approached my father, if he approached me, but we had a conversation.
Q So you don't know who brought it to whom, but there was a conversation between you and Mr. Allen Weisselberg; fair to say?

A Correct.

Q Do you remember what broadly those initial discussions entailed?
A We had discussed the current loan that they had and the maturity date and certain dates that were in important on that loan and, you know, I mentioned that I think we could provide a loan here.
Q Did you have an understanding at that time what that "then current loan" was that you were discussing?
A Yes. They had a loan with Capital One.
Q What do you recall about the particulars of that Capital One loan that prompted the discussion with Mr. Allen Weisselberg about what, if any, financing or refinancing Ladder could provide?
A The loan they had at Capital One had a unique feature of amortization paydown of $$ 5$ million and we were -- they wanted to decide whether it was better for them to just make that payment and stay with their current loan or maybe get a new loan with a lower rate.

Q Did you discuss the ground lease at all with regards to 40 Wall in those initial conversations?
A I don't think initially.
Q Are you aware that there is a ground lease?
A Eventually we got there, yes.
Q What do you know about the ground lease at 40 Wall?

Q Do you recall looking at any initial projections with regards to that initial discussion?
A Yes.
Q What projections do you recall looking at?
A I don't recall the specifics, but typically we would receive a rent roll and operating statements.

MS. FAHERTY: Let's pull up 1290. Did we keep it or did you give it back to me? No. You gave it back to me. Thank you.

Your Honor, I marked for identification Plaintiff's Exhibit PX-10290.
Q I put that on your screen in front of you as well, Mr.
Weisselberg. Appears to be a message from Allen Weisselberg, your father, right?
A Yes.
Q To you on April 9, 2015, yes?
A Yes.
Q And this is a forward with the subject Trump Mar31, 2015, March 31, 2015, yes?
A Yes.
Q "Derivatives valuation report from Chatham Financial." Do you see that there?
A I do.
Q And there is an attachment with a title
"Trump31-Mar-2015valuation.xls". Do you see it?

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1813
A The ground lease was owned by a third party, I believe it was a family in Germany, and there was a rent reset that comes due in, I believe, 2032 and it is based on the fair market value of the ground lease and six percent of that would be the payment. So we knew that the current ground rent that had contractual increases until then would go up to a number that we couldn't determine for sure at the time of the loan.
Q And sorry. I should ask this clarifying question.
Does the Trump Organization or Mr. Donald J. Trump own 40 Wall in fee simple?
A It's a lease fee.
Q And it is this ground lease that controls that ownership arrangement?
A Correct. They own the building and somebody else owns the dirt.
Q Thank you.
Do you remember the initial general terms that you and Mr. Allen Weisselberg were initially discussing when you first contemplated a re-fi of the Capital One loan with Ladder?
A We were talking about a ten-year CMBS loan. I believe it was 160 million. That's all that I recall in the initial conversations.
Q Do you recall possibly discussing the rating if you had securitized the loan, what those ratings might be?
A Initially, no. But eventually, yes.

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1815
A Yes.
Q This is your father forwarding you a message from Chatham Financial, correct?

A Correct.
Q Who is Chatham Financial?
A Chatham Financial is a third-party provider that borrowers and lenders use for a few different devices. One is to buy rate caps and in this case to figure out what prepayment penalty would cost.

Q And what is the point of sending this message regarding what a prepayment penalty might be?

A So when we -- when they were deciding when the Trump Organization was deciding whether to make the amortization payment or to get a new loan, the process of getting a new loan, they would have to make a prepayment penalty to Capital One. So they hired Chatham to find out what that prepayment penalty would look like.

Q And this is just Mr. Weisselberg Allan forwarding it to you, so that you could have a further discussion about it, yes?

A Correct.
THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I move to admit this into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations and also I'm not sure if there is an attachment because there is

| 7 | THE COURT: Okay. Statute of limitations overruled |
| 8 | and hearsay. Granted except to the extent that it is being |
| 9 | introduced to prove notice. |
| 10 | MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I can have our consultant |
| 11 | put the street which is the attachment to this document on |
| 12 | the screen. |
| 13 | THE COURT: Let's see that. |
| 14 | MS. FAHERTY: So we can see it. |
| 15 | THE COURT: Granted. It is in. |

| 18 | Q Do you recognize that this is the Excel spreadsheet? |

| 20 | A $\quad$ It says "Chatham Financial," yes. |
| 21 | Q Any reason to believe that this is not the attachment |

| 23 | A No. |
| 24 | Q Okay. |

to all of the objections I imagine.
THE COURT: It is in. MS. FAHERTY: Thank you.
THE COURT: Including the attachment.
MR. ROBERT: It is for notice only correct.
THE COURT: Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: Yes. Probably a good moment for a break at this point, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. 15 minutes. We'll take a 10-minute-break.
(Witness exits the stand.)
(Whereupon, a recess was taken.)
THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is back in session. Please be seated and come to order.

THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.
THE COURT: So let's continue with the direct examination of Mr. Jack Weisselberg.

MS. FAHERTY: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q Mr. Weisselberg, during your discussions of the 40 Wall loan transaction, do you recall there came a point in time when you discussed with Jeff McConney information related to the ground lease?
A Yes.
Q Do you recall at any point reviewing formal, potentially legal documents?

A I remember we reviewed the actual ground lease.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I marked for identification the plaintiff's next Exhibit PX-00635.
Q I put it on the screen, Mr. Weisselberg, plaintiff's exhibit. Does this appear to be a message from Jeff McConney at the Trump Organization to you on April 10, 2015?

A Yes.
Q Is there also a copy on this message to Allen
Weisselberg at the Trump Organization?
A Yes.
Q The subject is "forward:40 Wall Street ground lease" and there appears to be an attachment, yes?
A Yes.
Q The attachment is 20 -- well, I don't have to represent to you. It is on the screen.
"20100720103907533.tif," do you see that?
A Yes.
Q In this message, Jeff McConney appears to be writing you, "Jack, attached is the 4th loan modification along with summary which talk about how to compute the FMV rent a few years from now." Then it looks like there is an emoticon smiley face, right?

A Yes.
Q What is FMV rent?
A Fair market value rent.

CK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1819
Q Okay. And did you have any understanding as to what a 4th loan modification along with a summary was?
A It was actually a typo. It is 4th lease modification.
Q 4th lease modification, okay.
Did you understand that this message about 4th lease modification related to the 40 W all Street ground lease?

A Yes.
Q And then I'll ask you to turn to the next page in your document in front of you, plaintiff's exhibit. Do you recognize that page right there?
A Yes.
Q What do you recognize that to be?
A This is the fourth amendment to the ground lease discussing the rent reset.
Q And this is a document you reviewed that Jeff McConney sent to you with regards to the 40 Wall Street?

A I perused it, but the underwriting team reviewed it.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I move this exhibit into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Objection.
THE COURT: On the ground?
MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations. THE COURT: Overruled.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 635.)
$1 Q$ Turning your attention to this summary page, you agree with me there is a note under the title, "Resume of 4th Modification of Ground Lease on 40 Wall Street New York City"?
A Yes.
Q The note says, "This resume represents a brief summary of any of the important provisions of the 4th modification of the lease," yes?

A Yes.
Q And the date of the loan modification -- the lease modification appears is December 31, 2007 ?

A Correct.
Q The landlord is identified?
A Yes.
Q Is the tenant identified?
A Yes.
Q The tenant is 40 Wall Street, L.L.C.?
A Yes.
Q Do you recognize that tenant, 40 Wall Street, L.L.C.?
A Yes.
Q Who do you recognize 40 Wall Street, L.L.C. to be?
A That was the owner of the building.
Q Is the 40 Wall Street, L.L.C. affiliated with the Trump Organization?
A Yes.
$25 \quad Q$ Do you see further down on the page there is a topic

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

header, "Provisions of the Fourth Modification"?
A Y88es.
Q Do you see at point two, it says, "Revised Section
2.05A to provide for rent valuation as of January 1, 2033 at the greater of $a$, six percent the then value of the land considered as vacant and unimproved, but with the right to construct a 900,000 square-foot building for $X$, office purposes, and $Y$, ground floor retail space or other retail space in the building which existed after January 1, 2028 or B, 85 percent" -- it says " $\mathrm{O}^{\prime}$, but would it be a fair interpretation that it should be "of"?

A I believe so.
$Q$ "The then rental." Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q Was this provision relevant to you in the underwriting of the 40 Wall transaction?

A Yes.
Q Turn to the next page. Do you see that second provision there that says, "condominium conversion right"?

A Yes.
Q "Paragraph four eliminates the tenant's condominium conversion rights which it had under Section 27.09." Do you see that there?

A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: If we move to -- it is identified as

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1822

5 Q Which states, "In consideration of the elimination of 6 Section 27.09 of the lease, landlord and tenant agree that if in 7 the future tenant is of the opinion that the area and times 8 favor the construction of residential units which may be 9 condominium units and tenant desires to create a residential 10 condominium for the sale of units to the public, tenant may propose revision of the lease to permit the conversion to condominium ownership for the sale of such residential units provided, however, that in no event shall landlord have any obligation to agree with or take any action to effectuate such condominium conversion and landlord's determination to permit any such conversion shall be at landlord's sole and unfettered discretion." That was included in this document, yes?
A Yes.
Q Then one more page forward, do you recognize the -- the signature at the very bottom of this document?
A Yes.
Q Whose signature do you recognize that to be?
A That's Donald J. Trump's.
Q Donald J. Trump, the man sitting over at that table there?

A No.

Q He was there, right?
A At some point.
Q That signature for Donald J. Trump is associated with 40 Wall Street, L.L.C., yes?
A Yes.
Q Okay. We can put that down. I handed up to you a document marked as Plaintiffs Exhibit P X-01 109. Let me know when you see that in front of you.

A Yeah.
Q I'm going to ignore a lot of the bottom of this e-mail --

A Thank you.

Q -- because I think it is just irrelevant, personal information, personal communications, but looking at the message 16 from you to Allen Weisselberg dated April 16, 2015 at 17 10:29 a.m., that's you e-mailing your father, Mr. Allen
18 Weisselberg, yes?
A Correct.
Q And then you have -- he responds to you, "Not too shabby. Let's get the rate and answer on the ground lease, so we could move the process," yes?
A Yes.
Q And then further up in the chain, you inform Mr. Allen 25 Weisselberg that you're "sitting down tomorrow with our head of large loans and then probably Brian and Mazzei on Monday," yes?
A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: For the court reporter, that's
M-A-Z-Z-E-I.
Q The Brian referenced here, who is that?
A That's Brian Harris.
7 Q Mr. Mazzei or Mrs. Mazzei referenced here, who is that?
8 A That's Mike Mazzei.
9 Q There is reference here to the head of large loans.
Who was that?
A I don't know exactly. I'm not sure. We actually had a head of large loans. It was probably David Henschke who was our head of securitization.

Q Thank you. So possibly discussing the securitization of the 40 Wall Street loan? Is that what that's a reference to?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And the reference in the underlying message from Allen Weisselberg, "Let's get the rate and the answer on the ground lease." What is that a reference to, to your understanding?
A With the rate, we wanted to know what their interest rate would be based on the cash-free loan and our understanding of the loan. And the answer on the ground lease is making sure it was financeable, securitizeable and figuring out what we thought the rent was going to be when it reset.

Q And can you talk a little bit more about that, why would that be a concern?
A Well, the ground lease is part of the operating expenses for the property, so it affected the net cash flow and in this case as I had mentioned earlier, the ground lease was resetting to a number that we thought would be much higher. So it was important to figure out what we figured it would be 17 or 18 years later.
Q Does that mean 40 Wall Street, L.L.C. once the ground lease reset would potentially have higher rent exposure that it would have to pay at the time of that reset; is that right?

A The ground rent could potentially be higher, yes.
Q And that was a concern to you for what reason?
A It would affect the net cash flow and our loan dollars are based on the net cash flow of the property.

Q Would it also impact the loan beyond the current contemplated financing project?
A It would only affect that, but because of that, it affects our loan.

Q Understood. Thank you. You could put that to the side.

Just to clarify as well, does that ground lease reset also impact the rating agency's LTVs?
A Yes.
25 Q In what way? and that cash flow includes what the ground rent payment will be.

And would you agree with me this appears to be another group of individuals who all work at Ladder Capital at that time?

A Yes.
Q And the subject is 40 Wall Street?
A Correct.
Q And looking at the names included on the cc line, do you have any understanding as to who that group of individuals includes?

A Yes.
Q Who are they?
A Craig Robertson was the underwriter on the deal, Mike Mazzei was our president at the time. David Henschke was our head of securitization, Ed Peterson was our head trader, Greta Guggenheim was our CIO at that time, Pamela McCormack was our general counsel at that time, and Matthew Jacobs was our head of CMBS underwriting at that time.

Q And this grouping of individuals, are they a particular group at Ladder? Would there be a reason for writing to this group?

A I believe that most of them made up the committee that would approve the loan, not all of them.

Q And is there a name for that committee?
A For this one it would be Conduit Committee.
Q Conduit?
A Conduit.
Q Okay, great. Thank you.
So in this message, and you don't have any reason to doubt this, is a message authored by you; correct?

A Correct.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I'm going to ask questions about this, so I want to avoid missing it. Move to admit this document.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations. THE COURT: Overruled. It's in evidence. (Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 647 in evidence.)

MS. FAHERTY: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q So turning your attention to the first paragraph,
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Mr. Weisselberg. You mentioned how you're going to discuss the 40 Wall Street transaction for Trump.
"We sat down today to discuss the 40 Wall Street transaction for Trump. The proposed loan of $$ 160$ million ( 137 dollars per SF" or square foot, "excluding the ground lease, $$ 369$ dollars per square foot, including the ground lease) with a real LTV of approximately 35 to 40 percent and a DSCR of 2.32X at closing and a debt yield of 14.02 percent at closing, will take out the current $$ 160$ million seven-year IO loan that they currently have with Capital One."

So is this what we talked about earlier, the financial arrangement that the Trump Organization currently had in place that Mr. Allen Weisselberg was seeking to refinance with Ladder?

A Last part of that sentence, yes.
Q Sure. And DSCR, what does DSCR stand for?
A That's debt service coverage ratio.
Q What is a debt service coverage ratio?
A That is when you take a loan constant which is using the interest rate and the amortization schedule and you divide it by the net cash flow of the property to figure out what the coverage is, meaning how much cash flow there is from the property to pay the debt service.

Q And IO, what is IO?
A Interest only.
Q Okay. All right. And it goes on further to state the
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1830

1 loan has acquired $$ 5$ million amortization payment in November of 2015, right?

A Yes.
Q And the reference to that loan, am I reading it correctly, is it your understanding that that loan is a reference to the Capital One loan, yes?

A Correct.
Q Okay. The sentence continues, "alternatively for Trump they can make that same $$ 5$ million payment to break the (swap prepayment penalty,) which would be a tax deductible payment. So a new loan would reduce his rate from 5.71 percent to a low to mid 3's rate, extend his loan for ten years and allow him to recover his prepayment penalty in a little more than one year. Of note, he will be coming out of pocket for the prepayment penalty."

What is that reference to, that grouping of sentences I just read, the "alternatively for Trump?"

A So this was mentioning why our loan would make sense for them and that if they decided not to make the amortization payment to Capital One and keep that loan outstanding that they would come to us for a new loan and this would be the alternative where they would lower their rate and the prepayment penalty they would be able to recover that just in saving on debt service over what I said was a little more than a year.

Q And do you recall -- how did you form that

Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)
Page 1831
understanding about what alternatives that they had that they were exploring?

A We did a pre-sizing, sort of underwriting to figure out what the loan payment would be assuming our rate was in the lowto mid-three percent and figured out how long it would take them to recover that prepayment penalty.

Q Got it. And the e-mail goes on. The next paragraph begins, "the rub on the deal is the ground lease." What did you mean by that?

A Every deal that we do has a risk, if not more, and in this situation the biggest risk or something that made it unique was the ground lease reset.

Q For all the reasons we are just discussing a moment ago, yes?
A Correct.
$Q$ Great. And the very end of that paragraph it begins with the sentence "we can get into the details if you want to call, if you would like, but we have gotten comfortable with that risk and David and Craig believe we can get a BBB rating on the loan with the majority of the rating agencies."

What is that a reference to, the BBB rating with the majority of the rating agencies?
$A$ So that would be a triple $B$ rating, which is investment grade. So we would be just letting him know that we thought that our worst case would be having the lowest end of an investment grade loan which would be a triple $B$ rating and the agencies that we use at the time I believe were Standard & Poor's and Fitch. So we did an analysis of how we thought they would look at our cash flow and we were able to back into at worst case a triple B.

Q So still contemplating whether you could securitize the loan and if so, what it would look like?

A Well, we knew we could securitize the loan. It was a question of whether we could get investment grade treating and this was saying we believe that we would.
Q Great, thank you.
And then you state "please let us know your thoughts or if you would like to have a conversation later today. I was planning on sending them a one-page term sheet after we finalize our quote and we could go from there."

Is it a fair reading that at this point you were prepared to issue a term sheet on the 40 Wall Street loan but had not yet done it?

A We were preparing but we needed Brian sign off before we did that. So this was the initial e-mail to let him know how we felt and if he wanted to have a discussion about it, then we could discuss it and we were hoping to be able to issue a term sheet.
Q Do you recall if there was any further discussion after this message?
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1833
A I'm sure there was.
Q Okay. You can put that to the side.
MS. FAHERTY: Okay. I've marked for identification plaintiff's next exhibit, PX-00648. I put it on the screen as well. And I'll turn your attention to very bottom second page of this e-mail. You can zoom out a little bit.
A You mean the top? The top of the second page?
Q I'm just drawing your attention to the bottom message on that second page and I'll just ask does this look like the message we were just looking at a moment ago?

A Yes.
Q Yes, okay.
A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: So zooming out from there and you can now go to the front page.
Q Does this e-mail thread appear to be a continuation of overview you were providing to Brian Harris in order to be able to issue the term sheet on the 40 Wall Street loan?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And Mr. Harris did in fact have some questions, yes?

A He said okay with me. And then he just mentioned that he thinks that they're going to want to rate lock.
Q But otherwise you -- Mr. Harris indicated to you it would be okay for you to issue the term sheet, yes?
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1834

1 A Yes.
2 Q Okay. And very top message of this thread is an e-mail from Mike Mazzei to you, yes?
4 A Yes.
5 Q And Brian Harris, yes?
6 A I don't believe he was on this e-mail -- oh, yes, he's cc'd. Apologies. Yes, yes.

Q And he says "did we possibly get something done today. Okie doke;" right?

A Yes.
Q Okay. Looking at your message, the one right below the okeydoke, you wrote a message to Michael Harris and Michael Mazzei at 4:54 p.m., same day, April 23rd. Do you see that there?

A Yes.
Q In that message you write, "Okay, they would prefer to close in July instead of November."

Is that a reference to the Trump Organization?
A Correct.
Q Do you recall as you sit here today that the Trump Organization was interested in closing the 40 Wall Street transaction in July instead of November?

A I don't. I recall reading the e-mail, but I don't recall that part of this.

Q Any reason to doubt that at the time that you wrote
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1835
this e-mail that that was your understanding?
A No.
Q And your message continues, "And not increase the spread by ten BPS" or BPS, right?

A Basis points, yes.
Q Basis points, yes. Thank you.
"In July, their prepayment penalty is 6 million as opposed to 5 million in November, so we quoted 161 million, giving them the difference in loan proceeds;" right? You wrote that?

A Yes.
Q And then next it says, "Donald is on board and ready to go." Is that Donald J. Trump?

A Yes.
Q And then it says, "Ivanka and Don, Jr. are back on Monday and will be notified then."
Who is the Ivanka referenced here?
A Donald J. Trump's daughter.
Q Is that Ivanka Trump?
A Yes.
Q And the Don, Jr. Who is that a reference to?
A That's Donald Trump, Jr., Donald's son.
Q So this statement, "Ivanka and Don, Jr. are back on Monday and will be notified then," is that a reference to Ivanka and Don, Jr. will be notify of the information contained in this

| 22 Q I've marked as Plaintiff's next exhibit PX-00626 and | 22 recognize the signature? |
| 23 handed it forward to the witness, so I'll give you a minute. | 23 A I |
| 24 We put it on the screen, Mr. Weisselberg. Let me know | 24 Q Whose signature is that? |

| 1 A Yes, got it. | 1 Q And at the very bottom it says there is an enclosure, |
| 2 Q Okay. Do you recognize this document on the screen? | 2 yes? |
| 3 A Yes. | 3 A Yes. |
| 4 Q What do you recognize it this to be? | 4 MS. FAHERTY: And turn the page. |
| 5 A This was the cover letter to the signed application I | 5 Q And then I'll just invite you to confirm whether you |

| 7 Q And this document is on 40 Wall Street LLC letterhead, | 7 A Yes. |

| 13 A Yes. | 13 Q Okay. |
| 14 Q And the name associated with 40 Wall Street LLC, is | 14 MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I move to admit this into |

| 16 A Correct. | 16 MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations. |
| 17 Q And it's addressed to Ladder Capital Finance LLC. | 17 THE COURT: Granted. It's in. |
| 18 That's where you work; right? | 18 (Whereupon, the item previously referred to is |
| 19 A Correct. | 19 received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 626 in |
| 20 Q And the message is a proposed 161 million refinancing | 20 evidence.) |
| 21 of 40 Wall Street, New York, New York, yes? | 21 Q And turning your attention to the PDF page six? |
| 22 A Correct. | 22 MS. FAHERTY: It's 9517. |
| 23 Q And Mr. Allen Weisselberg writes to you: | 23 Q Do you recognize the signature at the bottom of that |
| 24 "Dear, Jack. Enclosed please find the term sheet for | 24 page? |
| 25 the above-referenced loan executed by the borrower." | 25 A Yes. |

$1 \quad$ Q Who do you recognize that signature to be?
2 A That's Donald J. Trump.
Q Okay. And Donald J. Trump on behalf of 40 Wall Street LLC?

A Correct.
Q As president?
A Yes.
Q And I'll draw your attention to the prior page, so ending in the number 9516, drawing your attention to the paragraph that is titled "Reserves." Do you see that there?

A Yes.
Q And was a term included within this term sheet under the "Reserves" paragraph that "the borrower will be required to establish at closing reserves for material, deferred maintenance and initial deposits into tax reserves. In addition, ongoing reserves will be collected for taxes and such other purposes as lender may be determine" -- "may determine to be necessary as a result of its due diligence review and underwriting.

In lieu of reserves for insurance, tenant improvements, leasing commissions, capital expenditures and ground lease payments, Donald J. Trump may provide a personal guaranty.

In lieu of reserves for free rent periods (at closing only), Donald J. Trump will guaranty all outstanding free rent, which will burn off on a lease by lease basis when the respective tenant begins to pay full, unabated rent."

Page 1841
Do you see that there?
A Yes.
Q Did you also have that understanding that as termed within this term sheet that Donald J. Trump was going to provide a personal guaranty with regards to free rent periods?
A Yes.
Q And was he also going to provide a personal guaranty in lieu of reserves for insurance, tenant improvements, leasing commissions, capital expenditures, and ground lease payments?

A Yes.
Q I'll just turn your attention to the Exhibit A, Closing Conditions document page.

A Okay.
Q And drawing your attention to paragraph 8. I'll read it and then I'll ask you a question.

Paragraph 8 states: "As a closing condition, the delivery of financial statements (including tax returns) from borrower and any guarantor, WeiserMazars LLP, will be acceptable to lender in connection with any accounting or reporting obligation in the loan documents requiring an acceptable accounting firm. The loan documents will provide that borrower's annual financial statement shall be audited by an acceptable accounting firm (i.e., WeiserMazars LLP.)" 4. Do you see that there?
A Yes.
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1842
Q And were they in fact a condition included in this term sheet at Exhibit 8 that the delivery of financial statements was apart of a closing condition? That's a bad question.

A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: Thank you. Okay. We can move on from that document.
Q With regards to the guaranty is it fair to say based on what we were just looking at in that term sheet that the guaranty would be sufficient in lieu of reserves?

A Yes.
Q Any conditions on that guaranty? Was there requirements about a certain amount of that guaranty for the -that to be in lieu of the reserves?

A The guaranty was going to be a specific number that they were guaranteeing.
Q And why is that?
A We were going to during diligence figure out exactly what those reserves would have been had it not been guaranteed and actually posted and have him guarantee that and typically we go a little bit higher because cash is always better than a guaranty, so the guaranty we typically make a little bit higher.

Q Great. Thank you. Appreciate that.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I've marked as plaintiff's next exhibit PX-01396. I've handed it up to the witness.

Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)
Page 1843
1 Q Mr. Weisselberg, let me know when you have it in front of you.

A I do.
Q Okay. Does this appear to be an e-mail from you dated May 19, 2015 at 11:46 a.m. to Allen Weisselberg and David Cohen?
6 A Yes.
7 Q And there is a copy to several names on this e-mail.
8 Mark Ableman. Who is Mark Ableman?
9 A He was our in-house transaction manager.
10 Q He worked at Ladder?
A At Ladder, correct.
Q Craig Robertson. We heard his name earlier. He was an underwriter at Ladder?

A Correct.
Q Was he the specific underwriter at the 40 Wall transaction?
A He was the underwriter on the loan.
Q Michael Bette. Who is that?
A He was the junior underwriter on the loan.
Q Scott Weinberg?
A He was our outside counsel.
Q John Bauco?
A Bauco, yes. He was also outside counsel.
Q And Sarah S. Gochberg?
A Sarah is our closer on the loan.

Page 1844
$1 \quad Q$ And the subject is 40 Wall; right?
2 A Correct.
3 Q And David Cohen. Is David Cohen somebody who works for Ladder Capital?

A No, he works for the Trump Organization.
Q And what is your understanding of who David Cohen is at the Trump Organization?

A He was in-house counsel.
Q And your message to Allen and David Cohen, it reads: "Allen/David, please confirm the following: One, at closing, Trump Corporation or an affiliate would sign a 15 -year master lease for the currently vacant 20,000 square foot retail space at a rent of 1.4 million in the event that a lease with Balducci or an acceptable replacement tenant has not been signed.

Upon the execution of the Balducci (or replacement) lease, the master lease will be terminated" -- "will terminated." You would agree with me there probably is a typo there?
A There is a couple typos there.
Q I'm trying.
"Additionally, Donald J. Trump will personally guarantee the lease until a new lease is signed."

Do you see that there?
A Yes.
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Q Okay. What is a 15-year master lease for the vacant 20,000 square feet retail space?
A So a master lease is something we will use with sponsors if a lease is not signed yet for a vacant space, we will have the sponsor sign a master lease for that so that we can include that rent and as soon as the tenant actually takes the space and signs the lease, then that master lease will go away. And if it doesn't, then the master lease stays in place for the life of the loan. And in this case, five years beyond.
Q And explain to me what's a master lease.
A A master lease is when a sponsor signs a lease for a vacant space at their property.

Q So they're undertaking the obligation to make the payments on that space, is that fair?

A Correct.
Q Okay. And is this e-mail a reflection that on May 19, 2015, Ladder Capital, including you, had an understanding that Balducci was potentially going to be leasing the 20,000 square feet retail space referenced here?
A Potentially, yes.
Q Okay. And then there is a reference to a personal guaranty for the lease. Is that different than the master lease itself?
A The master lease is not always guaranteed. They'll sign it and they'll be obligated to make those payments. We
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1846
1 went a step further and made them personally guarantee that he would pay the rent on that lease.

Q Got it. Thank you.
And then Point 2, it says: "You will send an additional good-faith deposit of $$ 75,000 ; "$ right?
A Yes.
Q Do you recall if you did in fact receive that $$ 75,000$ ?
A I don't recall if we received it, but typically when the legal bill starts to go above the deposit we have we ask sponsors to put up more money to make sure we can cover it, so I assume they did pay it, but I don't recall.

Q And then number three you asked that they confirm that "we have your permission to move forward, without restriction, towards the closing of the loan (legal searches, insurance, etc.)" Do you see that there?

A Yes.
Q And why did you need that confirmation for permission to move forward without restriction toward the closing of the loan?
A This was in response to the cover letter on the application that was signed that told us to wait on spending any money until a certain point and we were confirming we were going to hire lawyers now, we'll need money.

Q And maybe appraisers, too?
A It doesn't mention it parenthetically here, but I would

Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)
Page 1847
1 assume.
2 Q Okay. And then you write: "Please reply to this 3 e-mail with your confirmation that we are all on the same page 4 and will move towards a July 2, 2015 closing." You see that there?
A Yes.
7 Q Was it your understanding that you were moving towards a July 2,2015 closing for the 40 Wall transaction?
A At that time, yes.
Q Do you see that black Sharpie notation in the middle section of the page towards the right side?

A Yes.
Q Do you recognize that black Sharpie marking?
A I do not.
Q Did you write "okay" on this document?
A No. This -- I actually never saw this document prior to prep because this was Allen Weisselberg's e-mail that was printed, so I would have received a response to this with approval. That looks like it's an internal approval from the Trump side.

Q And I'll just ask you to turn to the second page of this document.

A Okay.
Q And reference you into the middle of this document.
25 This appears to be a wire transfer for about $$ 75,000$; right?

Q Was the Balducci's lease ever signed?

A I don't believe it was signed.
Q Do you have any understanding as whether -- as to whether there was a different tenant that they were seeking to place in that same space as identified for Balducci's?
A Yes they were looking at Dean & DeLuca.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I marked for identification Plaintiff's Exhibit P X-1307 and put it on the screen. Your Honor, I neglected to move the last exhibit in. I move to admit that prior exhibit.

MR. SUAREZ: Objection. Statute of limitations. Relevance.

THE COURT: Overruled and overruled.
MS. FAHERTY: Thank you.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1059.)
Q Mr. Weisselberg, drawing your attention to the very top message in the e-mail thread, this appears to be a message from Donna Kidder, the employee from the Trump Organization, dated June 24, 2015, 10:04 a.m., yes?
A Yes.
Q To Allen Weisselberg and David Cohen, right?
A Yes.
Q The e-mail here says, "Lawyer said they didn't have a term sheet." You didn't receive this particular message, did ## you?

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1854

A It doesn't appear that way.
Q This message appears to be in response to a thread that you are on. Do you see the message right below from you, Jack Weisselberg, dated June 24, 2015 to Donna Kidder, David Cohen and Allen Weisselberg with the subject "re Dean & DeLuca"? Do you see that there?

A Yes, but the time is a little confusing.
Q I completely agree with you. Sometimes when these documents get printed from the discovery process, time works differently in metadata.
A But yes, I do recognize that.
Q Any reason to believe that time would have gone backwards for that uppermost message?
A No.
Q No. Same here. Okay. So in the message that Donna appears to have forwarded on, you are writing with regards to Dean & DeLuca, that you would like to see the term sheet that they are expecting to sign prior to the lease since the lease won't be signed prior to closing. Thanks, Donna.

And I'll give you a moment to look through this full thread if you want to refresh your recollection, but do you have any understanding as to why you were writing to Donna Kidder on June 24, 2015 about Dean & DeLuca and a term sheet that they are expecting to sign prior to the lease?

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1855

A No.

THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
MR. FAHERTY: So I'll -- we'll go further on to the bottom of this first page if this helps. Keep going. Right there. Thank you, Ashley.
Q So at 11:00 a.m., this appears to be an e-mail from you to David Cohen, Donna Kidder, Allen Weisselberg, all at the Trump Organization, right?

A Correct.
Q The message is just Dean & DeLuca, no "re"?
A No forward, right. Correct.
Q And your message says, "Do we have an unsigned LOI/term sheet for Dean & DeLuca." What is an LOI/term?
A Letter of intent. Many tenants sign a letter of intent with the basic terms and then they negotiate the lease after. So I was trying to see if we could get the preliminary document prior to the full lease being executed.
Q Okay. And then you write, "I need that within the hour, if possible. Trying to get the appraiser in the right spot but at least need that for now. Has one been drawn up yet." Do you see that there?
A Ido.
Q What does it mean that you're trying to get the appraiser in the right spot?
A I don't recall.

Q Was this information you were seeking to provide to an appraiser with regards to the 40 Wall Street transaction?
A I was probably trying to get it to the underwriter who was getting this request from the appraiser prior to finalizing the report, but I don't recall the context of this e-mail.

Q Is that your specific recollection or just as you sit here today, you -- your surmise?

A After reading it, I'm surmising that that's what it was. I did not have direct contact with the appraiser.
Q And the word "appraiser," is that interchangeable for underwriter at Ladder Capital?

A No.
Q But as you're sitting here, that word "appraiser" signifies for you the underwriter could be the appraiser; is that your testimony?

A No. I'm saying that the underwriter requested something for the appraiser, so I'm letting the sponsor know that the appraiser is requesting a document.
Q Okay. Thank you.
A Sure.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I move to admit this document into evidence.

MR. SUAREZ: Objection. Statute of limitations.
Relevance.
THE COURT: Overruled. Granted. It is in.

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

Page 1857
MS. FAHERTY: I have two more and I will be zippity-doo-dah, Your Honor, for today.

THE COURT: Understood.
MS. FAHERTY: Can I have the next document, please.
Your Honor, I'm introducing an exhibit identified by PX 1249, okay.
Q This appears to be a message from David Cohen at the Trump Organization to you, right?
A Yes.
Q June 24, 2015 at 9:24 p.m., yeah?
A Yes.
Q Do you recognize that additional Trump Organization e-mail address Tess Carathansis?

A It looks familiar, but I don't recall having too much interaction with her.

Q And the subject of this message is, "forward: Dean & DeLuca draft term sheet," yes?
A Yes.
Q And there is an attachment that I'll represent to you is the document included here. So if you could just take a moment to look at the next page. You see that there?
A Yes.
Q And it is a one-, two-, three-, four-page document.
24 And if we go to the very last page of that four-page attachment,
25 you see that it's two signature blocks unfilled in, right?

A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: And, Ashley, turning to the first page of that, the term sheet, so the attachment.
Q Do you see it says here, "[copy and paste on Trump letterhead]"?

A Yes.
Q Dated June 24, 2015?
A Yes.
Q It says, "Proposal for Dean & DeLuca"?
A Yes.
Q And then it continues, "for the space at 40 Wall Street," yes?
A Yes.
Q Okay. And then turning to the e-mail, the transmitted document, David Cohen says to you, "See attached. The final won't necessarily be in this form. I didn't put it on the letterhead. Is that okay." Do you see that there?

A Yes.
Q Any reason to doubt that you didn't receive in e-mail?
A No.
Q Do you recall receiving this e-mail and the attachment?
A No.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I move to admit this exhibit the e-mail and cover -- and attachment.

THE COURT:

Page 1859
MR. SUAREZ: Objection. Statute of limitations. Relevance.

THE COURT: Overruled. It's in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1249.)

MS. FAHERTY: The next one will be two seconds. THE COURT: Go ahead.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, there is PX 1428.
Q Okay. This is an e-mail from David Cohen to you on June 24, 2015 a few minutes later at 9:40 p.m. The subject is 40 Wall and there's an attachment.

A Yes.
Q And at the bottom, there's a scan e-mail "@trumporg forward." It appears that there was a document forwarded that was ultimately forwarded to you and I'll ask you to turn to the attachment to this message.
A Okay.
Q Do you see that there is a letterhead, " 40 Wall Street, L.L.C."?

A Yes.
Q From 725 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York?
A Yes.
Q Dated June 24, 2015, yes?
A Yes.
25 Q And again, proposal for Dean & DeLuca at the 40 Wall

Street space, yes?

A Yes.
Q And if you just quickly look at the very last page of this attachment, you see two signature blocks, yes?

A Yes.
Q Unsigned?
A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I move to admit --
Q Any reason to doubt you didn't receive this message?
A No.
MS. FAHERTY: Okay. Your Honor. I move to admit.
MR. SUAREZ: Objection. Statute of limitations, relevance.

THE COURT: Overruled. It is in evidence.
MS. FAHERTY: We can rest for this afternoon.
We'll continue tomorrow with this witness.
THE COURT: Okay. I'll direct the witness not to discuss this case or your testimony with anybody until you're all through with your testimony. You're excused from the witness stand for now.
(Witness exited the stand.)
THE COURT: I understand we have some housekeeping matters to discuss. You want to approach?
(Whereupon, a discussion was held off the record.)
(Whereupon, the trial was adjourned to October 19,

JACK WEISSELBERG, DAVID MCARDLE October 19, 2023

NICOLE C. ROBINSON

Original File 101923TRUMP.txt

received from the Trump Organization?
A It looks familiar. I can't guarantee this is what is I saw.

Q But no specific recollection of this document, but a general recollection. Is that fair?

A Correct.

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I move to admit this into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in.
MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled.
MS. FAHERTY: Thank you.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 504 in evidence.)
Q And I want to turn your attention to a couple of pages in this document, so I'll ask that you turn to the third page of your document. And if you need help, we'll put it on the screen, as well, okay?

So you'll see that this is the independent accountant's compilation report. And we'll scroll down to the bottom of this note. We'll go to the date.

And just confirming, Mr. Weisselberg, you see that this is the Statement of Financial Condition of Donald J. Trump for June 30th -- as of June 30, 2014, yes?
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1876
A Yes.
Q Okay. And the accountant's compilation report is signed on November 7, 201. Do you see that there?
A Yes.
Q I'll represent to you that this is the date that this document was compiled and issued to be finalized, okay?
A Okay.
Q Bearing that date in mind, do you - would you agree with me that this is probably the financials that you would have received in connection with the 40 Wall Street loan transaction?
A I can't confirm, but probably.
Q Okay. And we'll go over some dates as to when the loan transaction closed, but I'll represent to you the 2015 Statement of Financial Condition was not issued as of the end of the 40 Wall transaction, okay?

A Okay.
Q Okay. All right. Now, let's flip to the next page.
You'll see there is a page titled "Assets." Do you see it there?
A Yes.
Q Okay. Looking at the line it states: "Cash and marketable securities." Can you read the amount that's listed there?
A 302,300,000.
25 Q Do you have any understanding as to what that figure
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1877
1 represents? Is that liquid assets?
A That would be liquidity.
Q Liquidity?
A Yes.
Q Okay. Let's turn to the next page. I'll draw your attention to the line that states "net worth." Can you read that figure there?

A $5,777,540,000$.
Q Roughly 5.8 billion, is that what that number reflects?
A Just short of 5.8 billion.
Q Okay, great. Thank you. And we can put that aside.
Just a broader question. Is it a fair understanding that Ladder relied on the statements of financial condition's submissions as part of the underlying of their 40 Wall loan?
A For the 40 Wall loan liquidity is what we were really paying attention to because we had some contingent liabilities, recourse obligations. So we wanted to make sure there was enough liquidity to cover the obligations.

Q And I don't think that quite fully responds to my question. My question was that you relied upon the Statement of Financial Condition, so would that be a yes?

A The net worth statement is one of many things that we look at in the underwriting process. I wouldn't say it was a key factor.
Q It was a factor that you relied upon?

Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)
Page 1878
A It was a factor.
Q Thank you, okay.
Were there other documents you reviewed to determine that Mr. Trump had the specific net worth?

A Liquidity, no.
Q Okay, thank you.
All right. I'm going to hand up a document, and while I'm doing that I'll just ask if you're familiar with an acronym, an "RUC memo?"

A Yes.
Q What is an RUC memo?
A RUC stands for Risk and Underwriting Committee and that is what we do for all large loans or unique loans.

Q Okay. Are you -- the RUC memo, that's something that Ladder Capital has as part of its business practices; correct?

A Right.
Q So I'm going to have my trial vendor put up on the screen the document I just passed forward to you. It's --

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I've marked for identification plaintiff's next exhibit. It's marked PX-00645 and I'll put that up on your screen.
Q This is an e-mail from Craig Robertson at Ladder Capital dated June 29, 2015, 10:47 a.m. and it's addressed to the Conduit Committee at Ladder Capital.

Did we discuss that committee yesterday, the Conduit

Page 1879

Committee?

A We did.
Q And the Conduit Committee, they're reviewing the terms on the -- the loan deal; right?
A Yes.
Q And the names that are listed in this e-mail you'll see them all up on your screen. Do you recognize that all of the names included in the bcc line? Were those all -- excuse me -members of the Conduit Committee?
A No.
Q Who are the names listed in that bcc entry there?
A They're Ladder employees that may have been involved in the transaction at some level, so they were included on this to know when the committee meeting was.

Q Okay. And the Conduit Committee, that was the e-mail addressed list we saw yesterday; right?

A It may have included -- some of them may have excluded some of them. I'm not sure at this time what Conduit Committee covered.

Q But there was a generic e-mail mailbox designated for the Conduit Committee as indicated here on this message; right?

A Correct.
Q And so sending an e-mail to the Conduit Committee at LadderCapital.com ensured that the members of the Conduit Committee receives this e-mail; right?
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1880
A Correct.
Q Okay, great.
And the subject of this message is the RUC memo: 40 Wall Street; right?

A Correct.
Q And then there appears to be an attachment, one is an image and the other is $\mathbf{4 0}$ Wall Street RUC memo.PDF and I'll represent to you, Mr. Weisselberg, I attached specific attachments so can you take a moment to look through the attachment that l've included in this exhibit and just confirm for me that that looks like the RUC memo for the 40 Wall Street transaction?

A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I move to admit this into evidence, please.

MR. KISE: Your Honor, just two things: One, statute of limitations; the other is I want to point out a bit of New York history. This document does confirm that the property at 40 Wall was in fact the tallest building --

MS. FAHERTY: You are stealing my thunder. I was going to highlight --

MR. KISE: I wasn't sure you were going to say --
THE WITNESS: I believe it was for a month or two. I think it was the tallest building for a month.

MS. FAHERTY: Only for a month.

J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1881

THE COURT: Overruled on statute of limitations grounds.
Q So let's focus on the first cover e-mail, please.
Were you there at the -- is there an RUC committee presentation when you have the RUC memo?
A Yes.
Q And were you in attendance at that committee presentation?
A I believe at the time it was in person, so yes, I would have been the one presenting.
Q Okay. So you were apart of this process, fair to say?
A Yes.
Q Okay, great.
In the very first paragraph Craig states that this is the RUC memo for 40 Wall Street and it includes some of the terms -- it includes the terms for the loan deal that we've been talking about since yesterday; right?

A Yes.
Q Okay. Turning to the second paragraph it says that "the loan proceeds will be utilized to refinance an existing mortgage originated by Capital One Bank (the prior loan which featured a principal balance of 160 million (137.31/SF)."

This is a reflection of Ladder Capital's understanding of the Capital One loan that they were going to be refinancing, yes?

Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)
Page 1882
A Correct.
Q Okay. And then the next paragraph begins, "As of June 18, 2015, Cushman & Wakefield appraised the property at a value of 540 million ( 463.44 per SF)."

Is it a fair assessment of this line in this e-mail that as of June 18, 2015 Ladder Capital had received an appraisal for the 40 W all Street property at a value of $$ 540$ million?
A I believe we received the report shortly after, but the value was as of that date.

Q Okay. So Ladder was aware of that value as of that date, yes?

A Correct.
Q Okay. And then it includes information that a loan amount will be 160 million with a 3.665 percent interest rate; right?

A Correct.
Q And then there is a 25-year amortization on the loan.
Do you recall that that 25 -year amortization rate contemplated the reset on the ground lease?
A There were various factors. I believe that was one of the driving forces was to make sure that the principal balance of the loan had ammed down to a level that we would be comfortable with the rent -- the ground rent reset.

Q And just to confirm, you made a reference to "ammed down." That means to amortize down, yes?

Page 1883
A Correct. The principal balance of the loan amortized down.
Q Okay, thank you.
And the next sentence, does this refresh your recollection that the loan did in fact close in or about July 2nd of 2015?
A It was scheduled to close July 2nd, according to this. I believe it was around that date.

Q Let's turn to the memo itself.
And on that very first cover sheet there is a picture of 40 Wall Street --
MS. FAHERTY: We missed a page. Next line.
Thanks, Ashley.
Q Can you just tell me what that acronym under the picture of the building says, the address and then there is a loan number: "OWL-150430-03." Does that number have any particular significance or meaning to the combination of letters and numbers?

A The letters represent outstanding whole loan and the numbers represent the date that the application was signed. So in this case it was April 30, 2015 and the 03 at the end means that it was the third loan that we had an application signed that day. So on April 30th of 2015, three loans or at least three loans were signed up and this was the third one.
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1884
Q And that's applications at Ladder Capital, not applications with the Trump Organization; right?

A Correct.
Q Okay, great.
Let's turn to the next page. And I'll just ask you broadly with regards to the RUC memo is it a fair characterization that they're organized in a certain manner? For example, we're looking at a page right now that states "executive summary." So is the organization broken into sections of this memo?
A Yes. At this time this was the format for all committee memos.

Q Okay, great.
And so this first section we're going into is the executive summary section of the RUC memo; correct?
A Correct.
Q Okay. So looking at this section in the middle of the page, you'll see that there is a number one with some words printed there. Do you see that section?

A Yes.
Q Okay. And this point, number one states: "The physical occupancy presented above includes 118,500 square foot retail space with respect to the sponsor is in negotiations with Dean & DeLuca for a 15 (number 15) year lease at a rental rate of $1,400,000$ ( $$ 75.68$ per square foot). Such lease is expected

1 to be executed shortly after closing. At closing, an entity controlled by Donald J. Trump will sign a 12 (12) year master lease to occupy the suite at substantially similar economics, which lease will be guaranteed by Donald J. Trump.

Mr. Trump will be required to make monthly payments under the master lease for the term of the loan until the space is leased to a tenant acceptable to lender when substantially similar economics to the Dean & DeLuca lease and such tenant takes physical possession of the space and commences payment of full unabated rents." Do you so he that there?

A I do.
Q And is this paragraph acknowledging in the RUC memo that there is a master lease to be included as part of the deal terms; right?
A Yes.
Q And that Donald J. Trump will execute that master lease; right?
A Yes.
Q And that there will be a guarantee that Donald J. Trump executes; right?

A Yes.
Q And in this particular report there is a reference to Dean & DeLuca. It's no longer Balducci's, yes?

A That's correct.
Q All right. Let's turn to the next page.
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1886

Looking at the top paragraph, it's still the "Executive Summary" section. This section is titled -- subsection is titled "Reserve Comments." And I'll draw your attention to the bottom two paragraphs of this section. It states:
"In lieu of ongoing reserves for insurance, tenant improvements, leasing commissions, capital expenditures and ground lease payments, Donald J. Trump will provide a personal guaranty." Similar discussion as we had yesterday, this is recognizing the Donald J. Trump guaranty in connection with those reserves, yes?
A Yes.
Q And the next sentence, the "TI/LC" is that tenant improvements and lease commissions?
A Yes.
Q "And free rent reserves outstanding at closing are presented below," and that's a reference to this number - this chart on this particular page, yes?
A Yes.
Q Okay. "And in lieu of any -- an upfront reserve for these items, Donald J. Trump will provide a personal guaranty for such amounts outstanding," yes?
A Yes.
Q So, again, the reflection of the guaranty has been included in the executive summary; yes?
A Yes.

Q Okay. Let's turn to the next page, still within the executive summary. Third paragraph. This is again acknowledging the Capital One deal that it was going to be refinanced by the Ladder deal, yes?

A Yes.
Q And again, there is a reference to the $$ 540$ million Cushman appraised value. That was the value Ladder had in its possession as of the time of this RUC memo, yes?
A Yes.
Q Okay. We'll go to the next page, please.
And in this portion of the RUC memo, Executive Summary section, there appears to be an analysis of the ground lease, yes?

A Yes.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. We've held back with all the leading questions, but I think at some point it has to be more of a direct, Your Honor.

THE COURT: As usual, I see both sides. You can't testify -- you know, you can't suggest an answer. If you want to clarify something, okay, but just be cautious in that regard.

MS. FAHERTY: Sure, Your Honor.
Q And this was included in the RUC memo because it was relevant to the loan deal. Is that a fair characterization?

A Yes.
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1888
MS. FAHERTY: Turn to the next page, please.
Q This is the final page of the Executive Summary section. There is a paragraph in there subtitled "Sponsor."

Do you recall who the sponsor was of this deal?
A Yes.
Q Who was that?
A Donald J. Trump.
Q So is this section included in here to describe who Donald J. Trump is?
A Yes.
Q And I'd like you to look at the very last paragraph contained in this section of the sponsor on the executive summary page.

Do you recall -- I'm drawing your attention to the very last sentence, which reads: "As of June 30, 2014, Mr. Trump reported a net worth of nearly $$ 5.8$ billion and a liquidity in excess of $$ 300$ million."

Do you recall where that information came from to be able to be included in the Executive Summary page?
A The underwriter wrote this and reviewed the financial statement. Typically this would come from a personal financial statement, but I didn't write this.
Q Would you agree with me that this information looks substantially similar to what we just reviewed in the prior exhibit, which was the Statement of Financial Condition of
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

1

Donald J. Trump as of June 30, 2014 ?
A Yes.
Q Okay, great.
THE COURT: Just I want to address all the attorneys, okay. I could have made this comment at any point. It's a pet peeve of mine when the lawyer questioning a witness comments on the answers. I don't mind "thank you," but "okay, great." No, don't do that for at least two reasons: One, it could possibly influence the testimony -following testimony; and two, I don't know whether the reporters take this down or not. So ask a question, get an answer, ask the next question, but don't comment on the answer you just heard. Thank you.
Q We'll turn to the next page. Turning your attention this is now, a section identified as "Deal Strengths," yes?
A Yes.
Q Drawing your attention to paragraph four subtitled "Conservative Loan Structure."

Is this a reflection -- well, what is your understanding of the second bullet under this particular subparagraph, "The loan features a warm body carve out guarantor, Donald J. Trump. As of June 30, 2014, Mr. Trump reported a net worth of nearly 5.8 billion and liquidity in excess of 300 million.
A Sorry, what is the question?

Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)
Page 1890
Q What is your understanding of what that is a reflection of?
A You're showing that it's a strong sponsor.
Q Does it say the word "strong" in there?
A The reflection is that it's a strong sponsor. You asked me about the reflection. This is saying that we have a strong sponsor that has a large net worth and a lot of liquidity.

Q Understood.

And this is a similar information that we saw from the prior exhibit with a net worth of 5.8 billion and liquidity in excess of 300 million; right?
A Nearly 5.8 billion, yes.
Q Information you would have received from the sponsor?
A Correct.
Q Yes. And then I'll just draw your attention to one more page. It's 13 in the document, a section titled, "Sponsorship."

A Okay.
Q And drawing your attention to that second box that states, "Financial Statement-Donald J. Trump." And then there is a box of information. It says, "Statement type: Personal financial statement, financial statement date: June 30, 2014." And then there are a series of numbers, it looks like monetary amounts. Is this information that Ladder independently put ## together?

A This is a result of what we received from the sponsor.
Q Okay, great. We can put that aside.
THE COURT: Remember, don't say "great."
MS. FAHERTY: I did it. Sorry. I'm saying it to myself, but you're right, Your Honor. I apologize.

THE COURT: I just want to comment on one other part of the examination. You read a sentence and then asked him for his reflection. Was that the word?

THE WITNESS: I believe so.
THE COURT: And then he said it reflects that there is a strong sponsor and you said "do you see the word 'sponsor' there." You asked him what it meant to him. We all know the word "sponsor" wasn't there, but so I'll leave it at that.

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I've marked as plaintiff's next exhibit, PX-00640, which I've handed up to the witness.
Q Mr. Robertson -- Mr. Weisselberg, I've also put PX 00640 on the screen for you.

Does this appear to be an e-mail from Donna Kidder at the Trump Organization addressed to Craig Robertson at Ladder Capital dated June 24, 2015, 9:10 a.m.?

A Yes.
Q And there are ccs on this e-mail, Allen Weisselberg,
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1892

you at Ladder Capital and Jeff McConney?

A Correct.
Q And the subject is "re: 40 Wall Budget Questions;" right?

A Yes.
Q And it appears that there is an attachment?
A Yes.
Q Okay. Let's go to -- further into this e-mail. It is the third page of this PDF document and there is an e-mail on Tuesday, June 23, 2015 at 10:28 a.m. from Craig Robertson at Ladder Capital to Donna Kidder with Allen Weisselberg and you as ccs on the message and the underlying subject is " 40 Wall budget questions;" right?
A Yes.
Q And remind me, Craig Robertson, he was the underwriter on the 40 Wall Street loan deal?
A He was the senior underwriter.
Q The senior underwriter?
A Yes.
Q Were you always copied on messages that Craig Robertson, Senior Underwriter, sent to the client?
A I can't confirm always, but typically the originator is cc'd on e-mails between the underwriter and the client.
Q So the general practice would be that you should be or would be copied, but you can't confirm that it was every single ## message you were copied?
J. Weisselberg - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 1893

A Correct.
Q And this message titled "40 Wall budget questions, do you have any understanding as to why Craig Robertson would have sent an e-mail to the client, the Trump Organization, about budget questions related to 40 Wall Street?

A Yes.
Q What is your understanding?
A On all deals there is a back and forth between the underwriter and the borrower with questions on the financials. Sometimes included in this e-mail there are one-time costs that would go what we call "below the line" to not property cash flow, but once every ten years, something like that.

Other times, the number may jump a lot in one year or it may go down a lot in one year, which is not typical, so we'll have questions so we can get some clarity on that and that's what this e-mail was.
Q And what is your understanding for the need for those questions? Does it result in any change in the budget or in any change in underwriting the loan?

A Yes, yes. Typically we'll be able to figure out why it happened and either the budget may change or we'll have a footnote that we can add to our underwriting about why there was such a difference in the number.
Q And when you say "the budget may change," is that the underlying client's budget or are you referring to something that Ladder Capital maintains?

A It could be both.
Q Okay. And you made reference to a one-time expense, and I'll turn your attention to page -- the page we're still on.

In Craig's 10/28 e-mail to Donna with a copy to you and Allen, middle of the -- the actual words printed on this page, Craig writes: "R\&M expenses increased by $400 \mathrm{~K}, \mathrm{4} 400,000$ ?
A Correct.
Q "Appears to include one-time expenses (highlighted differences below.)"

Is that an example of what you were just talking about, a one-time expense that the underwriter may have addressed with the client?
A It could be, yes.
Transcript continues on the following page....
$1 \quad Q$ Then there appears to be a response from the client, right?

A Yes.
Q Any understanding what occurred with regards to this particular exchange between Robertson and Ms. Kidder that you were copied on on June 24th and June 23, 2015?
A I'm sorry. What exactly are you asking?
Q I asked if you had any understanding as to what occurred as a result of this exchange.
A I don't know what the result was.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I move to admit this exhibit into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations. THE COURT: Overruled. Granted. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 640.)

MS. FAHERTY: I have another exhibit to pass up.
It's -- Your Honor, I marked them, the next document, as Plaintiff's PX-00636. I've handed it up to the witness.
Q Mr. Weisselberg, I've also put this document on the screen in case you want to review it there.
A Okay.
Q This top e-mail appears to be a message from Donna
Kidder dated June 10, 2015 addressed to you at Ladder Capital,

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1896
Jeff McConney at the Trump Organization, Allen Weisselberg at the Trump Organization. The subject is, "re: Quick questions.
And there appears to be an attachment memo to "accounting-rosenberggreenbergblahallc-partof32ndfloor40wa... pdf". You see this e-mail in front of you?

A Yes.
Q This is early June, right, June 10th?
A Yes.
MR FAHERTY: All right. Can we go to the bottom of this message up a little higher. Not the attachment. Okay. Sorry.
Q So the underlying e-mail is from you to Donna, Jeff and Allan at the Trump Organization, subject, "Quick questions." You're asking, "Can you guys help me with these questions? Craig is out today and may know these answers, but I need to get an answer back today." The reference to Craig here, is that Craig Robertson?
A Yes.
Q And you're asking about "Murphy & O'Connell's lease expired at the end of April 2015. Have they vacated the property."

What is your recollection as to who Murray and O'Connell's is or their lease?
A This is a tenant at $\mathbf{4 0} \mathbf{W}$ all.
Q And the next entry is, "LaRocca Hornik, Rosen, Greenberg & Blaha, L.L.P.'s lease expired at the end of February 2015. Have they vacated the property."

What is your understanding as to who LaRocca Hornik Rosen Greenberg & Blaha is?
A A tenant at 40 Wall Street.
Q So you're inquiring about tenants at 40 Wall Street in this message; is that correct?
A Yes. A lot of times when we close a loan, the lease expiration is right around the time we close or shortly after, so we're just getting an update on some of the tenants that were around the date that we didn't have the information when we either closed or are about to close.

Q And your understanding is that this information was necessary for Craig?

A Well, this is the kind of question that would typically come from an underwriter and for some reason, the question was coming up within the office at Ladder, so I was asking it.

Q Was this information at all relevant for the appraisal at 40 Wall Street at this time, to your understanding?
A It was prior to the date of the value, so it would be. I don't recall the size of the tenants, if it would have had a material impact; but yes, any tenant at the property would have an impact on the appraisal.

Q Okay. And you write in this message, "But I need to get an answer back today."

Page 1898
Do you recall why you needed an answer so promptly on June 10, 2015 ?

A I do not.
Q Okay.
THE COURT: "Okay" isn't as bad as "great," but try not to do it anyway.

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I move to admit this document into evidence, please.

MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations objection, sir.
THE COURT: Overruled. Granted. It's in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 636.)

MS. FAHERTY: I marked as plaintiff's next exhibit P X-625. Handed it up to the witness.
Q Mr. Weisselberg, please just take a quick look at this document and tell me whether you recognize it.
A I don't recognize the specifics of this, but it is a typical form, so I do recognize the form.

Q And do you recognize the form that this is a guaranty -- do you recognize that this document is a guaranty of recourse obligations?

A Yes.
Q And this document is executed as of July 2, 2015 by Donald J. Trump according to the second page of this document. 5 Do you see that there?

1 A I don't see it on the second page.
2 Q First page. You were right.
3 A I don't see that it was executed by him on the first page.

Q It is the very first page. Do you see that this is a document entitled, "Guaranty of Recourse Obligations."
A It needs to be signed to be executed. I don't see a signature.
Q Let's go to the very last page of this document.
A I recognize that this is an executed recourse obligation.
Q Do you recognize that signature?
A I do.
Q Whose signature do you recognize that to be?
A That's Donald J. Trump signature.
Q Is this consistent with the guaranty of recourse obligations that all of the documents we've been discussing prior to this document contemplated?
A I would have to go through to look at the numbers to see if they match the numbers; but yes, this would be the loan document signed by him.
Q No reason to doubt that it is?
A I don't know if it is consistent with the memo. A lot of times, things change after the memo, so I couldn't say without going through in-depth to know if it was the same.

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1901
Ladder Capital with a subject of "re, 40 Wall." Do you see that there?
A Yes.
Q We will go to the third page of this document and the underlying message appears to be from josh. -- I'm not going to say it. I'm going to spell it. M-R-O-Z-I-N-S-K-I @ crenews.com, sent on Tuesday August 4, 2015, addressed to Hope Hicks. The subject is " 40 Wall."

Do you see that document there?
A Yes.
Q It appears in sum and substance that "I'm a reporter from Commercial Real Estate Direct" and he states, Hope Hicks was listed as a press contact on a recently -- released recently issue by the Trump Organization and Trump owns 40 Wall Street in Manhattan. There is a reference to "Ladder Capital has provided $$ 160$ million of debt against the property." The individual states he had several questions and you can see within the body of this message there are several questions, right?
A Yes.
Q Is this the message you recall your father forwarding to you to get some input on how to respond?

A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: Let's turn to the next message in the chain. If we can scroll up just a little bit.

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

Q Fair to say that this signed executed version is a final version of the terms of the recourse guaranty in connection with the 40 Wall Street deal, right?

A Yes, fair to say that.
Q You can put that to the side, please.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I'd like to move that into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. Grant the. It's in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiffs Exhibit 625.)
Q Mr. Weisselberg, in connection with the 40 Wall Street deal, do you recall whether you received an inquiry from your father to respond to certain press questions about the deal?

A He was asking for my input on questions from the press.
THE COURT: You don't have to take down -- if it is now, we can move on, but sometimes it sounds like "I agree" or something, so --

MS. FAHERTY: It is a tic. We marked as the next Exhibit PX-1062. We'll put it up on the screen.
Q The very top e-mail in this thread on Plaintiff's Exhibit 1062 is an e-mail from Weisselberg at trumporg.com. Is that Allen Weisselberg?
A Yes.
Q Dated August 4, 2015, 7:35 p.m., addressed to you at

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1902
Q It appears that Hope Hicks at trumporg.com or hhicks@trumporg.com forwarded this message on August 4, 2015 to Amanda Miller or amiller@trumporg.com. Do you know who Amanda Miller is?
A Yes.
Q Who is Amanda Miller?
A An employee at the Trump Organization at the time.
$Q$ Do you know what her position is at the organization?
A I do not.
Q It is also addressed to Donald Trump Jr. or djtjr@trumporg.com. Do you see that there?
A Yes.
Q Then the next address on this e-mail address is Allen Weisselberg. That's your father, right?
A Yes.
Q And Ms. Hicks writes, "Please see below and let me know what guidance you would like to provide, if any," right?
A Yes.
Q And then from there, is that when your father forwarded you the message at $3: 12$ p.m.?

A It would appear that way.
Q And your father, Mr. Allen Weisselberg's, message to you in sum and substance says, "Anything you want me to add when I call the writer back? See below," right?
25 A Yes.

Q If we go to your message at 3:26 p.m., there appears to be a pretty fulsome response. Is this the inputs you -- are the inputs you provided to your father included in the body of this message?
A They could be, but I couldn't be sure.
Q I didn't hear you the answer.
A I couldn't be sure if it was. I believe so.
Q And the very first entry, it states, " $$ 540$ million value, so 29.6 percent."
Any understanding as to what that particular line entry references, the $$ 540$ million value?

A His initial question was what was the LTV on the deal, so this was the loan to value.

Q And what does the $$ 540$ million represent?
A It says the $\$ 540$ million value, so the $\mathbf{2 9 . 6}$ percent is our loan to that value.

Q And is that also the appraised value of what the 40 Wall Street asset?
A It is.
MS. FAHERTY: Thank you. I will move onto the next exhibit before I move to admit it, Your Honor.

MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations objection.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in evidence.
MS. FAHERTY: Thank you Your Honor.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)
Page 1904
Plaintiff's Exhibit 1062.)
Q I know we discussed it, but just confirming the 40 Wall Street deal was ultimately securitized?

A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: I've handed to the witness the document I've marked as PX-1070. Putting it on your screen here.
Q This is a message from you dated August 4, 2016 addressed to Allen Weisselberg. Subject, "Forward, here's the note from Trepp and an excerpt from Moody's."

Do you see that forward there?
A I'm sorry. Which part are you referring to, the e-mail from me to him or --
Q Just confirming you forwarded this message to Allen Weisselberg, your father, on August 4, 2016, right?
A Yes.
THE COURT: Question for the witness. Are there any other Allen Weisselbergs in this universe that you know of?

THE WITNESS: I don't think so.
THE COURT: All right. So why don't we just call him "Allen Weisselberg," not "your father," not "your father Allen Weisselberg," et cetera. So any reference to Allen Weisselberg is Allen Weisselberg.

MS. FAHERTY: Appreciate the direction, Your Honor.

JACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)  Page 1905

THE COURT: Okay.
MR. KISE: To the extent we can, I know we're moving this along and we are not trying to press, but a lot of these questions are leading questions. They're just -- they're not framed in the direct, the normal sense --

THE COURT: Right, without agreeing or disagreeing with you.

Ms. Faherty --
MR. KISE: Not really officially objecting.
THE COURT: I'm not officially ruling, but we take your point.
Q What do you recall that this message is forwarding here, Mr. Weisselberg?
A Are you referring to the message that I forwarded to Allen? I was forwarding the response to a question that he had asked us from our head of securitization.
Q And for what reason were you forwarding that response?
A They had e-mailed and asked the question about why they were on the "watch list." So this was the response from our head of securitization.
Q So if you scroll down to the second page of this document, is this what you're referring to, that there's a message between emily.flitter@thomsonreuters.com, dated August 4, 2016, to Allen Weisselberg with the subject, "Here's

ACK WEISSELBERG - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

the note from Trepp and an excerpt from Moody's"?
A Yes.
THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
Q What is Trepp?
A Trepp is a service that publicly distributes information about securitized loans as well as other loans just regarding the rate that the lender/ servicer -- it gives you all -- all public information about the loan.
Q And the reference to an excerpt from Moody's, what is Moody's?
A Moody's is a rating agency.
Q And the - the underlying message from Emily Flitter includes a box and one of the boxes, there is a title, "Watch List Commentary." Do you have any understanding what that is a reference to, the watch list commentary as of July 2016 ?

A Yes. Part of what Trepp does, they describe the loan and if there are any issues on the loan, they'll put it on a watch list that they're concerned about the loan, and then they'll track it every month until it changes to either going towards a default or the issue was resolved.
Q Do you recall what the issue was that was triggering this watch list commentary particularly as it related to the 40 Wall Street Street loan?

A On this one because of the guaranties, mainly the 5 master lease as well as free rent, when the servicer ran their cash flow, it was tripping the DSCR test that we had. But in reality, which is what we found out through our research, it didn't actually triplex it, but the servicer thought that it had been tripped or it could be tripped which is why it was on the watch list and not actually going into default.
Q And the forward that you passed along to Allen
Weisselberg is your internal review of what was being triggered in the watch list and what explanation you could provide? Is that a fair reading of this e-mail?

A Yes. I wanted confirmation of what $I$ assumed of what was happening from our head of securitization, so he replied by agreeing with me.

MS. FAHERTY: One second, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Sure.
MS. FAHERTY: I have no further questions, Your Honor.

Thank you, Mr. Weisselberg.
Oh, I do have to move this document into evidence, please.

THE COURT: They may have to object.
MS. FAHERTY: They do. They don't need to.
MR. ROBERT: August of 2016. No, no objection.
THE COURT: Oh, that's right. It is after -- well, you could still object to the extent that --

THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is back in order. Please be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: You may have noticed I don't run up the stairs anymore. It is not because I've run out of energy. It is that people told me that it is enough. Okay. Would the plaintiff like to call it's/her next witness?

MR. GABER: Yes, Your Honor. The people call David McArdle.

THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.
D A VID MCARDLE, a witness called by the Plaintiff, after having been first duly sworn by the Clerk of the Court, took the witness stand and testified as follows:

THE COURT OFFICER: Please state your name and business address or home address for the record.

THE WITNESS: My name is David McArdle. My corporate address is 1290 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York.

THE COURT: Let's begin the direct examination of Mr. McArdle.
DIRECT EXAMINATION
BY MR. GABER:
Q Good morning, Mr. McArdle. Can you please state your employer and title for the record, please?

A I'm the senior managing director at Cushman & Wakefield here in New York City.

Q Mr. McArdle, you worked on several valuation and appraisal engagements for the Trump Organization, that's correct?
A That is correct.
Q Before we discuss some of that work, Mr. McArdle, could you, please, give us a high level view of your professional background?

A Certainly. I've been in the real estate business over 40 years. 35 years of which involves commercial real estate appraisal also with experience in residential, different forms of residential valuation. For the last 30 years, I've been employed with Cushman & Wakefield here in New York City appraising general commercial properties.

Q Do you have any licenses or relevant professional

MCARDLE - DIRECT(MR. GABER)

qualifications that you employ in your work?
A I do. I hold the MAI designation which is considered the, you know, premier designation in our industry. It is awarded by the Appraisal Institute and widely recognized as the top designation. I'm also registered in the State of New York as a New York certified general operator. Again, that is the broadest and highest license that you can achieve in the state for legal purposes.

Q And so, Mr. McArdle, are you familiar with the uniform standards of professional appraisal practice or USPAP?
A Yes, very much so.
Q Could you tell me what USPAP is?
A USPAP represents the uniform standard appraisal practice kind of guidelines and standards that appraisers are expected to uphold. It's formed by quasi-government trade group industry. You know, experts in the appraisal world collaborate to -- you know, to set these guidelines and standards to, you know, serve the public the best and fairest.

Q And so does USPAP govern your work on appraisal engagements?
A Very much so. They are guidelines. It is not a governing body, but it's a -- it's kind of a blueprint for standards, ethics, morals.
Q So I'm just going to ask what are the sorts of requirements in USPAP that you follow when conducting an appraisal engagement?
A Well, there is a standard protocol that should take place at the onset of an assignment. We call it the engagement process. We establish, you know, who our client is, who intended users might be of the product and generally defined, obviously the identify, the subject property at hand and then also get a good understanding at least early on -- of the general scope, you know, what are we trying to accomplish here, what are the needs of the client, and that's the sort of general framework we like to capture in the letter of engagement.

Q Does it prescribe any specific form of a report, oral versus written or otherwise?
A Very much so. I mean, this letter of engagement briefly focuses on the type -- the property you're appraising, the client base, the form of reporting. We do have a liberty of reporting verbally. Generally, two other forms of written reports are widely used, restricted and -- which is more of a concise written report and there's also an appraisal report which would be the most comprehensive document. So we clearly define in the letter of engagement which product the client would receive.
Q And as an appraiser and an MAI, are you allowed to give an opinion of value without making that in conformity with USPAP?
A No. No. We --
$1 \quad$ Q And so does USPAP require that an opinion of value be supported by disclosed methodology or specific requirements?

A USPAP suggests that there's certain uniform methodologies be adopted for each appraisal report. We call it -- well, this is a due diligent portion of the assignment that's necessary and there's also the actual valuation itself takes place by using one, two or three of the standard approaches to value.
Q So maybe going from generally to more specific, I wanted to talk about real property and focuses on appraisals of vacant land.

Can you walk me through the process that you take when you are engaged to prepare an appraisal of real property or vacant land?

A Sure. Well, the very first thing we would want to understand is the vacant land itself. The physical attributes or characteristics such as size, shape, condition, topography. Would also be very interested in what could be legally constructed or erected at the property or developed and that, of course, would fall into the category of zoning. It's very important that we have to understand what you could feasibly develop at that property.
Q Where do you acquire the information that goes into 24 that consideration? How do you learn about the zoning, the 1 just described? Where do you get your data for that?

2 A Sure. It's a wide combination of data sources. Of 3 course, there's public information out there, zoning departments, assessors in the local municipalities. There's 5 also very meaningful information that is supplied by owners and clients.

Q Excuse me. What type of very meaningful information do you mean when you say that?

A Yeah. Well, we want to gain a very good understanding of the subject property. Typically, the client or owner knows that property better than anyone and, you know, obtaining a survey, for example, would be a key document that we would want from an owner or a client. And then any nuances, approvals or any legal or any other factors that might play into the use of this property that may impact its value if it were to be put to market for sale.
Q And moving onwards to discuss how you might then take that information and generate a value for the property, are you familiar with the concept of highest and best use?

A Certainly.
Q Can you describe your understanding of that content?
A Yes. Highest and best use is important in that we want to be sure that we are developing a value based on four important tests within the highest and best use analysis. Basically, we want to support why the property should be developed in a certain way. Highest and best use includes look at a property on a vacant basis and -- vacant land basis and also an improved basis.

If you're focusing on vacant land right now, the test includes what's legally permissible, what's physically possible, what is feasible, and what is most profitable. So there are four tests to the highest and best use analysis and we would methodically go through those and, you know, reach our conclusion considering those four tests of the asset.
$Q$ And that gives you a conclusion of value?
A It doesn't give us a conclusion of value, but it -- it looks into the use, the highest and best use of this property.

Q So how does that highest and best use relate to your final opinion of value?

A Well, the highest and best use establishes the use of the property, the best use. And from there, we make the decision of how the marketplace would value the property. If we're talking about, you know, undeveloped vacant land in this example, that would quickly lead us to most - you know, and if it is residential, it would lead us to a sales comparison approach, would quickly default to the approach, one of the three approaches that we feel are most appropriate or a combination of the three. So the number crunching and the actual value of the property is subsequent to the highest and best use analysis. We sort of methodically go through, you effectively a discounted cash flow analysis and discounting has to take place. It's a mathematical equation where we discount the proceeds as they, you know, are achieved over the course of the time. So the model takes into account the -- that particular discounting.

So we would have to select a discount rate and then through some modeling in Excel, it develops the net present value of the property on an as-is basis.
Q Can you explain what you mean by "net present value on an as-is basis?"
A Well, for example, the -- if one were to do a five-year sellout of a particular number of lots, those gross retail proceeds really don't drop to the bottom line. There is expenses that would have to be incurred and a dollar five years is not worth a dollar today. So there is a discounting process that needs to take place and kind of bring back, reduce that aggregate proceeds value down to a present value and that's what it would be worth for a developer today or an owner.

Q I'd like to move on and show the witness an exhibit marked Plaintiffs 157.

THE COURT: Before you get into that you were asked what is a subdivision sellout analysis. Could that be simplified to determining the value of the current value of property if it's subdivided?

THE WITNESS: Yes.

D. McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)

Page 1920
THE COURT: Okay. There are simple answers in there and there are detailed answers, but thank you.

Q Mr. McArdle, do you recognize this document?
A Yes, I do.
Q Okay. Can you tell me what this is?
A This looks like a setup for our internal administrators recognizing that a letter of engagement has been signed for Trump National Golf Course in Westchester and we're just starting the process of entering into what we call our job center. Clearly, there is a retainer due so we have that engaged. We're looking for our retainer and it's just the early stages of the engagement.
Q Okay. And here in the subject line it mentions Trump National Golf Course Westchester. It also mentions it's in Briarcliff Manor, New York. I've seen it interchangeably called Westchester and Briarcliff. If I use those interchangeably, would you understand?
A Certainly. I've seen it done the same way.
Q Can you direct your attention to -- first to page four of this document really quickly.

You mentioned this was a setup for the engagement letter. Do you recognize this is the attachment for those e-mails? Do you recognize this portion of the exhibit?
A Yes, I do.
Q Can you tell me what this is?

A So this is the actual engagement letter between Cushman & Wakefield and Sheri Dillon of Bingham McCutchen.

MR. GABER: So Id like to move this into evidence.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
MR. FIELDS: Your Honor, this is -- is this just the engagement agreement or is there anything else that's attached behind the engagement agreement?

THE COURT: Counsel, do you know or can you check?
MR. GABER: It's just the e-mails and the engagement letter.

MR. FIELDS: Okay. Then it's just a statute of limitations objection, Your Honor. Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Overruled. It's in.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 157 in evidence.)
Q Can we go back to page three of this document, Mr. McArdle? You'll see an e-mail from you to Eric Trump. It says: "Eric, attached is the revised appraisal proposal totaling $$ 12,500$. I hope this works for you and we can move forward. Thank you for the opportunity, Dave."

So you are writing to Eric Trump at this proposal and you describe -- sorry. You are thanking him for the opportunity. Can you tell me what you mean by that?
A Yes. The -- yes. The letter of engagement was written

McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)

Page 1922
to Counselor Sheri Dillon of Bingham McCutchen. It was widely understood that intended users of this document would also be the Trump Organization, Donald J. Trump, Eric Trump. So in short order after the engagement there were communications with Eric and I about some preliminary steps that we were going to take to get this engagement underway.

Q All right. So did you understand Eric Trump to be the client in this engagement?
A I think he was certainly an extension of the client.
The client technically is Sheri Dillon, but in my view she was a representative of the Trump Organization.

Q You mentioned intended users. I think that's on page four of this exhibit, the first page of the engagement letter. That section says "the appraisal estimate would be prepared for Bingham McCutchen LLP and it's intended only for the use specified below. Other intended users are the Trump Organization and Donald J. Trump. The client agrees that there are no other intended users."

Is this what you were referring to a moment ago?
A That's correct.
Q Okay. And so you were saying that you understood Eric Trump to be at least an extension of the client, so it was your understanding that while the formal engagement was with Sheri Dillon that Mr. Trump was ultimately -- Mr. Eric Trump was ultimately your client in performing this work?

25 limitations. We're talking about documents and testimony

D. McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)

Page 1924
1 about appraisals that were done in 2013.

MR. ROBERT: The People would have to prove that particular crime, did the person rob the bank that day.

MR. AMER: The AG's response is yes.
THE COURT: I'll overrule the objections and let's proceed.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 156 in evidence.)
Q Okay. Mr. McArdle, it seems you said that this document, Plaintiff's 156, was a similar engagement. It appears to me that this signature page of this document, document page nine on both of these exhibits is different.

Can you -- do you see the signature page there on page nine here, do you know whose signature that is on the August 6, 2013 engagement letter?
A It looks Eric Trump.
Q Okay. And as opposed to on Plaintiffs 157, the August 9th engagement letter, the revised engagement letter, the signature page there, if I can direct you to it, signed by Sheri Dillon?
A Sheri Dillon.
Q So is it fair to say that the -- and you can look at the two documents and compare that the nature of the revision is to remove Mr. Trump's name and signature from the original letter and replace it with Ms. Dillon and Bingham McCutchen LLP

McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)
Page 1926
as the client in the engagement?
A Certainly appears that the August 9th signature supercedes the other agreement.
Q Okay. But following up with your testimony from earlier notwithstanding the revision you understood Eric Trump to be a client or the extension of the client in the revised engagement?
A I certainly did.
Q Okay. Thank you.
So can you describe the nature of -- and we can put aside 156 and just focus on the engagement represented by the revised letter.

Can you describe the nature of that engagement for me?
A That engagement was focused on the valuation of 71 potential attached units within the confines of Trump National Briarcliff Golf Community.
Q And you looked earlier at an e-mail that you had sent to Eric Trump about this saying "thank you for the opportunity."

Had you discussed the nature and scope of this engagement with Mr. Trump at the time of entering into this engagement letter?
A I definitely had conversations with Eric Trump at the very initial stage of engagement.

THE COURT: We should probably use first names because there are several Mr. Trumps.

Page 1927

The 71 units they clearly had a right to develop low-rise luxury townhouse units along the 18th fairway between the fairway and the parking lot of the golf club. So this was an opportunity, sizable opportunity, to develop luxury attached apartments right there on the grounds of the golf club.
Q And the second sentence there says, "Moreover, the dates are critically important to us."

Do you have an understanding as to why those dates were critically important to Eric Trump?
A Well, I think it was obvious they were clearly contemplating a donation, conservation easement donation, and they were looking for my input on valuation of this 71-unit project. To the best of my knowledge the Phase I Friday, September 6th deadline was a verbal report. I believe the second date was the final report hard copy.
Q One last question with this document. At the top of page two you've written, "new assignment for the McArdle team." Who is the McArdle team?

A McArdle team is certainly me as the primary team member and I have a couple junior appraisers, licensed, that work for me. One of them is my nephew, Raymond, same last name, McArdle.

Q And then, "Please use Eric Trump as client."
So I think we've discussed this a bit, but you understood Eric Trump or the Trump Organization to be an ultimate client, but is -- you're writing -- I think who is Tina Schultheis and Nieves, and Maria Targi here?

A They are administrators who manage the booking, the cash, the putting everything in what we call that job center program.
Q So when you say "use Eric Trump as client" are you asking them to use Eric Trump as client in internal --
A It's just an internal bookkeeping measure.
Q An internal bookkeeping measure, okay. Thank you.
So Mr. McArdle, I'd like to show you a document that plaintiffs have marked as Exhibit 3195. Do you recognize this document?
A I recognize it, yes.
Q Thank you.
MR. GABER: I would like to move this document into evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 3195 in evidence.)
Q So can you tell me who Bob Leonard is?
A Bob Leonard was an associate at Bingham McCutchen with Sheri Dillon.
Q And so in this e-mail you're writing to Bob Leonard.
You said, "Bob, I spoke with Eric yesterday and agreed to perform a discounted cash flow analysis reflecting a build/sellout scenario. We are targeting a 9/20 delivery date. I will speak with you soon, Dave."

McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)

So I think you mentioned discounted cash flow analysis earlier. You're saying you agreed with Eric Trump to perform that analysis. This is -- do you remember whose suggestion it was to perform this sort of analysis?

A Well, we suggested it when their objective was to value the -- that vacant land with this development potential. You know, as an experienced appraiser this is the right methodology to apply.

Q Did that agreement come up after discussion with Eric Trump about what sort of methodology would be undertaken?

A This is a complicated asset, especially when everything is on a proposed basis. So it's very important that we are aligned. You know, the appraiser and the owner or client is very much aligned in the approach. It's fair to Eric, it's fair to me so that there is no surprises at the end and I think everyone agreed that this was the approach to take.

MR. GABER: Okay. I'm going to move on to a document marked Plaintiffs Exhibit 3204.
Q Please take a look at that and tell me if you recognize it.

A I do recognize this document.
MR. GABER: I'd like to move this document into

evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE WITNESS: Overruled. It's in evidence. MR. GABER: Okay.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 3204 in evidence.)
Q Mr. McArdle, this is an e-mail from you to Eric Trump.
You write to him saying, "Eric, this is a follow up to confirm that you will be providing support from your brokers for the potential pricing of the 71 residential units. We also discussed obtaining input from your construction contractors on the PSF cost to build the project. At this time we are moving forward with the discounted cash flow analysis and look forward to the pricing and cost estimates from your team. Enjoy the weekend."

So you are following up to confirm Mr. Trump is going to provide you with the information described here. Is it normal to seek this sort of information from a client?

A Very much so. Again, typically the property owner knows more about his property than we do going in. This was a very specific project that's already approved by the municipalities, so in terms of approvals, it was in a very much advanced stage. As a savvy appraiser, I couldn't help but think they had a tremendous amount of information already in their files. It's not up to me to guess or speculate as to what could be built here when we know for a fact they -- they're deep into the planning stage.

So -- and with their professional advisors, there could be no better source than to go to the owner, Eric Trump, and try to secure this information, whether it be his pricing forecasts or on the expense side like we talked about before, you know, what's it going to cost to build these. And eventually that's going to get us, you know, a bottom line number and, you know, the profit potential and kind of gets us those inputs that we may need for this sellout analysis or ultimate discounted cash flow.

Q I'm going to show you a document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 3196. Again, please take a look at this and tell me if you recognize this.

A Yes, I recognize this.
MR. GABER: I'd ask this be moved into evidence.
MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in.
MR. GABER: Thank you.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiffs Exhibit Number 3196 in evidence.)
Q So Mr. McArdle, this is an e-mail from you to Stephen Olvany. Can you tell me who Stephen Olvany is?

A Steven Olvany is a fellow appraiser formerly of Cushman & Wakefield and also a resident of either Westchester or the Greenwich, Connecticut area.
Q And can you -- can you tell me what you're discussing with Mr. Olvany here?
A This is part of our due diligence. As much as I am interested in hearing what the Trump Organization would retail these units at, it's my obligation to go out into the marketplace and do my own research and kind of test the market and gain a good understanding of, you know, what these luxury units would transfer for in the current marketplace.

So Steve I considered a resource. It's commonplace. He's smart guy that, you know, I thought I could lean on for some unbiased market intelligence.
Q So two questions here. Towards the bottom of that long first paragraph it says, "Of course Eric Trump has lofty ideas on value and assumes $\mathbf{$ 1 , 0 0 0} \mathrm{PSF}$," per square foot "is no problem". First, had Eric Trump communicated his understanding of what the values might be on this property?
A Well, during the course of this engagement I did have conversations with Eric Trump. Some of it was about gathering the physical data that we just spoke to, you know, construction costs and building configurations and units and he did a great job of describing the physical nuances of the project and -- but importantly, you know, we ended up speaking about what they could sell for. And, you know, Eric loved this project. He thought it was very special. I didn't disagree with him. I think it's a very unique project and it would definitely appeal to the high-end buyer interested in, you know, low rise attached housing with the amenities that this project might offer.

So he shared his thoughts. He thought it was very special and unique. And at the time that $$ 1,000$ per square foot price point was what he thought was reasonable, you know, and I'm perfectly willing to listen. I think it's -- owners are a great source of information, but ultimately, you know, I have to come up with my own conclusions.

$1 \quad$ Q Did you have any further discussion with him about the lofty idea of value here?
A I think we went back and forth a little bit and, you know, I -- I did my best to try to find like-kind projects that, you know -- where we could understand what those were selling for. You know, I tried to stay in Westchester. It wasn't all that easy. This project was going to definitely be at the top of the residential marketplace for what it is, so we -- I think we reached out down into Nassau County where some of those similar units might be selling. We looked at southern parts of Westchester County and we did the best to gather, again comps, you know, or like-kind properties.
Q Can I show you a document that plaintiffs have marked 3202. And, please, let me know if you recognize it. It is an e-mail with an attachment beginning on page two of the document, so please look at both if you would.

A Yes, I do recall this exchange.
MR. GABER: I'd ask this be moved into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 3202.)
Q So Mr. McArdle, it appears Eric Trump is sending you an e-mail saying, "Attached, please find some comps for similar product, type of product in Westchester." He then goes on to say, "I suppose further describe the comparables."
But I'll ask you how did you understand Eric Trump's e-mail and the comparables that he sent you?

A Well, like I've said a few times this morning, it's important that we gather the best possible set-up data to make a decision on, you know, our final sale price estimate for these units. We looked -- we looked to various source social security. We looked to public record. We looked to comparable source -- comparable databases, our own databases and, you know, we looked to market participants and I was perfectly willing to receive some of Eric Trump's information for me to analyze.

Some of the points he makes here are true and I clearly accept that the amenities at this facility were unique. So I think he was just, you know, showcasing his property in a fair way. You know, this was a very unique project, so it gave me a better understanding of what kind of amenities were there and then it was up to me to absorb this in concert with all the other comparable data that we had, and then again, it is up to me to make that final value estimate.

Q So I am now going to go to an exhibit marked as Plaintiff's 3201. Please take a look at this document and let me know if you recognize it.

A Okay. I recall this.
MR. GABER: I ask that this be moved into evidence.

MCARDLE - DIRECT(MR. GABER)
Page 1938
A Correct.
Q And you understood Eric Trump to also be a client in this matter, correct?

A Yes.
Q So you were sharing your valuation conclusions with Eric here understanding that he is a client or related to the client?

A Yes. At that time, there was -- it was clear that I could have an open dialog with Eric.
Q And so what does it mean in appraisal terms, we discussed this I think a bit generally, that you are prepared to share your valuation conclusions with him?
A Well, there had been a long process. There were a lot of assumptions and work that we had been performing and I believe this is a lead-up to what may have been phase one in that engagement where it was merely the verbal delivery.
Q Are you saying, I'm sorry, this could be shared verbally --

A I think that's where we're headed with this, yes.
Q And then leading up the document, Eric Trump asks, "Can you do 330." And then one more e-mail up, you say, "Yes, perfect. I will call you." And then the top e-mail here -- well, putting aside the top e-mail here now because there seems there is a gap in the timing, did you, in fact, speak with Eric Trump on or around September 30th as suggested ## by this e-mail?

A I can't be sure if I spoke to him that day.
Q I would like to show you a document marked Plaintiff's 3197. Do you recognize this document?

A Yes, I do.
MR. GABER: I'd like to move this into evidence.
MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiffs Exhibit 3197.)
Q "Bob, the call went well and we are ready to move forward with the written report." I'll note this was sent on October 1, 2013. The last e-mail that we discussed in the previous Exhibit 3201 was dated September 30, 2013. So is -- this is the day after that last e-mail.

A Yeah. In reading this e-mail, it certainly suggests that that call took place.
Q So does this refresh your recollection that the call did take place?

A Yes, it does.
Q Thank you.
Do you remember what the value conclusion was that you had reached at that point in this engagement?

A I think we were getting close and the values were falling in the low 40 millions.

D. MCARDLE - DIRECT(MR. GABER)

Page 1940
Q Thank you. I'm going to hand you a document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 3218. Please take a look and let me know if you recognize it. I saw a nod, but could you please answer whether you recognize it for the record.
A I do recognize this.
Q Thank you.
MR. GABER: I ask that that be moved in evidence.
MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is in evidence. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 3218.)
Q So Mr. McArdle, as you can see, there is an e-mail here dated October 1, 2013 from Eric Trump to you. It says, "David, I have one question for you. Do you have a minute to speak at some point today, Eric."

Do you recall whether you spoke with Eric Trump in response to this e-mail?
A I don't recall that follow-up phone call.
Q Do you remember -- is there any other recollection you have of whether Eric Trump had a question for -- what question Eric Trump may have had for you, if he did, after the September 30th call?

A I do know that he was pursuing me to discuss some issues with the appraisal, but I'm not sure what the content was ## all about.

Q So I'd like to move to Plaintiff's 3197. 3198 then.
Please take a look at this and let me know if you recognize it. (Witness reviewing document.)
$Q$ Do you recognize this?
A I do recognize it. I'm sorry.
Q No. It is quite all right.
MR. GABER: I ask that this be moved into evidence.
MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations, although, the witness has not said what it is, but, nevertheless, that's all the objection is, Your Honor.

THE COURT: He should technically say what it is before I let it into evidence.

MR. GABER: I thought -- okay. I can do that.
Q Do you know what this document is, Mr. McArdle?
A Yes, I do. It's an e-mail exchange between Bob Leonard and myself.

THE COURT: About?
Q About?
A About a dialog pending dialog with Eric Trump.
MR. GABER: I'd like to move into document in evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as

Page 1942
Plaintiff's Exhibit 3198.)
MR. GABER: Thank you.
Q Mr. McArdle, it says, "Bob, I received a VM from Eric yesterday. We need to talk. I am traveling the next Tuesday days. I can call you up until 11:00 a.m. today or after 6:00 p.m. or any time tomorrow is great, Dave."

So this is dated October 15, 2013 and you note the voicemail was yesterday, so that would be the 14th. Do you recall what the voicemail was from Eric Trump?

A I don't. I think he wanted to go over some of the assumptions in the model.

Q Do you recall whether you had a talk that day with Mr. Leonard?
A I don't recall.
Q So next, I'd like to show you Plaintiff's Exhibit 3199. Please take a look at it and first let me know if you recognize it. Then I'll ask you what it is.

A I do recognize the document.
Q Can you describe the document, please?
A This is another e-mail exchange between myself and Bob Leonard of Bingham McCutchen.

Q The subject line is "ET," correct?
A Correct.
THE COURT: That's the movie, right? ET, phone home.

Page 1943
MR. GABER: I think the witness needs to answer that, Judge.
A Eric Trump.
MR. GABER: I ask that this be moved into evidence.
MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 3199.)
Q You write here, "Bob, he continues to call me. I am uncomfortable not replying. Please call him." Who are you referring to here?

A Well, I'm talking to -- I'm referring to Eric Trump. Bob and Sherri work closely with us on the many aspects of this appraisal. Eric was sort of on the fringe. We're getting closer to value and, you know, I think Eric was anxious to discuss the assumptions and conclusions one more time and I had been spending more time with Bob and Sherri and I was sort of getting pinched in the middle here and I thought it was good business to reach out to Bob and just say, you know, this is what's going on. I can only hold off so long. I do want to be respectful to Eric Trump. So it was sort of -- we had to decide how to handle the inquiries.
Q You said, "He continues to call me." This is dated October 16th. The previous e-mail we looked at is dated the 15 th and refers to a voicemail from the 14th. So over two days,

D. MCARDLE - DIRECT(MR. GABER)

Page 1944
did Eric Trump call you multiple times?
A I believe it was multiple attempts to get a hold of me.
Q So moving on, I would like to show you what I've marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1465. Please take a look at this and let me know if you recognize it.
(Witness reviewing document.)
A I'm familiar with that document.
Q You're familiar with this document.
Can you describe what this document is?
A These are e-mail exchanges between Bob Leonard and Sherri Dillon of Bingham McCutchen in advance of a call with me regarding some final value conclusions.

MR. GABER: I would ask that this be moved into evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1465.)
Q Mr. McArdle, could I direct your attention to the second page of this exhibit. There's an e-mail here from Sherri Dillon to you. She starts off saying, "I spoke to Eric and he is aware that the more supportable value at this point is around 45 million."

And then I would ask that maybe you could explain your understanding of the remainder of what Ms. Dillon is communicating to you here.
THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
MR. GABER: Thank you.
A Sure. Sherri is acknowledging that, you know, our final value looks to be $$ 45$ million for this 71 -unit development project. At that point in time, you know, Eric had certain ideas about value. I think they may have been a little more lofty and above 45 million and I think the team of Sherri, Bob and myself clearly recognized that we were sort of at the end here and anything beyond 45 million would have put some people at risk. It would have not been credible. Certainly, I was comfortable with 45 million, but beyond that, I was concerned it would lose credibility.

From an appraisal standpoint, you know, we had great support in there to get us to that value after doing a lot of research and analysis. I think Sherri also is suggesting here that this is going to come under a lot of scrutiny with the IRS or a court and the last thing we want to do is overreach and put Eric in a vulnerable position. So I think this was -- this was a setup to, you know, finally tell Eric that, you know, he should accept this value from the professionals that probably know this better than he.

Q She writes at the bottom, "Eric knows that we have been in touch, but advised he would likely be talking to you this afternoon. I suggest calling him sometime after 4:30 or so."

MCARDLE - DIRECT(MR. GABER)

Page 1946
And then going to the first page of the document towards the bottom, your response here is, "Thanks, Sherri. This is a great summary of where we stand and glad we are aligned here. I will speak with Eric."

Do you recall whether you spoke with Eric following this e-mail?

A I don't -- I don't recall that conversation.
Q Could I just right before the break, if I could direct you back to 3201 which -- now at the top of the page here, this is dated October 16, 2016, 8:03 p.m. I'll represent that the e-mail from Sherri to you that we just looked at was at 3:45 p.m. So this is an e-mail from Eric Trump to you. It says, "David, per my conversation with Sherri cc'd, please finish, but hold off on sending the appraisal until further notice. I'm happy to discuss any time."

Were you told why you should hold off on sending the appraisal?
A I was not told to hold off. These engagements had a lot of stops and starts with attorneys involved. I just assumed it was, you know, they had their reason and I was perfectly fine, you know, abiding about by that.
Q I believe -- can I just -- I believe that you said I was not told to hold off. So just if I could ask again, were you told why you should hold off on sending the appraisal as it is indicated by Eric Trump in this e-mail?

A No, I was not told why to hold off.
MR. GABER: We can take a break.
THE COURT: Okay. Lunch break. See you all at 2.15 2:15.
(Witness exits the stand.)
(Whereupon, a luncheon recess was taken.)
AFTERNOON SESSION
THE OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is back in session. The Honorable Arthur Engoron presiding. Please be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: Let's get the witness.
THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.
(Witness resumes the stand.)
THE COURT: Let's continue with the direct examination of Mr. McArdle and Ill remind the witness, as I always do, that he's still under oath.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.
THE COURT: Please proceed.
Q Good afternoon, Mr. McArdle. I would like to just go back to Plaintiff's Exhibit 3201 that we were looking at just to clarify the record. "David, per my conversation with Sherri cc'd, please finish but hold off on sending the appraisal until further notice."

What is your understanding of the request being conveyed hereby Mr. Trump, Eric Trump?

D. MCARDLE - DIRECT(MR. GABER)

Page 1948
A I believe he's just confirming that -- to complete the assignment at the roughly $$ 45$ million value that was discussed earlier. I don't think we were sending anything. It was verbal at that point.

Q And were you told why you should hold off?
A No, I was not told why.
Q So I would like to move to Plaintiff's Exhibit 158.
Mr. McArdle, I ask that you please look at this document and tell me if you -- if you recognize it. I'll note then, again, that this is an e-mail with an attachment beginning on page six of the exhibit.
(Witness reviewing document.)
A Yes, I'm familiar with the e-mail and document attached.
Q Can you describe what they are?
A Sure. The first page on the screen right now is, again, an internal set up at Cushman & Wakefield recognizing that I re-engaged with -- it is Sherri Dillon at Bingham McCutchen with the Trump Organization as an intended user. The engagement letter follows and in great detail outlines the scope of the assignment. This is the same property in Briarcliff within the country club confines and it is merely a request for a formal written appraisal related to a definite conservation easement or donation to the federal government for tax purposes.

Q This letter is dated February 14th, Valentine's Day, 2014. The previous e-mail we just looked at was dated October 16, 2013. You said", I believe that this was similar scope to the previous engagement," but this was successive. Did you understand this to be a continuation of that engagement?

A I don't understand -- I don't recall the time lapse.
Is that what you mean?
Q It's a few months after the previous engagement --
A Correct.
Q -- correct?
A Correct.
Q And so did you understand this to be -- you said it was the same scope as well?
A Yes, I did.
Q Did you understand this to be a continuation of the earlier engagement?
A Very much so.
Q Looking at page six here, you had mentioned that the intended user was the Trump Organization. Are there any other intended users of the appraisal under the engagement?
A Donald J. Trump.
Q Thank you. Can we, Mr. McArdle, go to page seven of this document where it says, "general scope of work." Can you tell me what is to be valued under this scope of work?
A Yes. The property is being valued under this scope of work is the same 71-unit attached housing project that we had been previously discussing, but it also includes the adjacent 18-hole golf club known as Trump National Golf Club Westchester, and it also owns -- includes a town home owned by Eric Trump on the perimeter of the property.

MCARDLE - DIRECT(MR. GABER)

Q Do you understand why the scope is expanded between this and the previous engagement?
A Yes, I do. It was explained to me by Sherri Dillon that when a donation is being contemplated, there's also an obligation to understand the positive or negative impact on other properties the donor may own that are nearby. So it is pertinent that the value of the golf club and the town home are understood and we had to then towards the end of the assignment make a determination if any additional value or loss of value or neutral situation developed once that donation took place because there is a calculation that, you know, the IRS requires.

MR. GABER: I'd like to move this in evidence.
MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 158.)
Q So moving forward, I'm going to hand you a document marked Plaintiffs Exhibit 159. Please read it and let me know if you recognize this document.
(Witness reviewing document.)

A Yes, I do recall this e-mail.
Q Can you describe what that e-mail is?
A Sure. This is an e-mail to my colleague at Cushman & Wakefield who's another golf expert. His name is Richard Zbranek. He also is involved in what we call QC and that is quality control. Before we send any documents out the door to clients, we have a quality control process that requires a capable senior colleague appraiser to read our reports just as a safeguard, make sure we didn't make any errors and make sure methodology and all the -- the report is sound.

So this is my e-mail to Rick explaining the upcoming QC relative to this appraisal that we're performing for the client. And, you know, I elaborated on the nuances since it was something a little bit different in that it was a -- an appraisal done for a conservation easement donation.

Q So the last two sentences of this e-mail say, "Let me know what you think. It will be scrutinized by Sherri Dillon, Eric Trump and the IRS". Can you explain what you meant by this?
A Sure. Rick is a very trusted colleague with deep, deep understanding of -- he is an MAI, deep understanding of this type of valuation particularly as it relates to golf and some residential development. I'm looking for him. I'm leaning on him for advice and just, you know, an assurance that we are putting out the right product.

I mean, we're very conscientious and Cushman &
Wakefield takes these very, very seriously and recognizing we have high-profile clients and we also have the IRS involved. We did everything we could to put out a very credible, sound report to the best of our ability.

Q And it was your understanding by this, then, that Eric Trump would be, as you say, scrutinizing the appraisal report notwithstanding the fact that he wasn't the formally engaged client.
A As the assignment played out, it was clear that Eric was active in the -- through the process and I thought it was fair to let Rick know that, you know, he's actively involved as (Continued on the next page.)

Q Okay.
MR. GABER: I'd ask this be moved into evidence.
MR. FIELDS: Objection. Not only statute of limitations, but also hearsay and relevance as to the attached report. The report's being offered for its truth. The Court has now heard testimony as recent as of yesterday that developers can value their own properties the way they see fit. It doesn't have to be what an appraised value is. The Court has also heard testimony about accounting in SAC 274 and therefore it's offered for its truth. It is hearsay and irrelevant.

MR. GABER: I don't think I offered the report for its truth.

THE COURT: Well, let me ask you. For what purpose are you offering the document?

MR. GABER: Primary -- I'm offering this for notice, but also to show this is the work product for Cushman & Wakefield prepared according to procedures that Mr. McArdle has outlined using inputs and data that he received from the client and other sources. These are business records of Cushman & Wakefield and to the extent there is information in here that came from defendants, then those are admissions as well.

THE COURT: Objection overruled.
MR. FIELDS: May I respond?

THE COURT: Sure, yes.

MR. FIELDS: First of all, in terms of it being a business record, that protects the document but not statements within the document. The notice would be -- I guess the question is notice to whom and of what. The direct -- the witness can answer that he did an appraisal and what the appraised value was, but the entirety of the document contains a ton of hearsay and there is no need -there hasn't been a foundation laid for who needs to have notice and what the notice is for and so respectfully, I think it's being offered for its truth and it's hearsay.

THE COURT: The document is the notice. What the document contains and what's in it is the - is the notice as being conveyed, right?

MR. FIELDS: But, Your Honor, notice to whom and of what is the question.

THE COURT: Mr. Gaber, you want to answer that?
MR. GABER: In the first instance formally, this is notice to Bingham and McCutchen LLP, the engagement letter does list the Trump Organization and Donald J. Trump as intended users, but Bingham McCutchen was a retained counsel for the Trump Organization. They are an agent of the Trump Organization. Knowledge of the agent is imputed to the principal. This is something that was involved in litigation in the special proceeding pursuing this action as know, the -- you as the factfinder can weigh that against other evidence.

THE COURT: We can't have a trial over every single defendant, whether it's 12,15 as to, you know, what it can be used for. You'll have plenty of time to discuss that.

MR. ROBERT: Well, Your Honor, respectfully, we do think it's important because there are multiple defendants here and as to who is ultimately potentially responsible for what. The witness testified very competently as to his process and what went into it, but again, to suggest that this document is going to constitute some sort of an admission, if we can agree that it's notice or it's the fact that this gentleman prepared the appraisal itself, I don't think there is any dispute about that. If you want to ask him what the final value was, he can testify to that, that's fine. But as far as the document itself, we would respectfully submit that the physical appraisal itself is inadmissible hearsay other than potentially for notice.

MR. GABER: I mean, I thought post-trial briefs were due at the end of the trial.

THE COURT: That's just going to have to be resolved later.

I do want to respond to something Mr. Fields said.
Yesterday, there was some testimony that an owner can reach -- conclude whatever value they want. Yes, in the well. So I think the notice should be as against the Trump Organization in addition to notice to their agent directly.

MR. ROBERT: If it's being introduced for notice and I'll leave that for a second, but if it's being introduced for the truth of the matter asserted, I agree with my colleague that it's hearsay. And to the extent that the government wants to say that they're admissions, what are the admissions inside and who are they attributed to? There are multiple defendants here. I don't know what sentence or what statement within goes in there that constitute an admission and respectfully, I think allowing a document of that magnitude to come into evidence for the truth of the matter asserted and/or to constitute an admission we need to know what they're attributing to whom.

THE COURT: Let's -- maybe this is going back.
MR. GABER: I can ask some questions.
THE COURT: Let me just ask. Are you introducing it to prove the truth of its contents?

MR. GABER: Are you asking if I am introducing it to prove the --

THE COURT: I think that's basically the question at hand.

MR. GABER: No. I'm introducing it to show that that that value conclusion was one that was reached after a process as outlined within the appraisal report and, you abstract. If you own a house, you can say it's worth a hundred thousand dollars or a million dollars, but that doesn't really prove much one way or the other. So it's in except for the truth of its contents. Let's move on.

Q Mr. McArdle, can I direct your attention to page four of this document? This one's double sided.

In the first instance the final column under "Adjusted Value of Conservation Easement" reading across from the row there it says "final value conclusion of conservation of easement, $$ 43,300,000$." What does this number represent?
A That number -- well, that number represents the value of the conservation easement donation. It accounts for before and after, looks at the two other components we discussed, the golf club and the townhouse. In both cases we analyzed the impact on those two other components and concluded that by building that building, that asset, you would have neutral impact on both values. So it wasn't -- neither property gained from it or neither property would have lost value from it. Therefore, the before value of 43 million ends up being the same 43 million, you know, final value contribution.
Q And just for my clarification, the before and after -the before and after is the -- are you gauging the impact of the conservation easement donation on the townhouse and golf club? Is that the idea?
A That's exactly right.
$1 \quad Q$ Okay. So if they donate this -- this part -- this land as a conservation easement, then is the value of the golf club impacted by virtue of that donation?
A That's correct.
Q Okay. Thank you.
A Exactly.
Q And so the before and after values of the golf club there, it says -- well, could you just tell me what the before and after values of the golf club are that you came to?
A Sure. Absent the before value for the golf club is $16,500,000$ and after the donation we maintain the same $16-5$; in other words, no impact on value.
Q Okay. And I see there is some -- above the "final conclusion" - "final value conclusion of golf club" row there is a row that says "sales comparison approach" and a row that says "income capitalization approach discounted cash flow." Can you explain what's being represented here?
A Certainly. For -- in our view, the country club needed two approaches to value. It wasn't just a one-prong method. And this is pretty much standard in our industry. We deem the sales comparison approach and the income capitalization approach as the two most applicable approaches to value.

Sales comparison approach is merely a comparison of other country -- golf and country clubs, preferably in, you know, in the local area and we compare them just like you would

Page 1960
D. McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)
single-family homes, you know, it's an adjust -- percentage adjustment analysis, sometimes a qualitative analysis.

We're just kind of testing the market as to what other clubs are selling for and we -- ultimately, we make a conclusion there. Typically it's on a per whole basis. So we were comfortable with 16-5 from that approach.

And then the more detailed approach is the income capitalization approach. And, again, we use a discounted cash flow there and that analysis is more, you know, income and expense oriented. We literally look at the operations of the country club and by that I mean, you know, revenues secured through dues and initiation fees and food and beverage, some of those big, big income lines and then we reduce it by operating expenses.

Typically the larger categories would be clubhouse expenses, the food and beverage expenses, course maintenance expenses and we project out number of years, usually five, and we run a discounted cash flow analysis on that pro forma and this accounts for all the membership flows in and out. We're looking at membership trends coming in, going out, all the fees that they pay going in daily fees, greens fees, catering food, beverage and then typically there is a matching expense, departmental expense.

And like I said, it's a DCF we forecast out about five years, develop an NOI for each of those five years and then discount it back by a market oriented discount rate.
Q And the inputs for that income capitalization approach that you just mentioned, the revenues and the costs, you get those numbers -- who do you get those numbers from?
A I got those numbers from the Trump Organization. They have to be property specific. This is isn't something we can just estimate. Every club is unique in itself, so I was provided financial information.

Again, we typically look for the major, you know, revenue sources where they're coming from. And again, it's initiation fees, it's membership dues, various other smaller income lines and we take a hard look at it and again apply the expenses to it, just try to get comfortable with forecasting going forward.
Q Can I direct your attention to page 25 of this document? So here this is apart of the introduction under "Scope of Work." The last paragraph is where I want to draw your focus to.

It says, the first sentence, that "this appraisal employs the sales comparison approach and the income capitalization approach," which you just discussed to me.

But I want to go to the sentence starting with "therefore" here in the middle of the paragraph.

So it says, "therefore, we have not utilized the cost approach to develop an opinion of market value. More

McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)

specifically, we utilize the sales comparison approach and the income capitalization approach for both the conservation easement valuation and the golf club valuation."

Can you tell me why you -- oh, I'm sorry. In the preceding sentence, forgive me, says "typical purchasers do not generally rely on the cost approach when purchasing such a property as the subject of this report."

So can you understand or can you tell me your understanding of this language here?
A Sure. The cost approach is one of three widely recognized approaches to value in the appraisal industry.

The cost approach is effective for certain properties; others, not so much. Golf and country clubs are really in our view not suitable for the cost approach. There is a number of reasons cost approach requires an underlying land value. It also requires very subjective calls for building costs and then associated rates of depreciation for all various components of a golf course, which is a very wide mix. So it's -- there is a lot of sensitivity there that kind of, you know, weakens the approach. But probably the biggest driver is that we try to follow market behavior.

I don't invent approaches. It's -- appraisers want to parallel the market and we're not making the market. We're really following the market and watching the behavior of market participants, buyers and sellers of golf courses.

| D. McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber) Page 1963 |  |
| :---: | :---: |
| 1 We know for a fact buyers and sellers of golf courses |  |
| 2 do not utilize the cost approach for various reasons, so it's |  |
| 3 very fair to limit that approach and in this case we eliminated 4 the cost approach. |  |
| 5 MR. GABER: Thank you. |  |
| 6 Q So going back to the top of this document. I think as |  |
| 7 we discussed this is an e-mail to Bingham McCutchen delivering 8 this draft appraisal in April of 2014. |  |
| 9 Can you tell me what happened after you delivered this |  |
| 10 draft appraisal? |  |
| 11 A To the best of my knowledge things went rather silent. |  |
| 12 I don't believe there was much communication beyond. |  |
| 13 Q Did you ever issue a final appraisal report? |  |
| 14 A No, we did not. We did not issue a final. |  |
| 15 Q One more question about cost approach. |  |
| 16 A Sure. |  |
| 17 Q Would you say that's synonymous with a fixed cost |  |
| 18 approach? |  |
| 19 A I'm not familiar with that exact -- it's appraisal |  |
| 20 terminology. |  |
| 21 Q It's not appraisal terminology? |  |
| 22 A Not really, no. |  |
| 23 Q That's fine. |  |
| 24 So if I could now draw your attention to Plaintiff's |  |
| 25 Exhibit 132, and please take a look at this document and tell |  |

Page 1964

D. McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)

Page 1964
if you recognize it.
A Yes, I am familiar with it.
Q Can you tell me what this document is?
A Excuse?
Q Can you tell me what this document is?
A This is another letter of engagement between Cushman & Wakefield's Valuation Group and in this case Eric Trump and the Trump Briarcliff Manor Development LLC as client.
MR. GABER: I'd like to move this document into evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiffs Exhibit Number 132 in evidence.)
Q You mentioned that this is with Eric Trump as client. So in this case Mr. Eric Trump was your client for this engagement?

A That is correct.
Q But the engagement relates to the same property that we were just discussing in the last April engagement?
A That is correct.
Q And the intended use here under the engagement letter, 24 it says "to document the value of a conservation easement placed 25 on a parcel of land for federal and state income tax purposes."

Is that similar to the previous engagement's scope?
A Yes. I think all the engagements were headed towards this direction. They were contemplating this conservation easement donation and this is one of the final requests.

MR. GABER: If we turn to page two of this document. And maybe we can put that up side by side with page seven of Plaintiffs 158.
Q I just want to ask you towards the bottom of the paragraph beginning with "client intends," it appears that there is some difference in the scope of work here, but I was hoping that you could read these two scopes of work and explain to me what, if anything, is different between the Eric Trump engagement and the Bingham McCutchen engagement?
A Which is the Eric Trump engagement? Is it the one on the left?
Q Yes.
A Okay. Well, clearly, the language is slightly different. I do know that with Eric Trump's engagement, the one on the left, we were getting much closer to the donation. Sheri Dillon was involved with some guidance on the nuances and content that the IRS would be looking for and I knew -- I know he did spend some time on real specific language that needed to be in these documents for it to comply to the IRS's regulations, so.
Q So the document on the left, which is the later engagement with Eric Trump, it says, "The appraisal will also determine the enhancement, if any, to the value of any other property owned by the client," dot, dot, dot, "specifically" and it lists the golf club and the town home.

Is this different than the prior engagement which said that it would determine the value of any other property? So on one hand determine the enhancement to the value versus determine the value?
A Yes, that's a great point, and that did come up through our work with the two clients. There was some confusion over whether or not the golf course and town homes had to be valued individually or whether it was a matter of just defining any impact on value, up or down. I.

Think at the end of the day, if my memory serves me, we concluded that we did not have to specifically value the country club or the townhouse for the final submission, so you make a great point. I think that's what they were driving towards there.
Q Can you turn towards page six of the Ladder engagement letter? That signature there, do you recognize that signature? Who signed it?
A Eric Trump.
Q Thank you.
I'm going to hand you, Mr. McArdle, Plaintiff's Exhibit 3217, and ask you to familiarize yourself with it and tell me if you recognize the document.
A I do recognize the document.
Q Can you tell me what it is?
A This is a document pertaining to the same topic. It is an appraisal of the conservation easement, 71 units and this references to the adjacent properties we've been discussing, the golf course and the town home.

MR. GABER: I'd ask that this be moved into evidence.

MR. FIELDS: To preserve the record, same here standing statute of limitations objection.

THE COURT: Overruled. It's in evidence.
MR. GABER: Thank you.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 3217 in evidence.)
Q Mr. McArdle, on page five of this document where your signature would be, it says "draft" there. Is this a draft appraisal?

A Yes, it is.
Q Do you know if a final appraisal report was ever issued under this engagement?

A I don't believe it was ever issued.
MR. GABER: Can we go to page four of this document?
D. McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)

1

Q So here under "market value of conservation easement" it says $$ 43,300,000$. I believe that's the same value that you placed on the conservation -- for the conservation easement in the prior appraisal draft; is that correct?
A That's correct.
Q Okay. But then going up here, the table -- I think it's called the final value of reconciliation is slightly different than the previous engagement. Is that due to the difference in the scope of work we discussed?
A That's exactly right. The presentation -- I mean, as they went through this process they were trying to conform to the rigorous standards of the IRS in understanding exactly the content that was required. Sheri Dillon determined that once again we did not have to define the values of the golf club townhouse. It would merely be a presentation where whether or not the -- whether or not they gained value or lost value. So there is no impact to those assets and that's why they were zeroed out.
Q Can we go to page 16, please? So the second to last paragraph on this scope of work section of the introduction it begins with "because data on comparable sales." And I wanted to draw your attention towards the middle of the paragraph.

Again, it says "typical purchasers do not generally rely on the cost approach when purchasing a property such as the parcel. Therefore, we have not utilized the cost approach to develop an opinion of market value. More specifically, we utilized the income capitalization approach and the sales comparison approach in connection with the before and after method for the conservation easement valuation."
D. McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)

We looked at similar language I believe in the prior appraisal report. Is this expressing a similar -- or can you tell me your understanding of this language in this appraisal report?
A This part of the scope remains the same for the same reason I previously reported. Full-blown cost approach would not be appropriate here, so it was merely carried into this document as it was in the other for the same exact reason. Buyers and sellers, you know, would not be looking at a traditional cost approach for these assets.

Q So despite the fact that you're not -- the difference in the presentation of the value conclusion we just discussed between the two letters or two appraisal reports, one of them valuing the townhouse and the golf club; the other one valuing the change in value to the townhouse and golf club. So in this case were you valuing the change in value to the townhouse and golf club. Are you still -- are you still looking at the value of those using the income capitalization and sales approach?

A Yes, I'm still maintaining those same approaches.
Q So the same -- is it fair to say that the same analysis is done in both despite the change in the scope of work language

McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)
Page 1970

that we discussed?

A Yes, it is safe to say that.
Q And so this draft appraisal is addressed to Mr. Eric Trump, you e-mailed it to Ms. Dillon. Is it your understanding that Mr. Eric Trump received this draft appraisal report?
A Yes. I'm quite sure he was aware that I was sharing it with Sheri Dillon. We were very careful about that the exchanges and they were working hand in hand, so I believe that's why it was sent to her.

Q Okay. So at this point, Mr. McArdle, we've seen two examples where you had an initial engagement that was prepared with Ms. Dillon's firm as the sort of formal client on the engagement letter and then a subsequent engagement letter for the same type of engagement or thereabouts with Mr. Eric Trump listed as the client?

MR. ROBERT: Objection.  THE COURT: Let's hear it.

MR. ROBERT: Mischaracterizes the evidence. The testimony has been internally. They referred to as Eric Trump as the client, but documents clearly say who the client was. In this last one, it was the Briarcliff entity signed by Eric Trump.

Plaintiff's Exhibit 132, "Client, Trump Briarcliff Manor Development LLC" and it was signed by Eric Trump as executive vice president. So the client was not Eric Trump.

The question keeps saying "your client Eric Trump, your client Eric Trump." So if he wants to change that because the document in evidence is clear as to who the client is.

THE COURT: Would you like to dispute that or agree with that?

MR. GABER: Mr. McArdle has testified that he understood Eric Trump to be his client for all of these engagements and in some sense it's a distinction, not a difference. It's his understanding. He worked with Mr. Trump. He's testified to that.

MR. ROBERT: I believe the testimony was internally when the first billing set of e-mails came in it was the -internally to Eric Trump as the client, but clearly when Cushman & Wakefield enters into an engagement letter there is a specific client.

MR. GABER: That was not the testimony, Mr. Robert. He actually -- the internally, yes, but also beyond that he said he understood Eric Trump to be his client on these engagements.

THE COURT: Objection overruled on the ground just stated, but I understand the point, as usual.
Q So I just want to ask you if it is a standard practice for the appraisal work that you performed for the Trump Organization and their counsel to have this first appraisal, second appraisal like you just described.

Page 1972

A It was a -- for the work we did for them, it was the pattern, yes.
Q Do you have an understanding as to why that was?
A My understanding was confidentiality.
Q Can you elaborate on that?
A I'm not well versed in the legal reasons for doing it, but clearly it was involving confidentiality.

Q I'm just -- I don't need you to give a legal response.
When you say "confidentiality," what do you as a layperson mean by that or what do you understand by that, if you have an understanding of it?
A Well, we've seen -- I've seen other attorneys do it to try to keep a distance between the law firm and their client, potential owner, let's say.
Q Thank you.
I'll move on to Plaintiff's Exhibit 134. I'll hand this to you and ask you if you recognize it.
A Yes, I do recognize it as another engagement letter between Eric Trump and Trump Briarfield -- Briarcliff Manor Development LLC and my firm Cushman & Wakefield. Transcript continues on the following page...

MR. GABER: I'd ask this be moved into evidence.
MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 134.)
Q Mr. McArdle, this is dated June 3, 2015 nearly one year after the June 23, 2014 engagement letter that we just looked at that was marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 132. Can you take a look at this document and tell me what you understand the scope of work of this engagement to be? If you'd like, I could put them up side by side if it is easier for you to compare.
A Yeah. This engagement looks to be very parallel to the one a year ago encompassing the same real property components to be valued for the conservation easement and clearly, there's been a passage of time, but it appears to be very much the same scope.
Q On page six of this document, is that your signature there?
A That is my signature.
Q And do you know whose signature that is below?
A I really don't.
Q But it says, "Executive Vice President Development and Acquisitions for Trump Briarcliff Manor Development, L.L.C."?
A I don't recognize this signature.
Q That's fine, but you see where it says, "executive vice ## president"?

Page 1974

A I do, certainly.
Q Are you aware -- I believe Mr. Robert just told us that Eric Trump was the -- recognize the signature of Donald Trump Jr.?
A No.
Q Are you aware of whether Trump Briarcliff Manor, L.L.C
had any executive vice presidents other than Eric Trump?
A No, I'm not.
Q So at this time, I would like to hand you Plaintiffs Exhibit 910.

MR. GABER: I'd like to move to admit Plaintiff's 134 into evidence. Oh, I did.

MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is in evidence.
A I am aware of the e-mail. I'm familiar with the e-mail and the accompanying appraisal product that we delivered.
Q Appraisal product for which property?
A This is again the same Briarcliff Manor assets involved in the conservation easement donation.

MR. GABER: I'd ask that this be moved into evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Same objection; statute of limitations.

THE COURT: Same overruling. It's in evidence.

D. MCARDLE- DIRECT(MR. GABER)  Page 1975

1 Q On page four of this document, the date here is September 1, 2015, as of September 1, 2015. The e-mail is dated August 28, 2015. Is it common to date a report differently than the date of its transmission?

A That September 1st should be the date of value, the September 1st.
Q Okay.
THE COURT: That doesn't answer the question at all. Do you care?
MR. GABER: I was tripped up by my microphone turning itself off.

THE COURT: The question was whether it was common for the date to be the same --
MR. GABER: You're getting ahead of me, Judge. I'm happy to let you finish up the exam.

THE COURT: I will defer to you.
MR. GABER: Thank you.
Q I think the judge said it best, but is it common for the date of value to be different than the transmission date of appraisal?
A Yes, it is very common.
Q On page five of this document, can you describe what this letter is on page five?
A This is called the letter of transmittals outlining the clients involved. It's simply a letter explaining the 1 make a determination if there would be any positive of value improvement or detraction to value with the 71 units next door. So we did a thorough analysis and weighed all the pluses and minuses and at the end of the day, we believed it was -- had a neutral impact.

Q Different presentation just in terms of the table, but same analysis?
A Yes.
Q Can we go to page 17 really quickly. So the second to last paragraph again, middle of the paragraph, is the sentence, "Typical purchasers do not generally rely on the cost approach when purchasing a property such as the parcel as a building cost analysis is not normally applicable for a vacant land valuation."

This is slightly different than the previous draft appraisal. Do you understand this sentence to have also taken into account the same analysis regarding country clubs and golf clubs that you described with the previous two?
A Looks like the terminology is slightly different, but it gets to the same point. We're just explaining that it's just not -- the cost approach is just not applicable for this appraisal.

Q Is that because of the golf club component?
A Yes.
THE COURT: Five-minute warning.

engagement, some of the nuance, some of the regulations we're following; certainly, a brief summary of the scope, the project at hand. In this case, outlining the components of the real estate and then it goes on to give some detail on the process, the scope and our appraisal process itself.
Q Looking at page six, you see a table here, "valuation summary." It looks slightly different than the value reconciliation I think that we saw on the last draft. Can you explain what this is here or what this table represents?

A Again, the presentation that the Trump Organization attorney Sherri Dillon was fluid. They were making a concerted effort to make sure they adhered to all of the IRS guidelines and, you know, that was challenging. It is a lot of red tape and, you know, there were some suggestions on the presentation. I was comfortable with it. The values were consistent and it all seemed reasonable to me, so we kind of crafted a summary that was a little more conforming to IRS requests and guidelines.
Q And again, because the presentation is slightly different here, row $D$ says, "Less value enhancement to non-TBMD holdings with a triple asterisk," that following it down says, "After condition property value reflects any value enhancement to golf club or Eric trumps townhome." Can you just explain what this means?
A That's simply what we talked about before. We had to

MCARDLE- DIRECT(MR. GABER)
Page 1978
MR. GABER: Maybe we should -- can we take a break later or sooner?

THE COURT: It doesn't really matter, five or ten minutes.

MR. GABER: If we could break now.
THE COURT: It is very easy to calculate. We will be back at 3:30. Okay, break time.
(Witness exits the stand.)
(Whereupon, a recess was taken.)
THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is back in session. Please be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: I guess we should start with the plaintiff. What do you intend to do with whom and when?

MR. AMER: I think it's clear that we will not get to our next witness today because we have at least another half-hour with this witness and then there's cross-examination.

THE COURT: Will there be cross?
MR. ROBERT: Half-hour or so. Nothing extensive.
THE COURT: Not enough for another witness.
MR. AMER: So the next witness is Mr. Flores, he is actually here. We were going to tell him he could leave for the day.

THE COURT: All agreed? Yeah.
MR. AMER: I think realistically he will be the 1 entire morning. We could start him even first thing

THE COURT: Okay, let's continue with the direct of Mr. McArdle.
Q Welcome back, Mr. McArdle. I'd like to move on to discuss a 2014 consulting engagement for the Seven Springs Estate. Do you recall that engagement?

A I do recall that engagement.
Q I am handing you 131. I ask you to review it and let me know if you recognize it.
(Witness reviewing document.)
A So I do recognize these documents. The first document, again, is an interoffice e-mail between myself and the administrators recognizing that we have a new engagement underway with Sherri Dillon of Vinson & Elkins. Ms. Dillon shifted law firms, so it is the same individual. She's now affiliated with a new firm. The engagement involves consulting services at another Trump property identified as Seven Springs Estate.

MR. GABER: I'd ask that this be moved into evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 131.)
Q So Mr. McArdle, I would like to direct your attention to page three of this document. So first off, the previous 1 engagement letters that we have seen were on Cushman & Wakefield letterhead. This one is on Vinson & Elkins letterhead. What do you understand by that difference?

A We can engage with clients either way. There's no hard and fast rule on which party provides the engagement letter. Our large corporate clients provide their own. For smaller clients, we take the liberty of drafting it and they appreciate that. So this was a shift from previous practices working with Ms. Dillon, but it was not something that we found objectionable, and we let her craft the engagement letter. Of course, we scrutinized it, approved it, and I ultimately signed on.

Q The first sentence here, it says, "Dear Dave, we are pleased to confirm the engagement of Cushman & Wakefield, Inc. C&W by Vinson & Elkins, LLP or the client in its capacity as legal counsel for Seven Springs, L.L.C, the owner of the Seven Springs estate."

How did you understand that Vinson & Elkins was acting as legal counsel for Seven Springs, LLC?

A Well, much like other engagements with Sherri Dillon and her law firms, it was obvious to me that it was a similar arrangement where Sherri Dillon would act as a representative of one of the Trump entities in this initial engagement.
Q Go to the next sentence. It says, "This engagement effective as of June 17, 2014 is to provide consulting services related to an analysis of the estimated value of a potential conservation easement on all or part of the Seven Springs estate."

What do you understand by "provide consulting services related to an analysis of estimated value "here?

A This assignment was described to me as a very preliminary effort with our assistance to further understand the potential value of the lots that were being subdivided on this 200-plus acre estate that were surrounded by two substantial single-family residences. So this was a -- this was a land valuation. That's the way we would -- went into understanding it.

Q So following your formal engagement by this letter, can you describe the process that you undertook in beginning your work to fulfill the terms of the engagement and perform the analysis you just described?
A Sure. Recognizing this was another very large, unique trophy asset owned by the Trump Organization or an entity thereof, it was very important for us to get our arms around exactly what are we appraising, exactly what is the status of it legally, wanted to take a deep dive into physical characteristics. So I had a lot of questions in the beginning, very important that I view the site, so we did all sorts of early maneuverings for me to take a speed course on this property which was so important to me. So I did visit the property. I was escorted around and I started to, you know, gain a good understanding of the asset itself and what their objective was.

This was a pending subdivision with a lot of moving parts. So in addition to physically looking at the property, there are a lot of behind-the-scenes data that I had to confirm that would play into preparing the credible appraisal report.
Q Was Eric Trump involved in this kind of early information-gathering phase that you just described?
A He was.
Q Can you describe his involvement?
A Yes. I think Eric assisted in giving me an overview of the property, its history, some of the locational attributes, some of the nuances, some of the, you know, high points, if you will. Ultimately, he did share some data with me or pointed me to the right professional to confirm some important data.
Q Can you speak more to the nature of that data? At a high level is fine?
A Sure. As an appraiser doing a residential subdivision that is fluid and not approved, it was critical that I quickly grab hold of the map, as we call it, you know, and so I wanted to understand the layout, you know, from like a survey perspective and understand the configuration of all the lots that would be ultimately approved at the site because this was going to be -- the request was to value the lots on a retail level, if you will, just to -- in other words, what you would sell them to an end user for. It was more of an exercise of selling the lots to individual homeowners.
Q So did Eric Trump -- you discussed previously in this that you often undertook a comparable sales analysis in these valuations?
A You know, the scope of the appraisal assignment was to value these lots on a retail level and give the client a sense of what they would sell for individually and also on -- in an aggregate value. This type of appraisal really only needs to focus on the sales comparison approach. Later on, there's elements of the income approach, but no cost approach like we talked about before and a heavy weighted sales comparison approach. Very simply, we want to find similar single-family home sites that are like-kind as best we can, you know, comparable landsites for luxury homes.
Q Did Eric Trump provide you with any proposed comparables?
A He did. He did. You know, the early phone calls with Eric Trump were with him explaining the site as I mentioned in grate detail which I expected him to do and which was very helpful because as we said before, typically the property owners know their properties better than the appraisers at the onset.

So I welcomed his input, did a great job of explaining, you know, some of the physical characteristics, neighboring properties, lake next door, couple of mansions on the property. And then he recognizing we needed to support, the values with comparables, he was willing to supply me with what he thought were good comparable sales and I had absolutely no problem receiving that type of data from him. Ultimately, I'm going to do a lot of research on my own, but there was absolutely no problem, you know, accepting what he was suggesting were good comps.
Q Did you find him to be knowledgeable, kind of in the realm of valuing these comparables?
A Did I find Eric knowledgeable? Yeah, I think he understood his property. He had a very high opinion of the property which didn't surprise me. You know, we deal with a lot of trophy asset property owners and they love their properties and typically know a lot about them as I said. And in some cases, they're entitled to their opinion of what they're worth.

And he was of the mindset that there were only a few comps out there and he pointed me towards some subdivisions in Greenwich, most notably Conyers Farms. Sent me some other information on different home sites, but he believed Conyers Farms in Greenwich was a fabulous comp, you know. Of course, that's across the state lines and, you know, had to quickly do my homework on that subdivision. I was familiar with it, but I really wanted to get extra familiar to make sure it was truly a like-kind property to Seven Springs. Would you like me to expand on this topic?

MCARDLE- DIRECT(MR. GABER)

Q I was going to ask you. Yes, could you explain the homework that you did?
A Yeah. Sure. Although, I feel like I have a very -- I'm very competent to appraise this type of property, I live on Long Island. I was -- I wasn't quite in my backyard, did as much homework as possible, but I thought it would be very appropriate to bring in a local expert.

Q Who was that expert?
A The local expert was I selected was a gentleman named David Turner from a highly-regarded large residential brokerage firm in the Westchester area called Houlihan Lawrence. So David was one of the top producers in the luxury marketplace that would include home sales and land. I approached him and asked him if he would be interested in helping me with my understanding of land values in Bedford and he quickly agreed.

We scheduled an appointment to visit the site. We got permission to go back. I brought David to the property. He already had known about it, but we thought a detailed walk-through was appropriate. Spent quite a few hours at the property and he felt he now had a better understanding of the property and he could assist me with comparables, sets of comparables that he thought, you know, might be appropriate to consider.

I definitely talked to him about the potential of using Conyers Farms sales and he took the assignment very seriously. Took a while, but with some back-and-forth communication, he ultimately did reach some -- had some strong opinions on this site and where the range of value should fall.

Q Do you recall generally what those were?
A Yeah. I mean, he came from a lot of different angles which I really appreciated. We were talking about value per site, you know, and the building sites did vary in size and I think some of the Conyers Farms comps may have suggested well over $$ 3$ million per parcel and he wasn't -- he really was not a believer in that, so he -- he didn't believe that was truly comparable for a lot of different reasons and then he provided me with a plethora of comps and justification for a value that would be well below $$ 3$ million per lot.

I had been doing my own homework. We have comparable services readily available as well, so by collaborating with David, doing my own work, I have family in residential that are very, very active as well, I came to the conclusion -- you know, to a range of value for this assignment.
Q So maybe at this point, we can get into some of the -- those ranges. I'm going to introduce Plaintiff's Exhibit 181 which is a spreadsheet provided to us natively. So it is just a cover sheet that I'm going to hand to you, but if we could look at the monitor here and let me know if you need anything blown up. But as a general matter, I'll just ask you if you recognize this spreadsheet.

A I do recognize this spreadsheet.
MR. GABER: I just want to make sure that I move the prior Exhibit 131 into evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Objection; statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 131.)
Q I'm sorry, Mr. McArdle. I cut you off. Could you repeat --

A I do recognize the spreadsheet.
Q What do you recognize the spreadsheet as?
A Well, let me emphasize that this assignment, again, was a verbal assignment. The expectation was that we would get on call at the end of my findings and conclusions and just discuss it verbally, but as appraisers, we do have an obligation to build a work file and I certainly couldn't keep everything in my head. So this is my own internal work file, a rough idea on, you know, the configuration or the number of lots. We're dealing with three municipalities, so I tried to divide up the different sets of lots and then come to just a range of value for these properties based on what we were just talking about, my interaction with Eric Trump, David Turner, myself some of my family members that sell real estate. I started to get warmer and closer to where I thought the value was going to fall and this is -- these are my notes to myself.
Q Can you help summarize looking at the spreadsheet kind of where the -- what conclusions, if any, you derived from this exercise?
A Sure. The top of the chart represents the Bedford lots. There were more lots in Bedford than the other municipalities, so at the time, we believed there were nine and then the second column is the acreage of each lot ranging from roughly five acres to eleven, so they did vary in size and then out to the right, I'm just penciling in like where that range might fall. That very first lot, B2, you know, we were thinking million-five to $$ 2$ million retail value of that lot.

A And you just continue to go further down the list into the two different other municipalities, New Castle and North Castle.
Q And you do the same analysis for both of those?
A Same analysis, a little more compressed.
Q So where -- what is your final sort of --
A Excuse me?
Q Where do you end up at this top line number? Do you have any here?
A I do have totals here. Column J represents the total of the low end of the range at 36 million. Column $L$ is the high end of that range that I did that day on the spreadsheet and that would be 50 million.
Q Okay. So between 36 and 50 million was the range by this analysis?
A There is few important points I want to make about this, though.

Q Absolutely.
A This was a map in progress. It had not been fully approved and very important for us to -- the number of lots is a critical component of value here, especially if at the end of the day you're trying to develop an aggregate value before discounting it, at least get a general sense of what this thing might be worth once the sellout is complete, right, full sellout.

Page 1992

You'll See in New Castle we were a little unsure of whether or not they would yield five lots or six lots.

Q I see that, yes.

A Bedford we were pretty confident with nine based on the information we provided. And North Castle, ten. So at that time we believed there were approximately 24 to 26 lots available. I -- multiple times. This was a very big concern of mine. I needed to totally understand the configuration and the number of lots as, again, that plays heavily into the final value.

Not only did I ask Sheri Dillon and Eric Trump about the lot yield, as we call it, I asked to speak to their engineer. So I always like to go to a third party who's been in the ground, measuring, calculating, deeply involved with zoning regulations and they quickly directed me to a company called Insight. And I had at least one or two phone calls and my -the objective of those phone calls was to get comfortable with the lot yield, the number of lots that would be yielded absent the two homes.
Q So this was a process of you attempting to gather information from the client about how to conduct -- the inputs that you needed to conduct analysis?
A I needed a lot of input for this because this was not a final map, so it's always fluid and there are obstacles and I elected to, you know, I thought Insight was a great source and spoke to, of course, Sheri and Eric Trump and all parties kind of led me to the conclusion that we were dealing with, you know, there might be some movement, but it seemed like it was 24 to 26 lots.
Q Sorry. Just going kind of back. I appreciate the explanation. When you were discussing this range of values I think you said this is before discounting?
A Yes.
Q Can you explain what that means?
A Sure. Similar to the Briarcliff analysis we were talking about earlier it's basically the same sellout analysis except this is more simplistic. This just assumes the absorption or sales to individual lots to individual homebuilders or homeowners over the course of time. So it's merely, you know, you gather your number of lots, you have an estimated value per lot and you just chart them out over a time horizon in a DCF model.

Q So this hasn't been discounted?
A This has not been discounted.
Q Can I now put up and show you PX 182? It's another spreadsheet. And before we leave that one, I'd like to move to admit Plaintiff's 181 into evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 181 in evidence.)
Q Mr. McArdle, let me know whether you recognize this spreadsheet.
A I do recognize the spreadsheet.
Q And can you very briefly tell me what it is and then we can ask some questions about it.
A Yes. This is the sellout analysis spreadsheet that I contained in my work file in preparation for a verbal delivery to the client. It's basically a compressed version of what we just looked at on the previous exhibit. Here, we're assuming eight lots in Bedford, six lots in New Castle and ten lots in North Castle.

We also decided based on market conditions that it would probably take six years to sell these lots. This type of analysis not only does it account for the sale of the lots, but looks like the other project we discussed it -- you are going to incur expenses as you go along and the rows in the bottom left of this exhibit are just that, you know, the expenses that we would normally deduct for this type of analysis would be, you know, your property taxes, any kind of dues related to the homeowner's association, if there is one. Certainly sales commissions and soft costs; legal, marketing, overhead, site costs. So they are all deducted from the gross retail proceeds which leaves you with a net cash flow each year and then from there we just discount back the -- those proceeds from each year and you can see after discounting the final value estimate was close to just under $$ 30$ million.

Q Thank you.
MR. GABER: Id ask this be admitted into evidence.
MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 182 in evidence.)
Q So following these two analyses, the valuation you did and the subdivision analysis, were you prepared to present range of values to the client to complete the engagement as made out in the engagement letter?
A Yes, I was. These sheets were developed for me internally, so I could have a fruitful, you know, verbal phone call with the client.

MR. GABER: So I'd like to now show the witness Plaintiff's Exhibit 3188.
Q Mr. McArdle, let me know if you recognize this document.
A Yes, I recognize these documents as e-mails between myself, Eric Trump and Sheri Dillon trying to establish a good time to discuss my findings.

MR. GABER: I would ask this be admitted into

evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 3188 in evidence.)
Q Okay. So Mr. McArdle, the top e-mail here is from Eric Trump. It's to you and Sheri Dillon. Eric Trump says:
"Sheri, by that point ideally, you will have seen the draft appraisal. Assuming we are all in the same ballpark after the call, we can finalize and hopefully put this to bed."

Can you understand -- can you tell me what you understood by Eric Trump's message here?
A It's a little confusing. The final product under this engagement was merely a verbal phone call, me conveying our final value conclusions to the client. So finalizing and putting it to bed, that -- I think Eric's using some loose language there. I can't really -- I don't know what he was thinking, but in my mind we were -- this was the -- we were at the finish line.
Q So your understanding was you were setting up a call to convey the results of your --
A Absolutely.
Q So I'd like to now show you -- this is Plaintiff's Exhibit 3206. Let me know if you recognize this.

Page 1996
D. McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)

A Looks like just another e-mail from Eric to me setting up the final call.

Q Okay.
MR. GABER: I would ask that this be moved into evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Admitted into evidence. Objection overruled. It's in.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiffs Exhibit Number 3206 in evidence.)

MR. GABER: I'm handing the witness Plaintiff's Exhibit 169 for identification.
Q Mr. McArdle, let me know if you recognize this.
A This is an internal Cushman & Wakefield e-mail from myself to our top administrator in New York and my nephew who works with me just explaining that this consulting assignment has been completed, reminding her there is no report to -written report to put in our files and the verbal consulting was completed.
Q What do you mean by "the verbal consulting was completed?"
A I mean we would have had a call with Sheri and Eric regarding the final values.

Q And you would have conveyed the value -- the 29 and a half million dollar value that you had in your spreadsheet to Eric Trump and Sheri Dillon on that call?
D. McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)

Page 1997

A Most likely, yes.
Q When you say "most likely," can you elaborate on or be more specific?

A Yes. The focus was more on the retail, what they could sell retail. So I know we talked about the ranges and I think ended up being around $$ 2$ million per lot.

The sellout analysis is a secondary concern to them, but it was -- I think they wanted to get comfortable with, you know, what each lot was worth. I mean, certainly throughout most of the assignment that's where their focus was.

Q And the retail analysis is the first spreadsheet that we looked at, that's correct?

A That's right.
Q So that range was 30 to $$ 50$ million?
A That was 30 to 50 . However, I did elect to lean towards the 50 , which was in my mind very, very well supported based on all the research that we talked about.

Q As an undiscounted retail?
A Undiscounted, correct.
Q Okay.
MR. GABER: I ask that Plaintiff's 169 be moved into evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
D. McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)

Page 1998
THE COURT: Overruled.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 169 in evidence.)
Q So Mr. McArdle, I'm going to show you what we've marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 911. Please read it and let me know if you recognize it.

A Yes, I'm familiar with these e-mails between Eric Trump and myself and Sheri Dillon as well.

Q Okay.
MR. GABER: I'd ask this be moved into evidence.
MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 911 in evidence.)
Q So Mr. McArdle, just put this in front of you. Just to confirm, the second e-mail from you to Eric Trump asks for dial-in instructions for a 9:00 a.m. call on the 25th of August. The top e-mail says: "Thanks, David. Speak to you soon." It looks like it was at $8: 30 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. Is this the - would this be the date of the call that you had mentioned that you had with Sheri Dillon and Eric Trump where you communicated the range of values?
A I honestly don't know if that was the date of the call.

consulting engagement?
A This is an extension of the work that I started at the property. The scope is very different. As we know my involvement was very preliminary factfinding for the family and Sheri Dillon to make a business decision on going forward with the conservation easement.

This engagement I believe is intended to take it to the next step and start to -- and produce a written report with a more comprehensive report to get them closer to a potential conservation easement donation.
Q Do you know if this engagement was completed?
A Yes, it was.
Q Maybe I can clear things up.
Mr. McArdle, I'd like to show you Plaintiffs Exhibit 185. Do you recognize this e-mail?
A I may have been mistaken. There was a termination. I'm getting ahead of myself. They're so similar. I believe there was a termination of the idea of producing that written report.
Q Okay.
A And this appears to prove that.
Q I'm glad I can refresh your recollection.
A Thank you.
MR. GABER: I'd ask that this document be moved into evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 185 in evidence.)
Q I'd like to hand you Plaintiff's Exhibit 104. Please take a look at it and let me know if you recognize that.

We caught up to yourself perhaps. Do you know what this document is?

A This is again an engagement for Seven Springs between Cushman & Wakefield and Eric Trump. This is the document I thought I had in my hands a couple minutes ago. This is a request to go forward with a full comprehensive appraisal report for the subject property we've been discussing.

MR. GABER: I'd ask that this document be moved into evidence.

MR. FIELDS: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 104 in evidence.)
Q Could you look at page six, Mr. McArdle?
A Okay.
Q So in addition to your signature on the Cushman &
Wakefield, there is another signature here. Can you explain
D. McArdle - Plaintiff - direct (Gaber)

whose signature that is?
A Sure. At this point it would've been logical for me to continue with this engagement but I had a tremendous workload at the time and elected to bow out of continuing my work on the Seven Springs property. I have a very capable, competent senior appraiser in my office that I asked to continue with this task, so I sort of served as a conduit here maintaining the relationship with Cushman & Wakefield, the Trump Organization, Sheri Dillon. So I assisted with this new engagement recognizing that Tim Barnes was going to take over and complete the assignment in its entirety and I would exit from the whole process. So we thought it was not appropriate to not only have me sign it but Tim as well since Tim would be signing the final document.
Q Is there anything else you remember about the transition of this engagement to yourself from Mr. Barnes?

A Well, it's a unique assignment, a unique property, so we did have some discussions early on, kind of called it the hand off, handing off these one assignment from me to Tim.

I recall some brief conversations giving him a brief overview on the property itself and some of the work I had performed, which is logical. He's now got to step in and he's a very independent appraiser and I did not have a lot of interaction with him after that. He took hold of it wholeheartedly and performed the assignment.

A Yes, I have.
23 Q And are those conservation easements different than standard market value appraisals that other Cushman & Wakefield professionals may perform?

THE COURT: Let's go to 4:40 today considering everything including breaking early tomorrow. So you have 15 minutes.

MR. FIELDS: Thank you, your Honor.
Q Good afternoon, Mr. McArdle. My name is Lazaro Fields. I represent some of the defendants in this action. I am going to ask you a few questions. Is that okay?
A Yes.
Q I just want to be clear that you recall being shown several appraisals and draft appraisals by the government in your examination?
A Correct.
Q And are all of the appraisals that the government showed you related to conservation easements?

A Yes, they were.
Q So the testimony that you gave on direct examination was just limited to conservation easements, correct?
A The appraisal data we went over today was related to conservation easements.
Q Is that an area that you focus in, that you specialize

24

A Yes, there's a nuance to them.
Q Could you just briefly describe what the differences are between the two?
A Well, we talked about it today a little bit. Large majority of the appraisal for conservation easement is fundamental real estate valuation. Talked about valuation of general valuation of land, valuation of potential build-out of a townhouse project, talked about single-family home valuation. We talked about the golf and country club valuation, the differences in some of the adjustments that have to take place after those values are established in some determinations or estimates on how one value might impact the other.
Q What are some of the differences among the adjustments that have to be made?
A Well, in looking at the Briarcliff, for example, we had to weigh whether or not the potential condominium project or townhouse project would benefit the golf club or detract from it. And in that report, there's great detail given to and thought given to some of the positive attributes and some of the negatives.
Q And is there a recordkeeping practice among appraisers in terms of maintaining records that you use to conduct an appraisal?
A Very much so. We're obligated to maintain files.
Q And is that under the USPAP guidelines?

A It is.
Q And just generally, what is that requirement under USPAP?

A Seven years.
Q But what does the guideline provide? What does it suggest to you that you need to keep or maintain?

A Oh -- well, whatever we feel is relevant and pertinent to the assignment at hand. It is mostly electronic nowadays.
Any kind of research or pertinent information, surveys, photos, some -- any kind of notes that we take, we try to, you know, deposit them in the folder at the end of the assignment.

Q So then would it be fair to say that anything that you relied on in an appraisal would be contained within that file or would there be things not contained within the file that you may have relied on in an appraisal?

A There might be things that don't quite make it in there in this day and age. You know, reading it through that articles. Electronic articles don't always make it in there but, you know, you're building a file mentally and also you have an obligation to, you know -- anything physical to, you know -- you might put in there.
Q In terms of Cushman & Wakefield's recordkeeping practice, is there an electronic database that you use to maintain your files?
A Yes, there certainly is. We have a network drive.

Page 2010
Q Is that network drive assessable -- withdrawn. Can you as a Cushman & Wakefield employee access the files of another appraiser at Cushman & Wakefield? A Yes, if it is within the same office. In other words, New York colleagues can access other New York colleagues' work.

Q And are there instances in which an appraiser is walled off from obtaining the file of another appraiser?

A No. I mean, some people have subfolders. There are basically two depositories, so, you know, it may be in one of two areas for the most part, but they're not very difficult to obtain.
Q And would you agree with me that in conducting appraisals, that you rely on engineers and architects, among others, to inform you as to material issues within an appraisal?
A Depending on the complexity of the asset, we often -- you know, in addition to the client, we're often directed to a professional such as an engineer, surveyor or construction manager. However, it relates to the project at hand. So yes, third parties are critical sources for us.

Q And when conducting a conservation easement appraisal, are you permitted to assume hypothetical conditions?

A I think you'd have to be a little more specific on that.

Q Sure. So, for instance, with zoning, if you're conducting a conservation easement appraisal and there's a zoning issue on day one, does that necessarily mean that on day two, that zoning issue would sill persist and how does that factor into your approach?
A Let me say every assignment is different and we treat them on a case by case basis. Sometimes there is a need for a hypothetical condition or extraordinary assumption especially when things are not black and white and may be in transition.

Q You said hypothetical condition and/or extraordinary assumption. Are they the same or are they different terms?

A They are slightly different.
Q What are the differences?
A Hypothetical would be the condition absolutely does not exist and we're going to bypass it and make an exception or make an assumption. An extraordinary assumption is softer, something that, you know, it is a fair judgment to make to move the appraisal to the finish line and it's sort of a flag that we raise to the client that, you know, we -- we had to assume this. There might have been a bit of information that was lacking and in order to complete the appraisal, we feel like it's appropriate to use this assumption. And by the way, you know, it's bolded in many, many places in the report.
Q Did you employ any extraordinary assumptions in the appraisals or draft appraisals that you discussed with government counsel on direct examination?
A I'm not sure I understand the question.

Q Well, were there any extraordinary assumptions -- was the term "extraordinary assumptions"?
A Yes.
Q Did you assume any extraordinary assumptions in the appraisals that you discussed with government counsel on direct examination?

A I think we may have made some assumptions on Seven Springs because that property was in transition at the time.

MR. KISE: One quick housekeeping point that we just missed. So the video clip that they played of Eric Trump, the record has it starting at page 198 , line ten in the deposition, but it doesn't say when it ended. Do we know what the last -- where it went through just so we have it because it is not in the record and they, of course, didn't type out --

MR. GABER: It was at the bottom of the video, but --

MR. GABER: Page 199, line 20.
THE COURT: Please continue.
Q Mr. McArdle, at the beginning of your examination with Mr. Gaber, you discussed the Briarcliff appraisal. Do you recall that generally?
A Certainly.
Q And you had a discussion with Mr. Gaber about how important it was to know your client. Do you remember that?

Page 2013
A Ido.
2 Q And you also testified, I believe, that a property owner knows the property just about better than anybody else; is that accurate?

A Oftentimes, that is the case.
Q And that's why a property owners for you are crucial to communicating with to understand the property better, right?

A They are a big part of our, you know, exploratory work. THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
Q And would you agree that the client has input in the value that you ultimately arrive at?
A No, I would not agree with that.
Q The client has no input?
A He has input in the physical description of the property, but ultimately, it's our conclusion based on a number of facts that we discovered and got comfortable with over the process of writing the appraisal, so...

Q Fair. And I'm not trying to suggest that the client's value has to be your value. My question is more is it standard practice for a client to advocate for their property to their appraiser.

A I would not call it standard practice, but, you know, I've seen it before over my long career and, you know, it was -- you know, it happens. It happens as a course of doing business.

Page 2014
Q And it is not unusual for that to happen?
A It's not unusual.
Q And, of course, a client can have their own opinion of value that may differ from your opinion of value, correct?
A Well, absolutely.
Q And that is, I'm sure, common practice in your experience as well?

A It's common practice, but ultimately, we're the ones calling the value.

Q You also discussed with Mr. Gaber the highest and best use analysis. Do you recall that?

A Sure.
Q And I think you said there are four steps perhaps. The first was legally permissible; the second, physically possible; and the third, feasible; finally, the fourth most profitable?
A That's correct.
Q Is that a standard set of steps that you undertake into valuing a conservation easement?
A Yes, because, you know, ultimately, it was the valuation of the land. Whether it was for conservation or not, that test was still very relevant in the process.
Q And would you agree with me that different appraisers could look at these factors differently?
A In some cases, but I think on a lot of properties, the 25 appraisers often default to a very similar highest and best use.

Q And in terms of specifically conservation easement appraisals, would you agree with me that there are subjectivities that appraisers have to comb through, authorized to come to a conclusion on value?
A There is some subjectivity. There is some objectivity in the beginning and then there is some subjectivity more towards the end with the final value conclusion.
Q And again, reasonable appraisers exercising their judgment could differ as to some of the subjectivities in valuating a property?

A More times than not, we gravitate towards each other if we are given the same set of circumstances or property. The variances are really -- normally not too wide.

Q But it is possible?
A It is possible.
Q You discussed with Mr. Gaber briefly the subdivision sell-out analysis. Do you recall that?

A I do.
Q When you are conducting a subdivision sell-out analysis, are you assuming - you are assuming a set of facts as to how many homes could be built, right? Is that fair?

A Yeah, that's one component of it. Certainly, we want to put our arms around how many units are in play for sure.

Q And where does that information come from generally?
A That information -- my first source would be the owner continuing tomorrow.
Just one quick observation. Common sense tells me that different appraisers could appraise a different property different. How differently, that's another question. To ask every witness over and over again could different appraisers appraise a given property differently seems to me to just be wasting time.

MR. KISE: The only point I'll make on that is we've listened to what I would say in the last two days excruciating questions from the government asking about who's on the "re" line and who's on the "bcc" line.

I don't recall you respectfully hurrying them, so we are trying to move through our examination efficiently, but there are points we believe we need to make. We will take your advice as we always do, but it always seems like when there's a hurry up on the clock, it's our side that's being hurried up and not theirs.

THE COURT: Well, I'm sorry you feel that way. I want everybody to be efficient and I just want to make clear what I said initially here. I'm not stopping you from doing it.

MR. KISE: I know.
THE COURT: You know me well enough.
MR. KISE: I do. Thank you.
THE COURT: All right. Tomorrow at ten o'clock.

Page 2018
See you all then.

In The Matter Of:  PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK v.  DONALD J. TRUMP, et al

DAVID MCARDLE, RAY FLORES  October 20, 2023

NICOLE C. ROBINSON

Original File 102023TRUMP.txt
Min-U-Script ${ }^{\circledR}$ with Word Index

THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is now in session. The Honorable Judge Arthur Engoron presiding. Make sure all cellphones are on silent. Laptops and cellphones will be permitted, but only to members of the press. There's absolutely no recording or photography of any kind allowed in the courtroom. Now, be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: On October 3rd, during a break in this trial, defendant Donald Trump posted to his social media account an untrue, disparaging, and personally identifying post about my principal law clerk. I spoke to defendants, both on and off the record.

Off the record, I ordered Donald Trump to remove the post immediately. Approximately ten minutes later, Donald Trump represented to me that he had taken down the offending post and that he would not engage in similar behavior going forward. I then, on the record, imposed on all parties to this action a very limited gag order, "forbidding all parties from posting, e-mailing or speaking publicly about any members of my staff," emphasizing, quite clearly, that "personal attacks on members of my court staff are unacceptable, inappropriate, and I will not tolerate them under any circumstances."

I further made clear that "failure to abide by this directive will result in serious sanctions." Despite this clear order, last night I learned that the subject offending post was never removed from the website "DonaldJTrump.com," and, in fact, had been on that website for the past 17 days. I understand that it was removed late last night, but only in response to an e-mail from this Court.

In the current overheated climate, incendiary untruths can, and in some cases already has, led to serious physical harm and worse.

I will now allow defendants an opportunity to explain why this blatant violation of a gag order should not result in serious sanctions including financial penalties holding Donald Trump in contempt and/or possibly imprisoning him.

Defendants.
MR. KISE: Good morning, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Good morning.
MR. KISE: Let me begin by saying what I am going to tell you is based on my understanding.

THE COURT: Sure.
MR. KISE: Because as my staff will clearly affirm, I am the least technological person. I don't even have my corporate e-mail on my phone. So based on my understanding, what has happened here is truly inappropriate. So there were no new postings of any kind after October 3rd. The Truth Social post was taken down as of when President Trump

1 represented in court, absolutely.
My understanding of what happens, though, with the campaign machinery is as follows. So the Truth Social post, and I believe this happens with all social posts, they are captured and published on the website as what's called an ICYMI e-mail, which is an "In Case You Missed It" e-mail, which is what the link was that you sent last night.

The campaign communication team sends out press releases as a matter of course as I understand. They are just packaged all and I think -- I will get to that in a minute. The press releases take the "truths" and they're marked [sic] up in Nucleus, that's the web provider Nucleus, and then they're teed up as an FYI e-mail that is sent in e-mail via Nucleus to the e-mail, the campaign e-mail list.

THE COURT: Just let me interrupt one second. Do we know how many people are on the campaign e-mails?

MR. KISE: I do not at this moment, but I can find that out for the Court. That's a fair question and the Court -- I think you noted this at the hearing because you stated, and this was based on our conversations I think off record, that I have since ordered the post deleted.

Apparently, it was, but it was also e-mailed out to millions of other recipients. I think that's right. I could get you the precise number, but as you observed that day, that apparently is what happens, is that Truth and then post down and it would be removed.
So this is just part of the, for lack of a better word, unfortunate part of the process that is built into the campaign structure as I understand it, that all of his Truth posts are wrapped up and sent out by Nucleus and then sent out in these "In Case You Missed It" e-mails.

So it is unfortunate. I certainly apologize on behalf of my clients and I can get further assurance from the tech people as to the number the e-mail went out to and re-confirmation that anything we have control over has been completely removed and deleted.

THE COURT: I take issue with one thing you said, which I don't know, but when you said that he -- that Donald Trump ordered the post removed in my presence, no, he didn't. He went outside --

MR. KISE: Okay. Okay. That's fair. He may not have. I don't remember the chain of events. I know that he did. I can assure you that he did and his communications, I believe, so there was no intention to evade or circumvent or ignore the order. I can assure you that. I just know that this is a very large machine and this is how it is. One of the reasons, frankly, I don't have social media because these things get away from you very, very rapidly, quite honestly, but that's it. It has been taken down and we don't have any other -- there were no subsequent postings, it is packaged up by Nucleus and it is just sent out as an e-mail. Those e-mails cannot be recalled. The Truth post was taken down. Nothing further has been posted on Truth. President Trump has not made any statements of any kind about court staff, has abided by the order completely; but it appears no one also took down the ICYMI, In Case You Missed It, link that's in the campaign website in the back pages.

So, again, this is my understanding, so bear with me, if you go to the website, there's a link for news and then you go to the link for news, that brings up other things and then part of that is a whole bunch of these ICYMI, In Case You Missed It links. So that link was not -- it appears was not taken down from the campaign website. The link has now been taken down as you observed and there is nothing else out there and I will get further confirmation of this, but I had confirmation last night and again this morning that we have no control over what is being published.

So truly, this appears to be inadvertent between the campaign Nucleus and it is a very large operation. I'm not offering that by way of excuse. I'm just explaining the circumstances. It is clear that President Trump directed that this be done. I mean, he did it in my presence. He did it in your presence. He affirmed that he was taking the meaning that since the order was entered, my understanding is that there was nothing -- no further comment, no further -- it was all part of this process that sent it out and left it on the website in the back pages.

THE COURT: Thank you.
Mr. Robert, anything to add?
MR. ROBERT: On behalf of my clients, I join in what Mr. Kise said. Thank you, your Honor.

THE COURT: Plaintiff, anything to -- any comments?

MR. WALLACE: Nothing from the Attorney General, Your Honor.

THE COURT: I'll take this under advisement, but I want to make clear that Donald Trump is still responsible for the large machine even if it is a large machine.

All right. We have some scheduling issues. I'm turning the microphone over to my principal law clerk.

MS. GREENFIELD: We received, I know the parties are aware, we received a motion that was submitted last night by counsel for Ivanka Trump and I wanted to talk briefly to the parties about a briefing schedule for that. We'd like to obviously escalate that as quickly as possible and our intent as for right now is to try to schedule oral argument on that on a trial day, but to begin at 9:30 so as to not waste witness testimony.

Page 2028
Court sign the order as soon as possible. We will be UCF-g it this morning. Thank you.
THE COURT: Granted.
MR. ROBERT: Thank you.
THE COURT: Let's get the witness.
MR. FIELDS: We took Your Honor's direction to heart last night. This cross-examination will be exceedingly brief and we will get Mr. McArdle out for an early weekend and we can move forward.

THE COURT: Okay.
THE OFFICER: Witness entering.
THE COURT: I will advise the witness, as I always do, that he is still under oath. Let's continue the examination by Mr. Fields.

MR. FIELDS: Thank you, Your Honor.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

BY MR. FIELDS: (CONTD)
Q I have a series of short questions for you and we will have you on your way for the weekend.

A Thank you.
Q You testified yesterday, I believe it was, relating to 22 Seven Springs, that you reached out to a real estate broker in the Connecticut area; is that correct?

A He was based in Westchester County.
Q And he had -- did he have knowledge of the Conyers
OAG and defendants, to the extent that you want to brief on this issue, if you could let us know how soon you can get that done. We'd like to get this oral argument on the motion scheduled for next week, if possible.

MR. WALLACE: Would you like us to huddle first? We will do so during the break.

MS. GREENFIELD: Thank you.
MR. KISE: One more minor scheduling. I mean, as long as we are on scheduling. Judge Cannon in the case in south Florida has ordered a hearing on November 1st. There's going to be some dialog. I understand that they are in court today on another issue unrelated to my client, but I'm trying to find out if Judge Cannon will allow me to appear on a Monday or Friday or perhaps by video on Wednesday. I just want to alert the Court that I'm -- I may ask you to be excused from trial for one of those days, whatever day the hearing is.

THE COURT: All right. Thanks for the notice. We will deal with it if and when it comes out.

MR. ROBERT: One other mechanical thing, Your Honor, if I may. We are going to be submitting to you the pro hac application of Ivan Feris and Jennifer Hernandez to help with the depositions next week since we are doing deps and trial. The Attorney General has no opposition and since one of the depositions is Monday, we would just ask that the 1 Q Would you agree with me that Ms. Dillon is meticulous?

2 A I would agree with that.
3 Q Would you agree with me that Ms. Dillon is a good, diligent attorney?

A Based on my experience with her, she appeared to be.
MR. FIELDS: If I may, I'm going to hand up to the witness what's been marked for identification as Plaintiff's 175.

Q Take a look at this and let me know if you recognize it.

A I do recognize this e-mail.
Q And is this an e-mail between you and Mr. Timothy Barnes?
A This is an e-mail from myself to a colleague at Cushman & Wakefield, Timothy Barnes.
MR. FIELDS: Your Honor, I move to admit
Plaintiffs 175.
MR. ROBERT: Again, this is one of the times when introducing an exhibit subject to our statute of limitations because questions were brought out on direct. Same as we've done in the past.

THE COURT: I understand. The objection is noted. Overruled.

MR. GABER: I want to note that there is a -- it is unclear whether or not this was a draft or whether it was ## sent.

THE COURT: You may ask the witness.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 175.)
Q Would you note, Mr. McArdle -- I will represent to you this was produced to us as you can see on the bottom -- scroll to the bottom.

There is a Cushman & Wakefield Bates number on the bottom, C&W, do you see that?

A Yes.
Q I'll represent to you that this was produced as part of this litigation from Cushman & Wakefield, but do you see at the top that there's a blank space next to the from? Do you have any idea why that would be blank?

A No. I've seen this before and I don't understand the reason for it.

Q Fair enough. Neither do I, but, nevertheless, you sent this e-mail to Mr. Barnes; is that fair?
A That is fair.
Q This was in May of 2015. Would it be fair to say that you were reaching out to Mr. Barnes to inquire whether he was interested on working on the Seven Springs conservation easement appraisal?
A That is correct.
25 Q You noted that you had been working with this outside legal staff for several years. Would that be Ms. Sherri Dillon?
A That's correct.
Q You noted that the assignment was not a great fit for you for several reasons. Was one of those reasons that you were extremely busy around this time?
A That's correct. I had a very heavy workload and it really was not a good fit. I was hoping to serve some other clients, you know, do the right thing for them as well.
Q And would it also be fair to say that Mr. Barnes had a little bit more subject matter expertise regarding this easement appraisal?
A I wouldn't necessarily say he had more experience, but he was clearly competent and I believed that he could get the job done.

Q And then the second to last line, Mr. McArdle, you note that the attorney is excellent. Who are you referring to when you refer to the attorney?
A Sherri Dillon.
Q And regarding Seven Springs, would you agree with me that Mr. Eric Trump had a view that when Seven Springs was developed, it would be equally comparable to Conyers Farms?
A That was his view.
Q And that's Mr. Trump felt that was one of the best comps to compare Seven Springs to; is that fair?
A It was one of his favorite comps to promote.

Page 2034
THE COURT: Remember, try to use first names because Mr. Trump could refer to several people.

MR. FIELDS: Yes, sir.
Q I'm referring to Mr. Eric Trump.
MR. FIELDS: Thank you, Your Honor. I apologize.
Q Would you agree that as an owner of the property, Mr.
Trump, Eric Trump is entitled to have his view?
A Yes. We always seek out an opinion. It's fair to obtain their input.
Q There was also an issue regarding litigation in Seven Springs, an access road? Do you generally recall that there was some litigation involving an access road in Seven Springs?
A I do.
Q And would you agree with me that that litigation was just a piece of information that went into your overall analysis for these --

MR. GABER: This is going beyond the scope of the direct at this point and so I'm just wondering if they're taking Mr. McArdle for their case at this point out of turn or what's going on.

MR. FIELDS: We can. I was just going to ask him about the Seven Springs conservation easement appraisal.

THE COURT: Is it outside the scope of direct and if so, are you addressing him as your witness?

MR. FIELDS: Well -- were suitable and reasonable; is that right?
A That's correct.
MR. FIELDS: Thank you very much. Have a wonderful weekend.

THE COURT: Is that it for defense? Any re-direct? MR. GABER: No, Judge.
THE COURT: I may have one question. Hold on.
Mr. McArdle, my one question and you've probably been asked this before, are you related to Andrea McArdle, Broadway's first Annie?

THE WITNESS: No. It has been asked many times, but I'm not.

THE COURT: Oh, shucks.
THE WITNESS: I do have some redheads in the family.

THE COURT: Thank you. You're excused.
THE WITNESS: Thank you.
(Witness excused.)
THE COURT: I think he is on his way here, but plaintiff, would you like to call your next witness.

MR. AMER: We would, Your Honor. The people call Raymond Flores.

THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.
(Whereupon, the witness enters the courtroom and approaches the witness stand. )

THE COURT OFFICER: Please raise your right hand.
Do you solemnly swear or affirm any testimony you give will be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth?

THE WITNESS: I do.
THE COURT OFFICER: Please have a seat. Please state your full name and either home or business address on the record.

THE WITNESS: Raymond Flores. Home address is 525 West 52nd Street, Apartment 14D, New York, New York 10019.

THE COURT: And I'll direct the witness you need to speak right into the mic, like, this loudly, clearly, slowly.

And let's start with the questions.
MR. AMER: Thank you.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. AMER:

Q Good morning, Mr. Flores. My name is Andrew Amer. I'm with the Attorney General's Office.

Can we start with just having you summarize for the Court your educational background after high school?

A I graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in

Page 2036

Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)
Page 2038

2010.

Q And what was your degree in?
A Bachelor's of science and economics.
Q And subsequent to graduating have you received any professional certifications or licenses?

A No.
Q And can you take us through your employment history following your graduation from Wharton?

A I worked with Moody's Investors Service from November of 2010 through June of 2012. Subsequently, I joined the Trump Organization from June of 2012 through March of 2022, and I'm currently employed by Brev Management as of March of 2022 to today.

Q Let me just go back and fill in some details.
For the year and a half that you were at Moody's what was your title?

A I believe I was an associate analyst.
Q And what area were you an analyst in?
A The commercial real estate finance team.
Q And when you joined the Trump Organization in June of 2012, what was your title that you started at?

A I was an analyst.
Q And were you an analyst within any particular team?
A I believe it was the acquisitions and development team.
Q And can you just tell us very generally what your role

A Probably a handful of times in a given month.
Q And can you generally describe the nature of your interactions with Mr. McConney?
A Similar to the types of interactions with
Mr. Weisselberg, Mr. McConney would reach out for information regarding the properties that I was responsible for managing and I was primarily the outreach.
Q So prior to leaving the Trump Organization in March of 2022, were you ever involved in the preparation of Donald J. Trump's Statements of Financial Condition?

A I was. I believe I was involved beginning in -towards the end of 2020 in the preparation of the Statement of Financial Condition presented to outside parties in 2021, but prior to that I was not involved with the preparation of that statement.
Q Just so we're clear, because you said presented in 2021, but if -- the statement you began working on in late 2020 was that the statement that was as of June 2020?
A I don't recall. I believe it was, but I don't recall.
Q And was there a second statement that you were involved in that would have been as of June 30, 2021 that you participated in working on before you left in March of ' 22 ?
A I don't recall.
Q You do recall, though, beginning work on the Statement of Financial Condition as early as late 2020; is that right?

Page 2044
R. Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

A That's correct.
Q Prior to your involvement in the preparation of the June 30, 2020 Statement of Financial Condition were you aware that such a document existed within the company?
A I was not aware that that document existed.
Q And can you describe for us what the nature of your involvement was in the preparation of that initial statement that you were involved in, the one that was in late 2020 ?
A I believe Alan Garten, chief legal officer of the company reached out to ask for me to review the statement - the preparation of the Statement of Financial Condition.

Q So my question's a little different. It wasn't about how you first got involved. It was just to describe for me the nature of what you did in connection with your role in the preparation of the statement.
A I reviewed the statement and the underlying assumptions that went in the valuations.
Q Let me pause on the first half of your answer.
You said you reviewed the statement. Did you review the -- we've seen two documents, one called the Jeff Supporting Data spreadsheet and then the actual spreadsheet itself. So when you said you reviewed the statement, what were you referring to?
A I believe I reviewed -- I believe I reviewed descriptions of the property valuations that went into the statement. I don't actually recall reviewing the final statement.

Page 2045
Q Do you recall reviewing an Excel spreadsheet?
A Can you be more specific about the Excel spreadsheet?
Q We'll look at some -- so maybe that's the better way and we'll see if you can help me out on that.

When you say that you reviewed assumptions, what assumptions did you review?

A Primary assumptions were the parables that supported specific valuations.

Q Do you recall if there were specific assets that you reviewed the assumptions for?

A I believe one of the primary assets was 40 Wall Street, the Old Post Office and the Old Post Office in Washington, D.C.

Q Any others?
A Not that I can recall.
Q Did you review any assumptions for the golf courses?
A I did not, no.
Q How about Mar-A-Lago?
A I recall reviewing assumptions on comparables for that property.

Q As you sit here today, do you recall reviewing assumptions for any assets other than what we've just discussed?
A No.
Q And did you -- when you reviewed assumptions, did you

Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)
Page 2046
also review in addition to - I think you said comps. Did you review capitalization rates?
A I believe so.
Q Who did you work with in connection with your participation on the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition?
A It was Allen Garten, Adam Rosen, Allen Weisselberg, Jeff McConney, and Patrick Birney.

Q Do you recall -- just to see if it refreshes your recollection, did you look at any assumptions in connection with the assets held by the Vornado Partnership Interests, 1290 Avenue of the Americas and 555 California Street?
A I don't believe so, no.
Q Did you review any language of the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition in draft form?
A I believe I reviewed some excerpts that were meant to go into the draft of the Statement of Financial Condition.

Q And who provided you with those excerpts?
A I don't recall.
Q To your understanding when you were working on the preparation of the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition, who had final approval of the methodologies used and the assumptions made?

A I don't know.
Q So you didn't have any understanding among the group that you were working with who had final approval?

Page 2047
A No, I did not.
Q And you continued to work on the preparation of the statement through March of 2022 when you left; is that right?

A I recall working on the 2020 statement. I can't recall if I worked on the 2021 statement.
Q And my question was a little bit different, though.
I just want to know if you have a recollection of continuing to work with the group on the preparation of the statement all the way through when you left in March of 2022?

A No, I don't recall.
Q Do you recall participating in a call in the fall of 2021 with others to discuss valuation methods?

A I don't recall.
Q Let's go ahead and talk about some work you did with respect to the golf clubs.

Were you aware that for some golf clubs members paid a refundable membership deposit?
A Ido.
Q And were the refundable membership deposits something that you were tasked to keep track of?

A I was.
Q And who tasked you to keep track of those membership deposits?

A I believe it was Eric Trump.
MR. AMER: Let's go ahead and mark Plaintiff's
R. Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 2048
Exhibit 2041.
Q Mr. Flores, do you see page one and page three are e-mail exchanges that you are included on?

A I see that.
Q And the second and fourth pages are slip sheets for the attachments that are native files.

MR. AMER: Your Honor, I ask that this be admitted into evidence.

MR. ROBERT: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's in.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 2041 in evidence.)
Q Let's look at the third page. And this is an e-mail to -- from Ian Gillule to Eric Trump and you are cc'd on this e-mail?

A Correct.
Q And the subject is "Trump Westchester Membership Deposit and Resignation Spreadsheet." Is that the same golf course that's also known as Briarcliff?
A I believe so.
Q And Mr. Gillule writes in the second paragraph:
"Per your e-mail to Karen, I've put together the information you've requested. Please see the attached spreadsheet containing two tabs, one with membership deposit
R. Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 2049
information and the second tab with the resignation lists." Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q To your knowledge was membership deposit information something that Eric Trump was interested in tracking?
A Yes.
Q And do you have an understanding as to why he was interested in tracking that information?
A I don't know.
Q I think you testified, though, that he tasked you with tracking the information; correct?

A Beyond tracking the information, I don't know why he wanted me to do that.

Q He asked you to do it but he never told you why he wanted you to do it?

A Correct.
Q Okay. If you go to the e-mail on the first page, the bottom e-mail, that's from Eric Trump to you; correct?

A Correct.
Q And he says to you: "I wanted to introduce you to Brian, our new GM at Trump National Westchester. Brian is going through all the files and getting everything perfectly organized. Why don't you link up next week and take him through all of your spreadsheets for the property. He is working on a few addendum as we speak and they probably need to be update" --
. Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)
should be, I think, "updated as it was probably a year ago that these were created. I leave it to you to connect."

See that?
A Yes, I see this.
Q And then you write to Brian in the top e-mail:
"Hope all is well and welcome to the team. Per Eric's e-mail below, I've attached a workbook I put together last summer when Eric asked me to coordinate with all the clubs to summarize membership liabilities." Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q So is it correct that in the summer of 2014 you were asked by Eric Trump to coordinate with all the clubs to summarize membership liabilities?
A That's what the e-mail says, but I can't recall.
Q Do you have any reason to believe based on what you've written to Brian that that wasn't the case?
A No.
Q And is the workbook being referenced here material that was tracking the membership deposit liabilities?

A It was one form of tracking the liabilities. I believe the accounting team at the property also tracked the liabilities as well.
Q Okay. So this was something you started doing in the summer of 2014; correct?

A I don't recall when I started tracking the liabilities for this club.
Q Well, you wrote to Brian saying that you started working on the attached workbook last summer; right?
A That's what that e-mail says, but I -- the starting point of tracking, I can't recall if that summer or might have been prior to that.
Q It was at least as far back as the summer of 2014?
A I believe so.
MR. AMER: Let's put up Exhibit 2041, native one.
Q Do you recognize this, Mr. Flores, as one of the spreadsheets that was an attachment to this e-mail?
A This tab looks familiar.
MR. AMER: Your Honor, I'm not sure if we're admitting separately the native files or whether they're all in with the initial e-mail.

THE COURT: It's simpler with the initial e-mail, I think.

MR. ROBERT: I figured it was with the initial e-mail.

THE COURT: Good.
Q And then if we go to native two of the Exhibit 2041.
This is entitled registration list.
And then if you click on the first tab -- I'm sorry -"Resignation List." And then the first tab is "membership refundability." Do you see that?

Page 2052
R. Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 2052
A Yes, I can see that.
Q And so is this -- are these spreadsheets the spreadsheets you created to track membership deposit liabilities?
A Not this spreadsheet, no.
Q Was this one of the attachments to the e-mail as far as you could tell?
A I don't know.
Q Does this track membership deposit liabilities?
A That's what it appears to track, but I did not produce this.
$Q$ Do you know who did prepare this?
A I don't know.
Q Did you prepare spreadsheets like this to track the membership deposit liabilities?
A Yes, they contain similar types of information, but I did not produce this document.

MR. AMER: Let's look at Row 345.
Q So based on your familiarity with preparing spreadsheets that track membership liabilities are you familiar with what this row is reflecting?
A Can you scroll back up to the top, please? And can you scroll back to Row 345? I don't know what that row number represents.
Q Well, it says "total," right?

A It is a total but -- yes, it's a sum of columns $E$ and F.

MR. AMER: Let's look at another document, PX 2040.
Q Mr. Flores, this is a series of e-mail exchanges you have with Heidi Brzyski at TrumpNational.com; correct?
A It appears to be what this is.
Q And it has some slip sheets for some attachments that are part of this e-mail exchange.

MR. AMER: I'd move to admit this into evidence with the attachments.

MR. ROBERT: Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiffs Exhibit Number 2041 in evidence.)
Q Mr. Flores, let's look at the bottom e-mail on page one. You're writing to Ms. Brzyski. And who is she, by the way?

A According to this e-mail she is the general manager of Colts Neck.

Q That's one of the Trump golf courses; correct?
A I believe -- correct.
Q And you write to her:
"Hope all is well. I'm working with Eric to update our records on the total membership refundability across our courses. Can you please send us your current spreadsheet and full resignation list with names, refund amounts, and any other permutations or notes for everyone with a refund obligation;" correct?
R. Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 2054
A Yes, that's what this e-mail says.
Q So this was October 2015 and this was part of your undertaking to update records on total membership refundability; correct?
9 A I believe so.
10 Q So did you send similar e-mails to managers of other golf courses within the Trump Organization to collect similar information to allow you to update the records on membership refundability?

A I did.
Q And you were doing that in connection with direction given to you by Eric Trump; correct?

A Correct.
Q And in the top e-mail she sends you back the refundable deposit list and resignation list; correct?

A That's what the e-mail says, correct.
MR. AMER: Let's go ahead and mark 3212.
Q You see this is -- the top e-mail is an e-mail exchange that includes you as a carbon copy; correct?

A That's what the e-mail says, correct.
Q And the subject is "golf liabilities." Do you see |  | Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer) Page 2055 |

| :---: | :---: |
|  |  |
|  | A Correct. |
| 3 | MR. AMER: Your Honor, I ask that this be admitted |

| 5 | THE COURT: Granted. |
| 6 | (Whereupon, the item previously referred to is |
|  | received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 3212 in |

| 9 | Q Let's look at the top e-mail that you were copied on. |
|  | Says, "Hope all is well." And this is being sent in March of |
|  | 2017. Do you see that? |
|  | A Yes. |
| 13 | Q And it's from Jonathan Etra at the Trump Organization. |
| 14 | He's -- is he somebody who is within the same team as you? |
| 15 | A Yes, he was. |
| 16 | Q He writes to a woman named Gina Galeros, "Hope all is |
|  | well. Per Eric Trump's instruction we are having each golf |
|  | property with membership liabilities begin utilizing the |
| 19 | corporate liabilities matrix attached which is based off |
| 20 | information provided by you and updated as of 12/31/2016." |
| 21 | Was this matrix that Mr. Etra is referring to something |
|  | that you and he began using to track membership deposit |
| 23 | liabilities? |
| 24 | A I don't -- do you have a copy of the attachment? I |
|  | don't know what it looks like. | hat?

MR. AMER: Your Honor, I ask that this be admitted into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 3212 in evidence.)
Q Let's look at the top e-mail that you were copied on. Says, "Hope all is well." And this is being sent in March of 017. Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q And it's from Jonathan Etra at the Trump Organization.
He's -- is he somebody who is within the same team as you?
A Yes, he was.
Q He writes to a woman named Gina Galeros, "Hope all is well. Per Eric Trump's instruction we are having each golf property with membership liabilities begin utilizing the corporate liabilities matrix attached which is based off information provided by you and updated as of 12/31/2016."

Was this matrix that Mr. Etra is referring to something that you and he began using to track membership deposit liabilities?
A I don't -- do you have a copy of the attachment? I don't know what it looks like.

Q I'm just asking for your best recollection, Mr. Flores.
A No, I can't recall if the attachment referenced in this e-mail was what you're asking.
Q So I'm not -- my question wasn't specific to the attachment. It was just very generally do you have a recollection of using a matrix in this time frame to reach out to the golf clubs for tracking membership deposit liabilities?

A Yes.
Q And was Mr. Etra working with you on this project at this point in time?

A I believe so.
Transcript continues on the following page....

Page 2058
see some excerpts from it?
A Correct; but for prior statements, I had not.
Q Right.
Let's go to page 11 of 24 in this exhibit and let's go to the Colts Neck section. If you scroll up a little bit. I just want to read to you the last couple of sentences in that paragraph. And we were looking, by the way, at the exchange with the manager for Colts Neck about tracking the membership liabilities. Do you recall that?

A Yes.
Q Okay. In this Statement of Financial Condition, this is the final version that was issued for 2017. It says, "Prior to June 1, 2010, one condition of membership was the contribution of a non-interest-bearing deposit that does not require repayment until certain terms are met and then only upon the member's resignation. The fact that Mr. Trump will have the use of these funds for that period without cost and that the source of repayment will most likely be a replacement membership has led the trustees to value this liability at zero and not its present value." Do you see that?
A Yeah, that's what this document says.
Q Is it the case, Mr. Flores, that while the trustees were valuing the membership deposit liabilities at zero, you and others were working to track the membership deposit liabilities across the clubs at Eric Trump's direction?

Page 2059
A That's correct.
2 Q Just to make sure the court reporter got it, you said "that's correct"?

A Yes.
MR. AMER: Okay. Can we put up next to this, side by side, the 2020 statement which is Exhibit 856 in evidence. If we could go to -- I think it's page 9 of 21, but it is the Colts Neck -- yes.
Q You'll see, Mr. Flores, the same language appears in this document. Prior to June 1, 2010, one condition of membership was the contribution of a non-interest-bearing deposit that does not require repayment until certain terms are met and then only upon member's resignation. The fact that Mr. Trump will have the use of these funds for that period without cost and that the source of repayment will most likely be a replacement membership has led the trustees to value this liability at zero and not its present value." Same language, right?
A That's correct.
Q Was this language language that you reviewed in connection your work in preparing the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition?
A No.
25 Q But it does appear that while the trustees were valuing

Page 2060
the membership deposit liabilities at zero for purposes of the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition, that you yourself were helping to prepare -- you and others were tracking those deposit liabilities at Eric Trump's direction, correct?
A Correct.
Q I want to shift to a different topic. Do you recall that there came a point in time when you were helping prepare the Statement of Financial Condition, that the methodology for valuing golf clubs in 2020 changed?
A I don't recall.
Q Okay.
MR. AMER: Why don't we put up the 2021 supporting data spreadsheet and it is Exhibit 352 in evidence. I would like to look at Briarcliff which begins on row 289.
Q So let me first ask looking at this spreadsheet, is this the spreadsheet format that you reviewed in connection with your work helping to prepare the Statements of Financial Condition?
A I believe for the 2020 statement, correct.
Q If you look at row 308, you'll see it says, "6/30/20, upon the advice and guidance of Marcus & Millichap, golf course industry experts, we left the golf course value unchanged from 2019." Do you see that?

A Yes, that's what the document says.
25 Q Then if you look at row 306, it says, "Upon the advice

the golf courses?

A I -- I can't recall.
Q Let's look at -- well, did you have any discussion with people who you were working with in preparing the Statement of Financial Condition at any point in time prior to when you left the company about using two to three times gross revenue where there was a negative EBITDA to value golf courses?
A I don't recall, no.
Q Do you have any recollection of discussions about how to value the golf courses where the golf course had a positive EBITDA?

A I don't recall.
Q Let's look at row 363, which is for Colts Neck. You see in this row it says under the note, " $6 / 30 / 21$, upon the advice and guidance of Marcus & Millichap, golf course industry experts, a normal golf course with a consistently positive EBITDA trades at six to eight times EBITDA, but the last few purchases have been nine to ten times. Based on the quality of Trump courses could sell at ten times EBITDA." Do you see that?
A Yes, that's what the document says.
Q And then you'll see under rows 375 to 376 , this is a calculation that, in fact, uses this multiplier ten times EBITDA. Do you see that?

A That's what the spreadsheet says.
Q Do you have any recollection of discussing with those individuals who you worked with in preparing the Statements of Financial Condition at any time prior to leaving the organization in March of 2022 this method of calculating values for courses with a positive EBITDA?

A No.
Q I just want to be clear about this. If we have had testimony from others in this case that you participated in a telephone call with Marcus & Millichap where these valuation methodologies were discussed, does that refresh your recollection at all that you were a participant in those discussions?
A No.
Q And if we have testimony in this case from others that it was your idea to average the net fixed assets with the two to three times gross revenue multiplier for purposes of valuing golf course assets, does that refresh your recollection?

A No.
Q Do you have any recollection whatsoever at any point in time working on the valuation of the preparation of the valuations for the statements of discussing these valuation methods that are attributed to Marcus & Millichap?

A No.
Q Let me focus your attention on the Jupiter Golf Course. You're familiar with that course down in Florida, correct?

A Correct.

R. FLORES - DIRECT(MR. AMER)

Page 2064

A Correct.
Q You see the subject is the "Jupiter appeal recommendation"?
A Correct.
Q And who is Mr. Corbiciero?
A I believe he was a consultant, a tax certiorari with Marvin F. Poer.
Q You said he was a consultant for the Trump Organization, correct?
A Correct.
MR. AMER: Your Honor, I move this exhibit into evidence.

THE COURT: It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 3216.)
Q And the firm he is with Marvin F. Poer & Company. If I just refer to that as Poer & Company, is that okay? Can we refer to that as Poer & Company?
A Yes.
Q I think you mentioned tax certiorari. Is that a fair

23 Q Mr. Corbiciero goes on to say, "The 2020 combined 24 proposed market value is $$ 16,672,472$ which is a two percent 25 increase over last year's value;" is that right?

Page 2066
A That's what the e-mail says.
Q So when you read this e-mail, you understood that the value was a proposed market value for Jupiter, correct?
A That's correct. That was coming from the tax assessor. Q And then the next paragraph starting in the second sentence of that paragraph says, "Using the same methodology as in previous years" and let me just stop here and ask. Had you been involved in this process in prior years for the Jupiter tax notices?

A Yes.
THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
Q So when Mr. Corbiciero writes, "using the same methodology as the previous years," you would have been aware of what those -- what that same methodology had been, right?

A I believe so.
Q And he goes on -- so he goes on to say, "Using the same methodology as in previous years, we determined a GIM of 1.38 which is below the average of 1.45 from the SGA report." Did you understand GIM to mean gross income multiplier?

A Yes.
Q Is that synonymous with gross revenue multiplier?
A I don't know.
Q Did you understand that GIM was a multiplier that would be multiplied by the gross income for the club?

A Yes.
$1 \quad$ And do you know what he's referring to when he refers to the SGA report?

A I don't recall.
Q He goes on to say, "We also reviewed the most comparable assessments which mostly increase between one to four percent over last year's values and support a range of 503,778 per hole to $1,335,269$ per hole." Do you see that?

A I do.
Q And Jupiter is an 18-hole golf course, correct?
A I don't recall the exact number of golf holes.
MR. AMER: I don't think it is a matter in dispute, so I'll represent that it is an 18 -ole course.
Q Now, in terms of the methodology that is described here, you would agree with me there's no mention of using a different methodology other than the gross income multiplier method, do you?

A Sorry. Can you repeat the question?
Q Sure. The only methodology that Mr. Corbiciero is referencing here is the methodology that uses a gross income multiplier; isn't that right?

A He also references a comparable assessment approach.
Q Nothing about a fixed assets approach, though, correct?
A Not in this e-mail, no.
Q Then in the fourth paragraph, he says, "Based on the information provided and current market data, our analysis of 1 be clear. I'm not the tech person, but this is what I've 2 been advised this morning. So the e-mail that goes out, the 3 ICYMI, In Case You Missed It, e-mail does not go out on the 4 broader distribution list. That's a press e-mail. It is 525,810 recipients. So while that is still a number, it is 6 not millions. It is not -- it's not what -- what we had 7 talked about before. It doesn't go -- that's not the broad 8 distribution list.

So there were 25,810 recipients on that e-mail link or e-mail chain. Of that, there were 6,713 that opened the e-mail and then we go from there to the website because -- so that covers the e-mails. There's 25,810 e-mails, 6,713 that were opened.

The e-mail sends you to the link, the link. So between October 3rd and October 19th, there were a little over 114 million visitors to the campaign website, total visitors to the campaign website. However, only 3,701 , 3-7-0-1, viewed the -- they're called unique views, viewed the posting, viewed this posting that is the subject of what we're talking about today. That would include anyone that received the e-mail. So they're not separate. So of the 6713 folks that got the e-mail, if they were to click on the link, they would have been counted in that 3,701 individuals that viewed the post.

But again, of the 114 million plus visitors to the the subject property indicates that the market value is reasonable." Do you see that?

A Ido.
Q The market value that he's telling you he believes is reasonable is the value -- market value of 16.7 million, right? A Yes.

MR. AMER: If -- am I at my time, Your Honor?
THE COURT: Well, you have two minutes or you can quit now.

MR. AMER: I was going to put up another exhibit, so maybe it makes sense to --

THE COURT: It makes sense to break now. Okay. 15 minutes, everybody. See you at a quarter to noon.

MR. KISE: I will hopefully have an update for you on the question you asked earlier before the witness comes in after the break on the numbers.

THE COURT: I understand. Great.
(Witness exits the stand.)
(Whereupon, a recess was taken.)
THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is back in session. Please be seated and come to order.

MR. KISE: I do have some numbers. There is some good news under the circumstances.

THE COURT: I'd love to hear them.
MR. KISE: Again, this is my understanding just to website, they didn't view the post. You have to click through layers to get there, but that's -- and if the Court has further questions about the numbers, but that is the breakdown that I have for now. I may be able to break it down by day, October 3, October 4, 5. I just don't know if it would matter.

THE COURT: That wouldn't matter.
MR. KISE: But there are 3,701 total viewers of the post that is in question which again, as I've said, has since been taken down.

THE COURT: Well, you and I are both becoming more tech savvy from all this.

MR. KISE: Apparently. Thank you, Judge.
THE COURT: Witness, please.
THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.
(Witness resumes the stand.)
MR. KISE: Just one thing. I know the witness is there, but it won't relate to testimony. I'm looking at the realtime. The 3701 is the number of people that did view the post, not did not.

THE COURT: We understood.
MR. KISE: I know, but on the record, it said didn't view the post, so that's an important distinction.

THE COURT: 180 degrees.
MR. KISE: Yes.

R. FLORES - DIRECT(MR. AMER)

 exhibit, page 10 of 14 , this is a chart of comps and I did want to point out, so that nobody has to take my word for it, in fact, the Jupiter Country Club, line nine, has 18 holes. You see that?A That's what the document says.
Q Okay. And well, we'll come back to that in a minute.
MR. AMER: Let's go ahead and put up -- go back to the first page of the exhibit, so we could see Mr.
Corbiciero's e-mail and let's put up the 2021 Jeff supporting data spreadsheet which is Exhibit 1352. We can do that next to this e-mail. And let's go to row 547, which is where we find the Jupiter club. Let's just go up, so we can see that it is the Jupiter club and if we could see 547 and then slide it over, so we see the two values.
Q So Mr. Corbiciero's letter references market value which he views as reasonable of 16 -- roughly 16.7 million and in the Statement of Financial Condition value for 2020, it is 73.6 million roughly and in 2021, it's 67.7 million. Do you see that?

MR. KISE: Objection. I'm not sure that characterizes the two exhibits accurately.
MR. AMER: I think the numbers are what they are.
If he has an argument to make at closing whether those numbers are numbers that should be compared, that seems to be something that should wait for closing.

THE COURT: Or cross-examination.
MR. AMER: Or cross-examination, but I think they said they weren't going to cross-examine this witness.

MR. KISE: Not today, certainly.
THE COURT: Not even one question?
MR. KISE: I don't think so. Why would we keep us here any longer?

THE COURT: I'll overrule the objection subject to any correction that somebody comes up with.
Q Now, if we go back to the e-mail on the comparable assessments method, there is a range that Mr. Corbiciero provides for price per hole. Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q I'll represent some math to the Court that if you take even the high end of the range and you multiply it by 18 for 18 holes, you end up with about 24 million.
THE COURT: Okay. I'll accept that subject to any correction MR. AMER: Thank you.

A In late 2020, I believe it was maybe two to three hours a week.
Q And over the course of how many weeks?
A I don't recall.
Q Was it months?
A It could have been.
Q Let's turn to a different property, the property called Niketown here in New York.

You're familiar with that property; correct?
A Yes.
MR. AMER: Let's put up the 2020 Jeff Supporting Data. It's Exhibit 857 in evidence, and let's go to Row 88, which is where Niketown begins.
Q Do you see that?

A Yes.

Q And I want to focus on the difference between the valuation that was used in 2020 and the valuation method that was used in 2019. You'll see there is a number of rows and steps that go into the calculation in 2019 that start on Row 88 and go all the way through 103 and lead to a value of 445 million. Do you see that?
A Yes.
Q And for 2020 there is a single row, Row 104, that says, "Value per 20-year discounted cash flow from Ray Flores." Do you see that?
A That's what the document says.
Q Did you perform such an analysis on Niketown for 2020?
A I don't recall.
Q Do you have any recollection whether related to the Statement of Financial Condition or not of preparing a 20 -year discounted cash flow analysis for the property?
A No, I don't recall.
Q Did you prepare a 20 -year discounted cash flow analysis for Niketown in any prior years to the best of your recollection?
A I may have, but can't recall the specific cash flow.
Q Can you think of any business purpose for why you would have been preparing a 20 -year discounted cash flow analysis for Niketown?
R. Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 2076
A Not that I can recall.
Q If we go down you'll see starting in Row 110 there is a discussion. It says "6/3/2020." It says "4-6 East 57th." Is that the Niketown address?
A Yes.
Q Says "it has historically been occupied by a single tenant given the current tenant's lease expiration in May '22, the discounted cash flow takes into account a new single tenant user." Do you see that?
A Yes, that's what the document says.
Q And it's referring to the 20-year discounted cash flow and it claims to be from you. Do you see that?
A That's not what that references, a discounted cash flow.
Q For 6/30/2020 in the notes in Row 106, which is where the value from $6 / 30 / 2020$ comes from, says, "Value per 20-year discounted cash flow from Ray Flores;" right?
A That's what the document says, but the row in 110 doesn't reference 20 years nor my name.
Q It references a discounted cash flow, doesn't it?
A Yes.
Q Does reading that refresh your recollection that you
23 prepared a 20 -year discounted cash flow analysis for Niketown?
24 A No, I don't recall.
25 Q It goes on to say that it used the 2020 Gucci renewal
R. Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 2077

1 as the most recent comparable given close proximity to 4-6 East 57th Street and similar luxury retail presence on both blocks.
3 Does that refresh your recollection that you prepared a 20-year discounted cash flow analysis for Niketown?

A No, can't recall.
Q And then it says, "Kandell ground lease is subject to a pending rent reset to be determined by an appraisal proceeding." Do you see that?
9 A Yes.
10 Q Do you recall a rent reset appraisal proceeding that involved the Kandell ground lease?

A Yes.
Q And the ground lease is one of the two ground leases that Niketown was subject to?
A Yes.
Q And what was your involvement in connection with the appraisal proceeding to determine the rent reset?

A I believe I interacted with the appraiser that the company engaged in relation to this process.
Q And do you have any recollection of incorporating a rent reset into an analysis that you did of the property?

A I don't recall.
Q That doesn't ring a bell for you?
A No.
Q Okay. And then it goes on to say, "In the absence of . Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)
Page 2078
1 the final determination we assume the same amount of the prior period." Do you have any recollection of using the rent from the prior period for a going-forward analysis pending the reset appraisal proceeding?

A No, I don't recall.
MR. AMER: Let's go ahead and mark Plaintiff's
Exhibit 860 in native. It's just a slip sheet placeholder for this spreadsheet.
Q You will see that this is a 20-year cash flow analysis; correct?

A Can you scroll to the right, please?
Q Sure.
MR. AMER: Scroll all the way to the right.
A Can you continue to scroll, please?
Q That's as far as it goes.
A Okay. That's leaves 20 periods.
MR. AMER: And go back to the left.
Q And you see Row 4, "20 years." See that?
A That's what the document says.
Q Okay. Do you recognize this as a spreadsheet you prepared that's a 20-year cash flow analysis for Niketown?
A It looks familiar. I'm not sure. I didn't put this together.

Q Well, do you recognize it as your work or not,
25 Mr. Flores? or somebody else did this?

MR. KISE: Objection. Leading. This is direct and argumentative.

MR. AMER: Well, first, I don't think it's leading because I didn't suggest the answer.

THE COURT: Overruled. Not leading.
Q Can you answer the question?
A I don't recall if I put this together.
Q Let's look under the "value" tab.
Do you see that there is an NPV value in Row $14 ?$
A Yes, this is what the document says.
Q And do you looking at this spreadsheet understand that's net present value?
A Yes.
MR. AMER: Your Honor, I move this exhibit into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 857 in evidence.)

MR. KISE: What was the date of this again? It's not on the sheet. Year, do we know?

MR. AMER: It's 2020.
R. Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 2080

MR. KISE: 2020, okay. Fine.
MR. AMER: And actually, one way to do that is if we go back to the -- go back to the Jeff Supporting Data and we can split the screen.
Q And you see the value for June 30, 2020 is 252.8? Do you see that?
A That's what the document says.
Q And that comes -- that matches the number if we go back to the cash flow analysis that's on the NPV line; correct?
A Can you put the documents side by side, please? And scroll to the right to the document? On the right.

MR. AMER: I think we need to go down to see the -we're in a different -- we're on Wall Street, so we need to go back to Niketown and go to the right for Row 106.
Q Same number, right?
A Yes. The number in cell H 106 on the right hand matches the figure D in cell D 14 on the left hand.
Q If we go back to the spreadsheet, the -- sorry.
The cash flow analysis and there are two other tabs. There is a "plan" tab.

MR. AMER: Can we click on that?
Q And then a "ground lease" tab.
MR. AMER: Let's click on that.
Q And that shows the ground lease amounts and the Kandell lease is 540,000 . Do you see that?
R. Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 2081

A Yes, that's what the document says.
Q Does looking at these tabs refresh your recollection, Mr. Flores, that this 20-year cash flow analysis is your work product?
A It could have been, but I don't recall this specific document at this moment.
Q Do you know what the basis was for assuming that the -or deciding to use the prior rent amount for the Kandell lease while the reset appraisal proceeding was pending?
A No, I don't recall.
Q Do you know the outcome of the appraisal proceeding to reset the rent on the Kandell lease?
A I don't remember.
MR. AMER: Why don't we look at Exhibit 3213.
Q I think you mentioned that you worked with the appraiser who was hired by the Trump Organization to work on the rent reset proceeding; is that right?
A Yes.
Q If you look at the last page, 12 of 12, was that appraiser David Fields of Fieldstone Advisers?
A Yes.
Q And does this last page appear to be the agreement that was reached on March 13, 2021 as to what the rent reset would be for Niketown?

MR. KISE: Objection. Foundation.
R. Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 2082
MR. AMER: He said he worked with Mr. Fields on this very proceeding.

MR. KISE: Right, but he's not -- he didn't testify to anything about this document. You're just showing him a document at random and I don't think he can attest to what's written on the document. He can read what's written on the document, but it's hearsay. The document itself is hearsay, so the witness hasn't demonstrated that he has any foundation to answer the question.

MR. AMER: He does have foundation. He said he worked on this proceeding. How is that not foundation to be able to recognize if this is the agreement that resolved the proceeding?

MR. KISE: But he never -- he might not have ever seen the resolution. He might not have participated in the resolution.

MR. AMER: Then that's his answer.
THE COURT: Overruled on the ground last stated, if that's his answer, that's his answer.

Do you need a read back or ask it again or --
Q Do you -- given your involvement in the proceeding to reset the rent do you recognize this last page as the agreement that was signed between the two appraisers arriving at the rent reset amount?

A No, I don't recall reviewing this specific page.

Page 2083

Q I didn't ask you that. I just asked if you -- you're in a position given the involvement you had in the proceeding to recognize this as the final agreement reached between the two appraisers?

MR. KISE: Same objection.
Q Yes or no?
A That's what the document says.
THE COURT: Overruled. It's --
Q That wasn't my question.
THE COURT: It's a subtle question. Ask it again and we'll get a read back.
Q Given your involvement in the proceeding, Mr. Flores, are you able to tell us that this is the final agreement between the two appraisers resetting the rent for Niketown?
A That's what the document appears to be.
MR. AMER: Your Honor, I move this into evidence.
MR. KISE: Your Honor, it's complete hearsay. The witness has just answered that's what the document appears to be, but he's not on the document, it's not addressed to him. There is no foundation. He hasn't acknowledged that he ever reviewed the document. I don't see how it comes into evidence. It's simply hearsay.

MR. AMER: Your Honor --
MR. KISE: If they want to call Mr. Nakleh, if they want to call these witnesses that are participating in this, this witness has said -- all he said at most "this is what it appears to be." Any of us can say that. That's not a foundation for admission into evidence.

Page 2084

THE COURT: Yes, but he worked on the project.
MR. KISE: But he says he doesn't recognize this as the final resolution.

MR. AMER: Can I be heard, Your Honor? CPLR 4549 is a recognized exception to the hearsay rule. It says:
"A statement offered against an opposing party shall not be excluded from evidence as hearsay if made by a person whom the opposing party authorized to make a statement on the subject or by opposing party's agent or employee on a matter within the scope of that relationship and during the existence of that relationship."

Mr. Fields was retained as the Trump Organization's agent to act as their appraiser in this proceeding. This is not hearsay and it comes in for all purposes under 4549.

MR. KISE: Again, I don't -- without getting into a long debate, I don't agree at all with that. Mr. Fields can come and testify and bring it in that way. That would be a statement, but this is an out-of-court statement offered to prove the truth of the matter asserted.

If Mr. Fields were here himself and he testified to what's in this document that would be the subject of what's covered under the rule, but some document that is just out there that they're alleging is a statement by our agent, no.
THE COURT: Well, the witness - I want to make sure we're on the same page or at least I'm on the right page.

The witness said he worked on this project. He says yes, this looks like the resolution of the project on which he worked. Overruled. It's in evidence.
Q And the agreement resets the rent to $$ 892,500$; correct?
A That's what the document says.
Q And that's almost twice what the rent had been prior to the reset. Isn't that right?
A I believe so.
MR. AMER: And let's put up the native of Plaintiff's Exhibit 2222.
Q This is the 20-year discounted cash flow for Niketown for 2021. Do you recognize this as another 20-year -- well, do you recognize this as a 20-year discount cash flow that you prepared for Niketown?
A It could have been, but I don't -- I can't recall in this moment.
Q Let's look under the "ground lease" tab.
Do you see that the ground lease amounts for Kandell in this cash flow analysis is the amount that was agreed to between the appraisers; right?
A Yes.

Q Looking at the prior cash flow analysis, looking at this cash flow analysis and bearing in mind your involvement in the rent reset proceedings, are you able to confirm that this is your work product?A It could have been, but I don't know in this moment. I can't recall.

Q Do you have any understanding as to why a cash flow analysis would be using the new rent reset amount as opposed to the prior amount?
A Because that was the actual rent at that point of time. That's what I think it meant, but --

Q So once the rent reset proceedings had been resolved and the new rent had been established at an amount that was almost twice the old rent, your understanding is that it would make sense to use the new rent amount; correct?

MR. KISE: Objection. I think this question and, frankly, the last one is calling for speculation because the witness just testified that he's not sure this is his work product. Is he asking him to speculate? Because that's what his answer was to the last question. It would seem so.

MR. AMER: Your Honor, I don't think it's asking a witness who is involved in the reset proceeding what his understanding was as to what use the new rent would be put to.

THE COURT: I think it was -- it's a question in
R. Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)
the abstract anyway, but it's logic.
MR. KISE: But that's speculation. He said right there the answer to the last question it could have been, but I don't know. So it's calling for speculation. He clearly doesn't know.
THE COURT: Well, Mr. Flores, don't speculate, but answer the question.
MR. AMER: Your Honor, can I have a read back, please?
THE COURT: Sure.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)
A Yes.
Q And if we look at the "value" tab again, you see that the value, the NPV value in Row 14 is 225.8 roughly million dollars; correct?
A That's what the document says.
MR. AMER: And if we can pull up the 2021 Jeff Supporting Data spreadsheet. It's 1352 in evidence. Q And look, compare that to Row 91, Row 91.
And by the way, just to go back a little bit again.
You'll see in Row 89 it says, "Value per 20-year discounted cash flow from Ray Flores." Do you see that?
A That's what the document says.
Q And then it gives the values in 2021 and 2020.
R. Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)

Page 2089
1 appraiser for the appraisal proceeding to obtain the rent reset 2 amount?
3 A I can't recall.
Q Let me show you Exhibit 3215. This is a retainer for Fieldstone Advisers. You'll see under the "Scope of Engagement" it says, "David E. Fields will serve as client's party-appointed appraiser for purposes of the appraisal proceeding."

Do you see that?
A That's what the document says.
Q And above there is a reference to the Kandell lease. Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q And if you turn to page two this document is signed.
One of the signatories is Eric Trump; correct?
A It's what the document appears to show.
Q And did Eric Trump assign you to oversee the rent reset proceeding?

A Not to oversee it, but I was involved in this proceeding.

Q Well, did you become involved at his direction? A Yes.

MR. AMER: Your Honor, I move Exhibit 3215 into evidence.

MR. KISE: Your Honor, again, I don't think the proper foundation has been laid. If they want to have

Page 2088
MR. AMER: If we go over.
Q The 2021 value matches exactly the value for NPV in Row 14 of the 20 -year cash flow analysis; correct?

A That's correct.
MR. AMER: Your Honor, I move to admit
Exhibit 2222.
THE COURT: Granted. It's in evidence.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 2222 in evidence.)
Q And you'll see in Row K it's tracking the difference and the value has dropped by 27 million from 2020 to 2021; correct?

A Yes.
Q And based on your understanding of how the rent fits into the formula, if the rent nearly doubles that would decrease the value of the property; right?

A Yes.
Q You mentioned and we've established you were involved in the rent reset proceeding. Did anyone from the Trump Organization to your knowledge attempt to get a preliminary indication from an appraiser on what the likely rent reset would be before the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition was issued? A I don't recall.
25 Q Do you know when the Trump Organization engaged an

Flores - Plaintiff - direct (Amer)
Page 2090
Mr. Trump lay the foundation or Mr. Fields lay the foundation, I mean, the fact that this witness had some involvement in the process, if we're going to use that as the standard for admission of what is clearly hearsay that would be a giant black hole. It could be anything. Any document associated with the process would then come in under that standard. They could just ask him "were you involved?"
"Yes, I was involved."
"And is this a document that looks like it has something to do with the process?"
"Yes."
So there is just no foundation at all laid for the introduction of hearsay. They have not. At this moment it's hearsay. If they want to call a witness that can actually get the document into evidence, that's fine, but this is not that witness.

MR. AMER: I want this for purposes of notice as to when the appraiser was hired. So maybe we can shortcut this. This is a Trump Organization document and it's signed by Eric Trump and I'm only offering it for purposes of the date of the letter, which January 18, 2021.

THE COURT: Well, the date of the letter is -- I understand that impacts directly on notice, if that's what you want it in for. I can't see it. testimony that David fields was, in fact, hired as the Trump Organization's appraiser for purposes of this proceeding, right? A I believe so.

MR. KISE: Objection. Leading.
MR. AMER: I'm summarizing the testimony he's already given, Your Honor. Just because I want to point out that the fact that Mr. Fields was retained is already in evidence. I don't need this letter to establish that. I only want this letter for the date.
Q So my question is just to confirm that you've already testified that Mr. Fields was the appraiser who the Trump Organization hired to handle this appraisal proceeding, right? A Yes.
Q And he was hired based on this letter that is now in evidence on January 18, 2021, correct?

MR. KISE: Objection; leading and foundation. If he's asking if that's what the letter says, he can say that. He doesn't need this witness to confirm or deny it because this witness doesn't know. He knows what's written there and we just introduced it for purpose of notice.

THE COURT: Can you rephrase it just to ask him whether it says that which we've been doing most of this trial?
Q What is the date of the letter, Mr. Flores?

A The letter is dated January 18, 2021.
THE COURT: And do you have any reason to think that that date is somehow bogus?

THE WITNESS: I have no reason to believe that date is bogus.

MR. AMER: I'm just going to ask that we put up the demonstrative PDX-2 and it is just a shorthand for telling us when each statement was issued and I'll note for the record that the 2020 statement was issued on January 11, 2021 which is one week before the appraiser was retained.
Q Mr. Flores, given that the rent nearly doubled when it was reset, do you recall if there was at least a sense among you and the others preparing the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition that the Nike rent reset would result in a higher rent?

MR. KISE: Objection. At least a sense? I'm not sure --

THE COURT: Sorry. Say it again.
MR. KISE: At least a sense?
MR. AMER: What's wrong with that?
THE COURT: I'll allow it. It is a little vague, but I'll allow it.
A Can you repeat the question, please?
MR. AMER: Can I have a readback, please.
THE COURT: Please, read back.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was read back.)
A No, I don't recall.
Q So is it your recollection that when the agreement between the appraisers came up with a rent that was almost double the prior rent, that that was -- came as a surprise to the people who were working with you on the 2020 Statement of Financial Condition?
A I don't recall.
Q Can you think of any reason why the Trump Organization could not have retained an appraiser earlier while the valuation for Niketown was still being prepared for the 2020 statement to obtain a preliminary value for the building to determine the likely change in the rent through the reset?

MR. KISE: Objection; calls for speculation.
THE COURT: I don't think it does. Overruled.
A I don't know.
Q Well, my question was whether you can think of any reason. So is your answer, no, I cannot think of any reason?

A No, I can't think of any reason.
Q Thank you.
Let's turn to the property in Vegas which is a joint venture with Mr. Ruffin. Are you familiar with that property? A Yes.

MR. AMER: Let's put up the 2014 Jeff supporting

1 data. It is Exhibit 719. Let's go to row 751. 2 Q You'll see in row 751 for 2013 and 2014, it says, "Based on the cash flow from unit sales prepared by Ray Flores October 2013."
5 Did you do a cash flow analysis for Vegas in October of 2013?
7 A Yeah, I recall putting together -- maintaining a cash flow.
$9 \quad \mathrm{Q}$ So this one, you remember?
10 A Yes.
11 MR. AMER: Can we put up Exhibit 1139.
12 Q The top e-mail is from you to Eric Trump in July of 132013 and it references the subject Vegas and includes an 14 attachment "Trump Ruffin five-year pro forma budget V17." Do you see that?

A Yes.
Q And it has a slip sheet for the attachment as the second page?

MR. AMER: Your Honor, I move to admit both the e-mail and the attachment.

MR. KISE: Objection. Statute of limitations. THE COURT: Overruled. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Documents were marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1139.)
Q So your e-mail to Eric Trump says, "Please see the attached"-- "Please see attached the updated model which incorporates Allen's waterfall figures into the executive summary tab."

Page 2096

Just to be clear, is Allen a reference to Allen Weisselberg?
A Yes.
Q And is what's referenced here when it says, "the updated model" your cash flow analysis?
A I believe so.
Q And was this something you prepared at Eric Trump's direction?
A Yes.
Q And in the bottom e-mail, which is from Eric Trump to you, he refers to it as the Vegas model. Is that your cash flow analysis as well?
A Yes.
Q And the attachment which says, "V17," does that refer to version 17?
A Yes.
Q For how long had you been preparing this model that is being updated in 2013?
A I don't recall when I started preparing it, the model.
Q It would have been before July of 2013, though; is that right?
A Yes.

Q Did you continue to work on this Vegas model providing a cash flow analysis through the entire course of your employment at the Trump Organization until March of 2022?
A I can't recall at what point I stopped maintaining the cash flow model, but from what I recall, I don't recall updating it regularly towards the end of my tenure at the company.
Q What, to your recollection, was the last updated model that you worked on?
A I don't know.
MR. AMER: Let's go ahead and mark Plaintiff's
Exhibit 3210.
Q You will see, Mr. Flores, the bottom e-mail is from Allen Weisselberg to you asking you to forward to him the analysis that you prepared for Eric and then you go ahead in the top e-mail and forward it on the Las Vegas model, right?
A That's what the e-mail says.
MR. AMER: I move to admit this exhibit, Your Honor.
MR. KISE: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 3210.)
Q And the attachment says version, "V18." So is that a later version of what we were just discussing?
A It's a different version. I'm not sure if it is a later version.

Page 2098
Q You're not sure if version 18 is a later version from version 17?

A What are the date stamps to the title?
MR. AMER: I'll just take that it is a different version. I think that's fine.

THE COURT: Okay.
MR. AMER: And let's look at the 2016 Jeff supporting data which is Exhibit 742 in evidence, row 816. Q Now, we looked at the supporting data spreadsheet that had the 2013 and 2014 values for Vegas, both attributed to your cash flow analysis. And now we're looking at the spreadsheet that has 2015 and 2016 and it is the same attribution, correct? It is based on your cash flow from unit sales that you prepared, right?
A That's what this document says.
THE COURT: Mr. Amer, how much longer because we have various scheduling issues to address?

MR. AMER: I think I will probably be another 45 minutes.

THE COURT: We will have to bring him back Monday, I guess. Ten o'clock Monday. Counselors, right?

MR. KISE: That's fine.
THE COURT: Right. Well, five-minute warning. Take it back.

Witness, you're excused for the day. I direct you not to discuss this case or your testimony in it or anything about this case until after your testimony is through which will be probably, we hope, Monday and we will see you at ten o'clock on Monday. You're excused for now.
(Witness excused.)
MS. GREENFIELD: Counselor, why don't you -- all the schedulers, come on up.

Off the record.
(Whereupon the trial was adjourned to October 23, 2023.)

In The Matter Of:  NYS Attorney General v.  Donald Trump, et al.

William Kelly, Michael Cohen October 24, 2023

Janelle C. London, RMR, CRR & Nicole Robinson, SCR

THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is now in session. The Honorable Judge Arthur Engoron presiding. Make sure all cell phones are on silent. Laptops and cell phones will be permitted, but only to members of the press. There is absolutely no recording or photography of any kind allowed in the courtroom. Now be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: I think we are going to have some photographers come in first.
(Whereupon, there is a pause in the proceedings.)
THE COURT: Plaintiff, would you like to call your first witness for today?

MR. KISE: Your Honor, I'd like to just, as I mentioned over the weekend, place something on the record briefly before the witnesses enter the room.

THE COURT: Go ahead.
MR. KISE: So I just want to place our objection on the record to proceeding today under the circumstances.

As we had exchanged, the Attorney General knew about this COVID risk of -- at least as of last Wednesday. There was no mention of it, there was no notice of it. We had a shared podium, a shared microphone. There are court reporters here, court officers here, the Court, Counsel. We had multiple close sidebar discussions with now-COVID positive lawyers.

There was a deposition Thursday of the witness and Counsel, the reporter were all exposed. There was no opportunity for any precautions of any kind. You'll notice I'm sitting over on this side of the courtroom.

Saturday evening was the first notice of this and a total of four team members from the Attorney General's team tested positive. None of the communications expressed any concern about safety or health, none of them asked for any protocol measures, none of them asked for anything to be done. The only reason for the notification was scheduling and the Attorney General simply wanted to proceed with the trial as if nothing had happened. And, respectfully, in our view, that's just beyond irresponsible.

There are many people in this courtroom, including myself, that have specific and special health concerns and considerations. Some have caretaking responsibilities. We don't know about all of the many dedicated court officers and court staff and court reporters in addition to the literally hundreds of media individuals present, and these individuals, including myself, are entitled to notice at a minimum so they can take necessary precautions.

Now, the Attorney General has made numerous public statements, numerous public statements about COVID.

Quote, "The health and safety of all New Yorkers has always been our top priority and in order to protect our communities we must continue to act responsibly and 1 carefully." That's a quote from December of 2021.

So this is the same Attorney General also that sued Amazon, among others, over their COVID practices. Yet her own staff ignore basic notice requirement. It seems as with everything else with this case that nothing else matters except for suing President Trump. We're just going to dispense with all the rules, we're going to dispense with all the protocols and we're going to forge ahead with the trial. Everyone is just looking the other way and, frankly, it's irresponsible to proceed.

Having at least another day -- there was another team member from the Attorney General that tested positive this morning. We're not exactly sure we're through with this. I hope for all our sake, but there is no prejudice to wait another day. There is no jury. Forging ahead with a key witness who now I understand also has potential considerations, I'm not sure what those are, but I certainly won't get into them on the record, having a break to ensure that all Counsel, all staff, everyone involved is cleared. I do appreciate that the Attorney General, as we did, tested themselves this morning, their counsel team and our counsel team and your counsel team, at least we understand from them tested negative, but it's really hypocritical to say the health and safety of all New Yorkers is a top priority and the AG wants to forge ahead with this. And I'm sure that was at trial in New York, but I was taking medications and I was on pain pills and I was doing this and doing that. So I think that that's yet another reason to postpone for the day. Thank you, Judge.

THE COURT: Well, I can take a vote of all the people out there whether they want to proceed today. I realize that's not the issue. I understand what you're saying. I understand your concerns. I won't address, but I will allow the Attorney General's Office to address, if you would like.

Also, masks are available, N-95 masks. Peter, is that --

MR. SORRENTO: They're on counsel table.
MR. KISE: I just want to say one other thing, but the individual that's going to respond, I object to him even being here in the courtroom as I put this weekend. I don't think he should be here.

MS. HABBA: I agree.
THE COURT: The individual is going to respond. Do you want to respond?
MR. SOLOMON: I do, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Make sure you're are close to the microphone.

MR. SOLOMON: First off, we take exception to any claim that we were irresponsible in any way, shape or form.

Proceedings

there will be reactions to this, but it's a fact.
We have the leading candidate for president of the United States in this courtroom today and exposing that risk -- if this were different, if this were us doing this, I know where I'd be. I'd be in shackles. If I had not notified the Court of some risk, the Attorney General would be up in arms, their team would be up in arms and I think that's an unfair double standard I think that's applied to a lot of things procedurally in this case. I'm not talking about Your Honor's rulings.

THE COURT REPORTER: Counsel, please slow down.
MR. KISE: Sorry.
The Commercial Division and the assignments, but none of the rules seem to apply when we're chasing President Trump and I think it's unfair and I don't think we really should be here today exposing everyone to as yet some whether it be limited or not we don't know -- known risk and another day or two days would not have made a significant difference.

I certainly hope we're not going to hear from the government's key witness that there are health considerations that would preclude that witness from testifying truthfully, honestly and recalling so that a month from now or two months from now as is his normal fashion, he says well, I know I said that in court when I

Second, I'm not going to relitigate with Mr. Kise the issues on procedural things that may have happened in the past. We're here today, we are following the CDC guidelines. The individual, me, who is in the courtroom today, isolated for five days, as required, has tested negative for the last three days, and is wearing a mask. Those are the guidelines. That's what is appropriate.

We advised the Court from what I understand the Court conferred with various administration personnel.

THE COURT: True.
MR. SOLOMON: And directed that we appear today, period, full stop. That's all that's relevant.

THE COURT: Well, the administration basically left it up to me, but they made certain recommendations, which was go ahead, if possible, and we're going ahead.

MR. ROBERT: Your Honor, if I may. That's not the issue. The issue is that the Attorney General's Office knew on Wednesday and didn't tell any of us, so we were here with our personal health issues, our family health issues, the Court's issues. We were in chambers. We had members of our team who were in a small deposition room last week on Thursday while other members of the team were here trying the case and having conferences with the Court and with the Attorney General having knowledge that one of the key lawyers tested positive. They didn't tell us. Then | 25 | MR. KISE: Will we have time to do that, to replace | 25 | After that I went to St. John's University School of Law, | graduating in 2000.

Q After you graduated from law school, could you take us through your professional experience at a high level?
A Sure. Well, first in law school I worked at the Grievance Committee for the Ninth Judicial District, which is a body that investigates and prosecutes attorney misconduct. I also was a summer associate at the law firm Wilson Elser and I interned for the Honorable Judge Joanna Seybert with the Eastern District of New York.

After law school I became an associate attorney at the law firm Wilson Elser where I was a summer associate. Prior I worked there for a couple of years then became an associate at another law firm called Shaub Ahmuty and after that I was brought back to Wilson Elser in an of counsel position, then made partner there until I became the general counsel at Mazars USA beginning in late 2017 but effective January 1, 2018.

Q So you became general counsel of Mazars USA effective in January 2018?
A I was hired in late 2017 and I overlapped with my predecessor who was retiring for a month or so and then as of January 1st I was the general counsel for Mazars USA.

Q After you became general counsel at Mazars did you have any involvement in the Mazars engagements for Donald J. Trump?

A I wasn't part of the engagement team, but I was part of the communication team with the client and I handled the legal

W. Kelly - Plaintiff - direct (Finkelstein)

Page 2113
aspects of the various Trump-related legal matters that were happening throughout the engagements and with the firm.
Q Can you elaborate on what you mean by the last --
A Sure. There were several investigations that were either ongoing when I got there or commenced when I got there. For example, the U.S. House of Representatives Oversight Committee had issued several subpoenas to Mazars that were then being contested by the Trump Organization and made its way through the courts.

In addition, the New York District Attorney's Office, that's for the county of New York District Attorney also issued subpoenas in connection with an investigation they were conducting, as well as the New York Attorney General and other entities as well.
Q So what was your involvement in the context of those things that you just described?
A When any subpoena would come in to the firm or be served upon the firm or attorneys, I would lead the legal response to that and I would communicate with the Trump Organization, my counterpart there being their general counsel about what was happening and what subpoenas we received and how we were responding.

And I was making sure we were $A$, making sure we followed the legal requirements of the subpoena and our obligations as a good corporate citizen; two, making sure we

1 honored all of our duties to our client due to confidentiality
2 and make sure we followed the rules there; and three, I had to 3 make sure that Mazars USA was in the best position legally that 4 it could be given all the situation of what's going on.
Q And when you say "the general counsel of the Trump Organization," who was that that you were talking to?

A Alan Garten.
Q So you mentioned some involvement in legal aspects. Did that take any particular form?
A Yes. I would coordinate with our outside counsel who would gather documents, both internally through my office and going directly to the custodians, and then they would secure those documents, produce them to the -- whatever agency, whatever investigatory body I was looking and I would coordinate with the Trump Organization to let them know and give them copies of whatever it was that they requested.
Q Did there come a time when you participated in an assessment of Mazars' relationship with the Trump Organization?

A Every year an accounting firm does a client continuance assessment for their clients. It could be more often than every year if there is a triggering event that would cause an accounting firm to reevaluate the conditions of the engagement. I was involved in that process. I was involved in the -assessing the legal situation and the risk management situation and I coordinated that with others in management of the Trump

Organization. Then we would report to the -- I'm sorry.
I coordinated with others in management of Mazars and then we would report that to the executive board, whether or not and under what conditions we could continue as the accountants for the Trump Organization.

Q And you were involved in that process since you became general counsel in 2018?
A Yes, I was -- I was probably the -- I probably would call myself the leader of that process, but I reported to the CEO and the executive board.
Q So you mentioned Mazars having received subpoenas. Were you comfortable continuing with the engagement at that time despite receiving subpoenas?
A Yes. We considered every subpoena that we received from any new investigatory body as a triggered event to cause us to do a client continuance analysis and simply receiving a subpoena doesn't necessarily require us or compel us or cause us to want to discontinue an engagement.

So when we received the congressional subpoena, the first one that I think that was in 2019, we did that process of client continuance analysis and we concluded we can continue and we reached similar conclusions as we received subpoenas from our agencies and additional subpoenas from the same agencies.
Q At some point did you participate in a determination to terminate the relationship with the Trump Organization?

A Yes, I did.
2 Q When was that?
3 A It was in May 2001 -- I'm sorry. 2021. We received information and circumstances had changed such that we made the decision to discontinue the services and we notified the Trump Organization of that.
$7 \quad \mathrm{Q}$ What information are you referring to?
8 A We had been subpoenaed by the District Attorney's Office of the County of New York for -- in connection with an investigation to Allen Weisselberg's activity.
Allen Weisselberg was the former CFO of the Trump Organization.
The DA was investigating his personal compensation and others around him.

We had received subpoenas and had been interviewed by the District Attorney's Office and based on that information and what we had come to learn about Allen Weisselberg we determined we could no longer provide services to the Trump Organization.

Q Why did you reach that determination?
A Allen Weisselberg was the CFO of the Trump Organization. He was our main contact at the Trump Organization for the providing -- for them providing us financial information. If his representations to us about the accuracy and truthfulness of the financial records that he's providing to us as the outside accountants is compromised, if we can no longer rely on him as CFO, then we can no longer perform our Kelly - Plaintiff - direct (Finkelstein)

engagements.

The engagements we were preparing at the time were preparing tax returns for the corporate entities and Donald Trump individually, as well as doing the statements of financial condition. Both of those engagements require that we rely upon the representations of management, in this case, Allen Weisselberg, the CFO. If we are no longer allowed or no longer reasonably allowed to rely on his management we can no longer do those engagements.

Q I'd like to show the witness for identification a document marked as PX 2992. Do you recognize this document?
A Ido.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A I recognize the cover of this document to be an e-mail that I sent to Alan Garten and I recognize page two of the document to be a letter I wrote that was an attachment to that e-mail. The last two pages I do not recognize, but they seem to be printouts of whatever was -- they're blank, so.

Q But those pages have Mazars Bates numbers on the bottom?

A They do, and I don't know if the e-mail was like the e-mail went onto the separate page, so it printed a blank sheet so.

MR. FINKELSTEIN: Your Honor, I move to admit PX 2992 into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in.
And I'll direct the witness if you're asked a yes-or-no question, please just answer yes or no without any commentary. If you can't answer yes or no, then we can discuss it.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 2992 in evidence.)
Q I'd like to direct your attention to page two. The letter reads: "Dear Allen, as general counsel for Mazars USA, I write to advise the Trump Organization and related entities, including Donald J. Trump, that Mazars USA is resigning from all engagements with the Trump Organization and related entities."

Didn't Mazars, in fact, resign from all engagements with the Trump Organization?
A Yes.
Q Did any engagements continue at this time, the time of the letter?

A No.
Q Why?
A Why did they -- I'm sorry. I don't understand the "why" part.

Q Sorry. This letter is dated May 18, 2021. Do you see that?

Page 2119

A Yes.
Q So my question was did Mazars, in fact, resign from all engagements with the Trump Organization in May of 2021?

A Yes.
Q Did Mazars cooperate with the transition to new accountants?

A Yes.
Q You can set that document aside.
MR. FINKELSTEIN: I would like to show the witness for identification a document marked as PX 2994.
$Q$ Do you recognize this document?
A I do.
Q What do you recognize it to be?
A I recognize it to be an e-mail I sent to Alan Garten at the Trump Organization and the accompanying letter.

MR. FINKELSTEIN: Your Honor, plaintiffs move to admit PX 2994 into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It's in.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 2994 in evidence.)

did to confirm the statements in those two sentences.
Q And in reviewing the work papers, did you consider any professional standards in your analysis?

A In conducting --
MR. KISE: Objection, Your Honor. I don't know if it has been established, foundation. Did this witness testify that he, in fact, reviewed the work papers and undertook the review of the work papers? He's not an accountant and as I understand from his deposition, he is not here as a corporate representative. He is here in his individual capacity or general counsel. I don't know if the requisite foundation has been made. I'm not saying they can't. I'm just saying it hasn't been laid yet.

THE COURT: Well, I thought your -- originally, I thought your objection was we don't know whether he did it or someone else at Mazars did it.

MR. KISE: Well, right. So if he performed it, then he could testify about what he actually did; but if not, then he has no foundation. But either way, it is not clear in the record.

THE COURT: All right. Let's make the record clear.

Can you rephrase the question?
MR. FINKELSTEIN: Okay.
Q Earlier you mentioned a review of the work papers. Did you undertake that review?
THE COURT: You personally, you mean?
Q You personally.
A I was part of the legal team with external lawyers that did that review.
Q And what did that review determine?
MR. KISE: Again, Your Honor, same objection. Is he asking for what he was told because the witness has just testified he was part a legal team? He is not an accountant, so he wouldn't have any understanding of any professional standards. So if he's being asked to convey what he was told in his role, then that may come in depending on what the answer is, but there's still no foundation and I would think that what he was told is hearsay. They would need the witness on to come in and testify to it.

THE COURT: If the witness is just saying what he was told, I would agree it's hearsay.

MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, that wasn't the question. The question was what did he say. He wasn't asked what he was told.

THE COURT: Maybe we have to dig deeper into how he learned what he learned. So I'll ask, the question, just be very clear as to whether we're talking about him or the organization as a whole.

Q So what was your understanding of results -- of the results of the review referenced in this letter?

1 A I recall at the first conversation with Alan was him calling me up and trying to understand the letter and what it meant and get some -- get some more color to what I had written. And then at the end of that call, he said, you know we're going to have to talk to Eric or somebody else about this. And he set up another call with him and Eric Trump and I'm not sure if it was one or two calls, but it was within a day of each sorry, so that's why I'm not sure, and Eric Trump and Alan expressed their opinions of the letter and asked for explanations and I responded.
Q Have you ever met with or directly communicated with Donald J. Trump?

A No.
MR. FINKELSTEIN: No further questions at this time.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.
Will there be any cross-examination at this time?
MR. KISE: Can we drag one of these mics? I don't know how this works.

THE COURT: We have a portable one.
MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, I may have misstated something earlier. The microphone is actually the court's and not the AG's.

THE COURT: Thank you. We lose a lot of things that way.

Q Because Mazars made the determination that you were the person most knowledgeable --

MR. SUAREZ: Judge, the feedback on this is pretty bad.

THE COURT: Where is Rob when you need him? Try to get Rob, please.

Why don't we continue, maybe just tone it down a little bit.
Q Because Mazars made the determination that you were the person most knowledgeable about certain topics that the New York Attorney General wanted to discuss today, correct?
A Correct.
Q And that topic included compilation procedures, correct?
A Well, I don't know what the Attorney General wanted to talk about, but when I was asked who was the most knowledgeable about certain topics, it was me.
Q Not Donald Bender?
A Not on the topics that we were asked about.
Q You were asked by the NYAG to testify at trial in this case at the end of last summer, right?
24 A I'm not sure when it was. It was several months ago.
25 Q Several months ago, you were asked to testify at trial

1 today?
2 A I was advised that I may be called to testify, that -- at this trial.
4 Q And when were you subpoenaed?
5 A I don't -- I don't know.
6 Q Have you ever seen a subpoena?
7 A I believe I have.
8 Q When did you see that subpoena?
9 A Months, a month ago, two months ago. I have no specific recollection.
Q Two months ago, you were subpoenaed to testify at trial?
A It could be. I have no specific recollection.
Q And in the months since, you met with the Attorney General's office at least twice to prepare for your testimony?
A Correct.
Q And in fact, you practiced your direct examination with the government, correct?
A I wouldn't say it was a practice. They asked me some questions and I gave them the answers.
Q In preparation to testify at trial today?
A In anticipation of the testimony, yeah.
23 Q And you were deposed at Trump Tower last week, correct?
24 A Correct.
25 Q And we sat in a small conference room with members of ## the Attorney General's team, correct?

A Correct.
Q Have you or your lawyers further discussed your testimony today with the NYAG?
A Yes.
Q Since the deposition?
A Yes.
Q What did you discuss?
A I was informed over the weekend that the attorney who was questioning me had come down with COVID and a new attorney was going to meet me and get familiar with my talking style.
And when we met on Monday by Zoom, we did the same thing we did previously with that attorney, about asking questions and me giving answers.

Q You practiced for your direct examination, correct?
MR. SOLOMON: Objection. The witness already testified he wasn't practicing, Your Honor.

THE COURT: He did. So you'll have to use a different word.
Q What would you call reviewing your questions for trial today other than practicing?

A Well, for me, it wasn't a practice. He wanted to get to know my rhythm, my answering style, how I answered questions, so maybe it was practice for him; but for me, it was just answering questions.

1 Q They wanted to rehearse your direct examination for today?

A Whatever their intentions were, I don't know.
Q Because the lawyer that sat with us in a conference room for five hours on Thursday had come down with COVID correct?
7 A Correct.
8 Q That's what they told you?
9 A Yes.
10 Q Anything else that you discussed at that meeting on Monday?
12 A No.

W. KELLY - PLAINTIFF - CROSS/MR. SUAREZ

Page 2141
A Correct.
2 Q In fact, you told me just last week that Mr. Bender would give a four-hour answer if I asked him what knowledge he had of the Trump Organization, correct?

A Correct.
Q And you also told me that you had no concern with the work that Donald Bender did for the Trump Organization, correct?
A Correct.
Q And that Mazars had no concern with the work that Donald Bender did for the Trump Organization, correct?
A Correct.
Q Are you concerned that Mr. Bender received appraisals that he claimed he did not read and understand?
A I'm familiar with what you're talking about and I'm not concerned about that.
Q Because you were sitting at his deposition, correct?
A Correct.
Q And that didn't concern you?
A No.
Q Are you concerned that Mr. Bender did not read everything that was sent to him by the Trump Organization?
A No.
Q Are you concerned that Mr. Bender was provided with loan documents that he claims he did not read?
A No.

Q Are you concerned that Mr. Bender claimed not to have expertise in interpreting ASC 274 ?

A No.
Q Are you aware that ASC 274 governs the preparation of an individual's Statement of Financial Condition?

A In a general sense, yes.
7 Q Are you concerned that Mr. Bender did not read or comprehend the supporting data for the Statements of Financial Condition in their entirety each year that they were provided to him?

A I don't accept the premise to that question.
Q Why not?
A I'm not sure it's a fact that he did not do what you said he didn't do.

MR. SUAREZ: All right. Let's pull up Mr. Bender's trial testimony at page 331 at lines 12 through 19:
"You can't answer whether you read the whole document. Yes. Okay. The Statement of Financial Condition of the President of the United States and you can't answer if you read the whole document, is that right. I can't answer today that I read every line."

Do you see that?
A I do.
MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, I'm going to object to this. The original question was the supporting data. This

1 answer speaks to the Statement of Financial Condition.

Which is it?

MR. SUAREZ: And then --
MR. SOLOMON: To show this witness testimony from another witness on a different document is unfair and misleading.

MR. KISE: You mean like they do just about with every witness and I object and it is overruled?

MR. SOLOMON: Mr. Kise, that is totally unnecessary and you know it.

MR. KISE: It is not unnecessary.
MR. SOLOMON: There is an objection to the bench which does not concern you.

MR. KISE: Everything that goes on here concerns me and my client, absolutely, sir, including your health.

MR. SOLOMON: Well, thank you for your concern.
THE COURT: I think there was a misrepresentation of what was testified to in the question, but rather than unpack all this, why don't we just move ahead.

This is not your testimony, right?
THE WITNESS: The testimony on -- the testimony on the screen is not my testimony.

THE COURT: Right. Right. Let's have the next question and I'll deem everything else withdrawn.
Q Would it concern you that Mr. Bender testified in court

W.

that he could not answer --
THE COURT: Wait. Wait. That wasn't in court, right?

MR. SUAREZ: This was in court.
THE COURT: Oh, I'm sorry this was actually -- I haven't caught up in modern technology. Yes, this was in court. Apologize.
Q Would it concern you that Mr. Bender testified in court that the Statement of Financial Condition of the President of the United States and he couldn't answer if he read the whole document?
A Well, he said he couldn't answer that day whether he read every line and I understand that to mean that he couldn't recall reading every line of every document as he was sitting on the witness stand. So that doesn't concern me that.
Q It does not concern you. And you can't answer whether he read the whole document. He says yes, he could not answer if he had read the whole document.

THE COURT: What's the question?
Q Does that concern you?
A Knowing how the next question played out, I understand what he's trying to say.

MR. SUAREZ: If you read up to the prior line, can we scroll in on that.
Q Did you read this document? He responds, "Did I read the whole document. I presumably -- I can't answer if I read the whole document."

Page 2145

THE COURT: What's the question?
Q Are you concerned that Mr. Bender didn't read Statements of Financial Condition in their entirety?
A That's not what he said. He says, "I presumably -- I can't answer if I read the whole document."
Q Okay.
A And he goes on to explain that he can't answer today that he read every line of every document and whatever the document that is. I still don't know what document it is.
MR. SUAREZ: Let turn to page 375 of the trial testimony at lines 24. We are looking at PX 731. Can we pull up 731 and put it next to this document just to make sure that we are clear.

1 Q Can we scroll to the top of PX 731? Do you recognize this document?

A I recognize this type of document. This one in particular I have no memory of.

Q Okay. Do you see what "PBC" means?
A Yes.
Q PBC means prepared by client?
A Correct.
Q And that's a document that Mazars stamps on documents that it receives?
A That's a stamp Mazars puts on documents that it receives.

Q And see where it says there "Donald J. Trump Statement of Financial Condition as of June 30, 2015?"
A Ido.
Q Do you understand this to be the supporting data for the Statement of Financial Condition for 2015?
A I believe that's part of it, yes.
Q In connection with the internal investigation that you led, I presume you reviewed the supporting data for the statements of financial condition?
A Idid.
Q Okay. And do you see where I ask Mr. Bender here at trial: "Mr. Bender, in connection with the Statement of Financial Condition is this something that you saw?" We pulled up PX 731, we see that on the line before.

"ANSWER: I did not review it.
"QUESTION: Did not review it?
"Review is the job was a compilation."
"ANSWER: Okay."
Did you read it?
A May not have read every line, but I did look at it.
Q Are you concerned that Mr. Bender did not read every line of the supporting data of the Statement of Financial Condition?
A No, I'm not.
Q Okay. That does not concern you at all?
A No.
Q Okay. Mr. Bender was the engagement partner that signed the compilation reports; correct?
A Correct.
Q And his work was subject to quality review by another member of the team; correct?

A Correct.
25 Q Are you concerned that Mr. Bender testified that just

A Ido.
2 Q Do you see with where it says "Trump Tower?"
3 A I do.
4 Q Do you see where it says "Mr. Trump owns a triplex apartment on the top three floors of Trump Tower?"

A I see that.

Q Now, take a look at the corresponding supporting data for this note, which we'll pull up as Plaintiff's Exhibit 758.
This is the supporting data for the 2017 Statement of Financial Condition, and if we scroll down to line 969.

MR. SUAREZ: Scroll up a little bit. Up. Up.
Q You would see here that the 2016 data reflected the townhouse triplex based on comps at $\mathbf{3 0 , 0 0 0}$ square feet for the prior year, correct?
A I see what it says.
Q And you see where it says that the triplex based on comps at 10,000 square feet for the current year is $116,800,000$ ? A I see that.
Q Do you see that? And you see the Mazars check number right there on it; right?

A I see that.
Q And you would have expected Mazars to read and understand this change; correct?

A I would, yes.
25 Q And you can agree with me that the square footage here
W. Kelly - Plaintiff - cross (Suarez) Page 2157 changes from 10,000 - excuse me -- from $\mathbf{3 0 , 0 0 0}$ square feet to a bit over almost 11,000 square feet. Do you see that?

A I see that.
Q Okay. And you would agree with me that this was a correction that was made by the Trump Organization on the Supporting Data?

A I don't know who made the correction.
Q It wasn't Mazars; correct?
A Correct.
Q And you would expect the notes to be conformed as appropriate; correct?

A That's -- I don't understand that question.
Q You would expect the notes to accurately reflect the basis for valuation; correct?

A Not necessarily. The notes don't need to describe the basis of valuation.

Q But you would expect the accountant, Mazars, in preparing the compilation to make sure that the notes were consistent with the supporting data; correct?

A Correct. If the notes were consistent with the supporting data, yes.

Q And sufficiently descriptive as appropriate?
A As appropriate.
Q Correct.
And it would have been to disclose to Mazars that there was a change in the triplex; correct?
A What would have been to what?
Q Disclosed here in the supporting data that there was a change in the size of the triplex; correct?

A Correct. The supporting data reflects the change in the size.

Q And Mazars never called back any of the prior years'
Statements of Financial Statement compilation reports; correct?
A Correct.
THE COURT: Hold on. This is when we usually break. How much longer do you think that this cross examination will take?

MR. SUAREZ: I've got a little bit to go.
THE COURT: What's a little bit?
MR. SUAREZ: Maybe an hour.
THE COURT: Maybe an hour, all right. Let's keep going for now.
Q And if we looked at the fixed asset valuation method, let's take a look at lines 267 , would you agree with me here that the valuation method disclosed to Mazars for assets included the value of the fixed assets for the Trump International Golf Club Florida?
A I see that.
Q And would you agree with me here that the Trump Golf Club Briarcliff Manor included the value of the fixed assets?
. Kelly - Plaintiff - cross (Suarez)
Page 2159
A I see that.
Q And if we can scroll down you can see that the fixed asset valuation method here for the Trump National Golf Club Bedminister also used the fixed asset value approach?

```
    A I do.
```

        Q You see all of that?

Q Okay. Now, let's go back to Plaintiff's Exhibit 755 at page 5 of the PDF. And here it says "assets are stated at their estimated current values and liabilities at their estimate current amounts using various valuation methods. Such valuation methods include, but are not limited to, the use of appraisals, capitalization of anticipated earnings, recent sales and offers, and estimates of current values as determined by the new trustees of the Donald J. Trump Revocable Trust." Do you see that?
25 A I see that.

6 A I believe so, yes.
7 Q And in doing so Mazars would have known that these 8 attestation services were performed for the benefit of lenders
9 like Deutsche Bank; right?
10 A I don't know in any particular situation.
11 Q Okay. Was it part of your review to determine what the 12 audits and compilations prepared for those entities were used 13 for?
14 A No.
15 Q Were there any loan documents related to Deutsche Bank
16 or Ladder Capital in Mazars' files?
17 A You know, I don't remember seeing any.
18 Q Would you have understood the basis for preparing 19 audits and compilations?
20 A Yes.
21 Q Would you have understood that those were going to be 22 submitted to lenders?
23 A It depends on a particular situation.
24 Q That they could have been submitted to lenders?
25 A I'm aware of various uses for those type of documents;

2 Q And Mazars would have done a good job in doing audits and compilations -- excuse me.

And Mazars would have done a good job in doing audits and reviews for those entities; correct?
A Correct.
Q And in doing so Mazars would have performed financial analysis on the books and records of those entities; right?
A Of the entities we're doing the audits of?
Q Correct.
A Yes.
Q Which include 40 Wall, Old Post Office and 401 North Wabash?

A Yes.
Q And those audits took place as recently as December 31, 2020; correct?

A Correct.
Q And to this day Mazars still stands behind all of the financial statements that audited or reviewed for the Trump Organization; correct?
A Correct.
Q Okay. And then in February you send a letter saying there is a non-waivable conflict; right?
A Correct.
25 Q And this conflict included the potential that you might

1 be called to testify in a manner that's adverse to your former 2 client; correct?
3 A Right.
4 Q And, of course, you were concerned that the government, 5 the NYAG, these people, could bring a claim against Mazars; correct?
A As general counsel of Mazars, I'm concerned anybody could bring a claim against it and in this particular situation
I was concerned of anybody involved could bring a lawsuit against the Trump Organization.

Q It was --
A I'm sorry.
Q It was a factor; right?
A Yes.
Q You were concerned?
A Correct.
Q And you wanted to get ahead of it; right?
A Well, I knew that if we were able to demonstrate what services we provided that we'd be okay because we complied with professional standards.

Q You wanted to convince the government not to bring a claim against Mazars?
A I wanted to explain to whoever would ask what we did and why we did it.

Q You certainly didn't want to -- I'm sorry -- not to ## bring a claim against Mazars?

A I'll agree with that.
Q And you exchanged a lot of information; right? Years worth of information?

A With who?
Q With the New York Attorney General's Office?
A Yes.
Q You spent years of exchanging information with them; right?

A We spent years replying to their subpoenas and things like that, yes.

Q Okay. Because you wanted to curry favor with these people so you could get Mazars out of a tricky situation; right?

A There was no currying favor involved. It was being a good corporate citizen, responding to subpoenas and explaining the work we did.

Q Okay. So after all of these years, 30 years with Mazars and its prior entities, millions and millions of dollars paid for by the Trump Organization, when the New York Attorney General files a claim, files a paper in court, you take them at their word and never once consult with your former client; right?

A No, we didn't take them at their word. We did additional investigation as outlined in the letter.
Q Which did not include talking to your client who paid

MR. SUAREZ: Well, I don't interrupt you in the middle of your questions. I appreciate the fact to finish here.

THE COURT: I don't think you're on the microphone, are you?

MS. FAHERTY: Oh, I could speak loudly, Your Honor. I apologize.

THE COURT: Okay. Let hear from the AG and then Mr. Suarez and then let you move on. The clock is ticking.

MS. FAHERTY: I objected and asked that if we could move it along, it had been asked and answered and then I objected to the mischaracterization.

MR. KISE: We are seriously on the clock? You are kidding about that, right?

THE COURT: I'm not kidding because he is asking the same question over and over and he is misrepresenting.

MR. KISE: I don't think so at all, but this never happens during that their examinations never, never, N-E-V-E-R, sir. I'm sorry, but this never happens that they're on a clock.

THE COURT: Maybe there is a reason.

MS. HABBA: Yeah, we know.

THE COURT: We disagree on what the reason is, but let's not try to figure this out in front of the current situation. Please continue.
Q Since we were interrupted, years of investigations by the New York Attorney General, correct.
A Correct.
Q Years of investigations by the District Attorney of New York, correct?
A Correct.
Q Years of investigation by --
THE COURT: Okay. Okay. You keep saying that.
MR. SUAREZ: They keep interrupting me. I'm trying to get through a line of questioning and cross-examination, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Did you forget what he said before about years of investigation, years of this, years of that? Did you forget that?

THE WITNESS: I'm sorry, Your Honor. I do need to hear the question again.

THE COURT: Okay. Let's get the question again. Q Years of investigations by congressional democrats, correct?
A I'm really sorry, but can you do the preamble to it because that's when I got lost in all of this?

Q Mazars was involved in years of responding to subpoenas by the New York Attorney General's Office, right?

A Correct.
Q And Mazars was involved in years of responding to subpoenas by the District Attorney of New York, right?

A Correct.
Q And Mazars had to dial with books being written by former prosecutors in the District Attorney of New York Office about that investigation, right?
A I wouldn't say we had to deal with it, but we are aware of it.

Q You are aware of it? It's there?
A Yeah.
Q And Mazars had to respond to congressional subpoenas,

right?

A Right.
Q And after all of that harassment, you still put in this letter that Mazars had not concluded that the statements contained material discrepancies, correct?
A I don't mean to quibble, but harassment, but after years of all of that, I still put this in this letter, yes.
Q It was harassment, Mr. Kelly, and Mr. Bender knew it. He lost his biggest client. He went to the White House and cried in front of the President because he was so upset -THE COURT: Is this a speech or a question? MR. SUAREZ: It is a question.
THE COURT: It is a question.
Q His entire practice was being decimated by all that harassment and your accounting firm, sir, was being put through years and years and years of torture, harassment and tormentation [sic] by these people, correct?

I will withdraw that question.
And notwithstanding all of the pressure brought to bear by the New York Attorney General's Office, by the District Attorney of New York, by everyone who examined the work that Mazars did, you still had the fortitude to be honest in this letter and for that I congratulate you.

THE COURT: Is that a question? MR. SUAREZ: I don't want it withdrawn.

1 Q I congratulate you that after fearing litigation --
THE COURT: No. It has to be a question. That's what you are here for, to ask questions. He is here to answer them and I make sure - I'm here to make sure that that happens.

MR. SUAREZ: Your Honor, I have no further questions other than I congratulate the witness to have the fortitude to put that in the letter.

THE COURT: Will there be any re-direct?
MR. SOLOMON: One minute of re-direct, Your Honor.
THE COURT: One minute, you got it.
THE COURT: Please proceed with your one-minute redirect.

MR. KISE: Are they on the clock?
THE COURT: Yes. It is 12:09. I will stop them him by $12: 11$.
REDIRECT EXAMINATION
BY MR. FINKELSTEIN:
Q Do you recall on cross-examination you were asked about your investigation about prior to resigning the engagement?

THE COURT: Sorry. I can't hear that question. I didn't hear that question.
Q Do you recall on cross-examination you were asked about your investigation prior to resigning the engagement?

A In general, yes.

Q During the investigation, did you learn that the Trump Organization had failed to provide certain information to Mazars?

A The investigation was done through and with counsel, so I'm -- I think it's a privileged issue that I'm not going to talk about.

THE COURT: Will you accept that?
MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, finding out whether there was or wasn't information withheld, without getting into the details of what that information was, is not privileged. If the witness -- but if the witness is taking that position.

MR. KISE: This is consistent with the position the witness took in the deposition that all of these matters are completely off limits, they're all privileged, and both sides -- the Attorney General didn't question that. We didn't question that. So to ask him that now and put him in a position where he's got to make that determination is inadmissible.

THE COURT: This is off the clock, though. I'm sorry. It is only one minute.

MR. SOLOMON: Your Honor, the witness has asserted privilege. And if Your Honor upholds that assertion, we have nothing further.

THE COURT: I am upholding it. That's it.
MR. FINKELSTEIN: Nothing further.

THE COURT: Any recross-examination? Let's get the next witness. The witness is excused.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.
(Witness excused.)
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, on behalf of the People, Colleen Faherty, we call Michael Cohen as our next witness.

THE COURT: Okay. I had a feeling you would.
THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.
THE COURT OFFICER: Please raise your right hand. Do you solemnly swear or affirm that any testimony you give will be the truth, the whole truth and nothing, but the truth?

THE WITNESS: I do.
THE COURT OFFICER: Please have a seat. State your name and either business or home address for the record.

THE WITNESS: Michael Cohen, 502 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10022.
MICHAEL COHEN, a witness called by the Plaintiff, after having been first duly sworn by the Clerk of the Court, took the witness stand and testified as follows:

THE COURT: Please commence the direct examination of Mr. Cohen.

MS. FAHERTY: Thank you, Your Honor.
DIRECT EXAMINATION
BY MS. FAHERTY:

Q Good afternoon.
A Good afternoon.
Q Before we begin, I just want to ask you a question.
Are you currently taking any medications that would impact your ability to testify today truthfully and accurately?

A No.
Q Okay, thank you.
Can you, please, describe your educational background after high school for me?
A College, four years, American University. Then three years law school, Western Michigan Thomas M. Cooley School of Law.
Q Did you say Cooley School of Law?
A Correct.
Q What year did you graduate from the Cooley School of Law?
A 1991.
Q Do you hold any professional certifications or licenses?
A Not any longer.
Q Did you previously hold any professional certifications or licenses?

A I did.
Q What professional certification or license did you previously possess?

1 A JD, New York State Bar Association.
2 Q You were a licensed attorney?
3 A Yes.
4 Q You don't hold any accounting degrees, right?
5 A Correct.
6 Q What state were you licensed as an attorney?
7 A New York State.
8 Q Do you recall at what point in time your license was revoked to serve as an attorney of law?

A 2018.
Q And what was the basis for your license to practice law was revoked?

A The charges that emanated from the Southern District of New York.
Q Fair to say that you have been convicted of a crime, sir?

A Correct.
Q And just to refresh your recollection, if I stated that there was a committee decision filed on February 28, 2019, do you have any basis to dispute that that was the date --

A Oh, it would be 2019. Sorry. Yes.
Q Thank you.
What were the crimes that you were convicted of in reference to your testimony just now about the Southern District of New York?

M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

Page 2185
A I pled guilty to five counts of tax evasion, one count of misrepresentation to a financial institution, two counts of campaign finance violation as well as one count of misrepresentation to Congress, 1001 violation.
Q So let me see if I have these correct. You pled guilty to five counts of evasion of assessment of personal income tax pursuant to 26 U.S. Code Section 7201?

A Correct.
Q And would that be for the calendar years of 2012 through 2016?
A Yes.
Q Was that related in connection with what business was that tax evasion crime related to?
A It wasn't connected to any specific business. It was personal tax.

Q Okay. Was it related to anything in connection with a taxi and limousine business you operated?
A I owned New York City taxi medallions which were leased to an agent. I had income from that agent which it was stated was not reflected in my tax returns.
Q And that -- the guilty plea in connection with those five counts of personal income tax evasion was accepted by a Federal Court in the Southern District of New York, correct?

A Correct.
25 Q And with regards to the sixth count in the Southern

1 District of New York, is it correct that that was the criminal
2 charge of making a false statement to a financial institution in
3 connection with the credit decision between the years 2015 to 42016.

5 A It was in connection with a HELOC, a home equity line of credit, application that they stated had a misrepresentation on it.
8 Q And that's H-E-L-O-C?
9 A Correct. Acronym.
10 Q And that would be in violation of 18 U.S. Code Section 11 1014, correct?
12 A Correct.
13 Q And the seventh count, is it correct that you pled
14 guilty to willfully causing an unlawful corporate contribution
15 from in or about June to October of 2016?
16 A Yes.
17 Q And that is in violation of 52 U.S. Codes Sections
1830118 (a), 30109 (d)(1)(a) and 18 USC Section 2(b)?
19 A Yes.
20 Q And then the eighth count of that criminal indictment 21 in the Southern District of New York was a plea of guilty to 22 making an excessive campaign contribution in or about October of 3 2016, yes?

A Yes.
25 Q Then I think you also said that you pled guilty to a
M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

Page 2187
1 ninth count; is that correct?
2 A That's correct.
3 Q Was that in a separate prosecution dated November 29th, to 18 ?
5 A It was 2018. Yes, it was.
6 Q Was that pursuant to a plea agreement with the Special
7 Counsel's Office that you made false statements to the United 8 States Congress in violation of 18 USC Section 1001(a)(2)?
9 A Yes.
10 Q And you were sentenced for those crimes?
11 A I was.
12 Q And did you attempt at any point to cooperate with the government in connection with your guilty pleas?

A I did cooperate with the government, yes.
Q However, you did not receive 5 K 1 or substantial assistance letter from the federal government, did you?

A No, I refused.
Q Did you receive any downward variance or departure in your sentencing guidelines as a result of any cooperation you may have provided to the government?
A No.
Q There was no downward variance associated with the sentencing guidelines?
A The downward variance was a result of the plea, not 25 because of any benefit that I would receive.
$1 \quad$ Q And the downward variance, about how long -- do you recall the length of the sentence you were sentenced to?

A 36 months incarceration, 36 months between home confinement and supervised release.
Q Was there also a concurrent two-month sentence imposed as a result of the additional Special Counsel's Office information?
A Yes.
Q And you did, in fact, serve that time in a federal correctional facility?
A I did.
Q Have you ever made any public statements concerning the legitimacy of those convictions?

A More than one.
Q And why did you do that?
A Because there was no tax evasion. At best, it could be characterized as a tax omission. I have never in my life not paid taxes. I have never requested an extension until 2017. Every year I had paid, no extensions on time, what my CPA accountant directed me to pay.
Q Were there, in fact, crimes that you pled guilty to that you did feel you were guilty of committing those crimes?

A Yes.
Q So why, then, are you making statements about the legitimacy of the Southern District convictions if there are to J. Sekulow, Ivanka, Jared, Abby Gold (ph), Ty Cobb, many people were involved in the formation of that statement. My complicity resulted in -- from me reading it into the record and asking that the document be made part of the record.

MR. KISE: Your Honor, I just move to strike that entire answer. I don't know if that was a book that he was writing, but it wasn't responsive at all to the question. I mean, it was just a long narrative about, you know, invective about Trump and who knows how many other people. I'm sure I'm going to be included here soon, but I don't -- I don't think that that was at all responsive to the question.

THE COURT: Overruled. I believe it was responsive. Could have been shorter, but it was responsive. Q Fair to say you still stood up in court and said to the Southern District of New York, "I'm guilty of certain crimes." "I accept responsibility for the crimes." And you served federal incarceration in connection with those crimes, correct?
A Correct.
Q And fair to say a prosecutor stood up in front of the Southern District of New York and stated, "The" factual allegations in support of the crimes for which you had been indicted and pled guilty," correct?
A Correct.
Q And a federal judge accepted those factual allegations,

M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

some that you feel, for example, were not crimes like a tax omission?
A One has nothing to do with the other. The tax violations as I've stated many times should not have been brought in and of itself. The same with the HELOC violation. I had had a HELOC on my property for more than a decade and I wanted to correct the record because when all of this started, it was overwhelming, the amount of misinformation, disinformation, mal information about me was overwhelming and enormous.

On top of that, there was also the second campaign finance violation which dealt with Karen McDougal. I acknowledged my complicity in the Stormy Daniels matter, but the Karen McDougal, I never paid Karen McDougal. I was tasked to review documents to ensure that Mr. Trump was protected and that was done through AMI, National inquirer and David Pecker, but I am also lastly complicit with the lie to Congress and as I have stated many times, it is important to finish the sentence and talk about what that lie was. That lie was the number of times that I stated to the Senate Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence how many times I spoke to Mr. Trump about the failed Moscow -- Trump Tower Moscow project.

I had stated three. The true answer was ten and I did that at the direction of, in concert with and for the benefit of Mr. Trump. There was a whole group of people from Alan Garten

1 that they would be proved in connection with your guilty plea, correct?
3 A Correct.
4 Q And I believe you stated it, but in connection with the 5 crimes alleged concerning an unlawful corporate contribution, was that alleged conduct performed during the course of your employment at that time?

A Employment at the Trump Organization?
Q Yes, sir.
A Yes.
Q And for the crimes alleged concerning an excessive campaign contribution, was the alleged conduct there performed during the course of your employment at that time?

A Yes.
Q And who was your employer at that time?
A Donald J. Trump.
Q And for the crimes alleged concerning making a false statement to Congress, was the alleged conduct performed during the course of your employment at that time?

A Yes.
Q And who was your employer at that time?
A Donald J. Trump.
Q Am I correct that you were Mr. Donald J. Trump's personal counsel, sir?

A I was.

Q So let's take a step back and I want to talk further about your professional background before the criminal convictions, okay?

A Sure.
Q What was the nature of your legal practice when you first began working as an attorney, just generally?
A Negligence, tort, medical malpractice.
Q Where did you work after you graduated law school?
A It is called Estrin & Associates, 225 Broadway.
Q Med-mal negligence firm?
A Yes.
Q How long were you there?
A Five years.
Q Any titles associated with that position?
A Associate.
Q Any other titles?
A No, ma'am.
Q Did there come a point in time when you left Estrin?
A Yes.
Q Where did you work after Estrin?
A I left Estrin & Associates because I bought into a 22 company called Manhattan Maintenance. It was a New York City
23 yellow cab medallion company. I started my own law firm at the 24 time, but I also operated the yellow cabs out of the same 25 facility.
M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

Page 2193
Q And for how long were you there?
A From 1995 to 2002.
Q And was it just the title of being the owner at Manhattan Maintenance or was there another title associated with that work?
A I also had a law practice.
Q Was there a name of a law practice?
A Michael D. Cohen & Associates.
Q In 2002, did there come a point in time when you left the Manhattan Maintenance Company?

A Yes.
Q Tell me about that departure.
A I sold my half of the company to my ex-partner and decided to take a little time for myself and ultimately then created -- continued with the law practice elsewhere.
Q The Michael D. Cohen & Associates law practice?
A Yes.
Q And what was the nature of the Michael D. Cohen law practice?

A It was predominantly negligence, tort, similar to what I started with, but then I started doing some real estate and some business law.
Q Was that transactional work or can you describe for me the nature of the real estate work you engaged in at that time?

A It was acquisitions of real estate on behalf of clients

1 as well as representing various different business owners, some of whom were in the auto business.

Q And did there come a point in time when you joined a firm named Phillips Nizer?
5 A Yes.
6 Q When was that?
7 A 2015, 2016. I'm sorry. 2006, 2007, somewhere in that 8 area. I'm sorry. 2005, 2006, in that area.
9 Q 2005 or 2006 ?
10 A Yeah.
11 Q And what happened to the Michael D. Cohen & Associates firm?

A Merged it into Phillips Nizer.
Q At Phillips Nizer, did you have a title when you merged together?

A I did.
Q What was your title?
A I was a partner.
Q And how about once you joined Phillips Nizer, what was the nature of your practice then?

A Business development as well as continuing with my client base.
Q The client base that you had developed when you were in private practice at Michael D. Cohen & Associates?

A Correct.
M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

Page 2195
Q Fair to say that your practice included commercial real estate work?
A Yes.
Q Residential work as well?
A Mostly for myself.
Q Was it -- would you characterize the practice as a litigation practice?
A We had some litigation, but I would not say it was -- it was primarily litigation at that time.
Q And did there ever come a point in time when you stopped working for Phillip Nizer?

A Yes.
13 Q When was that?
14 A That was in 2007.
15 Q And what occurred such that you stopped working for the 16 Phillip Nizer firm?

A I had had a meeting with Mr. Trump at the Trump Organization and he had asked me to join his company as executive vice-president of the Trump Organization and special counsel to him.

Q So in or about 2007, you joined the Trump Organization to work --

A March of 2007.
24 Q And that was to work for Donald J. Trump?
25 A Correct.

2 Q But there was an accounting department there?
3 A Yes.
4 Q Who do you understand worked in the accounting

6 A Well, several people worked at the accounting, but the 7 CFO for the Trump Organization was Allen Weisselberg.
$8 \quad$ Q Anyone else you know who worked in the accounting department other than the CFO, Mr. Weisselberg?

A There were many people, Deborah Tarasoff, Jeff McConney. When I first started there there was a gentleman by the name of Eric Sacher who then got replaced with -- I apologize. I am blanking on his name, but there was quite a few people in the accounting department.

Q And in the legal department, did you ever have occasion to work with members who were employed within the legal department at the Trump Organization?
A Yes.
Q Does the name Jason Greenblatt sound familiar to you?
A When I started Jason Greenblatt was general counsel along with George Ross.
Q And was he still at the Trump Organization by the time you departed in 2017?
24 A Yes.
25 Q How about Allan Garten? Is that a name you're familiar

1 within the legal department?
2 A Yes.
3 Q Who is Alan Garten?
4 A He was an attorney at the Trump Organization, also an executive, but he'd ultimately became general counsel after Jason Greenblatt's departure to go pursue negotiations with Middle East after Mr. Trump became president elect.
Q And fair to say you did not report to either of those individuals, yes?

A Correct.
Q I'd like to talk about some of the other Trump Organization executives.
Are you familiar with the name Donald Trump, Jr.?
A Yes.
Q How are you familiar with that name?
A That's how I was first introduced to Mr. Trump was through his son and he is the namesake of his father.
Q And Mr. Trump, Jr., did he have a title during the time when you worked at the Trump Organization?
A Yes.
Q What was his title?
A Executive vice president and there was a second part to it, which had to do with development.
Q Do you recall the specific title?
25 A I don't.

Q So it may have been something along the lines of executive vice president of development and acquisitions?
A Development and acquisitions, yes.
Q Did that refresh your recollection about the title?
A Yes.
Q Okay. Thank you.
And what is your understanding of Mr. Donald Trump,

A Development in acquisitions of real estate opportunities that would be presented to the Trump Corporation.
Q And when we were talking about that hierarchy before, fair to say that Mr. Donald Trump, Jr., he was at the top of the hierarchy with the title executive vice president similar to you?
A Yes.
Q Okay. Are you familiar with the name Eric Trump?
A Iam.
Q How are you familiar with that name?
A Worked at the company as well as I was on his Eric Trump Foundation board, which benefits St. Jude Children's Hospital working with family.
Q Another one of the Trump family members; correct?
A Correct.
Q And did Mr. Eric Trump hold the title during the time

Cohen - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)
Page 2203
while you were working at the Trump Organization?
A Yes.
Q What was Mr. Eric Trump's title?
A Same as Don, Jr.'s executive vice president and development and acquisitions.

Q And what is your understanding of the work Mr. Eric Trump performed at the Trump Organization during the time you worked there?
A Same development and acquisitions of real estate opportunities.

Q Any particular areas that you're familiar with that he had a specialty in?

A He concentrated on golf as well as again different opportunities that would come in to the company. Don, Eric and Ivanka would split various opportunities where each one was attached to a specific opportunity.

Q And you beat me to my next question.
Are you familiar with the name Ivanka Trump?
A Iam.
Q How are you familiar with the name Ivanka Trump?
A Also one of Mr. Trump's three children, plus we also live in the same building.

Q And did Ms. Ivanka Trump have any titles during the time when you were employed with the Trump Organization?

A Yes.
$1 \quad$ Q What was the title Ms. Ivanka Trump held?
2 A Executive vice president of development and acquisitions as well.
4 Q And I didn't ask this question about Mr. Eric Trump, 5 but Ivanka, Donald, Jr. and Eric Trump, they all held the title 6 executive vice president, yes?
7 A Yes.
8 Q And they were in that higher level of the hierarchy, yes?

A Yes.
11 Q Ivanka Trump, Eric Trump, Donald Trump, Jr., did they report to you at anytime during your employment with the Trump Organization?
A No, ma'am.
15 Q To whom did those three individuals report to while you were employed by the Trump Organization?

A Their father.
Q Okay. Anyone else?
A No, ma'am.
Q We've already stated the name Allen Weisselberg. He was the CFO of the Trump Organization, yes?

A Yes.
Q What understanding do you -- if any, do you have as to his role at the Trump Organization?

A He was the chief financial officer. Every financial

Page 2206
1 Q Do you know if he reported to anyone else at the Trump Organization?
3 A Mr. Trump, if it would be necessary.
4 Q Anyone else?
5 A Not that I'm aware of.
6 Q And your general understanding of Mr. McConney's role?
7 A He handled all of the bookkeeping.
8 Q Anything else you recall about Mr. McConney's role?
9 A No, ma'am.
10 Q Are you familiar with a document titled the Statement of Financial Condition for Donald J. Trump?

A Iam.
Q And how are you familiar with that title?
A I've seen them as well as I've worked on them.
Q Describe that for me. What do you understand generally that document to be?

A That was a complete listing of all of the assets of the Trump Corporation, the Trump Organization with each asset broken down into an asset class, the asset class described and the value was placed on the asset, as well as any existing liabilities. The goal was to basically create a statement of financial worth.

Q For whom?
A Donald J. Trump.
Q And do you have any understanding about why the 1 transaction went through his office.

2 Q Can you give me an example? What do you mean by that?
3 A If there was an invoice that came to me, I would be required to approve that invoice, put a line on, write
"approved," sign my name, put another line underneath it and that would then get presented to Allen. It would then, of course, go to Mr. Trump's office for initial signature before a check would be processed.
Q So Allen Weisselberg managed the financials of the Trump Organization?

A Yes.
Q Are you familiar with the name Jeff McConney?
A I am.
Q How are you familiar with the name Jeff McConney?
A Worked with him at the Trump Organization.
Q And what is your understanding of Jeff McConney's titles that he - title that he held while you were employed at the Trump Organization?

A He was comptroller. He worked predominantly for Allen Weisselberg.
Q So Mr. McConney worked in the accounting department, yes?

A Yes.
Q Was he a direct report to Mr. Weisselberg?
A Yes.

document was created?

A Initially.
Q Yes.
A No.
Q During the time you were working at the Trump Organization did you form any understanding about why the document was created?

A It was to be used for purposes of demonstrating net worth for acquisitions for insurance purpose.

Q Any other reasons?
A Not that I'm aware of.
Q And when you say that this document was to be used to demonstrate net worth for acquisition for insurance purposes, is it your understanding that the document was to be shared with third parties or was that for internal purposes?

A Shared with third parties.
Q Do you have any understanding as to the ways in which the Statement of Financial Condition in particular was used?

A Yes.
Q Describe for me some of those ways.
A So as it related to insurance the document would be presented to the various insurance brokers that were brought to the company from the main broker, AON. They were permitted to take notes off of the document but not permitted to keep the actual document itself and the benefit was showing that the assets had extremely high values with low liabilities in order to obtain better insurance premiums.
Q You also mentioned acquisitions. Were the statements of financial conditions presented to any third parties for purposes of an acquisition?
A Yes.
Q What third parties are you familiar with?
A I was involved in the potential acquisition of the buffalo bills.
Q Any other acquisitions you can think of?
A The Miami Doral property.
Q Anything else?
A Not off the top of my head.
MS. FAHERTY: And I just want to check on timing,
Your Honor.
THE COURT: I was going to give you the five-minute warning in one minute. So we'll break at 12:55.
MS. FAHERTY: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q Turning back to the creation of the document focusing on the time that you were employed at the Trump Organization. And I'll draw your attention to the period beginning in 2011.
Do you have any understanding as to who created the document?
A I do not.
Q Do you have any understanding as to whether -- as to what, if any, individuals at the Trump Organization worked on ## reason?

Q Does this appear to be a document you may have worked on during the time you were employed at the Trump Organization?
A I don't recall.
Q I'll draw your attention to the third page -- page four of this document, and it ends in the number 3134.
A Yes.
Q Do you see that page there?
A I do.
Q Do you recognize this page as a document page you may have worked on during your time period working for the Trump Organization?
A I do.
Q How do you recognize this page? What do you recognize it to be?

A I recognize the entire document.
Q Describe for me that recognition.
A It's a document that I have seen before. It's a document that $I$ had in my possession and a document that $I$ just recognize.
Q Were you ever asked to perform work on Mr.
Donald J. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition?
A Yes.
Q And before you tell me more about the work you were asked to perform, was that work asked in your capacity as Mr. Donald J. Trump's personal attorney or was it for a business

A For business reason.
Q And what was the work you were asked to perform for
Mr. Donald J. Trump with regards to the Statement of Financial Condition?

A I was tasked by Mr. Trump to increase the total assets based upon a number that he arbitrarily elected and my responsibility along with Allen Weisselberg predominantly was to reverse engineer the various different asset classes, increase those assets in order to achieve the number that Mr. Trump had tasked us.
Q And when you say "achieve the number," what number are you talking about?

A Whatever number Mr. Trump told us to.
Q Was it Mr. Trump's ultimate net worth as identified on the Statement of Financial Condition?
A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: I think now would probably be a good time to take a break, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. You're giving up two minutes here.

All right, we're going to break for lunch. See you all if you want to come back at $2: 15$ on time, please.
(Whereupon, there is a luncheon recess in the proceedings.)

AFTERNOON SESSION

THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is back in session. The Honorable Judge Arthur Engoron presiding. Make sure all cell phones are on silent. Laptops and cell phones will be permitted, but only to members of the press. There is absolutely no recording or photography of any kind allowed in the courtroom. Now be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: We just need a witness.
THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.
(Whereupon, the witness enters the courtroom and approaches the witness stand.)

THE COURT: Okay. Let's continue with the direct examination of Mr. Cohen.

MS. FAHERTY: Thank you, Your Honor.

CONTINUED DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MS. FAHERTY:

Q Mr. Cohen, you recall at the break you testified to reverse engineering numbers on the statements of financial condition each year while you were working at the Trump Organization, yes?
A Yes.
Q And I believe you were deposed in this case. Did you testify that between 2011 and 2015 you worked on those years' Statement of Financial Condition?
A Again, I stated I don't recall if I worked on 2011, but evidence.

And I believe you testified before you have seen this document before; correct?
A Correct.
MS. FAHERTY: And let's turn to the third page of this Document. One more.
Q Was this particular page of assets relevant to the work you performed on the Statement of Financial Condition?
A Yes.
Q How is this particular page relevant to the work you performed on the Statement of Financial Condition?

A We would take this specific list of assets and we would figure out which specific line to increase the number again to reverse engineer it into the total asset that Mr. Trump sought.

MR. KISE: Your Honor, objection on foundational grounds. The witness has testified that he didn't look at any particular documents and then he testified before that -- that he doesn't recall having anything to do with 2011. So now we're looking at 2011 and I don't believe the witness has any foundation to look at 2011.

THE COURT: Did he say he wasn't sure about 2011?
MR. KISE: We can look back. I believe he said "I don't recall working on 2011," but does recall working on '12, '13, '14, '15.

THE WITNESS: That's not what I said.
M. Cohen - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 2215
MS. HABBA: When he first took on the stand he said he did not work on 2011.

MS. FAHERTY: And, Your Honor, I always appreciate when learned counsel can give me a - I'm happy to ask some additional questions to make the record clear, if that's okay.

THE COURT: All right. Well, let's lay a foundation if one can be laid for this.
Q So what would be the basis for doing, for example, the work you performed on 2012? Would you make numbers out of thin air or was there a document or information you looked at in order to calculate new numbers?
A We would have taken the document that you have up right now, the June 30, 2011 document, and we would mark it up by hand in order to increase each of the asset lines, again, to get to the total asset number that Mr. Trump tasked us to achieve.
Q And when you say, "we," who are you referring to?
A Myself and Allen Weisselberg.
Q Did this conversation or these conversations marking up the 2011 document, for example, occur in the presence of anyone else?
A Yes.
Q Who?
A Mr. Trump.
Q And what, if anything, do you recall Mr. Trump would say about marking up the document referring in this instance to the 2011 Statement of Financial Condition for the 2012 numbers?
A I would receive a phone call, generally it would be from Rhona Graff, Mr. Trump's executive assistant, "Mr. Trump would like to see you" and I would come into the office. Allen Weisselberg would either already be there or come with me and the topic was the Statement of Financial Condition. He would look at the total assets and he would say, "I'm actually not worth four and a half billion dollars. I'm really worth more, like, six." Okay. He would then direct Allen and I to go back to Allen's office and return after we achieved the desired goal. Q And I'll direct your attention to the following page. And at the bottom of this page do you see a line entry at the top, it says, "liabilities and net worth." Do you see that there?
A Ido.
Q And at the bottom there is a line entry. It says "net worth." Do you see that there?
A Ido.
Q And was this particular number the number you were tasked with bringing up according to Mr. Trump's directive as you just testified?
A Yes.
Q Okay. Now, turning back to the first page.
Was there a particular procedure for you and
M. Cohen - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty) Page 2217

Mr. Weisselberg to distribute the assets on this page that you would alter or backup the numbers into?

A There was no specific program within which to change the numbers. It was, again, reverse engineering.

So, for example, if they brought on a new asset we, of course, would add that to the list of assets, but then there were also other assets like Trump Park Avenue. We would take the number of units that Mr. Trump owned as the sponsor developer of the property and we would look at numbers that were being achieved elsewhere; what's the highest price per square foot achieved in the city, and we would use those numbers in order to inflate the value of these apartments.

Q Are those called comparables?
A Comparables -- you could call them comparables, but comparables imply that they are similar.
Q And is it your understanding that the quote/unquote
"comparables" were not similar?
A No.
Q What is your basis for saying that?
A Some of the comps or comparables were predicated off of ground up developments with nine, ten feet ceilings, unobstructed views, not inhibited by rent stabilized or other programs, so no, they were not comparables. They are just different.
Q So Mr. Trump would task you with reaching a number for 2012, you would look at the prior year's number; correct?

A Correct.
Q And you would go into Allen Weisselberg's office to review the numbers to see where you could add value. Is that fair?
A Fair.
Q And was anybody present for those conversations?
A There were people who had come in to the office that were providing Allen with information, but these conversations were primarily between Mr. Trump, myself and Allen Weisselberg.

Q And in the conversations between you and Mr. Weisselberg in his office, how would you find these comparable numbers? Was there a particular search you would do or research you performed?

A Well, some of the assets that we used as comparables I just know because I am in the real estate industry, so I read an article about an apartment that, you know, that traded or I would look on Google.

Q And did you keep the notes of your meetings with Mr. Weisselberg as to the values you were adding to the asset categories on Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition?

A No.
Q Why not?
A I would sit down with Allen and we would make the changes. That document would then be photocopied that had all of the changes at which point in time Allen and I would return to Mr. Trump demonstrate that we achieved or close to the number that he was seeking and I had no use for that document any longer.

Transcript continues on the following page....
$1 \quad Q$ And at some point, did you become aware that the numbers -- the values you had added to the Statement of Financial Condition, let's focus on 2012, that they were accepted by Mr. Trump?

A Yes, he's the only one that could accept them.
Q How did you come to understand that Mr. Trump accepted the values you added to the Statement of Financial Condition for 2012?
A Because he knew the Statement of Financial Condition would be printed by Mazars who is the accounting firm for the Trump Organization and we would receive the bounded copy.

Q Did you have any relationship with Mazars in the process of drafting the Statement of Financial Condition?

A No.
Q Who, if anyone, do you understand to have been interacting with Mazars in the creation of the Statement of Financial Condition?
A Mr. Trump and Allen Weisselberg.
Q And with regards to the process between the time Mr.
Trump tasked you with reverse engineering that net worth number to the time when you met with Allen Weisselberg in his office to eventually returning back to Mr. Trump with the numbers for his approval, about how long did that process take?

A For the most part, several days.
25 Q And what, if any, understanding do you have as to who

M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

Page 2221
Mr. Weisselberg relied on to assist him in adding value to the numbers on these Statements of Financial Condition?
A Jeffrey McConney.
Q Anyone else?
A Potentially the children Don, Ivanka and Eric.
Q What, if anything, is your understanding Mr. McConney provided to Mr. Weisselberg on the asset values?

A He had all the numbers. He was the one that controlled the computer with the fobs in order to see, for example, cash and marketable securities. He would also be the one to provide Allen with the gross rent roll for 40 Wall Street or any of the other assets that Mr. Trump owns that were being rented or leased.
Q And you made mention of the three adult children. What is your understanding as to the three adult children's role in assisting Mr. Weisselberg in valuing the assets in the Statements of Financial Condition?
A Well, first would be which projects that they individually were spearheading and then to ask them what other, you know, values exist for the purpose of this asset.

MR. KISE: Objection, Your Honor. I'm not sure that's entirely responsive, if at all responsive. Is the witness testifying that he spoke with these individuals or this is his understanding that one else spoke with these individuals? The question calls for -- the question appears to call for speculation based on the foundation that has not yet been laid, but I don't -- I don't -- it is not clear what he's testifying to at all.

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, that appears to be a perfectly fair question by me with a responsive answer and if Mr. Kise disagrees with the response, he's perfectly entitled to cross-examine.

THE COURT: You want to just read it again for everybody's benefit out loud, obviously.
Q You made mention of the three adult children. What is your understanding as to the three adult children's role in assisting Mr. Weisselberg in valuing the assets in the Statement of Financial Condition?

MR. KISE: He has no foundation other than hearsay. If that's what he's saying, unless he's testifying that he spoke with the children directly, that's different.

THE COURT: Well, I don't think he had to speak to them. I think it was more of an observation, but see if you can ask it again with -- either ask a foundation or the question with more of a foundation. I'm not sure exactly also the phrase "what's your understanding." What did you see, observe, hear?
Q Did you have - you had a general understanding as to Eric Trump's role at the Trump Organization while you were employed there, yes?

Page 2223

A Yes.
Q You similarly formed an understanding as to Donald Trump, Jr.'s role at the Trump Organization while you worked there?

A Yes.
Q Similarly, you formed an understanding of Ivanka Trump's role while working at the Trump Organization?
A Yes.
Q Did you have occasion to observe Mr. Weisselberg interacting with those three adult children as it concerned the Statement of Financial Condition and his preparation of values?

A I did not observe them specifically engage in conversation.

Q Did you at any point form an understanding that Mr. Weisselberg was, in fact, consulting with the three adult children with regards to his valuations on the Statements of Financial Condition?

A Yes.
MR. KISE: Objection.
THE COURT: I think the next question is taken with the first question is acceptable, so...
$Q$ How did you form that understanding?
A Allen would state that, "I need to speak to Don, Ivanka, Eric" regarding whatever the asset was.

THE COURT: Well, did he state that he did speak to

1 them beyond "I have to speak to them"?
THE WITNESS: No, he did not actually make that overt statement. However, at the end, there was a new Statement of Financial Condition that was compiled that had the changes.

THE COURT: How do you know that the children had any input into those new numbers?
THE WITNESS: I do not.
Q Any other understanding as to others who worked with Mr. Weisselberg on the valuations for the Statements of Financial Condition?
A Jeff McConney.
Q Other than Mr. McConney?
A I don't know who else Allen spoke with.
Q And just to clarify, what were the methods of communication you employed at the Trump Organization? Did you communicate frequently via e-mail?
A No.
Q How about via text message?
A No.
Q How about handwritten notes concerning the Statements of Financial Condition?
A Only to the extent that we changed the numbers and the changed numbers would be in red pen.
Q And you didn't retain copies of those communications,

M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

right?

A I do not believe so.
Q So looking at this exhibit, which is still on the screen, the 2011 Statement of Financial Condition, focusing on the work you performed for the 2012 valuation, what, if any, of these assets do you recall that you provided valuations for?

A Trump Park Avenue, Trump World Tower at United Nations, 100 Central Park South to the extent it was part of the commercial portion; properties under development specifically with Beverly Hills, Miss Universe Pageant and potentially other assets.

Q And as to the other assets, was Allen Weisselberg responsible for those assets?

A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: Let's put that to the side. Can we pull out 2012, please.

Your Honor, I'm handing up to the witness the June 30, 2012 Statement of Financial Condition. It is marked already as an Exhibit PX 815.
Q Do you recognize this document, Mr. Cohen?
A Ido.
Q And do you recognize this as a document that you worked on in connection with Mr. Trump's assignment that you reverse engineer the values on Donald J. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition?

A Yes.
Q For what year were you using the 2012 Statement of Financial Condition to perform work on Mr. Trump's Statement of Financial Condition?
A That would then go for the 2013.
Q So let's turn to the third page of this document. We have it on the screen here. Similar to the prior year Statement of Financial Condition, right, listing of assets?
A Correct.
Q Then if we turn to the next page, "liabilities" and "net worth," yes?
A Yes.
Q And there's a net worth entry at the bottom of the page, correct?
A Correct.
Q Was that another net worth number that you were directed to reverse engineer to a higher number?
A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: Going back to the very first page. Thank you, Ashley. The assets page.
Q Do you recall which assets for the 2013 values that you worked on in connection with your assignment to reverse engineer the values on the Statement of Financial Condition?
A Possibly Trump Tower, Trump Park Avenue, Trump World Tower United Nations, possibly 100 Central Park South to the extent of the commercial, mansion at Seven Springs, Miss Universe Pageant as well as possibly other assets.

Q And again, the ways in which you would increase the values of these particular asset classes, what would you do?
A Again, we would take a look at either comparables or new potential lease tenants, for example, in Trump Tower and come up with a multiple if you were taking that to market to securitize it.
Q Any other ways in which you would inflate the assets on these asset classes for the 2013 Statement of Financial Condition?
A Again, looking at comparables into the area Seven Springs was a little different because there was a deal that was struck to subdivide the property. So we would look at if it was for the -- for this year, it could have been 2013 or -- with the subdivision to provide some sort of number attached to each individual parcel.
Q So is it fair to say you would Google a number for assigning a value to the lots at the mansion at Seven Springs? MR. KISE: Objection. Leading.
Q Describe for me the number.
THE COURT: Sustained.
Q Describe for me the number that you would use for Seven Springs.
A You look at some of the other homes that are in the area and you use that as a basis for the subdivision parcel lots.

Q When you're looking up the -- these numbers, are you calculating time as a factor in those values?
A No.
Q Is the value an immediately-achieved number that you're assigning?
A No.
Q Is the number a comparable or a reasonable comparable,
I think we spoke about comparables before, to the asset class?
A It would depend.
MR. KISE: Objection. Is this witness now testifying as an expert witness on real estate or are we going to add that to his series of credentials? I don't know that he is -- that question calls for expert -- an expert conclusion. Is it a reasonable comparable? That's the province of an expert and unless Mr. Cohen -- the prosecution wants to qualify Mr. Cohen as an expert in that, I'm sure he'll answer it and say he is.

THE COURT: I found it a confusing question. I will sustain the question.

MS. FAHERTY: That's okay. I want to ask the question in a non-objectionable way, Your Honor, so give me a moment, please.

THE COURT: Of course.

M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

Page 2229
Q So you made mention that the Seven Springs asset was a little different. Your testimony just now, was that specific to the particular year 2013 or is that a general recollection?

A General recollection. I don't know if it was 2012, '13.
Q You generally have a recollection, though, that you were looking at other comparable assets that could value the subdivided property at Seven Springs; is that fair?
A Yes.
MR. KISE: Objection. Leading.
Q How would you describe --
THE COURT: Wait. Wait. Sustained.
Q How would you describe those comparable assets that you were looking at for the purpose of that Seven Springs subdivision?

A I'm sorry. I don't understand your question.
Q What were you looking at? How were you coming up with the numbers?
A So I know the area where Seven Springs is located. It's the top of the hill, the very top and we looked at -- I looked at, for example, the value of a house that was beneath
Mr. Trump's property, Nelson Peltz, and we took that as a number and then we added to it because it would be new construction, it is higher up the hill and so on, and that's how we ended up increasing.

1 Q And do you know if any of the adult children also performed work at the Seven Springs -- for Seven Springs, LLC,
3 a Trump Organization entity?
4 A I don't know which one, no.
5 Q Same question that I was asking before about 2013. Who 6 tasked you with adding values to the Statement of Financial 7 Condition for that year?
8 A That would be Mr. Trump.
9 Q And who did you perform that work with with inflating 0 the assets for 2013?

A Allen Weisselberg.
Q Similar to the work you performed in 2012?
A Yes, it was an annual recurring process.
Q Approximately how long in 2013 would that take to go from being assigned adding the value to the time you brought it to Mr. Trump for his approval?

A Again, several days.
Q Any understanding whether or not Mr. Trump did approve of the asset values you added to the Statement of Financial Condition for that year?

A In the same way as previously described.
Q And if I asked you the same questions for the following year, for 2014 --

A Yes.
Q -- would your answers be any different?
M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

Page 2231
A No.
Q How about in 2015; would your answers be any different?
A No.
Q And let's just take a quick look at the 2013 Statement of Financial Condition which is -- Tommy, I'm so sorry. 707. Do you recognize that document there?
A I do.
Q Let's turn to the third page. Do you recognize that asset page?

A I do.
Q And that was the asset page you worked on to increase the values for the 2014 Statement of Financial Condition?
A Correct.
Q And turning to the next page, do you see that net worth entry there?

A Yes.
Q Is that the net worth line that you were tasked with reverse engineering higher by Mr. Trump?

A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: Can we pull out 2015, which is we are looking at 730. Sorry, Tommy. 729. Thank you. Can you pull out 730, too.
Q So I put 2014 -- let's look at 2014 first which is 730 in front of you. Do you recognize that document?

A Ido.

1 Q That's the 2014 Statement of Financial Condition?
2 A Yes.
Q And turn to page three of this document. Again, this is the assets page that you and Mr. Weisselberg worked on together?
A Correct.
7 Q And then turning to the next page, that net worth line appears to have gone up from prior year, yes?
A Correct.
10 Q That was the net worth number that Mr. Trump assigned you to inflate back into?

A Correct.
Q And then turning to Exhibit 729, you recognize that document there?
A Ido.
Q Same assets page that you were assigned?
A Yes.
Q Turning to the following page, net worth number there now six million. You see that there?

A Yes.
Q And that was a net worth number you were tasked with backing into to make higher pursuant to Mr. Trump's direction?

A Correct.
Q You can put those down. Thank you.
Do you recall when you stopped working on the

Page 2233
1 Statements of Financial Condition?
2 A I believe around for the 2016.
3 Q What is your understanding as to why you stopped working on the Statement of Financial Condition values?

A I was busy doing other things.
6 Q Were you ever in possession of one of Mr. Donald J.
Trump's Statement of Financial Condition in final form?
A Yes.
Q That was yours to use for business purposes?
A It was given to me to use for business purpose.
Q And when would you use that Statement of Financial Condition? Can you provide me an example?
A So in 2013, there was a journalist for a New York centric magazine called The Real Deal. The journalist's name was Katherine Clarke and Katherine Clarke was going to do a story, a feature story on Mr. Trump's net worth. And so when she came to see me at the office, I presented her with the document. She could not keep it. She could take notes in order to create the story about how much Mr. Trump was actually worth.

Q So is that generally how you would come to use the Statement of Financial Condition?

A That's one example.
Q That's one example. Another example, do you have any?
A When Mr. Trump was interested in putting in a bid for the Buffalo Bills, we used that statement in order to demonstrate his ability to purchase the team.
Q And did you have the permission of Mr. Trump to be able to use the Statement of Financial Condition?

A Yes.
Q Were you directed by Mr. Trump to use the Statement of Financial Condition to flout his wealth?
A Yes.
Q I want to turn your attention to insurance. Did you work on the insurance program for the Trump Organization?
A I did.
Q Did you work with others on the -- at the Trump Organization on the insurance program?
A Yes.
Q Who did you work with at the Trump Organization?
A Allen Weisselberg, CFO; Matthew Calamari, Sr., chief operating officer; and Ronald Lieberman.
Q Did that group of four individuals have a specific title or association that they were known by?

A The gang of four.
Q Did you say, "the gang of four"?
A Some called it the group of four or the gang of four.
Q And how did you know Matthew Calamari, Ron Lieberman,
Allen Weisselberg come to be known as the gang of four?
A I believe Pam Newman from Aon came up with the name.
25 Q And can you remind me who Aon is?

M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

Page 2235
A Aon is the broker that handled the insurance for the Trump Organization for all the insurance.
Q So a broker, they go out and find insurance programs to present to the organization?
A Correct.
Q They didn't provide the actual insurance, right?
A No, they're brokers.
Q You said the name was Pam Newman?
A Correct.
Q Who assigned you and those three other individuals, Mr.
Weisselberg, Mr. Calamari, Mr. Lieberman, to work on the insurance program?

A All final decisions were done by Mr. Trump.
Q Mr. Cohen, I'm handing you an exhibit. We marked for identification as PX-3119. I'll give you a minute to take a look at that document. I also put it on the screen. Do you see that document in front of you, sir?

A I do. Can I have just one moment to look through it?
Q Yes. Absolutely.
A Thank you.
(Witness reviewing document.)
A Okay.
Q So drawing your attention to the top of this e-mail, do you recognize the name Martha Blackman or 5 martha.blackman@aon.com?

A Yes.
2 Q Who do you recognize that name to you?
3 A She worked for Pamela Newman at Aon.
$4 \quad Q$ Is that acknowledged in the following line on behalf of Pamela Newman right below?

A Yes.
Q This appears to be an e-mail sent on February 14, 2013 addressed to Allen Weisselberg at the Trump Organization, Matthew Calamari, Ron Lieberman and you. That's your e-mail address, mcohen@trumporg.com?
A It was.
Q Thank you for the clarification. The cc line, do you recognize generally that those are e-mail addresses associated with employees at Aon, the insurance broker?
A Yes.
Q The subject is, "Forward, the Trump/Aon team-suggested work style going forward (draft memo number 4 with updated timeline)" and then there's an attachment. Do you see that?
A Ido.
Q Drawing your attention to the body of the message, it says, "Gentlemen, Aon is committed to delivering to the Trump Organization the best service and the best results." Then it states, "Work style-A, team of four."

Is that a reference to what you were just describing a moment ago, the gang of four who worked on the insurance

program?

A Yes.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I move to admit this into evidence.

MS. HABBA: Objection. Statute of limitations.
THE COURT: Overruled. It is in evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 3119.)

MS. FAHERTY: Thank you.
Q So this paragraph under, "A team of four" states, "Aon is excited that the Trump Organization has created a team of four to review the Trump Organization's insurance program, insurance policy buying decisions, claims management and risk protection protocols."

Is this an accurate description that it was the Trump Organization that created the "team of four" or "gang of four" as you referred to it just a moment ago?
A Yes.
Q And then it states that the "team of four and each member's role is outlined below." Do you see the box in the middle of the page there?
A Ido.
Q First it identifies Allen Weisselberg, he was the executive vice-president and CFO of the Trump Organization, yes?
A Correct.

Q What does it mean that his role was coverage buying decisions?
A Ultimately, he would be the one to take the premium after we negotiated and that would be again Matt Calamari, Ron Lieberman, myself and Allen to Mr. Trump in order to bind the policies.
Q Was he in charge of financial information with regards to the insurance program as well?

A Yes.
Q Was he in charge of sharing financial information with regards to the insurance program?
A To whom?
Q Sharing financial information.
A But share it with whom?
Q We'll come back to that question.
A Okay.
Q And next is Matthew Calamari, the executive vice-president and chief operating officer of the Trump Organization, yes?
A Yes, ma'am.
Q What is your understanding of his role with property claims?
A So Matthew Calamari, Sr. handled all of the claims as it related to anything that dealt with the insurance. If there was an auto accident, he would handle it. If there was a

Page 2239
Workers' Compensation claim, he would handle it. If there was a loss, an insurance loss, he would handle it.
Q He was responsible for those aspects of the insurance program, right?
A Yes, ma'am.
Q And then Mr. Lieberman, he's next in the line, executive vice-president management and development, what is your understanding of his role as described here in this box?
A During the process, things that would be looked at, of course, as casualty risk, again claims and also coverage buying decisions in terms of what needed, what didn't -- his background is he came from the City Parks Department and so he had a good understanding of casualty risk.
Q And then you're the fourth person in this box, yes?
A Correct.
Q And what does that mean, "coverage terms and conditions" associated with your role?
A It sort of encompasses the other boxes whereby we needed to make sure that the coverage terms were advantageous to the Trump Organization and the conditions of the insurance properly insured the assets.

Q You can put that to the side. Thank you. Are you aware if the Statement of Financial Condition, we talked a little bit about it, whether the statements of financial condition were ever presented during any of the gang-of-four meetings with underwriters?
A Yes.
Q What is your understanding as to when the Statement of Financial Condition would be shared in these gang-of-four meetings with underwriters?
A Pamela Newman would set up a meeting that would include various different insurance company executives and we would meet in one of the conference rooms across the table from one another and Allen would provide each and every one of them with a copy -- a bound copy of the Statement of Financial Condition.

Once again, they were told that they can copy, they can take notes off of it, but they cannot keep the original document.
Q So insurance underwriters were provided the statements of financial condition by Allen Weisselberg, yes?
A Yes, that was the word I was looking for, underwriter.
Q And those underwriters were permitted to review those statements, yes?
A Encouraged to.
Q And take notes?
A Yes.
M. Cohen - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 2241
Q On the information contained in those statements; is that correct?

A That's correct.
Q I'd like to show you another document.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I'm handing up to the witness a document we've marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit PX-588.
Q And I'll represent to you, Mr. Cohen, this is the way this document was provided to us. It's four pages, but I think the first two pages are identical to the second two pages, so if you want to take a moment to review, I'll just focus your attention on those first two pages, please.

Okay. Do you see this document in front of you? It's on a letterhead "AON," right? You see that in the upper right hand corner?
A Correct.
Q And there is a heading, "Agenda, "The Trump Organization LLC D&O Underwriting Meeting," dated Tuesday, January 10, 2017, 10:00 a.m. and 11:00 a.m..

And is that the address of the Trump Organization, 725 Fifth Avenue?
A It is.
Q And then there is a -- in the center of the page, a header "Attendees." Do you see that there?

A Yes.

1 Q And under the heading "Trump Organization," is that your name listed there?

A It is.
4 Q And the other names Allen Weisselberg, Matthew 5 Calamari, Ron Leiberman. That's the gang of four, yes?
A Correct, the group of four.
7 Q Group of four.
And then George Sorial, he's an employee of the Trump 9 Organization?

A He is.
11 Q How about Adam Rosen?
12 A Yes.
13 Q And what about Patrick Birney?
14 A Yes.
15 Q And there is another subheading, "AON." Do you see 16 that there?
17 A I do.
18 Q Pam Newman, that's who we've been speaking about?
19 A Yes.
20 Q She was the broker?
21 A Yes.
22 Q And Regina Degnan, do you recognize that name?
23 A I do.
24 Q Who is Regina Degnan?
25 A She was Pamela's executive vice president. Ultimately
M. Cohen - Plaintiff - direct (Faherty)

Page 2243
1 took her book of business when Pam retired.
2 Q And fair to say Pam Newman was the relationship partner 3 at AON?
4 A Yes.
5 Q And Regina then succeeded her as the relationship partner for the Trump Organization's relationship program?
7 A Correct.
8 Q Do you recognize the name John Vanasco?
9 A I do.
10 Q How do you recognize that name?
11 A From the meetings.
12 Q Okay. And what about Michael Fetchko. Do you recognize that name?

A I don't.
Q Any reason to doubt that Mr. Fetchko was an employee of AON?
A No.
Q Okay. And then under that subheading there is another subheading, "markets." Do you have an understanding of the markets?
A They're talking about the various different insurance markets because the Trump Organization is comprised of many different assets and many different classes.

Q So is this is an example of an agenda for Trump
5 Organization D&O Underwriting Meeting that occurred at the Trump

Q She was an assistant for Ms. Graff?
A Yes.
Q Thank you for the clarification.
And Ms. Newman? We spoke about her, yes?
A Correct.
Q Okay. And the subject of this e-mail is a forward
"Property casualty marketing meetings re: 2013 renewal-Tuesday, April 9, 2013 at 3:00 p.m.-at The Trump Organization," yes?

A That's what it says, yes.

MS. FAHERTY: Thank you, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Sure.
Q Mr. Cohen, I want to turn your attention to the Buffalo

A Correct.
Q All right. Do you recall who was involved in that process with you from the Trump Organization?

A Mr. Trump, Allen Weisselberg and myself.
Q Anyone else? How about Jason Greenblatt?
A Yes, Jason Greenblatt.
Q What about Ivanka Trump?
A Not that I recall.
Q Okay. Did you work with Deutsche Bank on the process?

| 5 | A No. |
| 6 | Q Tell me what this. |

MR. KISE: Objection. What process?
Q We turned our attention to the Buffalo Bills.
So what, if anything, do you recall about Deutsche Bank's involvement in the attempt to purchase the Buffalo Bills?

A We had had a meeting in Mr. Trump's office with members of Deutsche Bank's team for the purpose of securing a loan that would be predicated off of his assets so that we could acquire the -- or at least put in a bid to acquire the Buffalo Bills.

There is an interesting NFL scenario where you cannot have more than ten percent of an NFL team financed --

MR. KISE: Objection. Move to strike the last portion of that answer, Your Honor, unless Mr. Cohen is now an expert on NFL acquisitions.

I mean, I represented, George Steinbrenner in 1995 in connection with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers purchase, but I'm not an expert on that. I'm not sure if Mr. Cohen is an expert on NFL acquisitions, but the last port portion of his nonresponsive.

THE COURT: If it was nonresponsive that would be my objection.

Sustained on the ground of nonresponsive, the last part of it, the ten percent rule.

MS. FAHERTY: Understood.
Q Let's look at some documents. Maybe that will help the conversation.

not sure why we're talking about the Buffalo Bills other 2 than it does generate some press interest. I'm sure this is

THE COURT: You know, I think Mr. Cohen referred to 4
Buffalo Bills many times and I'm thinking that's the 5 football team, right? Without saying the football team. 6
What's the relevance?
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, they're writing to Deutsche Bank to get financing, they're providing comfort to the bank to get financing, they're making financial representations connection with the purchase of the Buffalo Bills. It is an aspect of our complaint and the Attorney General intends to prove the allegations within our complaint. So this is square within the case that we have brought. It is a continued pattern of fraud.

MR. KISE: There is no transaction at all associated with it. Nothing ever happened and it's not it doesn't form the basis for any of the counts.

The counts are connected to loan transactions that were actually consummated loan transactions and insurance transactions and insurance policies. This is just simply a free-for-all on anything that everyone went out at anytime and place and where -- and Ms. Trump who sent this e-mail is no longer a party to the case. So not only is it outside the statute of limitations, but it just simply has nothing to do with the claims asserted in the complaint.
I realize there is 200 -something pages and 800 -something paragraphs and one of those paragraphs makes some drive by mention of the Buffalo Bills. I do realize that, but that doesn't make it relevant in this trial proceeding now that the issues have been narrowed and the case has been joined.

THE COURT: I think we can all agree that Mr. Trump never owned the Buffalo Bills; right?

MS. FAHERTY: We can agree that that did not come to fruition, Your Honor, yes.

THE COURT: Nevertheless, I will admit it as possible evidence of pattern and practice of the organization back at that time generally speaking and the witness himself was on this. If it's not relevant, it's not relevant, but I think it is anyway, so.

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, it might be a good moment for a break.

THE COURT: Did we get an answer to the last question?

MS. FAHERTY: I thought we did.
MR. SOLOMON: Yes.
THE COURT: All right. Ten-minute break. We'll see you in 15 minutes.
(Whereupon, there is a recess in the proceedings.)

DJT is?

2 A Donald J. Trump.
3 Q "For the Buffalo Bills." He then goes on to state, "Items 1, 2, 3 were submitted to Morgan Stanley. Items 4-5 are documents between Trump and DB." Any understanding as to who DB is?
7 A Deutsche Bank.
8 Q "(And were not submitted to Morgan Stanley)."
Do you see that there?
A I do.
Q And item number one appears to be a letter from DJT.
Donald J. Trump, yes?
A That's what it says, yes.
Q To Morgan Stanley?
A Yes.
Q Then two is "owner background form," correct?
A Correct.
Q And three is a letter from Deutsche Bank to Morgan Stanley, yes?
A Yes.
Q And those were the three items submitted to Morgan Stanley?

A Correct.
Q And then four and five, number four is a certification of the financial position of DJT or Donald J. Trump, yes?

M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - DIRECT(MS. FAHERTY)

Page 2261
A Yes.
2 Q Executed by J. McConney. Do you understand who J. McConney is?
A Yes.
Q Who is that?
A Jeffrey McConney.
7 Q Item five is an executed letter from Deutsche Bank to Donald J. Trump, "Re: No waiver of Deutsche Bank/Trump loan terms," yes?

A Yes.
Q And do you recall putting documents together in connection with the Buffalo Bills bid?

A I remember seeing these documents.
Q And this was something that you worked on when you were at the Trump Organization, yes?

A Correct.
Q Turning your attention to the first attachment then,
I'll ask you to turn the page of this exhibit. This appears to be a Trump Organization letterhead, yes?
A That's correct.
Q And this letter is dated July 29, 2014, yes?
A Yes.
Q Do you recall the name K. Don Cornwell?
A I recall the name.
25 Q Who do you understand K. Don Cornwell to be?

1

A Managing director of Morgan Stanley. He was the individual that was compiling all the bids on behalf of the Buffalo Bills.
Q And so this is a letter -- and if we could just pull back and turn to the second page of this letter. Do you recognize the signature on this letter addressed to $K$. Don Cornwell dated July 29, 2014?

A Yes.
Q Whose signature do you recognize that to be?
A Donald J. Trump.
Q And there's a title underneath the word "sincerely." It is "Trump Acquisition, LLC." Do you see that there?
A I do.
Q The letterhead of this letter, however, is the Trump Organization. What is the connection between the Trump Organization and Trump Acquisition, LLC?
A It is a subsidiary for new acquisitions. They would do it under its own specific LLC.

Q Was it still an entity contained under the umbrella of the Trump Organization to your understanding?

A To my understanding, yes.
Q And you stated that's Donald J. Trump's signature, yes?
A Yes.
Q Now, turning back to the first letter, first page of the letter, the first paragraph states, "Please let this letter

Do you recall the bid made to purchase the Buffalo Bills for $$ 1$ billion in 2014?

A $$ 1$ billion, yes.

Q Turning to the next paragraph, the letter continues, "I have a net worth in excess of $$ 8$ billion (financial statements to be provided upon request), comprised of substantial cash balances, highly liquid assets (including Class A real estate) and very little debt." Do you recall seeing that?

A I do.

Q Do you recall a representation made by Mr. Trump in connection with his bid to buy the Bills asserting a net worth in excess of $$ 8$ billion?

MR. KISE: Objection. In addition to this document or this document?

THE COURT: I think that's a fair question. So let's make the question more specific. By fair question, I meant Mr. Kise's question.
Q Do you recall Mr. Trump, separate and apart from this letter, making a representation that he had a net worth in excess of $$ 8$ billion in connection with his attempt to purchase the bills?

A Yes.
25 Q And that is reflected here in this letter, yes?

A Yes.
2 Q And then this letter also states in the following paragraph, "I'm enclosing a letter from Deutsche Bank which indicates my financial strengths, both from a liquidity and asset value standpoint, and confirming that I have the financial capability to consummate the transaction, yes?
A That's what it says.
Q And this was submitted to Mr. Don Cornwell at Morgan Stanley in connection with the Buffalo Bills bid, yes?

A Yes.
Q And then I'll draw your attention to -- we'll skip the background form which is the second attachment to this letter. So let's go to the third document that was attached to this letter and submitted to Morgan Stanley. Go to page 17 of 22.

And this is a letter from Rosemary Vrablic, managing director at Deutsche Bank. That was the relationship partner we spoke about before, yes?

A Correct.
Q Dated July 29, 2014?
A Yes.
Q Also addressed to Mr. Cornwell at Morgan Stanley?
A Yes.
Q Drawing your attention to the first paragraph, do you recall that Deutsche Bank submitted a letter stating that they have been asked by Mr. Donald J. Trump to provide this letter in

A Correct.
Q You will recall that Mr. Greenblatt's cover e-mail suggested that there are two other documents attached that were just transmitted to Deutsche Bank, right?
A Correct.
Q Turning your attention to the next page of this document, do you recognize the signature on the bottom of this page titled, "Certification of the Financial Position of Donald J. Trump "?

A Yes.
Q Whose signature do you recognize that to be?
A That's Jeff McConney.
Q The Jeffrey McConney that we spoke about before? He worked in the accounting department at the Trump Organization?
A Yes, the controller.
Q The controller?
A Yes.
Q And if you see in that very first paragraph, it states, "I, Jeffrey McConney, controller;" is that right?
A That's correct.
Q And there are certain numbers included in here that "DT's current liquidity is approximately 310 million." Do you have an understanding as to who DT is?
A Donald Trump.
Q And then it states in paragraph B, "There has been no material decrease (in excess of 10\%) in the aggregate value of his illiquid assets since the financials were reported to Deutsche Bank as of June 30, 2013 that were certified by DT, Donald Trump, on October 30, 2013," yes?

Page 2267
A That's what it says.
Q And those financials, do you have any understanding as to what those financials as of June 30, 2013 are?

A The assets described in the Statement of Financial Condition.

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I move to admit this document and the exhibits into evidence.

MR. KISE: Your Honor, I'm not sure where to begin, but I'll start with statute of limitations.

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. KISE: I know where you are going on that, but again, I'm not sure of the relevance of any of these documents to the proceeding. I mean, is it the government's intention to establish that President Trump did not have the financial capability to consummate the transaction? Unless they are going to connect this up somehow with some actual alleged fraudulent activity, there's no -- there's no transaction that was ever consummated.

And in order to demonstrate that there's anything false or fraudulent here about this, we have to go into an entire, which we can, I guess if we are going to be here

1 until next March, an entire analysis whether he had the financial capability to consummate the transaction. The documents are all hearsay, so I'm wondering what purpose they're being offered for. What are we proving? What relevance, what fact at issue that is material to the issues before the Court is being established by this because on its face, there's nothing to indicate that President Trump didn't have the financial ability to consummate the transaction and Deutsche Bank says itself based on their own assessment, they say that he did.

2

So are we going to go down this path? This is the danger of these hypothetical transactions that never took place and they need to be more connected to some actual cause of action.

THE COURT: Jeffrey McConney, who I believe the witness has testified, signed the letter, submitted the certification. He is a defendant, right?

MR. KISE: He is.
THE COURT: And whether everything in this document is accurate or not, $I$ think is a factual issue.

MR. KISE: Well, but if it is a factual issue, then we have to go through whole society of facts and whether he had the financial ability to consummate the transaction. It doesn't just come in because it is a statement and then the government gets to assume that there is some falsity here.
to that point. I mean, you can't just say that. Are we going to debate whether his current liquidity was 310 million in 2014? I think it has already been established. If this one piece they're focusing on right now, that's up on the screen, but it is all part of one exhibit that relates to no transaction that was ever consummated. There's no connectivity to anything that's at issue.

It doesn't go to the element without establishing that he did not, in fact, have the financial capability to consummate the transaction which I would disagree with Ms. Faherty. That has not been established. We don't know that. I mean, there is certainly no evidence that would indicate that he did or did not. I mean, with the evidence that is before the Court as to this transaction, it certainly seems sufficient that he had the financial wherewithal to buy more than one NFL team. I mean, at the time. That's what I'm saying.

Are we going to go down this path of debating whether or not there is a truth or falsity here on an issue that doesn't relate to the actual claims and causes of action that are being presented? This is tangential and remote and unless -- Ms. Faherty just admitted she does not plan to connect this up. She's simply saying that the fraud has already been established, that it is already established, that this document is evidence itself of fraud

1 They are going to have to establish all of that which is why allegations brought by the Attorney General. This is a pattern and practice. There are co-defendants here. There is a plethora of reasons why this evidence comes in, Your Honor, respectfully.

MR. KISE: Your Honor, the entirety of Ms.
Faherty's presentation presumes the ultimate question. I'm back to my point that they're presuming that there is some fraudulent activity here without actually establishing that he did not have the financial capability to consummate the transaction.

THE COURT: But that isn't the only statement inherent in this document.

MR. KISE: But it is because they're all connected and I don't see how, how this exhibit is evidence of fraud. He had the financial capability to consummate the transaction and, again, perhaps more than one, maybe two or three. You can't own more than one NFL team as far as I know.

THE COURT: Are you testifying as an expert to the NFL?

MR. KISE: I am more of an expert on --
THE WITNESS: You can't own more than one.
THE COURT: As part of this document, I only have the one sheet in front of me now. Wasn't there a statement, a claim that the defendant's net worth was $$ 8$ billion?

MR. KISE: Yes. Has that been disproved?
THE COURT: Well, we don't have to disprove it. We are in the middle of a trial at this point.

Do you agree that his net worth was $$ 8$ billion at that time?

MS. FAHERTY: No.
THE COURT: Are you going to try to prove that it wasn't or do you feel you've already proved it wasn't?

MS. FAHERTY: For one, Your Honor, the inherent falsity of a Statement of Financial Condition has already been decided by this Court on summary judgment. Those have been determined to be false. I don't think I need to prove up or prove down. Although, there is evidence as to the 1 transaction, this document has no relevance at all.

inherent falsities and values contained in that Statement of Financial Condition that we have put in evidence in this trial and will continue to do so. So yes, we are continuing to prove our case, Your Honor, and connect all of those dots.

MR. KISE: But this document is not the Statement of Financial Condition, this document, and I would disagree strongly with Ms. Faherty. I mean, if we are in a place now where the statements are irretrievably proven false, then without a jury, without a trial and now we are going to be here and we're not -- why are we even putting on a defense then if that's already been established? We might as well close it up now. It doesn't make any sense what Ms. Faherty is saying.

They have to establish the elements of their claims and they can't simply rely on the fact that well, it's established that it is false and, thereby, that establishes the remainder of their claims. And here, we are not even talking about an actual claim. We're talking about a theoretical claim. It doesn't form the basis for any of the counts that are at issue in the trial. And unless we're going to go down the path, unless the government intends to go down the path of proving up that President Trump, which I don't think they can do that, that President Trump did not have the financial capability to consummate this

THE COURT: Couple of things. It is a non-jury trial, of course. I tend to be somewhat liberal in what I let in. I believe that I am evenhanded about what I'm letting in and what I'm not letting in. I think it's arguably false, particularly, again, the $$ 8$ billion. I don't -- arguably, I don't know whether Mr. Trump did or didn't have the --

MR. KISE: But that's precisely the point, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Wait. Wait, please. Well, yeah, that's why we're having a trial. I think this tends -- again, arguably tends to show a pattern and practice of broad, to use a loaded term, so the objection is overruled. Let's just move on.

MR. KISE: Again, I'm starting to feel like Paul Newman at this point. Every objection is overruled. I mean, this evidence should not come in respectfully. It really shouldn't. There's no indication as to where that even 8 billion -- 8 billion includes brand value. There's so many issues here that again, we're going down this path of litigating something that isn't even relevant to the claims and causes of action before the Court.

THE COURT: One other thing. Maybe the only banned word in my courtroom is "again." You don't have to say

1 things again. The objection is overruled for the reasons I 2 already stated and the reasons that Ms. Faherty stated. 3 It's duly noted that you strongly object. Let's move on.

MS. FAHERTY: One more document, Your Honor.
Q Mr. Cohen, do you recall in connection with the attempt to purchase the Buffalo Bills that you attended a meeting in Detroit called a management presentation?

A Yes.
9 Q Do you recall who was at that meeting in Detroit?
10 A Myself, Mr. Trump, Jason Greenblatt, Allen Weisselberg, and I don't recall if Ivanka was there.

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I handed up to the witness a document we've marked for identification as PX-981.
Q Take a quick look at that document, if you will, Mr. Cohen, and then I'll ask you a quick question.
(Witness reviewing document.)
A Yes.
Q Just drawing your attention to the third page, there is an e-mail sent by you to Alex Hill dated July 29, 2014 at 3:36 p.m. Do you see that message there?

A I do.
Q And do you recall who Alex Hill (IBD) is?
A I don't recall him specifically.
Q If I said the Morgan Stanley investment banking

1 division, would that refresh your recollection as to what IBD stood for?
A Yes. Again, I don't know him.
Q Do you have any understanding that Mr. Hill was an employee at Morgan Stanley?

A Yes.
Q So fair to say that this e-mail is a reflection that you dropped off the bid packet for the Buffalo Bills, yes?
A Correct.
Q And then drawing your attention through the e-mail all the way to the top, this is just a continued e-mail thread, right?

A Correct.
Q You remain on the e-mail chain in this thread, right?
A Correct.
Q And on August 4th, the second message on that first page, there's an e-mail from Alex Hill to you and Jason Greenblatt with a copy to K. Don Cornwell, right?
A Correct.
Q And Mr. Hill says wanted to confirm if the 6th worked for the management presentation. Do you see that there?
A I do.
Q And then following up on the 6th, Mr. Hill writes to you again saying, "Michael, Jason, looking forward to meeting you all today. One near term NFL item we would like you to all fill out and have Mr. Trump sign is the attached authorization and consent to release records. If you all could get that back to us home, that would be greatly appreciated. Also, we would like to offer you all the opportunity to tour the newly-modernized Ralph Wilson Stadium the week of the 18th. Please let us know if there is a day that works that week for a trip to Buffalo. Looking forward to meeting you."
M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - DIRECT(MS. HABBA) Page 2276

Does this message reflect that a meeting occurred in Detroit on August 6th in connection with the Buffalo Bills bid package?

A Yes.

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I have no further questions on this document and this witness. I would like to move that document into evidence, please.

MR. KISE: Same objections, Your Honor. Statute of limitations and relevance.

THE COURT: Same ruling. Granted. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 981.)

MS. FAHERTY: I rest, Your Honor. Thank you.
THE COURT: Well, will there be any cross-examination?
CROSS-EXAMINATION BY
MS. HABBA:
Q Hello, Mr. Cohen.
M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - DIRECT(MS. HABBA)

Page 2277
1 A Hello, Ms. Habba.
2 Q How are you?
3 A Well. Thank you.
4 Q We've met a few times, haven't we?
5 A We have.
6 Q Do you want me to call you Mr. Cohen today or Michael?
7 I know before, we've changed that up. What are you comfortable with?
A I think Mr. Cohen for the day since we are here in court.

Q I'll be Ms. Habba for the day. So I'm going to ask you a series of questions today. Before I do, first of all, when I do ask you my series of questions and I pace, I move when I am on my feet, so I apologize. I am going to ask you questions that are going to be yes-or-no questions and I'm going to try to keep it that way other than when I ask you to read something, so that we can move this along and make sure we get through everything that's per the judge's instructions, but I will try to make the questions super clear, so we have no issues.

Before we start, I want to discuss your health. I'm not going to get into anything that's uncomfortable. I don't really do that, but I need to make sure that you are able to testify completely, clearly and understand what you're doing today.

Do you have any health issues particularly at this moment that would cause you a reason to not be able to sit through the testimony under oath in this court today?

A Asked and answered.
Q I forgot that you like to do this. You did this with me in the depositions. Okay.

MR. KISE: The judge doesn't like that objection.
Q That's not good. So here is how this is going to go.
They get to object. They get to object. We all get to do our thing. You get to answer my questions. The more we do that, this will go better. We are not in a deposition. That's the judge. Ready? Mr. Cohen --

THE COURT: Even if you were asked before by a different party particularly, just answer it. It will be quicker.
Q Answer the questions and we will be here until January. Okay.

Mr. Cohen, are you on any medication that would affect your ability to testify honestly to me today?

A No.
Q No. Okay. Do you have any medication that would change your method of thinking at this moment, so that you're not clear in any sort of way?

A No.
Q So you are fully prepared to testify to me today?
A Yes.

Page 2279

Q Under oath?

A Yes.
Q And you understand what "under oath" means? Is that right, Mr. Cohen?

A Yes.

| 7 | Q | Thank you. |
| 8 | MS. FAHERTY: Can I just note I think there is some |  |

| 10 | MS. HABBA: I was getting to that. |  |

| 20 | MS. HABBA: And first, I'm going to submit Exhibit |  |

22 motivated to do so by personal greed and repeatedly used your

24 A Those are the statements of the government.
25 Q Great.
(Whereupon, the item previously referred to is received and marked Defendant's Exhibit Number D 951 in evidence.)

MS. HABBA: Okay. Thank you.
Q Okay. In connection with that proceeding that we just discussed in the Southern District of New York there is a sentencing memorandum submitted. Do you recall that?
A My sentencing memorandum or the government's sentencing memorandum?
Q It was at the U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of New York Robert Cuzan?
A That would be government's, yes.
Q Do you remember that being submitted?
A Ido.
Q Okay. And that was submitted in reference to you committing the crimes that you were motivated by personal greed. Isn't that correct, Mr. Cohen?

A That's what it's stated, yes. crimes over the period of several years and that you were motivated to do so by personal greed and repeatedly used your power and influence for deceptive ends. Do you remember that?
A Those are the statements of the government.
Q Great.

1 And that you "repeatedly used your power and influence for deceptive ends." That was what it said, right, deceptive?
A Again, yes.
Q And deception is a form of lying, isn't it, Mr. Cohen?
A I'll acknowledge that, yes.
Q Okay. In fact, he also noted that your crimes were marked by a pattern of deception that permeated your professional life, did he not?

A He said that, yes.
Q Okay. And his quote was, I believe, "but the crimes committed by Cohen were more serious than his submission allows and were marked by a pattern of deception that permeated his professional life and was evidently hidden from the friends and family members who wrote on his behalf." Is that correct?

A This is what he wrote.
Q I know that's what he wrote.
A Do I agree with the statement?
Q No, do you recollect him saying it; yes or no?
A I recollect that it's written here and you're reading it appropriately.
Q Okay. Didn't he also note that you abused both your standing as an attorney and your relationship with my client, President Trump?

MS. HABBA: Let's pull it up.
Peter, pull it up, please.

Page 2287
Q Those are the exact words. Would you like me to read them?
A No.
Q Okay. Do you disagree that that is what he said in that statement?

A I don't disagree that's what he said. I disagree with the premise.

Q That's the question. It's a yes-or-no question.
THE COURT: Just answer the question, please.
Q Do you agree that is what he said?
A That is what it says.
Q Good.
And you ultimately accepted a plea deal for those eight felony counts that were in the allocution that we put into the evidence prior?
A I did.
Q And in connection with accepting your plea deal, you appeared before the Honorable William Pauly of the Southern District of New York on August 21, 2018. Isn't that correct?

A That's correct.
Q Okay. And you were required in that agreement to answer a series of questions under oath, the same oath that you had in your deposition with me on this case a few months ago and the same oath that you're under today; isn't that correct?

A That's correct.

| 15 Q Did you lie to Judge Pauly when you said that you were | 15 relevant for impeachment. It's absolutely irrelevant for |

| 17 guilty of? Did you lie to J | ITNESS: It calls into question the fact that |
| 18 A Yes. | 18 there was no tax evasio |
| 19 Q You | 19 MR. KISE: I'm not directing anything to you, |
| 20 A I do. | 20 Mr. Cohen, I'm sorry. |
| 21 Q You | 21 THE COURT: Ms. Faherty? |
| 22 them some from | 22 MS. FAHERTY: Aside from the fact that the question |
| 23 A | 23 is palpably improper -- |
| 24 Q | 24 THE COURT: Well, on what grounds? I'm not |

| 5 was not reflected in the returns you filed; correct? | 5 is below the belt he is giving testimony about the lie |
| 6 A I don't understand your question. | 6 Let's keep this focus, Your Honor. |
| 7 MS. HABBA: Okay. Let's pull up the next exhibit, | 7 THE COURT: I think it falls right within the |
| 8 please, | 8 spousal privilege. You don't have to testify about what you |
| 9 Q I'll quote you. You see right here it says: | 9 and your spouse talked about. I'll make it simple and leave |
| 10 "As to Counts 1 through 5 in the tax years of 2012 to | 10 it at that. Yes, go ahead. |
| 1 2016, I" -- and the "I" is you; correct, Mr. Cohen? | 11 MS. HABBA: Your Honor, I apologize, but his wife |
| 12 A | 12 was on that return and I will get to why it's important |
| 13 Q "I evaded paying substantial taxes on certain income | 13 because in his deposition we did discuss his wife, so I'm |

| 8 A Idid. | 18 signed those returns? |
| 19 Q Okay. That doesn't say "tax omission," does it? | 19 MS. FAHERTY: Objection. |
| 20 A No, it does not. | 20 A Excuse me? |
| Q But you earlier testified today that you omitted, you | 21 Q Did she sign those returns? |
| 2 didn't evade, isn't that right? | 22 MS. FAHERTY: Stop. |
| 23 A I did say that. | 23 MS. HABBA: What? That's just a factual question. |
| 24 Q Right. So you lied when you said that you evaded taxes | 24 THE COURT: Yes, I'll allow that. |
| 25 to a judge under oath; is that correct? | 25 MS. HABBA: Thank you. |

THE COURT: Okay. Two things. I advise all attorneys on. People tend to read faster than they talk and numbers are difficult for court reporters to take down, so you have to really go slowly.

MS. HABBA: Noted, Your Honor.
A The document is inaccurate on line 14 as to Count 7, 7 had nothing do with the financial statements unless it refers to the campaign finance violation. We're referring to Count 6.
Q So you're saying that Judge Pauly's -- the transcript from Judge Pauly's hearing is inaccurate?
A I'm saying as to Count 7 and Count 6 are obviously two different counts.

Q Okay. Taking away the count number --
MS. HABBA: This is unbelievable.
Q Okay. For your HELOC, Mr. Cohen, did you not say that you submitted to the bank application process, a bank that was federally insured and is located in Manhattan, that you omitted information. Was that not true?
A No. It states I did not correct the inaccurate information on the form.
Q Okay. Let's stop there. You did not correct the inaccurate statement on the form. Did you sign that form?
A Sign the form.
Q Okay. So you did not correct the inaccurate information? Is that your way of saying I didn't lie because you didn't correct an inaccurate information?

Page 2297
A No.
Q Okay. Did you plead guilty to this?
A I did.
Q Okay.
MS. HABBA: This - I believe you said we're going to stop at 4:40. This might be a good space.

THE COURT: You don't want another five minutes?
MS. HABBA: Your Honor, if it's entertaining, I'm happy to go all night. I can continue.

THE COURT: All right. If you're willing, I value every five minutes.

MS. HABBA: Sure, sure.
Q So when you --
THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
MS. HABBA: Noted.
Q You knew that that statement to Judge Pauly that you were guilty of the HELOC was false, didn't you?

A Yes.
Q You affirmed under oath that the HELOC statement and the deposition in your April 28, 2023 deposition that you lied to Judge Pauly about the HELOC; isn't that correct?

A Correct.
Q So I just want to understand you were not lying in your deposition, but you were lying to Judge Pauly. Is that your 1 testimony today?

2 A I took the plea.
3 Q Do you understand -- did you have lawyers representing you when you took the plea, Mr. Cohen?

A I did.
6 Q Okay. And did your lawyers explain to you what a plea is?
8 A Yes.
9 Q And did your lawyers explain to you that when you plead to something you are saying that you are guilty of that crime, do you understand that?
A Yes.
Q And do you understand that right now in front of all this press, in front of these lawyers, in front of the several lawyers that you decided to bring in here today, you are admitting that you lied to Judge Pauly. Do you understand that, Mr. Cohen?
A I've already stated that, yes.
Q So that --
A In fact, it's actually in the document that we presented to Judge Pauly.
Q Mr. Cohen, here's how this is going to work. You're 23 not on Mea Culpa. You're not on your podcast and you're not on CNN. You're here with me? MS. FAHERTY: Objection, Your Honor.

Page 2299
Q You're going to answer them yes or no. THE COURT: No speeches. Just ask the questions. MS. HABBA: Well, it works both ways, Your Honor.
Q You also submitted false sworn statements to the House Select Committee approximately one year earlier on August 28, 2017. Isn't that correct?

A Yes.
Q And as a result of those false statements you pled guilty to the crime of making false statements to the United States Congress in violation -- and I'm going to say this slowly -- of 18 USC 1001 Subsection A Subsection 2. Isn't that correct?
A That's correct.
Q And in connection with accepting your plea deal, you appeared before the Honorable Andrew Carter of the Southern District of New York on November 29, 2018. Isn't that correct?

A That's correct.
Q And when you were in front of Judge Carter, you were required to answer a series of questions under oath, the same oath that you're under right now, isn't that correct?
A That's correct.
Q And you admitted under oath that on August 28, 2017, you submitted a false sworn statement to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence. Isn't that correct?
25 A Yes.
M. Cohen - Plaintiff - cross (Habba) Page 2300
$1 \quad$ Q And unlike your other plea hearing, you were being honest with the judge this time; is that correct?

A Is there a question?
Q Yes.
A What is it?
Q Do you need me --
MS. HABBA: Can we get a read back?
THE COURT: Read back, please.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the proceedings was read back by the court reporter.)
A Yes, that was correct.
Q And you stated that you did submit false sworn statements to Congress, didn't you?
A Yes.
Q So you have lied under oath numerous times, Mr. Cohen, isn't that correct?
A That's correct.
Q And you no longer have your law license, isn't that correct?
A Asked and answered.
Q Answer the question, please, Mr. Cohen.
THE COURT: Just answer.
A Yes.
Q And that's because you were disbarred in 2019; correct?
A Correct.

Page 2301
MS. HABBA: Your Honor?
THE COURT: You want to stop?
MS. HABBA: This is right before our next section.
THE COURT: Okay. We'll resume tomorrow at 10 o'clock.

MS. HABBA: Thank you.
MR. KISE: Please remind the witness he's not to talk to anyone, including his lawyers about his testimony.

THE COURT: Mr. Cohen, I hereby order you not to talk to anybody, including your lawyers about this trial or your testimony or anything related.

THE WITNESS: Yes, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Thank you. Have a good evening everyone.
(Whereupon, the trial proceedings are adjourned to Wednesday, October 24, 2023 at 10:00 a.m.)

THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is now in session. The Honorable Judge Arthur Engoron presiding. Make sure all cellphones are on silent. Laptops and cellphones will be permitted, but only to members of the press. There's absolutely no recording or photography of any kind allowed in the courtroom. Now, be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: Human bodies absorb sound. Can you imagine how loud that would be if the room was vacant? All right. Let's get the issue of the photographers.

MR. KISE: Not for us.
MS. HABBA: They're not going to want to come in.
MR. KISE: Can we do housekeeping?
THE COURT: Chris, they told me you're particularly photogenic.

MR. KISE: My family for sure.
THE COURT: When can we expect the missing person?
MR. KISE: I think momentarily, Your Honor, but can I raise two minor housekeeping matters?

THE COURT: Attorney General, ready to do some housekeeping matters?

MR. KISE: So, and Mr. Robert I think will back my memory and we will, of course, do whatever the Court wants, but so last night when we realized we did not receive anything on the Ivanka Trump motion from the Government, we went back and looked. Our understanding from our -- the conversation was they were going to file on Monday and we were - you asked me how long we needed and we were going to have two days, so Wednesday.

But apparently, when I looked at the e-mail that was sent, it says everybody files on Wednesday, but that wasn't certainly our understanding. So what l'd like, because if the Court still plans to proceed on Friday, which is fine, with the hearing, I would just ask then that we have until tomorrow. If they filed something tonight, then we have until tomorrow night, 24 hours, but that was what we agreed to, was two days.

THE COURT: The motion is by a non-party, so I'm not sure --

MR. KISE: So we just -- until we see -- that was the point I made to Your Honor last week. Until we see what they have to say and the other side -- the other ones say, I don't know -- I'm just guessing at that point.

THE COURT: Does the Attorney General object to giving them until tomorrow?

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I think just in the orderly, efficient management of business, we're all commenting on a third party's motion. I think we can all put in our papers today.

THE COURT: Well, how about some compromise

tomorrow at --

MR. KISE: Tomorrow is just one day. That was certainly our understanding of my dialog with you, Your Honor, was that you asked me how many days we needed after their response.

THE COURT: Can we do until noon, so we can read it, too, by noon tomorrow?

MR. KISE: Okay, yes, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. Thanks. You had a second issue?

MR. KISE: Just an order of witnesses. I know that the witness from the Parks Department who was deposed Monday by video, I don't know if they're planning on calling that witness this week or if it is going to be next week.

THE COURT: Well, let's ask.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I think what we are trying to understand is how today's proceedings are going to time out. We have a witness lined up for this afternoon. That will be Ms. Sherri Dillon if the time permits. Otherwise, we still have the remaining video of Ms. Mouradian. We have -- and we've informed counsel the remaining witnesses for this week.

Mr. Gaber is intending to take the deposition -- the testimony of Mr. Cerrone. I believe he might get pushed into next week as a result of Mr. Gaber's

MS. HABBA: Can we just do this first? THE COURT: Sure. Go ahead.
MS. HABBA: It is a little bit delicate and I want to start by saying I served as a law clerk to a judge when I first started practicing law and my candor, my judge was very strict about how I did and didn't behave. It is incredibly distracting when there are eye rolls and constant whispering at the bench when I'm trying to cross-examine a witness. So I'm just asking politely that that be refrained. It is very distracting.

THE COURT: Okay. Granted.
MS. HABBA: Thank you.
THE COURT: Okay, photographers.
(Whereupon, there was a pause in the proceedings.)
THE COURT: Witness is on his way, right?
THE COURT OFFICER: Yes.
Witness entering.
THE WITNESS: Good morning.
THE COURT: Let's continue with the cross-examination of Michael Cohen.
MS. HABBA: Thank you, Your Honor. Sounds good?
CROSS-EXAMINATION
BY MS. HABBA:
Q Mr. Cohen, good morning.
A Good morning.

absence, but for the remainder of this week, we have three of our witnesses that are lined up to fill the time. I can speak with counsel to make sure they're fully informed about our order of witnesses. If they can equally just give us an update on their timing on crosses, so we can make sure all the witnesses are here, everybody is prepared to take the testimony as necessary.

MR. KISE: I think Ms. Faherty's commentary, because I forgot the point she just made, the reason I was asking about this witness in particular is because Ms. Hernandez who intends to do the cross of that witness, she's out with COVID, so she won't be back until Monday. So all I'm asking is we make sure that witness is next week when she's back, which I think based on what Ms. Faherty said will work. Otherwise, we are fine with whatever other schedule.

THE COURT: All right. Good.
And Chris, make it one o'clock tomorrow.
MR. KISE: Okay. Thank you. How about 2:15 since you give us the lunch hour?

THE COURT: We need it for that. One o'clock.
MR. KISE: Thank you.
MS. HABBA: Your Honor, before we bring the witness in --

THE COURT: We have the photographers first.

Page 2309
Q I just want to remind you that you're still under oath obviously from yesterday as the judge put you under oath? THE COURT: True.
MS. HABBA: Thank you.
Q I just want to ask you preliminarily, did you speak with the Attorney General's Office about your testimony between yesterday and today?

A No.
Q Did you speak with your lawyer about your testimony between yesterday and today?

A Yes.
Q Did you speak to anybody about your testimony between yesterday and today?

A No.
Q Okay. Thank you.
As a follow-up from yesterday's cross, I just mentioned to Ms. Faherty I would like to admit Defendant's Exhibit 952 into evidence. It was the plea hearing allocution dated November 29, 2018.

MS. FAHERTY: For the purposes of his allocution. Otherwise, all of the hearsay statements herein, I don't think it needs to be admitted, but for the fact that it was his allocution. No objection to that portion of it.

THE COURT: I'm not sure how we are going to distinguish between this and that. Any objection to -- several counts of tax evasion, right?
A Correct.
Q And those counts had nothing to do with Donald Trump;
isn't that correct?
A That's correct.
Q And it wasn't done at the direction of Donald Trump or --
MR. KISE: We still really can't hear you.
MS. HABBA: Sorry. Is that better?
MR. KISE: Yes.

Q So I had asked you if those counts had nothing to do with Donald Trump and I believe you responded yes. And it wasn't done at the direction or benefit for President Trump, was it?

A For Mr. Trump, no.
Q And when you pled guilty to making false statements to a financial institution, that had nothing to do with Donald Trump, did it, for the HELOC?
A I know what you're referring to.
Q Right.
A The answer is no.
Q Okay. Thank you.
And when you lied to Judge Pauley under oath at your plea hearing for those charges, that had nothing to do with

Donald Trump correct?

MS. FAHERTY: Objection for the characterization.
We did this yesterday. I'm just going to stand up now and forewarn my concern at what I thought was a little bit of a circus yesterday. I'm just putting it on the record now that if I need to stand up, I will stand up. My objection stands, Your Honor.

MR. KISE: So, Your Honor, Your Honor --
MS. FAHERTY: Two attorneys.
MR. KISE: Right. The only circus yesterday was the witness not answering questions, so that's a fair question. He admitted here today for the first time in open court that he lied to Judge Pauley right across the street, right across the street. He lied to Judge Pauley when he pled guilty. That's what he said under oath in this courtroom, the same oath that he took there, the same oath that he took here. So in open court, he has now admitted to perjury in front of the Judge Pauley. I think that's a relevant fact for impeachment and -- may I finish? It should come in. I mean, there's no reason that that shouldn't come in.

MR. ROBERT: From the moment the case started, from the moment of my opening, the People started and talked about credibility. I talked about credibility. Credibility of the witnesses is what Your Honor is ultimately going to 1 have to decide in this case. The fact that the witness admitted for the first time yesterday that he committed perjury in the Southern District of New York as part of a plea, and we are going to get into other acts of perjury today, couldn't be more relevant in this case in enabling this Court to determine who's telling the truth and who is not.

THE COURT: Ms. Faherty, I don't understand the objection. Maybe say it again. What am I missing?

MS. FAHERTY: First, Your Honor, counsel has twice now repeated this word "perjury" repeatedly.

THE COURT: Well, that's the definition of perjury, lying under oath.

MR. KISE: Thank you, Your Honor.
MS. FAHERTY: The legal conclusion of perjury is very different. If you recall earlier this week or last week, we had counsel stand up, screaming, "Please don't let this witness violate his Fifth Amendment rights." I am quite concerned at the presentation from counsel that they are standing up, making these accusations while the witness is still on the stand. I'm quite concerned and so I'm standing up to indicate that that type of showmanship should not be permitted.

Now, I agree, Your Honor, I did ask Mr. Cohen the very questions Ms. Habba is asking him and he has responded

1 consistently. So I would just ask for the courtesy and

1 counsel. He had counsel then. This is not a shock. This respect that we proceed without this showmanship of words like "perjury" thrown in this court which is a legal conclusion. It is unnecessary. Yes, untruthful. Yes, an admission of a lie. However, please, can we, please, proceed?

MR. KISE: Your Honor --

THE COURT: Wait. Wait. Wait.
MR. KISE: Okay.
THE COURT: Mr. Robert, Mr. Kise, I'll tell you rule number one in Engoron's courtroom, which I often say, if I'm arguing for you, you don't have to argue for you. So far, I totally agree with you.

So Ms. Faherty, is the basic point the word "perjury," is that what we're trying to avoid here?

MS. FAHERTY: I think it is a legal conclusion, Your Honor, and I think that it instills a certain type of fear and intimidation in the witness in particular. That gives me great concern.

MS. HABBA: Your Honor, if I may?
THE COURT: Yes.
MS. HABBA: The perjury, although, the press is just hearing about it now, the perjury was heard at his deposition when he first said that he lied under oath with Judge Pauley. It is only now coming to light. He has is not showmanship. Everybody has had the transcript. It's just that the media hasn't heard about it until now. I'm just doing my job, sir. Mr. Cohen, as we know, is a witness who has interjected in many cases against my client and his credibility is the most important thing that I will attack.

THE COURT: Well, can we limit it to --
MS. HABBA: Frankly, I'm done with that line of questioning. It's done. I will be honest with you.

MS. FAHERTY: If we could move on --
MR. KISE: I don't know that we're done with that and --

MR. ROBERT: I'm certainly not.
MR. KISE: I will certainly say there is nothing wrong with calling a liar a liar. There's nothing wrong with calling someone who admits in open court to perjury. He was under oath in front of Judge Pauley. He was under oath in front of Judge Pauley. He said here yesterday under the same oath, "I lied to Judge Pauley." That's perjury. As Your Honor said, that's the definition of perjury. So we should not be expected to dance around it for someone's sensibilities.

A serial liar is a serial liar and since the entire case of the Attorney General hinges on this perjurious witness who has lied to everyone he has ever spoken to, we're entitled to bring that out. We're entitled to raise that. I think it is highly relevant. I think it is highly probative and we shouldn't have to dance around because of some sensitivity about words. Perjury is perjury and it is obvious what's going on here. The Attorney General is trying to cover for an extraordinarily defective witness that they're putting on the stand who has no credibility.

THE COURT: Now, you are violating two of my rules. First is what I just said. You don't have to argue if I'm arguing for you. Second rule, which I believe I've said during this trial, I know I've said, let's not make speeches. We are here for questions, answers, maybe argument, but we don't need speeches at this point.

My understanding, try to see if we can all agree, I believe that perjury implies conviction. You want to say he's lying, say he's lying, but let's not use the word "perjury" especially if you're asking him a question that might ask for a legal conclusion and let's move on.

MR. KISE: I'll just note my exception to that, Your Honor.

THE COURT: To which part of that?
MR. KISE: To the part that we are limited to what we can do. It doesn't imply a conviction. If he perjured himself, he perjured himself.

THE COURT: I'll have to --

MR. KISE: You don't need to have a conviction for that.

THE COURT: I'm not sure. I will have to research that. I take your point.

MS. HABBA: I can state my question in a way that's acceptable to the Court and it is my last question on this. It is my last question on this at least.
Q Mr. Cohen, as a clarifying point, yesterday was the first time you admitted in open court that you lied to Judge Pauley, correct?
A In open court?
Q Yes.
A Yes.
Q Thank you. Okay. Let move on to your work with the Trump Organization.

You were an employee of the Trump Organization from 2007 to 2017; is that correct?
A Correct.
Q And you previously testified yesterday that you personally participated in the preparation of the Statements of Financial Condition for years 2012 through '15, that you don't recall working on the Statement of Financial Condition in 2011, correct?
A That's correct.
MS. HABBA: Okay. If I could, please, pull up the ## transcript --

2 Q Well, you said correct, so let me move on. And you previously testified in your deposition that you and Allen Weisselberg were tasked with coming up with valuations of the assets listed on the Statements of Financial Condition for those years, correct?
A Correct.
Q And you testified that Allen Weisselberg prepared the first draft of those Statements of Financial Condition for Mazars, correct?
A I'm sorry. Can you say that again?
Q Sure.
You had stated that Allen prepared the first draft of the Statements of Financial Condition with Mazars, correct?
A I don't believe that's how I stated it, no.
MS. HABBA: Okay. If we could pull up 86:25 to 87:7 from the transcript, please.
MR. KISE: We still --
MS. HABBA: Can't hear? Can we put the volume up? IT SPECIALIST: Every time it gets bumped up a little bit --

MS. HABBA: I almost want to take the mic off. I think everyone can hear me without it. I'll speak very loudly. Sorry. Let's move on. Can we, please, play that.
Thank you.

(Whereupon the video was played.)
$Q$ Do you remember saying that, Mr. Cohen?
A Yes, which is not what you were just stating.
Q So I asked if Allen Weisselberg -- you testified that Allen Weisselberg prepared the first draft. Isn't that what you stated you believed Allen Weisselberg did?

A No. I suspect that Allen -- I do not know who did it. That was the point and that's exactly what I stated in the deposition.
Q Okay. So you suspect it was Allen Weisselberg, but you testified that you were personally involved in coming up with a valuation for almost every asset on the Statements of Financial Condition, correct?
A No, that's also not correct.
Q Okay.
A Every asset? Almost every asset?
Q Okay. MS. HABBA: If we could play that back, please. (Whereupon, the video was played.)
Q Right. Almost every asset, correct?
A As the ones that I stated the other day.
the valuations by going on Google and finding a comparable property with a price per square-foot that was higher, correct?

A Correct.
Q Okay. And you testified under oath that you would handwrite the new valuations on the Statement of Financial Condition, correct?
A That's correct.
Q And Allen would do the same thing, right?
A Yes.
Q And I want to be clear. Allen Weisselberg, right?
THE COURT: That's a question.
Q Allen Weisselberg, correct?
A Yes.
Q According to your prior testimony for 2011 to 2015, this entire process of preparing the Statement of Financial Condition consisted of you and Allen taking a printed piece of paper and then writing on it? That was what you did, correct?

A Incorrect.
Q Incorrect, okay. Let's take a look at what you said in your deposition.
(Whereupon, the video was played.)
Q Mr. Cohen, you also stated that no computer was involved?

A There was a previous question.
Q No. The question was did you say it. We played it back. Do you doubt that that was you?

A I don't doubt that was me, but I doubt that that is responsive to the question that you stated.

Q Okay. My question that I stated, we can have a readback if you'd like.

A Sure.
MS. HABBA: Judge, may I have a readback?
THE COURT: The very last question?
MS. HABBA: The very last question about his testimony for the handwritten edits, please.

THE COURT: Readback, please.
MS. HABBA: Thank you.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was read back.)
A And again, I'll state incorrect because the process was not just Allen and myself as you saw in that deposition. It included Mr. Trump.

Q Listen, Mr. Cohen. I'm sure you're going to try and do that with me every time and I'm here for it really, but I would like you to answer the questions that I ask. I didn't ask you who was involved. I asked you --

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor --
THE COURT: Overruled. Let's -- let the question finish.

MS. HABBA: Thank you.
Q I asked you if you made handwritten edits on the 25 Statement of Financial Condition. Is the answer yes or no?
you and Allen would take these handwritten edits and review them with Donald Trump, right?

A Correct.
Q And this meeting, according to you, would last about 15 minutes; isn't that right?
A Correct.
Q And the meetings between you, Allen and Donald Trump were never put in a calendar; isn't that right?

A To the best of my knowledge, no.
Q To the best of your knowledge, no.
Did you ever have an assistant?
A No.
Q No. Did you ever keep a calendar for invitations for meetings on your computer?

A No.
Q Did you use a computer?
A Yes.
Q Okay. So you just had meetings in your head and they would happen and you remember them sitting here today; is that correct?

A I'm sure. I don't understand your question.
Q Okay. Let me ask you this way.
Meetings with you, Allen and Donald Trump on a Statement of Financial Condition lasted 15 minutes and were never scheduled; is that your testimony?

Q Okay. And Allen Weisselberg would take the handwritten edits on the Statement of Financial Condition and hand it off to Donald Bender, right?

A Once authorized to do so, yes.
Q That's not my question. He would take it when it was done and he would hand it to Donald Bender? Is that what you testified to?

THE COURT: I think when it was done is ambiguous.
Q Once the final version of the Statement of Financial Condition was complete in handwritten form, your testimony is that you would then give it to Donald Bender, correct?

A No, that's not what I stated.
Q Okay. Who --
A Allen Weisselberg would hand it off to Donald Bender. I never did.

A Correct.
Q Right.
A I would go into Allen's office and there was an okay, we have it done. We would walk into Mr. -- towards Mr. Trump's office, knock on the door and say, "Mr. Trump, can we speak to you for a second."
M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - CROSS(MS. HABBA)

Page 2325
Q How do you know that?
A Because that was the relationship. The relationship existed between Donald Bender and Allen Weisselberg.
Q Okay. It was your testimony that Donald Bender was continuously at the Trump Organization?

A Regularly at the office.
Q Regularly at the office. What is the difference between the two?

THE COURT: There is a clear difference between continuously and regularly.

MS. HABBA: Exactly there is, Your Honor, which gets to my point, Your Honor.

Can we, please, pull up the deposition?
MS. FAHERTY: I'm sorry. Why?
MS. HABBA: Because he didn't say "regularly,"
Colleen. He said "continuously" in his deposition.
THE COURT: All right. Then she is allowed to play it.

MS. HABBA: That's how impeachment works. (Whereupon, the video was played.)
Q "Continuously," right, Mr. Cohen?
A Sure.
Q Not "regularly," right? Your words, not mine. Were those your words?

| 13 | A $\quad$ No. I don't understand your question. |  |
| 14 | Q | Okay. |
| 15 | THE COURT: I think the question is in addition to |  |

| 19 | THE WITNESS: I did not. |  |
| 20 | THE COURT: Okay. That was the question and that's |  |

| 22 | Q $\quad$ Okay. And your testimony is that this entire process |  |

A I already stated that, yes.

A That's what I stated.
Q Okay. And you never discussed the Statement of Financial Conditions with Donald Trump Jr. did you?
A Not that I recall.

1 Q And you never discussed the SOFC with Eric Trump, did you?
A Not that I recall.
Q And you never discussed the SOFC with Ivanka Trump either, did you?

A Not that I recall.
Q Mr. Cohen, you claim that you worked on the 2015 SOFC; is that correct?

A Yes.
Q The 2015 Statement of Financial Condition was President Trump's net worth just over $6 billion? Do you know that?

A You'd have to show me the document.
Q Sure. Let's do that.
MS. HABBA: Can you please pull up PX 729?
$Q \quad$ Do you recognize this as the 2015 SOFC?
A I do.
Q Okay.
MS. HABBA: It's already into evidence. If we can just flip the page.
Q Do you see at the bottom where it says "his total assets." Can you read for me what that number is?

A 6,580,300,000.
Q Right. And that number is meant to reflect President Trump's financial status as of June 30, 2015; correct?

A Correct.

Q And on July 16, 2015, just two weeks approximately after, you appeared on CNN and stated that you considered yourself to be a real estate expert and Donald Trump's net worth was probably over $$ 10$ billion. Do you remember that?
A I remember saying that.
Q Okay. And, in fact, you stated that you believed a $$ 10$ billion estimation was low. Do you recall that?
A I recall that's what Mr. Trump wanted me to say, yes.
Q That wasn't the question, Mr. Cohen.
A That's my answer.
Q Is it? I'm not surprised by that, Mr. Cohen. You're very good at blaming other people.

So $$ 10$ billion estimation was low.
MS. HABBA: You know what, can you play that for me, please?
(Whereupon, there is a pause in the proceedings.) Q Okay.

MS. FAHERTY: Can you provide the date on that, please?

MS. HABBA: I did. It's July 16, 2015. I said it in -- it's in the transcript.

I'd like to move --
Q That's you on that, I assume? You recognize yourself there?
A Yes, less gray.

THE COURT: Sure.

MR. KISE: Thank you, Judge.
Q Okay. According -- were we waiting for an answer? Did you read it?

A Yes, I read it.
Q And it says that?
A Yes, I read it. It says it perfectly.
Q I'll speak really loud. Your testimony is that you personally participated in the SOFCs; correct?

A Correct.
Q In fact, you claim you are personally responsible for coming up with many of the inflated numbers; correct?

A Yes, correct.
Q And you told them that you committed fraud in connection with preparation of the SOFCs; correct?
A I don't believe that's what I said to them.
Q Didn't you say in the question prior that you told them you agreed to assist in the investigation of the Trump Organization, Mr. Cohen?

A No.
Q You did claim that you provided a "roadmap," quote/unquote, of all the financial crimes that you claim occurred at the Trump Organization. Isn't that correct?
A That's not what it says.
Q That's not --
A What it says -- I want to make clear exactly what I gave the government concerning Donald Trump. I gave them a roadmap.

Q Can I just stop you there, Mr. Cohen?
A You can.
Q Did you just say "I gave them a roadmap?"
THE COURT: He just said that, yes.
Q What's the answer to that?
A Already asked and answered.
Q We're going to --
MS. HABBA: Okay, Your Honor.
MR. KISE: The judge doesn't like that objection.

you were part of the process of inflating the SOFCs?

MS. FAHERTY: Just to clarify, I've lost this line of questioning. Who is the "them?"
Q Okay. Let me restart it. Let's just be clear. I appreciate that.

THE COURT: Withdrawn?
MS. HABBA: Withdrawn.
MS. FAHERTY: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q Mr. Cohen, you have testified between yesterday and today that you were personally responsible for drafting and coming up with numbers in the SOFCs; correct?

A Which I did at the direction of Mr. Trump.
Q That's not what I asked you, Mr. Cohen.
Yes or no did you partake?
A I did.
Q Okay. And you told the District Attorney's Office that you did this; correct?

A I can't go into that. There is another case that's pending right now. It's improper.

Q Not really because you've testified -- I'm sorry.
But you testified they were there, so if you told them, you told them; right?

MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, if I could --
MS. HABBA: It's not --
THE COURT: Your microphone isn't working.

MS. FAHERTY: Can you hear me? If I can raise an objection here. I think this record at this point is a bit muddied and confusing. There was an excerpt from Mr. Cohen's book that we were just looking at. The questions were focused on the excerpt in the book. We have now closed the book. We're talking about themes, we're talking about the DA. It is untethered. I'm a bit confused where this line of questioning is going and I would really ask that we keep it focused and direct. I don't understand what testimony is being elicited and I will say there is a parallel DANY proceeding, so I'm a bit concerned that the line of questioning is going beyond the scope of this case and bleeding into another case. So I'm just raising my concern that this line of questioning which started with the book is now untethered and I don't know where we actually are with this testimony.

MR. KISE: Well, Your Honor, if you're going to side with me I'm not going to say anything.

THE COURT: You're learning.
Well, sustained solely on the ground that I think it's unclear who "they" are, etc., etc.. I like to go with the simple rulings.

MS. FAHERTY: Thank you, Your Honor.
THE COURT: So without prejudice obviously to whatever you want to ask about.
M. Cohen - Plaintiff - cross (Habba)

Page 2343
MS. HABBA: Sure.
Q Mr. Cohen, no charges were ever brought against you personally by DANY in connection with your work on the Statement of Financial Conditions, were they?

A No.
THE COURT: DANY is the District Attorney of New York. Not everybody knows.

MS. HABBA: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q And, in fact, no claims were ever made against you by the New York Attorney General, were they?

A No.
Q But you have claimed in your testimony that you are an essential player in inflating the assets in the SOFC; correct?

A I stated that, yes.
Q And despite all of that you were never named as a defendant in this case, were you?

A I am not named as a defendant in this case.
Q So the Attorney General must not believe that your story is credible; is that correct?

A You are drawing a conclusion that I don't know. You could ask Ms. James.

ATTORNEY GENERAL JAMES: I object.
THE COURT: We're still researching that one.
Q You even met with Mr. Pomerantz; correct?
A I have met with Mr. Pomerantz, yes.

1

Q I'm not going to get into the conversations, just so you know.

Are you aware that he noted in his book that there are significant risks with using you as a witness because of your credibility?
A I didn't read his book.
Q Okay. Prior to termination of your professional relationship with him, you had a very high --
A I'm sorry, who is "him?"
Q If you let me finish my question.
You had a very high regard of President Trump; is that correct?

A Correct.
Q And in the past you had a long history of praising Mr. Trump, isn't that right, Mr. Cohen?
A Also correct.
Q In fact, you stated that you worshipped him. Isn't that correct?
A Yes, that's correct.
Q And you testified under oath before Congress that you are very proud to have served Donald Trump and that you would continue to support him. Isn't that correct?
A I don't know what you're referring to.
Q Okay.
A I testified seven times to congressional committees.

Which one?
MS. HABBA: Can we please pull it up on 102, D 960? Thank you.
Q Mr. Cohen, you were interviewed by -- in an Executive Session. It was a closed-door session with the Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence, the U.S. House of Representatives on October 24, 2017. Do you recall that?
A I do.
Q Okay. And that was closed to the public; right?
A That was.
Q This is a transcript from that. As you can see it's an unclassified transcript from that hearing. Do you see that?

A I do.
MS. HABBA: Go back to the front page if you need.
At D 960 -- can you please scroll up?
Q You state -- sorry.
MS. HABBA: The next page.
Q Mr. Cohen, it says, "I am very proud to have served Donald Trump for all these years, and I will continue to support him." Do you now remember saying that?

A This is the document that was prepared by the entire group that I referred in the direct. This was done by myself with Alan Garten, this was done with Jay Sekulow, with a whole slew of individuals, but yes, I did make that statement.
Q You made that statement in front of that committee;

correct?

A Correct.
Q Thank you.
Your opinion of Mr. Trump was so high, in fact, that you once stated you would take a bullet for him; is that correct?

A Vanity Fair, Emily Fox, yes.
Q Thank you're doing my work for me. I appreciate it.
And you referred to yourself as the guy who protects the President and the family. Isn't that right?
A That's also correct.
Q And you've insisted that you would never walk away from Donald Trump; correct?

A I stated that.
Q I would like to now show you a political article dated July 9, 2015, which is in evidence as D 986. I'm going to highlight a section. If you can just read it, please?

MS. FAHERTY: What is this?
MS. HABBA: You have this -- it's a political article dated July 9, 2015. It was given two days ago.
MS. FAHERTY: Why are we putting this in front of him?

MR. KISE: Just sit down and you'll find out.
MS. FAHERTY: Mr. Kise, I appreciate the commentary, but I would like a proffer of this. When you addressed it and I think I sustained probably more than half of them, so.

MR. KISE: You didn't, Your Honor. But my point was we didn't object. We just let it go because we're trying to move the case along and so we're asking the Attorney General, they're making arguments about documents and we haven't even had a moment to connect up before we even get to -- the examiner gets to say anything.

MS. HABBA: And, Your Honor, if I might just add myself. It is completely disrespectful when I just pull a document up and don't even get a question out. We'll be here well into tomorrow, I assure you of that. I have a lot of questions if this is how we're going to do it. I have a right to ask him questions. We've given you the exhibits like we were supposed to several days ago, so I would like to do my job for my client, please.

THE COURT: This document is already in evidence.
MS. HABBA: Exactly.
MS. FAHERTY: This is not admitted into evidence, Your Honor, no. It was placed into an exhibit folder -MS. HABBA: For you.
MS. FAHERTY: -- for us to review two nights ago at I think 10:30 at night. And, in fact, I came to the courthouse this morning, there was yet another added.

So if I stand up, respectfully, Your Honor, and say comment and ask the witness a question, I will extend the same courtesy to you.

MR. KISE: No. Apparently the Attorney General hasn't. And as Your Honor knows, we have given, particularly Ms. Faherty, an extraordinary amount of latitude in how she asks questions and have sat here with leading question after leading question and introducing documents and everything yesterday, everything comes in. So I think bringing up a document and giving us a moment or two to tie to it is well within the discretion of the Court.

THE COURT: Mr. Kise, please be respectful to the attorneys on the other side.

MR. KISE: I am being respectful, but they're not respectful to me. That group of attorneys over there, they asked Your Honor to sanction me. 33 years I have been practicing law. I've argued and won four cases in the Supreme Court of the United States and I am being subject to sanction for making legal arguments and they want me to be respectful to them? Respect is not something -- where I grew up respect is not something that you get. It's something that you earn and I believe as a lawyer I've certainly earned it.

THE COURT: I will try to jump into the fray here. I will say whenever there is an objection but the question by the Attorney General's counsel was leading, I always

I would like a proffer because I have not heard a proper foundation laid to either impeach this witness, I haven't heard it yet. We have repeatedly this morning seen something thrown onto the screen declaring I'm going to impeach you with this new evidence when that hasn't been properly laid down.

Respectfully, I would appreciate Ms. Habba to continue with the examination in a way that sets the evidence properly. The foundation is laid, the questions can be asked, the evidence can come in. We have not been following that orderly procedure. That is all I've asked, Your Honor. I stood up and said voir dire this. What is this and what is its purpose for this particular witness?

MS. HABBA: All due respect, I just ask that it be put up, Colleen. You've been interrupting me.

MR. ROBERT: Your Honor --
THE COURT: Mr. Robert, you've been relatively quiet.

MR. ROBERT: And I'll be brief. We have been here now four weeks and we have sat here while the Attorney General has put documents in front of witnesses and instead of putting them into evidence first, ask the witness spend five and ten minutes discussing them and then putting them into evidence. We have sat quietly because we wanted to get this thing done in an orderly and efficient process.

| 13 | just grandstanding. Let's let Ms. Habba proceed and then | 13 MS. HABBA: Your Honor, it actually goes to |

| 15 | will deal with it. | 15 THE COURT: All right. I'll -- I didn't say you |

| 19 | Somebody said that this document was in evidence. I don't | 19 THE COURT: Okay. |
| 20 | care who, but can we agree it's not in evidence? | 20 A Can you state the question? |
| 21 | MS. HABBA: It's not in evidence. It was provided | 21 MS. HABBA: Could I, please, get a readback? Was |
| 22 | to the AG pursuant to your rules two days ago. | 22 there a question? |
| 23 | THE COURT: Of course. That's hardly in evidence. | 23 THE WITNESS: I don't know. |
| 24 | And I will say something else in response to Mr. Kise's | 24 Q I just asked you if you stated that. |
| 25 | comments on respect. I agree respect isn't mandatory or | 25 A I stated, "yes." |

| 3 | MR. KISE: And I certainly think I have done that, | 3 THE COURT: I am pretty sure he answered. |

| 6 | this case. It has been extraordinary in my experience, | 6 Q Mr. Cohen, do you recall in a Reuter's article being |
| 7 | extraordinary. | 7 quoted saying that "President Trump's record at the time" -- |
| 8 | THE COURT: I'm not going to second that. Yes, I | 8 "Mr. Trump's record was proof of" -- "his success was proof |

| 10 | no. I haven't seen it, but anyway, all right. We now have | 10 Do you recall that? |
| 11 | a document on. It's not in evidence and we'll ask Ms. Habba | 11 A Is that another 2015 article? |
| 12 | to proceed. | 12 Q That was dated August 28, 2015, yes. |
| 13 | Transcript continues on the following page.... | 13 A Can I see it? |
| 14 |  | 14 Q Sure. We can pull it up. This is D993-4. |
| 15 |  | 15 Mr. Cohen, you can see on the bottom that it |
| 16 |  | 16 says -- from the reuters.com website, correct? |
| 17 |  | 17 A Yes, I see that. |
| 18 |  | 18 Q You see we highlighted for you the section, "Trump |
| 19 |  | 19 lawyer Michael Cohen stated Trump's record of success was "proof |
| 20 |  | 20 positive of Mr. Trump's character and capabilities." |
| 21 |  | 21 Do you see that? |
| 22 |  | 22 A Yes, I see that. |
| 23 |  | 23 Q And do you now recall saying that in this article for |
| 24 |  | 24 Reuters on August 28, 2015? |
| 25 |  | 25 A I'm sorry. Your question is? |

1 the reporter?

THE WITNESS: Yes, I did.
THE COURT: You have to say it into the microphone. THE WITNESS: I did.
Q Mr. Cohen, you frequently defended Mr. Trump and stated that he was the only one person who -- "person that could make America great again"?
A Again, 2015?
Q No, 2016.
A Yes.
Q Did you do it in 2015, too?
A I did.
Q Okay. Do you remember Tweeting, "Thank you and believe wholeheartedly that only Trump will make America great again on July 13, 2016"?

A Off the top of my head, no, I don't recall that.
MS. HABBA: If we pull up the Tweet from July 13, 2016.

Q Mr. Cohen, is that your handle on Twitter or what is now X ?

A Yes.

THE COURT: Do you remember saying it to Reuters?
THE WITNESS: Yes, I said this to Reuters.
MS. HABBA: I am saying it, so I don't -- I am laying a foundation, so I don't get an objection. I will move on.

MS. FAHERTY: For the sole purpose that this is an article that captures this statement, no objection. I mean, I'll also highlight this article also says, "For Trump, exaggerating has always been a frequent impulse especially when the value of his Trump brand is disputed." If counsel wants that in evidence --

THE COURT: You can do that on re-direct or whatever.

MS. FAHERTY: This is, otherwise, a hearsay document, Your Honor. So for the purposes of that one statement --

THE COURT: Admitted just for the fact that he said it.

MS. HABBA: That's it.
MS. FAHERTY: Thank you.
MS. HABBA: That is, frankly, the only thing I asked. "Did you say that in this article," period.
Q You said "yes, correct." Just so we are clear we have an answer, can I have a readback?

THE COURT: Did you say "yes" that you said this to
A Yes.

MS. HABBA: I would like to admit the Tweet into evidence as D995, please?

MS. FAHERTY: No objection.
THE COURT: Admitted into evidence.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit D995.)
Q So Mr. Cohen, after Mr. Trump was elected as president, you expected to get a position in The White House, didn't you?

A Incorrect.
Q Incorrect. You didn't -- you did not think you were going to go to the White House? Is that your testimony today?

A I didn't want to go to the White House.
Q My question to you was after Mr. Trump was elected as president, you expected to be given a position in the White House; is that correct?

A I received the position that I had asked for.

COHEN - PLAINTIFF - CROSS(MS. HABBA)
Page 2357
Q But you thought you were going to be named chief of staff?

A No, I did not. It was a joke that went along because of my relationship to Mr. Trump. I asked for and I received from Mr. Trump the position of personal attorney to President Donald J. Trump.

MS. HABBA: Okay. I would like to pull up D58-3, please.
Q Mr. Cohen, was your home raided by the FBI?
A Yes, it was.
Q When the FBI raided your home, did they take your phone?
A They took both of my phones.
Q Okay. And were a series of text messages attached as a memo in opposition to a motion to reduce your sentence?

A I don't even know what you're talking about.
Q Okay. I'll represent to you that this is part of a docket number 1:18-CR-602. It is on the screen. It's in the court docket as 58-2. It is United States vs. Cohen. This is a printout attached to a memo that was submitted by the government with text messages from your cellphone that they seized by a subpoena and search warrant. Do you recognize that?

A I don't.
Q Okay. Well --
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, I am just going to put an

Page 2359
A That is my name.
MS. FAHERTY: Your Honor, again, I'm going to state my objection.

THE COURT: Give me your best shot. What's your best objection?

MS. FAHERTY: First of all, we've already had testimony from the witness saying he does not recognize this document. We have log entries here indicating that there is a Person-4. Based on Ms. Habba's representation, is she asking the Court to accept the statements of these outside-of-the-court persons or Person 4 for the truth of the matter asserted?

There's inherent hearsay problems with this document. And again, I think we're devolving into a trial of what? How is it relevant to the matters at hand, Your Honor? So again, I note my objection to this document, please.

THE COURT: Any response, Ms. Habba?
MS. HABBA: Motive, Your Honor, motive and credibility. And I will show Mr. Cohen's comments and the only comments that are relevant are Mr. Cohen's comments. These are his text messages. It was submitted on the docket by the FBI. It is unsealed. There is no question of that. Unless you're -- it is not hearsay.

I'm -- if you let me finish, I can get to it, but 23 Q I don't know and it is irrelevant quite honestly.

24 A Well, it's not irrelevant.
25 Q Okay. Is your name Cohen?
objection on the record to this. It might be premature, but I'm going to state my objection now. It just seems like we're delving in a trial within a trial within a trial and re-litigating issues in the Southern District case. I'm noting my objection to this exhibit coming in. MS. HABBA: This has nothing to do with that. THE COURT: Overruled without prejudice. MS. HABBA: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q If you see --
MS. HABBA: Can you blow up the text messages here.
Thank you.
Q It states, "Person 4, Cohen or Powell, will be chief of staff. Cohen, that's you, that's your text message. Neither. Person 4, who then? Now this is you. Really, question mark. Person 4, if Powell, she'd be the first woman." Again, they say, "not Jared. Too close." Not Jared, you're speaking about -- I assume that's Jared Kushner?
A Again, I don't recognize this document. No, I don't.
Q This is from the FBI when they seized your phone.
A Okay.

M.

 is.you keep interrupting me which frankly, I have not done to you and had courtesy with you, which I'm getting a little frustrated. But I understand you don't like some of this testimony, so if you like, we can finish, and I can make a ruling, but you keep interrupting me.

THE COURT: Remember, everybody, there's no jury here.

MS. HABBA: I understand, but Your Honor --
THE COURT: Nobody is interrupting you particularly. I'm just telling everyone.

MR. KISE: Unfortunately, there isn't.
THE COURT: So you don't ordinarily have juries maybe.

MR. KISE: Your Honor, as to this document, again, it's impeachment. It goes to credibility. We're certainly entitled to explore all the many ways in which this witness has twisted, moved, shifted very -- you know -- so that's all we're doing and I think that's appropriate.

THE COURT: Objection overruled. Just go ahead.
MS. HABBA: Thank you. If we could scroll down.
Thank you.
Q Person 4 states, "not Ivanka, too close. You state, keep guessing, dopey. Person 4, stop. You, question mark."
Then you state, "I will give you a hint... yes."

Do you see that, Mr. Cohen?

Page 2361
A I see that.
Q Okay. The person responds, "Oh, my God. Please be true. Are you serious. You need to." And then you say --
A That's why Person No. 4 is important to know what it

Q Mr. Cohen, I'm not finished.
THE WITNESS: Sorry, Your Honor.
Q You state, "He needs to ask." Do you see that?
A I see that.
Q Okay. So in your -- first of all, I'd like to submit this into evidence. It has already been on the docket, as I said, in 1:18 CR-602, D958-3.

THE COURT: Hearsay. An out-of-court statement being introduced to prove the truth of its contents -- are you introducing it to prove the truth of its contents?

MS. HABBA: I'm proving it to impeach the witness who stated that he did not want that job. So the truth of the contents is yes, he stated in a text that he wanted that job. Solely to Mr. Cohen, Your Honor.

THE COURT: You know, I try to use commonsense when I'm applying rules. Objection overruled. It's in. I find enough of a foundation has been laid.

MS. HABBA: Thank you very much, Your Honor. Q And you were never given a position in the White House, were you, Mr. Cohen; yes or no?

1 A I was given the position --
$2 \quad Q \quad$ Yes or no?
3 A -- that I asked for. There was no shame in being personal attorney to the president.

Q We'll get to that, but my question is were you given a position in the White House?

A I didn't ask for a position.

THE COURT: No. No. You have to answer the question.

THE WITNESS: It's a question I -- I don't know how I'm going to be given it if you don't ask for it.

THE COURT: Hold on.

Q Okay.

THE COURT: Hold on. I don't know whether special counsel or counsel to the president or personal counsel -- I don't know whether that's in or out of the White House, but you know, other than that, you have to answer the question. If you don't know whether your job was in or out of the White House, say that; but, otherwise, you were or you weren't.
Q Mr. Cohen, did you ever go to the White House as a position as an employee for the President of the United States Donald Trump?
A No.
25 Q Thank you.
M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - CROSS(MS. HABBA)

Page 2363
Around that same time, you found other ways to personally benefit from your relationship with Mr. Trump, correct?

A I'm sorry. And what time frame are you referring to?
Q When the president or -- when Mr. Trump became President Trump, you found ways to benefit from your relationship with Mr. Trump, didn't you?
A Yes.
Q In fact, didn't you candidly admit that you previously cashed in on your relationship with President Trump?

A I don't know where you are referring to.
MS. HABBA: Could you, please, pull up Disloyal at page 341.
Q Mr. Cohen, did you write a book entitled, "Disloyal"?
A I did.
Q Is this -- does this appear to be what was the cover that was just up from Disloyal?
A I'm sorry?
MS. HABBA: Can you go back, please. You just had the cover up.
Q Is that your book?
A That is.
Q Okay. Can you, please, turn to page 341. Can you read the part where it says -- the second red box, "Was I cashing in on my relationship with Trump? Of course, I was. What would you do." Do you read that?
A Yes.
Q Were those your words?
A My words.
MS. HABBA: I would like to admit Disloyal 341 into evidence, please.

THE COURT: Granted. It is in.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiff's Exhibit 341.)

MS. HABBA: Thank you.
Q Back when you acted as personal counsel to President Trump, you launched a personal company known as Essential Consultants, LLC as a way of cashing in on your relationship with the President of the United States; isn't that correct?

A No, that's not correct.
Q That's not correct. Okay.
MS. HABBA: Let's turn to page 341 again.
Q It is up. Take a minute to read it. Let me mow when you're ready.
(Witness reviewing document.)
Q "After the election, I set myself up in a New York office of Squire Patton Boggs"?

A I don't see where you are.
Q At the top, it is highlighted. "A top-tier law firm located at Rockefeller Plaza as a strategic alliance which 1 really meant the partners could brag to their clients that the personal attorney to the President of the United States, President Trump, was part of their outfit. I was also using my company Essential Consultants to take on clients like AT&T, Novartis, Columbus Nova and BTA Bank, high-level companies desperate for insights and connections to the President and willing to pay for their assistance."

Did you read that?
A You read it.
Q Did you read it?
A I wrote it.
Q Correct. You wrote it. So those are your words, right, Mr. Cohen?

A Yes, those are my words.
Q So when you said you didn't -- my question to you was did you launch a company known as Essential Consultants as a way of cashing in on your relationship with the President of the United States? You did, didn't you, Mr. Cohen?
A Again, no.
Q You --
A Let me explain.
Q It is a yes-or-no question, Mr. Cohen.
A There is no --
THE COURT: You can explain on re-direct.
MS. HABBA: Thank you.

MR. HABBA: Okay. I would like to submit Disloyal, page 344 -- 341, excuse me, into evidence.

THE COURT: Granted. It is in evidence. MS. HABBA: Thank you.
(Whereupon, the Document was marked in evidence as Plaintiffs Exhibit 341.)
Q And Essential Consulting ultimately received payments of more than $$ 4$ million; isn't that correct?
A Correct.
Q Similarly, didn't you also enter into a strategic alliance with Squire Patton Boggs where you were paid half a million dollars annually to further capitalize on your relationship again with President Donald Trump?
A As well as my other relationships, yes.
Q That was not the question. Your book that we just had up said Squire Patton Boggs wanted a relationship with you

M. COHEN - PLAINTIFF - CROSS(MS. HABBA)

Page 2367
because of President Trump, did it not?
A It did.
Q Okay. And the purpose of this strategic alliance was that -- so that the partners of Squire Patton "brag to their clients that the personal attorney to the President of the United States was part of their outfit." Didn't you say that?

A I said that.
Q And today, you have significant animosity towards President Trump, don't you?
A Do I have animosity towards him? Yes.
Q That was the question.
A Yes, I do.
Q Yes, you do.
In fact, you often go on social media, don't you, stating all of your animosity?

A I use social media.
Q That wasn't my question.
MS. HABBA: Can you, please, read back the question.

THE COURT: Read back, please. And his response was not responsive. It did not answer the question.

MS. HABBA: Thank you.
THE COURT: Readback.
(Whereupon, the requested portion of the record was read back.)

A Not all my animosity.
Q But despite your animosity, you continue to financially benefit from President Trump, don't you?
A No.
Q No?
A No.
Q Since your release from prison, Mr. Cohen, your career has shifted from the practice of law towards entertainment and media; isn't that correct?
A Can you define "entertainment and media"?
Q Sure. Mr. Cohen, you have made a career out of publicly attacking President Trump, haven't you?
A Yes.
Q In fact, a substantial amount of your present day income is derived from publicly criticizing President Trump; isn't that right?
A Amongst other people, yes. It is not Mr. Trump only.
Q Okay.
A It discusses news of the day.
Q So your testimony -- so is that a yes or a no?
A That would be a no.
Q That would be a no, okay.
MS. HABBA: Can we, please, pull up the transcript from Galicia.
Q Mr. Cohen, do you remember the Galicia case that you

COHEN - PLAINTIFF - CROSS(MS. HABBA)

A I was a subpoenaed witness, yes.
Q You remember that I deposed you, correct?
A I remember.
Q This is a copy of the transcript from that deposition.
Just to lay a foundation, index number 24973/2015. Galicia vs.
Donald Trump. The date on that is May 9, 2022. Do you see that?

A I see that.
Q And the time was 10:11. It was the deposition of non-party witness Michael Cohen. Do you see that?

A Ido.
Q It was held at Belkin Burden Goldman in New York and I deposed you at that time. Do you remember that?

A I recall.
MS. HABBA: If you could please switch to 103:19.
THE COURT: Five-minute warning.
MS. HABBA: Thank you, Your Honor.
Q My question:
"What do you do for to raise money?"
You said, "You mean for a living?"
I said, "Yes."

Q Okay. So when I asked you do you discuss President Trump every time you are on your podcast or social media, you said -- let me just ask the question.

Do you recall that you said that every podcast at some point has included Donald Trump?
A I said it, yes
Q Thank you.
MS. HABBA: Your Honor, this might be a good stopping point.

THE COURT: Okay. Just to make it simple, let's all be back at 11:45.
(Whereupon, a recess was taken.)
now placing them on YouTube and I also have on YouTube 1

THE COURT OFFICER: All rise. Part 37 is back in session. Please be seated and come to order.

THE COURT: Ms. Habba, before you take -- the lectern has nothing do with you, but sometime prior to today, I think it was about a week ago -- no, two or three weeks ago --
(Whereupon, there is a pause in the proceedings.)
THE COURT: Withdrawn. Let's start from scratch.
Towards the very start of this trial, defendant
Donald J. Trump posted on his social media account or one of them, I think it was Truth Social, defamatory, disparaging, completely untrue statements about the law clerk sitting to my right. I asked that they be taken down.

I was told ten minutes later they were taken down; turns out they weren't. They remained online and were e-mailed to thousands of people. I don't remember exactly how many. They were online for I believe it was 17 days.

At that point when I was alerted to it, I issued a limited gag order and told Counsel, the parties, that I was forbidding -- this is a quote, "All parties from posting, e-mailing or speaking publicly about any members of my staff," unquote.

I am very protective of my staff, as I believe I should be. We all know that we are in what I called at some point, an overheated environment. I don't want anybody ## killed.

It was just brought to my attention that the Associated Press reported, I wasn't there, this is the Associated Press, that Mr. Donald J. Trump just stated the following to the press outside the courtroom:
"This judge is a very partisan judge with a person who is very partisan sitting alongside him, perhaps even much more partisan than he is."

Now, it's very easy for the public, for anyone to know who that person is.

MS. HABBA: Your Honor, sorry --
MR. KISE: Let me -- I hate to interrupt.
THE COURT: No, don't interrupt me. I'll give you plenty of time.

MR. KISE: Okay. I think you're under a misapprehension.

THE COURT: All right. You'll correct me.
MR. KISE: Fair enough.
THE COURT: The last time that this gag order was violated by the incorrect statement that the post had been taken down it was actually copied to another post but that wasn't taken down. I accepted the explanation that it was inadvertent, I imposed a minimal fine. This recent statement, assuming the Associated Press is correct, obviously was intentional.

| 1 | I stated the last time that a -- any future |
| :--- | :--- |
| 2 | violations would be severely punished. |
| 3 | I will now give Mr. Kise or anyone else who wants |
| 4 | to a chance to respond. And, again, I'll ask the question |
| 5 | why should there not be severe sanctions for this blatant, |
| 6 | dangerous disobeyal of a court order. |
| 7 | MR. KISE: Your Honor, my understanding of what he |
| 8 | said and the way I understood it and I believe Mr. Trump |
| 9 | will tell you I believe he's talking about Michael Cohen |
| 10 | sitting next to you who is even more partisan -- I mean, his |
| 11 | whole commentary out there related to Michael Cohen and his |
| 12 | credibility as a witness and so forth. We're certainly well |
| 13 | aware of the order, so that's the way I took the statement |
| 14 | and I believe that's the way it was intended, but I'll -- I |
| 15 | don't want -- I don't know any other way to say it but that. |
| 16 | THE COURT: Well, can we ask Mr. Trump to whom he |
| 17 | was referring? |
| 18 | MR. KISE: I have asked him. I mean, if you'd like |
| 19 | to ask him, I have asked and that is exactly what he said |
| 20 | because he's tired of listening. I don't want to go on a |
| 21 | speech. He's tired of listening to what he's hearing and |
| 22 | it's very partisan and you know the rest. |
| 23 | THE COURT: Sitting alongside of him. The person |
| 24 | sitting alongside of me the way I would normally interpret |
| 25 | those words is my principal law clerk. There is a barrier | between me and the witness stand. We know from this trial and from our lives that language is sometimes precise and sometimes not very precise, sometimes ambiguous and not clear. Seemed clear to me, but I understand that could be interpreted another way. I'll take the whole matter under advisement. Let's not spend anymore time on this. Let's move ahead with the trial.

MS. HABBA: Your Honor, are we on the record?
THE COURT: If we want to be.
MS. HABBA: I also want to put on the record obviously we have a lot of press and media here. They couldn't hear past there. It was brought to my attention and evidently the feed -- the tech team just informed me the feed was also not being circulated, which obviously as you know this is a very heavily press-covered matter and given that I'm President Trump's lawyer I do think that's unfortunate and unfair.

THE COURT: And, of course, I'm sorry for that, of course, and it's very unfortunate.

THE COURT OFFICER: Is the judge ready for the witness?

THE COURT: Yes.
THE COURT OFFICER: Witness entering.
THE COURT: Okay. Let's continue with the cross examination of Michael Cohen.

    CONTINUED CROSS EXAMINATION
    BY MS. HABBA:
        Q Mr. Cohen, you didn't speak to anybody during your break, your attorney or anybody from the Attorney General's Office, did you?
        A I spoke to my attorneys.
        Q Did you speak to them about your testimony?
        A No.
        Q Did you speak to them about this case?
        A No.
        Q Okay. You understand that you're still under oath,
        correct?
        A Correct.
        Q Okay. Where we left off I was asking you if you made a career out of publicly attacking my client, President Trump.
        Do you recall that?
    A I recall it.
    Q And do you make a career out of publicly attacking
    President Trump?
    A No.
    Q Do you admit that Mea Culpa, your podcast, is

MS. FAHERTY: Is that a question?
Q Mr. Cohen, is this one of your books?
A Yes.
Q I'm holding up "Revenge." Do you read that the cover says "Donald Trump" on it? Is his name on the cover?

A It is.
Q Thank you.
Did you write another book called "Disloyal?"
A I did.
Q Does that also reference Donald J. Trump on the cover?

substantial part your criticism of President Trump; correct?
A No.
Q No. But you said yes when I asked you prior, isn't that correct?

A No. You said it.
Q Okay. Let me pull up your words then, Mr. Cohen.
MS. HABBA: Can you please pull that back up again?
Q Do you remember I went through this Galicia testimony?
A I apologize. I thought you were asking about the testimony, not about the Galicia. I really need you to be specific what you're talking about. I'm very confused right now.

Q When I asked you if you substantially discuss President Trump on Mea Culpa, your podcast, is the answer yes or no?

A I said to you I speak about Mr. Trump. He is the frontrunner of the Republican party and he's in the --

THE COURT: That more than answers the question. Just answer the question.

THE COURT: Is there an objection by the Attorney General?

MS. FAHERTY: I'll object, Your Honor.
A Thank you.
